Curling

John Lee's rink put it all over Dr. Hammond's in a scratch game on Christmas night by a score of 16-4.

Swift's rink defeated Dr. Hammond's quartette on Friday night in a scratch game by a score of 13-6.

The annual banquet for the McCauley Cup begins this week. Curling began last week and much enthusiasm has been manifested in the gran game.

Will Install New Organ.

St. Andrews Presbyterian Church will shortly receive a new two manual pedal reed organ, which has been ordered from the east and which is expected to arrive in a few days. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Butcher, has been making excellent strides in the rendition of high grade anthems during the past two months. It is expected that this organization will in the near future give a recital which will undoubtedly be much appreciated by a large number.

Hockey

Ryley team paid a visit to Tofield on Xmas Day and played a fast game with the home team. The score 6-4 in favor of the home team was a hard earned win. In dictatious weight point two aids some good victories by the Ryley bunch during the coming season, but this fact will not lessen the order of the local puck chasers as they are prepared to do their best and take a loss with as much equanimity as a gain. Ryley led the bunch a fast pace from start to finish of the game and at times it looked very much as though they would get it over our backs. Bobby Dean and Smokey MacDonald played a star game for the bunch.

The Tofield Team will play a return match with Ryley on New Year's Day.

Broom Ball Game.

An exciting broom ball game was played on the rink last week when the Eastenders of Main Street were pitted against the Westenders. The score of 4-0, it is understood, was piled up by the Eastenders against their opponents.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 1913

The Municipal Situation

COUNCIL of 1912 held its last meeting of the year last Monday night. The new council takes hold next Monday night. The coming year will see some knotty problems come up for solution. We have every reason to believe that the new members will give to their duties that careful attention which these demand. It is before the household duty of the citizens who in a way represent to stand behind the executive body, criticizing, perhaps when there is need of it, but also supporting when its actions are done with the aim of advancing the interests of the municipality to the best manner possible.

Tofield citizens are to be congratulated on the feeling of gratified that these such prominent men, interested keenly in the development of both public and individual interests, have come forward to bear for a time their share of the public burden. They are doubt fully realize the public criticism, adverse criticism at times, that follows, which round the life of a public man, will be directed against them. Their principle is to be admired. The statement has repeatedly made the statement in the past that it is the duty of a public minded citizen to take up the reins of such office, and not to shirk it. If his fellow citizens come to him and ask him to bear for a time the burden of conducting the public business. The statement of Hon. Lloyd George Chancellor of the British Cabinet recently in connection with this idea is worthy of note in this regard. He says

Some people talk cautiously about the ministers as if he was backing cowardly in conducting ambition. I can assure you that there is not much backing but a good many burdens. I am not speaking of those who have attained it by their own exertion and strength.

In spite of the attacks on politicians individually and as a class, every sensible person knows that they are an essential part of the machinery of good government in every democratic state.

I am told that in America those methods of attack are keeping sensitive men out of political life, although their services would be invaluable to the state. I know of many high minded men in this country who have shrunk from such an ordeal, but somebody must face it—say, more, if it is the obvious path of duty for any man, it is not the right to shirk it.

Politicians are necessary to handle the excesses of selfishness. They are the police of humanity.

Financial Year Closes Most Satisfactorily.

TOFIELD citizens and ratepayers in general of the municipality will be pleased to learn that the financial year just ended has closed most satisfactorily. Mainly through the exact and intent of certain legislation which has been before council during the past two weeks of the year, and which legislation was finally passed at the last session, results in collection of taxes and particularly arrears, have been such as to enable the finance department to pay off all debenture charges payable in the year besides reducing current debt to a very appreciable extent. In spite of almost insurmountable difficulties the finance department has faced the solution of the problems confronting them, decisively and while there is much more that it was desired to be done, what has been accomplished has been a financial triumph. The members of 1913 council look forward with pleasant anticipation to the auditors report for that year which will shortly be forthcoming.

COPIES of the consolidated Liquor License Ordinance have been published and are now in process of distribution. There is some very interesting reading in the volume. For example it is laid down in clause 72 as part of the law of the land that

"72. Any licensee who permits gambling, drunkenness, or any violent, quarrelsome, riotous or disorderly conduct to take place on his premises, or sells or delivers any intoxicating liquor to any drunken person or consumes any intoxicating liquor on his premises in person or suffers persons of notoriously bad character to assemble or meet on his premises shall, in addition to any other punishment provided by law, be guilty of an offence and on summary conviction thereof be liable to a penalty of not less than $25 nor more than $50, and in default of payment forthwith after conviction to not less than one or more than two months imprisonment."C. O. c. 89 s. 72.

Who would have suspected that!

SALE OF PRODUCTS OF MIXED FARMING

Where the City Comes in on the Question of a Wider Market For This Produce.

The diversified products of mixed farming, such as dairy supplies, poultry, eggs, vegetables, etc., are perishable, and much greater extent than the products of grain farming. The question, therefore, arises, therefore, where will the products of the mixed farm of the West be sold? The market for these products at hand to get the best results as many of the products of the diversified farmer cannot be shipped to advantage over long distances. The Saskatchewan Farmer can't ship to the market problems as to August issue. It emphasizes the fact that producers must not be allowed to get too far ahead of market facilities. To quote the Saskatchewan farmer: "Many farmers mixed industry in a village with a population of 500 cannot find a home market for all the butter, eggs, potatoes, and vegetables that they could readily produce. Only 10 per cent of the farmers in Saskatchewan engaged in mixed farming they would soon glut the market with every city, town and village in Saskatchewan. It is quite evident that the rate of mixed farming in the West must keep pace with the rate at which farmers produce for sale offer problems that only by a more modern facilities will this early in the development of mixed farming it should be made to have the products of the farm reach the table in the new Western factory in the most direct route and in the shortest time. Eliminate the middle man should be the slogan of the mixed farmer as a basic sentiment.

Farmers growth in the West will be more rapid than ever in the next ten years under the present trade policy. But it is altogether likely that the bank of workmen who will be required to man the new industries, along with their wives and families, will consume all the farm supplies the Western farmer can raise.

PROTECTIVE DUTY NOT STEEL BOUNTY

A Wise Policy for the West is to Strive to Become Great in Manufacturing

"One of the requirements required, according to the views of the general drift of the convention, is to the western attendance. As for very proper it intended in an agricultural community, such as this, there should be a great concern locally, providing a home market for a great portion of the industry. That we have not such a great manufacturing industry as eastern Canada, and it is unwise that it should be, is a reason why there is no reason why the needs of the manufacturer as to consumers and should set up a great industry and providing a profitable home market for them. The solution is obvious that Provincial Government instituted at meeting in adjustment essential covering the basic industries of the east, and then that there will be factory units will, it is supposed, for locality not fully served a useful purpose for a time, but that is of the past and should not, and will not be, continued. We never could feel quite at ease of a bounty system instead of a protective tariff. But an adequate protective tariff was open and open to industry certainly should have. As it is at present, there are lines of industry which manufacturers which have no protection whatever against the producers of the United States. Too much consideration by the free trade element that may be in the West should not be made. If the time or when it was to come in there a manufacturing possibly at the earliest possible date and to that many urged and the maintenance of the National Policy of moderate protection and not necessary for the West or for the East."

It is sometimes represented that the people of the maritime Provinces are a set in favor of some tariff and schools free trade. Apparently there are still some of the papers and periodicals some of their readers who realize the advantage that the whole community derives through an industrial and a reasonable trade policy for manufacturing industries.

Northern Messenger

Canada's Religious and Illustrated Story Paper—Largest Circulation

One good old Sunday story teller founds the Northern Messenger has been for nearly fifty years a favorite with the Canadian people. It gives splendid value for the money and contributes largely to a Sunday as well spent as to bring a flood of comfort. A strong ally to the temperance cause and every other moral reform and truly a distinctive leader.

It is such a fine paper that many of the largest city Sunday Schools distribute it as their regular Sunday School paper. For they realize that a paper which gives so much for the money and interests the older members of the family as well as the youngsters gives the parents an additional incentive to see that these children attend regularly the Sunday School. And through the weekly visit of the "Northern Messenger" the church helps to cheer and brighten many who cannot, and others who will attend its services.

The Northern Messenger is issued to subscribers at Godrich, Ontario, for years of confidence in hundreds of thousands of homes. What it does for one it can do for you.

The Band leader subscribes for it, the unofficial reference 12 months for 20 cents. Sunday Schools in any organized part of Canada, Dominion Clubs of ten copies a week to one address for 12 months for $2.00. Larger clubs proportionately low.

The Northern Messenger is published by the John Dougall & Son, Witness Block, Montreal. Can. Try it for a year.

Mrs. Cyrus Young was a visitor to the old home at Burlington recently. Her many friends were very glad to see her.

There was a skating party at Mr. Stewart's on the 29th. Fine ice and lovely time on Scott Modern. A pleasant hour was spent by the young in fine style.

Messrs. J. A. Stewart and T. C. Ring and Hal Talbot came home from their business trip lately, using Grand Trunk and other dining unobjectionably speaking. Each got a big scare and Hal got a dose also. We're all back declaring no more for such scare. Jim tells us that means and four cents only cost one, but some people of the female persuasion begin to understand.

Miss Mabel McCallum has been re-engaged to teacher for 1914 at the Old—we all hope a pleasant time in the afternoon in the school house. There was a lively practice of singing carols, etc. for the public on the 30th when a couple of dozen or more hearers many, who caught, and others who will attend its services.

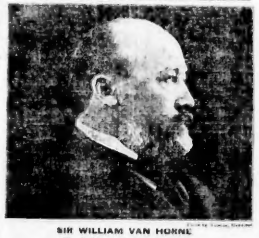
FAMOUS PEOPLE

BY JANE MCCREDIE



SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE

The Builder of the Canadian Pacific.

Sir William Van Horne Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, was born in Illinois, U.S.A., in 1843. He began his railroad career as a telegraph operator and at a very early age was appointed superintendent of the Chicago, Pekin & Southwestern Railway, a position which he filled so satisfactorily that he was soon promoted to be manager of the Southern Minnesota Railway, with headquarters at Winona. Here he remained for some years, and then became general superintendent of the Southern Minnesota Railway Company.

In 1882 he was appointed general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and in 1884 was elected president of the Company. He was knighted in 1894, and in 1898 was elected president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company. THE NEW TARIFF AT WASHINGTON

Now it Compares With the Old Tariff and the Reciprocity Schedules

The new United States tariff which is being discussed in final stages in the Senate at Washington makes greater reductions on Canadian farm products than were expected. Not only that: in many respects the schedules will be more favorable to the Canadian farmer than was the reciprocity agreement of 1911. A long list of farm and other products which would have continued to pay duties under Reciprocity will now go into the States free if the present bill is enacted. Many other articles and commodities will pay much lower duties than would have been charged upon them had the Washington agreement gone into force.

Cattle, swine, sheep and lambs, vegetables, fresh milk, cream, eggs, corn, grass seed, and horses and mules will all be under the American tariff free under the reciprocity arrangement and they are to have the same treatment under the new tariff of the Wilson-Underwood Tariff.

Our wheat will be introduced to the States if we absolute not duty on to American wheat. If we do not the usual United States duty of 25 cents a bushel will be imposed to a 10 per cent. ad valorem duty which would be equivalent to about 7½ cents a bushel on dollar wheat. Remembering the never-ending argument that the United States is growing to export and retaining the fact that during many years in the past crop year Western grown have varied from two to fifteen cents a bushel above the Minneapolis price, it cannot be questioned if many Western farmers would be benefitted if the duty on wheat put awhile. Had the Canadian duty been off during the past few weeks, Canadian millers in Toronto would have filled their bins with cheap and many farmers in Western Ontario before the Western Canadian grain grower whose crop ripens later would have got his grain to market.

Fresh meat, lard, canned meats, preserved meats, salted pork, bacon, sausages, bushwheat flour, malt, malt waste, distillery waste and condensed milk were to be put varying duties under Reciprocity and now they are to go on the free list. Flour is to be free of duties. Will make it free also on oatmeal at 50 cents per 100. Under Reciprocity the duty was to be 10 cents per 100. The new tariff makes marked reductions below existing duties upon the following among other farm products: oats, barley, beans, poultry, dead and alive, cheese, hay, straw, beans, peas, (dried) turnips, onions, cabbages, honey, dried apples, peaches, wild pea, fresh apples, grapes and peaches.

GRAIN ON THE HOOF PAYS THE COUNTRY

A Striking Statement of the Toronto Globe Regarding Canada's Foreign Trade

The Toronto Globe says that one of the most remarkable features of Canada's foreign trade returns for the past year is to be found in the large exports of grain. The Globe continues:

"The advice to send grain on the hoof is being disregarded and the results must bring satisfaction to many and enhance productive capacity. Exports of breadstuffs increased from $81,065,320 in the previous year to $127,635,875 in the year under review. Wheat exports increased from $51,740,537 to $92,525,105, which shows that the West is fulfilling production and wheat flour increased from $16,350,016 to $20,164,713, which shows that our power development is producing secondary industries. It is evident that immediate returns are sought more eagerly than prospective profits, and that the one through the enhancing of farms is not being considered sufficiently. It is suggestive in this connection, that exports of horses and mules decreased from $7,125,000 to $6,832,957, and of horses from $3,971,771 to $2,524,299. Cheese exports declined from $20,951,107, which is but a slight decrease from the previous year's record. These important facts show of the need of diverting effort toward stock-raising and lines of production which restore fertility."

World Pays Money More

Last year Canadians bought 7.26 Money more in the United States, paying $9,300,000 for them. Were there better for the country it would have been if all this Money had stayed in the Dominion, and gone to Canadian manufacturers and operators in Canadian communities instead?

The Franklin Stay Co. of Seattle, have decided to open a factory in Moose Jaw.

BRITISH PREFERENCE

This Question in its Relation to Present Conditions of the West Industry

A study of the various industry in Canada is interesting at the present time in view of the agitation to increase the British Preference in the British manufacturers were given a reduction in their rate equivalent to 16 1-2 per cent. During that year the total value of articles imported into Canada from the United Kingdom amounted to $140,000,000. Under the estimate of this new preferential rate imports would increase and although the loss in 1906 for preferential rate was changed to 33 per cent ad valorem, the importations of British goods increased to exactly that in 1911, it amounted to $154,000,000.

What happened in the matter in 1907 is likely to happen in 1914. In 1907 the total imports of Canada were $240,000,000, in 1911, it was more than $450,000,000.

The report of the Fiscal Inquiry Committee recommended the reduction or removal of the preference of issuing the old drawback on a residence for the British manufacturer by means of from the present duration up to the time property was accepted and the committee gives considerations to the views of the Canadian Manufacturers' Trade to see whether it required the drawback to be continued with regard to the articles and equipment.

The fiscal policy as to its method is to be left in the hands of those drawing the revenue. Following the meeting of the Council.

The office of the Canadian Export Association and the Canadian Council of the remaining balance of material supplied by them for which the goods to be used was accepted.

A motion of appreciation for his efficient attendance at meetings of the council was passed unanimously and handed to Mr. John Lee, retiring councillor. Mr. Lee in accepting the testimonial from same stated that he appreciated it and was sorry in a way to leave the board but he thought he was perhaps quite sorry for those that remained.

At the close of business council session it was proposed that the council should meet in the near future to consider the question of the Tofield cemetery. Councillor Whitmore has consented to take charge of the matter and in his pocket and it was proposed that the chairman for Whitmore immediately get up and the Mayor and Councillors Pincott, Lee and Shaw form the Parliament Hall Committee. The next meeting will be held next Monday night when the new committee will take their seats.

Council Off To Good Start

WHILE at the early stage of the year it is difficult to determine the precise line of action which will be taken in the development of the municipality considerable conclusion can be found in the fact that in the years line up of council the work of the administration is more evenly and fairly balanced than in past year. The present council is composed of no citizens every one of whom of is expected to take a keen and active interest in its affairs. In past years a great bulk of the responsibility was shifted upon the heads and shoulders of a very small number in council, but this year the responsibility is more satisfactorily distributed. The case it should be.

Council this year is off to a good start. Financially the affairs of the town are in a most excellent condition compared to this time a twelvemonth ago. In spite of the general financial depression which seriously affected Tofield similarly to all other western municipalities, the business affairs have been conducted in such a manner that all deamnds for payment of debenture installments falling due have been met during the year, current expenditure has been met in full and the $10,000 overdraft of the first of the year 1913, has been reduced to approximately $3000. Certain embarrassing liabilities incurred by council of 1912 have been mastered and there remains but very little indeed of the perplexing problems to still be solved which confronted council of 1913 1914 ought to be plain sailing for this year's council.

Senate Reform

SO WE are to have SENATE REFORM. It is proposed to constitute another group of 24 Senators from west of the Great Lakes.

Ye gods.

Who wants senate reform of this character?

If the West had 200 extra senators the country would not be a whit better off.

The Senate is part of Canada's spoils system. It is the haven of men rejected by the people; it is the place where men who do my kind of work sometimes dirty work for a party, find a job with $2,000 per annum, a railway pass over all Canadian Railways and other perquisites thrown in. It is in short, as constituted to-day a useless institution costing hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. For a useless chamber it is the most expensive in the world.

And the membership is to be increased!

Is Premier Borden following in the wicked footsteps of many politicians and forgetting that there is such a thing as political honor? Why does he encourage the debasement of public life in Canada? Why is he not true to his word? Has he forgotten his pledges? The senate as constituted to-day is a menace to the freedom and independence of parliament. The promise of a seat in the senate has purchased the servile support of many a member of parliament.—Tribune, Winnipeg.

TOFIELD INDUSTRIAL

Our readers will be pleased to learn that certain negotiations have been instigated and are now underway which mean that further capital is coming Tofield's wards and that this further means an early activity in our industrial sites. With Tofield's cheap coal, just down in such quantities as one-spad, as it were, to the Great Dairy and the vicinity of ultimately unsing Tofield, not only a great source of cheap fuel for the booming population of the prairies, for fuel purposes, but for the Industrial activities of a booming and thriving manufacturing city which further possesses excellent shipping facilities, it cannot seem otherwise than Tofield's industrial possibilities are destined to develop at a rate far in excess of the ordinary western centre.

It is with this realization in mind that Messrs Boyd & Adams of Calgary, a couple of enterprising young men, who see opportunity in being on the ground again saw the advantage of investing in Tofield property which is located in a district which will provide convenient business for the working men at prices which are suitable to the average working man's pocket. In Tofield Industrial Investors are provided in close connection with the Municipal Industrial Sites. The situation of the property is high and dry and it is level. It commands an excellent view of town and the lake. The soil is most excellent for gardening. Excellent water is found on the property. The owners are developing the property and this fall have built some nice cottages for prospective buyers. In fact the owners sold outbuilds to build houses for working men and sell the property as suggested to working men on easy terms, rent to rent, or they will loan the money to purchases for building purposes. They further propose to put in a water system to supply the buildings on the property. Messrs. Boyd & Adams, of Calgary, are the owners. They are authentic members of the Tofield Board of Trade and take keen interest in all matters relating to Tofield's development.

Edmonton City Dairy Has Astounding Growth

From a Comparatively Small Concern in 1906 Has Now Grown Into a Business Capitalized at $250,000—In Month of July, 1912 No Less Than $42,000 Was Paid to Farmers of District for Dairy Produce—A Solution of the Problem as to How the Mixed Farmer Can Dispose of His Produce Easily and With Profit—The Business Continues to Grow Proving That the Consumer is Satisfied With Goods Purchased.

It has long been a problem among both agriculturalists and even economists how the farmer in out of the way places in the province can find a convenient and profitable market for his farm products. Quite frequently, in fact farmers having their property close to the railway station, through lack of any organized system being in vogue for the collection of their dairy products, have been compelled to neglect the more profitable and reliable business of mixed farming for that of simply grain growing. On that account it is realized that the farmer must make a profitable disposal of his cream and milk or he will cease to produce.

Systems have been attempted again and again and were inaugurated by co-operative methods a small solution to the difficulty has been reached but for some unknown reason has never become a permanency.

A SUCCESSFUL UNDERTAKING.

Perhaps the most successful undertaking in regard to the organization of collection of dairy products is that established by the Edmonton City Dairy, which comprises a combined dairy and farm produce exchange. When first before the notice of the farming community in 1906 it commenced to operate in a modest way, but from that day to this and from the small start it had the company has now expanded to the extent of having a capitalized for $250,000. Not only that, but it is handling a larger amount of dairy and farm produce than any company of its kind in the west.

CONDUCT IS IMPORTANT.

It is not only the largest dairy butter of milk, and the biggest manufacturer of ice-cream west of Winnipeg, but it is the largest manufacturers of butter, and farm produce in this province. The reason for its success is the result of standing on the principle of giving to the consumer, which his entitled to, the utmost in value for the money. The company at all times keeps the highest grade of produce.

The average daily milk sales are in the neighborhood of 7,000 gallons, while cream averages approximately 200 gallons each day. In addition to these amounts more than 40,000 pounds of cream is received during the months of ice cream.

1000 MILLION POUNDS OF BUTTER MADE.

In regard to butter, less than two million pounds were handled during 1911. What might be termed the legitimate mark was reached when recently it went in order for Dean funds of E. C. D. butter. Hereto pounds were manufactured in one day alone.

Great thirteen million eggs are handled yearly by the firm, enough to make the most modern of hens give up strike at the apparent overproduction.

The average daily output of eggs is 100 cases each of which contains 30 dozen. Some eggs each day. Every case is guaranteed to be manufactured out and not within five days old. The egg trade is rendered an especial line. The eggs are sent to the west to some 32 branch stores in various parts of the district and sealed to them before the company at all times keeps the highest grade of produce.

Be Prepared for Spring Seeding

Now is the time for farmers to consider the question of a good seed grain supply for next spring.

The greater part of the grain in the West was harvested under ideal conditions and full and fifty difficulty should be met with in getting seed of strong vitality. Notwithstanding this there are some individuals and even sections of the Western Provinces that may not be fortunate at harvest time and may have seed of doubtful vitality in their anxiety for the spring seeding.

Seed of strong vitality makes a good start, helps to keep down the weeds and finally gives the big yield while seed of poor vitality is a sure loss.

Therefore a farmer who suspects the vitality of his seed should send a sample to the Dominion Cereal Seed Laboratory, Calgary, for a germination test. In order that the retest of this test may be of greatest value to the sender precautions in sending the sample should also must be used as for seeding.

Two often seed that is badly contaminated with seed weeds is sown. Every year the production of West ern wheat and oats which contains wild oats is increasing. Such grain must take a lower grade because no satisfactory method of separating it has been devised. Samples of flax containing 15 per cent weed seeds are only too common the amounts to approximately 200 bushels of waste per car.

When the cost of threshing, hauling and treated on this useless material is added to the loss occasioned by the injury to the growing crop, the net profit per acre is very materially lessened.

Flax is the most badly contaminated seed which the farmer sows, and since it is usually sown on new breaking his land is practically ruined at the start. Farmers who have clean farms or farms free from some of the most troublesome weeds—wild oats, stinkweed, false flax, ball mustard, wild mustard, tumbling mustard, etc. should be very careful to sow only clean seed.

The Seed Laboratory at Calgary is at the disposal of the farmers of the public and it is hoped that they will make use of it in their efforts to obtain a pure seed supply.

In former years most of the samples have come in to be tested in March and April, containing quantity of the Laboratory and sometimes causing a delay in reporting on the samples. It is therefore urged that samples be sent in as early as possible to avoid this delay and to enable the farmer to replace his seed who thereby finds it unfit for use.

Sees Dire Happening For The Coming Year

Madame Thebes Foretold Balkan War and Political Changes . In Italy.

Paris, Dec. 30.—With the approach of the new year prophecies of what will come to pass in 1914 are being published almost every where but no fate-ast is read with more real interest than that of Mme. de Thebes, nor is any prophet taken more seriously. The climate which the famous French seeress passes every year never fails to arouse world wide interest and its publication is always a Parisian event.

To her credit stands the prediction of the fall of Khartoum and she it was who prophesied the assassination of Jules Cazaud, president of the French republic, who was stabbed to death by Caserio while dining through the city of Lyons. Queen Victoria's death was also foretold by this remarkable woman one year before it occurred while her most startling prediction was that of the death of President Felix Faure. It will be recalled that Faure passed away suddenly in the prime of life, and while enjoying, apparently, the best of health.

Mme. Thebes's predictions for 1914 are the following:

War will continue to menace the world, as the planet Mars will predominate throughout the year.

A terrible catastrophe is predicted in Italy. Vesuvius will be threatened by floods as a result of inundations.

The monarchy will be restored in Portugal.

Profound changes, amounting to a political upheaval, will take place in Germany and the national life of that nation will be completely transformed.

PREDICTS DEATH OF POPE

The death of the pope is predicted and the event will bring about a great change in Italy. The new pontiff will be more friendly to the Italian Government.

Strife will occur in Austria and there will be bloodshed in the streets of Vienna. The Austro-Hungary dynasty will be nearly tried and will be in grave peril.

Farm will have a favorable year but the republics of France, taken as a whole, will be afflicted with scandals and riots.

America will have a prosperous year.

How many of these predictions will come true is a question impossible to answer, but a glance over the prophecies for 1913 made last year by the seeress is of special interest in this connection.

In her Almanac for 1912 Mme. de Thebes predicted a series of ominous events all of which were entirely improbable, and some of the most unexpected have come true. She announced that 1913, taken as a whole would be a bloody year, the second war in the Balkans and the Mexican revolution certainly justify that prediction.

Bulgaria she said would play a stupendous role in Europe. This recent events have proved to be strangely prophetic.

Another prediction included in the forecast of the French seeress was that Italy would witness a great conflict of upheaval during the year 1913. Here again have recent events confirmed Mme. de Thebes's words.

At the general elections held this month in the kingdom of Victor Emmanuel, at which men of all classes were for the first time permitted to vote, a change of vital importance to Italy and involving a complete transformation of the political map of that country took place. The Vatican, setting aside its old quarrel with the Quirinal permitted Catholics for the first time to take part in the elections.

The Observatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican, kept its readers well posted as to whom they should support, and the result was that the Socialists and anti-Clericals were defeated. All the ministerial candidates, for whom there appeared to be little hope before the Vatican stepped in, were saved by the Catholic vote. The candidates who received the support of the Catholic vote have agreed not to sanction any measure directed against the church.

What is perhaps the most remarkable prophecy ever made by Mme. de Thebes or by any other seeress is the forecast of the 1912 presidential election in the United States, which was given out by the famous French prophetess in December, 1910, almost two years before the election and at a time when there was every reason to believe that the outcome which she predicted was an impossibility. Mme. de Thebes said:

America is undergoing a political evolution. You will have great excitement, unrest and disturbance over your presidential election two years hence. Much of this will centre about Mr. Roosevelt, who is certainly one of the greatest men in America from a purely governmental point of view, but he has one great fault—ambition. He has a considerable brain, but ambitious desire for power is a malady of the brain. It is the worm in the apple. If he tries to go too high he will break his wings and fall.

It is his ambition which will destroy him. He will not again be chosen president. In failing to get him again in the presidency, however, America will be saved, for he has the strong fist that is necessary in governing a young people. He has courage and brilliance but he has the weakness that affects the faults of the people and, above all, he has the energy to defend the people."

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held the r usual month ly meeting on Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs P. Ingram. There was a good attendance and quite an interesting meeting. The Union is taking up some of the different departments of the W. C. T. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess and the usual social time was spent. The next meeting will be held on the second Thursday in February.

It is gratifying to learn that as a result of the recent voting on Local Option in Alberta, fifteen new places are added to the dry territory of that province and that in every one of the fourteen places in which repeal was attempted local option was sustained—also that in our Capital City, Ottawa, where a plebiscite took place regarding the reduction of licenses, a majority of over seven hundred was given in favour of reducing the tavern licenses by nineteen and shop licenses by ten. Our cause is gaining ground.

Albert Trent Blows Top of Head Off On His Farm No Cause For Deed Is Known To Her Relatives

Albert Trent a rancher, ten miles north of Tofield killed himself at seven o'clock last Monday morning in a granary on his farm, blowing the top of his head off with a discharge of a shotgun. Richard Sammons, his hired man, discovered Trent hanging in the story of the horrible tragedy.

Trent got up as usual at 6 a.m. and appeared in his usual spirits when he left the farm yard and when he left the house before Sammons went out to do the chores. After completing his usual work before breakfast, Sammons returned to the house. Mrs. Trent and Sammons ate breakfast Trent's return to the home he being gone out again after the hired man left to do the chores. Not appearing for breakfast, Sammons and Mrs. Trent went out to call and look for the missing man. Sammons noticed the granary door open and went to look within. As he flashed his lantern into the granary he saw the body of Mr. Trent lying on the floor in a pool of blood. He called Mrs. Trent and they discovered life was extinct. Sammons immediately went to see Constable Hardy, a quarter of a mile away and notified him of the occurrence. Constable Hardy then and drove into town to notify Coroner Hammond and relatives of the deceased while to Edmonton.

The deceased rancher is a brother of A. G. Trent, of Edmonton. He came up from Crescente, Out. last fall spring and occupied his brother's ranch until a couple of months ago, when he purchased the Rose farm in that neighborhood. He leaves a widow and one son.

Coroner Hammond left early in the day for the ranch to investigate the matter. On his arrival at the scene he made a close inquiry and found no reason to suspect foul play necessary. In being a case of deliberate intention on the part of the unfortunate man while at least temporarily insane through worry over financial troubles.

In the evening deceased's brother, A. J. Trent, of Edmonton and Mrs. Trent arrived and at once drove out to the farm an undertaker from the city accompanying them. On Thursday morning Mr. Trent left with the remains for Crescente, Ont., where interment will be made in the family burial ground. The sympathy of the entire neighborhood is felt for the bereaved family as they are one of the most popular families who have lived in the district.

Boarding House Keeper at Tofield Convicted of Contravening the Liquor License Ordinance Fined $100 or Three Months

Two Sent Down For Two Months Each Under Dead Beat Act.

Two convictions were made by Justice of the Peace Whillans last week under the Dead Beat amendment to the Criminal Code. Mike Crane and Pete Bratic, Austrians were found guilty to the charge of running away from their respective home near Tofield, without settling their board bills, of which boarding house Joe Sadek is the proprietor, and who had the charges against them. The accused men were apprehended in Winnipeg on warrants for theft on information laid by Sadek. The latter with the draw the charge of stealing the sum of $9.20 against one of the men, but held to the charge of the theft of a coat from him against the other. The evidence did not prove conclusive against the latter and he was discharged. Crane and Bratic were each given two months for beating their board bill.

Upon the close of the above cases Mike Uram preferred a charge of selling liquor without a license against Sadek. Sadek pleaded not guilty. The case was attached for several days to take evidence in full. Last Friday when the case again came on, Justice Whillans authorized Constable Reandle to make a search of the premises. In the police found a quarter gallon beer barrel and several gallon wines key jugs. This substantiated the evidence given at the trial And on Monday the justice convicted the accused on the charge and imposed a fine of $150, intending costs, or in default of payment further six imprisonment for three months On Monday evening Constable Beaudle took all three prisoners to Edmonton, from those they will be taken to the Fort to undergo imprisonment under their respective sentences.

Need of More Water Apparent

THE NEED of a larger supply of water, stored in tank or reservoir, for fire protective purposes will be readily recognized as one of the first matters to be dealt with by Tofield during the present year. We may consider ourselves fortunate indeed that we have not yet this winter been in the position that we have had to call on the water works department for aid in time of fire. But we do not know the day or hour when this may have to be done. In any ordinary circumstance, with any isolated blaze, we are in an excellent position to fight fire either with chemical apparatus or with streams of water from the waterworks system, but it is the fire which may break out in the congested portion of town that we must also be prepared for. This condition forms itself into a demand upon us to meet that condition by the provision of an adequate supply stored in a proper receptacle and connected with our power plant in such a manner that it can be drawn upon, if required at a moment's notice. Already this matter has been informally discussed in council and will be one of the first problems which will come up for action.

The choir of St. Andrews Church recently purchased a new organ of the two manual, pedal class from the Karn-Morris people. The organ arrived this week and on Wednesday was installed in the church. At will, the organist can bring forth the tiniest and sweetest of piccolo or change to the full notes of the congregational doxology and in a flash to the thundering tones of the grand swell. The choir and organist are delighted with it. It will greatly aid in the work of this department of the church.

OLD LADY PRUDEN DEAD

Mrs. Jane Pruden, relict of the late James Pruden, died last Thursday evening at seven o'clock at the advanced age of about ninety years. She leaves three sons and five daughters who are well known among the older generation of Western Canada. These are James Pruden of Lesser Slave Lake, Charles Pruden of Prince Albert, and Frank of Tofield. The daughters are Mrs. J. Kennedy, Mrs. Henry Fraser, and Mrs. C. P. Jonas of Edmonton, Mrs. Joe Norn of Myrtle Creek and Mrs. George Norris of Beaver Lake. The funeral took place on Saturday, interment being made at St. James the Apostle cemetery and Rev. J. Mason conducting the obsequies. The pall bearers were Geo. Norris, W. Lemcke, Joe Norn, F. Berard, and Jos. Gladue, Sr. Relatives and friends from Edmonton and other outside points were present.

Vaudeville at the Variety Theatre

The Musical Eckhardts are billed to appear at the Variety Theatre, Saturday evening, January 17th. This noted family of musicians and fun makers has made an enviable reputation in the concert business throughout Canada and the United States, where they have been travelling for the past fourteen years.

In view of the demand for pure but prized vaudeville, the Eckhardts have changed their policy this season and are presenting fine high class vaudeville acts of unusual merit.

G. C. Eckhardt, the comedian, has rejoined the company after an absence of three years and is making a big hit with his one man plays and monologues. Bernard and Margaret Eckhardt have just returned from playing a six weeks engagement on the Pantage vaudeville circuit, where they were feature attraction and headline musical act. As a xylophone player Mr. Bernard Eckhardt has no equal. Their act is presented with the same special stage setting that they used in the leading vaudeville houses of the country.

T. Eckhardt, the father of this organization, is personally in charge of the company, which fact alone will be sufficient to convince those of the public who know his reputation that they can expect an attraction of the highest order. Mr. Eckhardt was formerly in charge of burpose and danger. Many valuable animals are injured by broken fences or gates, and always by the fence or gate itself but by getting through the fence or gate into a field of grain and eating enough to cause bloat, or by strolling on to a railroad track and being hit by the cars.

Perhaps the whole herd breaks through into a neighbor's fields and destroys his crops. Such things are mighty unpleasant, and cause bad feeling among the best of neighbors.

Good fences and strong gates are cheaper than good stock and damage suits. Good gates and fences add to the permanent value of a farm. If a man has not sufficient pride in his farm to keep up his fences, economy should compel him to give them more attention. The poor gate is the weakest link in the fence. There is nothing that adds more to the appearance of a farm than good, substantial gates and fences. Such appearances cannot be bought for dollars when

CLEAN MILK METHODS

Brush the cow's udder and wipe with a dry cloth; use clean water and dry with a clean towel.

Milkers should wash their hands with soap and water and dry with clean towel.

Whitewash the cow stable at least twice yearly.

Feed no dusty feed until after milking.

Remove all manure from cow stable twice daily.

Keep barnyard clean and have manure pile at least 100 feet from the stable.

Have abundant windows in cow stable to permit sunlight to reach the floor.

Arrange a proper system of ventilation for the cow stable. Hing system is suggested.

Do not use milk from any cows suspected of garget or any udder inflammation. Such milk contains enormous numbers of bacteria.

A GREENLAND BELLE

The arctic explorers and whalers always touch Greenland before they make their dashes farther north, with the result that the native Greenlanders of those days have a pretty good taste of civilization.

These natives are Eskimos, or half breeds. In return for furs and fish they sell to their visitors and for whatever they tender, they get much cheap finery, and often utility articles, such as cooking utensils, clothing, stoves, furniture and—whiskey.

The general result is that the Greenland people grow different to the more remote Eskimos.

The girl in the photograph undoubtedly wears a costume made in Denmark or Norway, where they best understand the manufacture of clothes for extremely cold climates. Some of the women are quite attractive. Most of them have flatter faces, however, than the one here shown. She lives at Thorshavn, northwest Greenland, and is of part Danish blood.

FENCES AND GATES

Should be Strong and Neat—Some of the Reasons

Any man who keeps stock should have good fences and strong gates. Broken-down fences and old dilapidated gates are a constant source of annoyance and danger. Many valuable animals are injured by broken fences or gates, and always by the fence or gate itself but by getting through the fence or gate into a field of grain and eating enough to cause bloat, or by strolling on to a railroad track and being hit by the cars.

Perhaps the whole herd breaks through into a neighbor's fields and destroys his crops. Such things are mighty unpleasant, and cause bad feeling among the best of neighbors.

Good fences and strong gates are cheaper than good stock and damage suits. Good gates and fences add to the permanent value of a farm. If a man has not sufficient pride in his farm to keep up his fences, economy should compel him to give them more attention. The poor gate is the weakest link in the fence. There is nothing that adds more to the appearance of a farm than good, substantial gates and fences. Such appearances cannot be bought for dollars when

CHINESE TELEGRAMS

How the Mystic Characters Are Sent Over the Wires

The Chinese written language has several hundred thousand different characters. None of these can be spelled on as in Indiana accurately have their pronounced. Besides there are hundreds of ways of pronouncing each character, so there are hundreds of spoken dialects in China. Although the book language is the same throughout the country. How it is possible to send a telegram in such a country and in such a language? The difficulties have been overcome and it is really not too trouble and less expensive to send a message in China than in English.

There is in every Chinese telegraph office a special dictionary, or telegraph code book whereby a person may choose to call it, in which the characters are numbered from one to up. A total number of 9,000 such is catalogued under the present system. A certain number of blank spaces have been reserved to add special characters from time to time. The sender of the telegram simply tells the message in the usual way. The operator will probably know the main parts of some of the characters. If he does not he can find them in the catalogue. For each character he sends the three figures, e.g., 1911 1911, 1911 sends represents the characters "Chinese and Kai," the name of the Emperor, the President of China. It will of course appear that only 10 different signals are needed for messages, but there are many different combinations. By spotting up an assistant chatacter into the combinations it may be easily made. Private codes are readily prepared with this system.

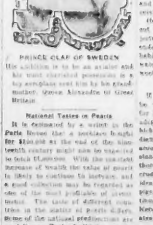
MODERN "ANCIENT BRITONS"

Little Colonies of These People Are Found in England

Practically every Englishman is Anglo-Saxon by blood, but there are according to scientists, one or two districts in England where there are colonies directly descended from the Ancient Britons. The blue-painted gentlemen who, according to the history books, inhabited England before the Anglo-Saxons killed them off.

They do not look like Englishmen at all. They are short, are exactly as Spaniards, with very native hair and with exclusive eye colour.

There are some villages of these modern Ancient Britons, though the villages are very few and very out of the way. It is this out-of-the-way-ness that has kept them so without from the country people around them. Some of them, indeed, have not even had road communication with the rest of the world till comparatively recent times. One of these curious districts is at Hinkford in Dorset. Although this has now some village or "black men."



PRINCE OLAF OF SWEDEN

His addition is to be an aviator and his wife claims that he is already a better aeroplane nut than he has found market. Queen Alexandra is Grand Britain.

National Tastes in Pearls

It is announced by a writer in the Paris Revue that a necklace bought for $15,000 at the end of the last fourth century might now be regarded as cheap. With the natural increase of wealth the value of pearls is likely to continue to increase, and a good collection may be regarded as one of the most profitable of investments. The taste of different countries in the matter of pearls differs. Some of the national predilections are as follows: England—White pearls. The Argentine—Slightly colored or cream. North America—Pink tea; many. White. France—Pink or light

NEW ARE POSTED ON POISON IVY

This Bothersome Weed Which Affects Only Human Beings Easy to Recognize in the Woods

It is safe to say that no poisonous plant in Canada is better known by name than poison ivy. One could consequently expect to find it also one of the most generally known as first hand, of all our plants, but it is notwithstanding how many people confuse themselves unacquainted with it. Not only townsfolk, but many farmers, and not a few of those who profess to be interested in natural history studies, are unable to recognize it, says a report by the Dominion Botanist.

Poison ivy, different from the majority of poisonous plants in that it does not require to be eaten in order to produce its ill effects. Mere contact with it is sufficient and indeed many people declare that they are affected even in its presence, though they do not touch it at all. The possibility of dry poisoning without contact is not admitted though, by those who have studied the matter the most closely to which its effects are due. This poison has been found in be a substance in the bark the name "toxicodendrol" has been given. The poisonous substance is found in dry seeds where it may become a real danger supporting itself on the trunks of trees in the forests of Ontario and Quebec, or often climbing as trailing. The leaves are said composed of three ovate, more-or-less toothed leaflets, and serve well as a means of identification. There are no plants of similar habit in Canada with leaves which could easily be confused with them. The Virginia Creeper is often held to be poisonous, quite needlessly though. It has five, and not three, leaflets, which spread from the summit of the petiole of the hand. The poison ivy can also, of the way it is this out-of-the-way-ness that has kept them so without from the country people around them. Some of them, indeed, have not even had road communication with the rest of the world till comparatively recent times. One of these curious districts is at Hinkford in Dorset. Although this has now some village or "black men."

Here Robbie Burns.

The question is often asked: Where do swallows obtain their drink? As our chimney sweeps are sometimes driven to get out for fresh air and find that round furnaces there are hovering around and under a dozen swallows clustering, the ducks on a hot day at a pond, and skimming the surface of the water for food. They will touch a cake—until a hundred holes in each before they will touch it. Ducks will not touch cucumber sandwiches.

How long swallows exist without water is not known, but it is probable that they habitually visit pools of standing water, for probably their powers of endurance are not greater than those of the domestic fowl, which is without water for many days, if not for a week or more.

Scratching Post For Hens

If a hen knows how to build her roosts she would demand a scratching post for herself. A rough piece of timber about 18 ins. high. Firmly plant a hickory or oak post four inches in diameter in the hen run. Cut a rope around the post so that it is not so thick that it will not slip. Then thoroughly saturate the rope with crude petroleum and its location a day scratching post for her hens. The rope will rot away in a few days, and will not be found in water. Kerosene can be used but it evaporates too readily.

Move the roosts in the poultry house remarkably and apply kerosene on the under and upper sides once a week.

RETIRED FARMERS UNHAPPY IN TOWNS

Tiny Find Themselves Out of Their Element And Pine For Open Life of the Country

Many farmers seem not to realize the change that comes to them with the farm—as a fish out of water, says the Saskatchewan Agriculturist. The fish may not relish its treatment for long; year's change, but the farmer who has for years been in the cattle grade and the cereal and roots grow and thrive best on roots to milk, he pines for the privilege to stand. In a few months he and chances was content would feel a fish of 2-ton.

The change comes heavily on the farmer's wife. He does odd jobs about home, thus he right his self-respect. Asks to the square deal on the town for a while. He does not agree on that, he thinks, because he has deposited the price of his town house. But it is a busy place, and he soon has time to ask to him or he goes over to some of the stores and lounges around a while. If he does bother, you may find him sitting in front of the livery barn. He also takes an active interest in the arrival and departure of the trains and you will find him frequently scanning the passengers and the baggage deposited on the platform. Then he goes to the post office for the mail. He does papers from the large cities interested in, and if he is a talker he finds he can voice his opinions on political questions. When not this employment is over he wanders back home and tries to put in the time until the dinner gong is rung.

Unfortunately the retired farmer does not as a rule, agree with the fundamental spirit of the town people. He wants to live among them, but he does not care to join them. He very much disapproves of lakes for the beautification of his community. He does not care for public improvements. He can see along without electric lights or water works or paved streets or any of those new-fangled notions. For these and other reasons the retired farmer is not considered a valuable addition to a town. He is too selfish, too one sided for a live, go-ahead place. A fellow thing about the matter is that the farmers who moves to the city in 20 forty think likely to have the experience of a person transplanted to another soil. It may function for a short time, but its life history is short. So with the man who has spent his best years out in the open. The change and comforts of town and city life are not his natural environment, and he fades and withers as do the plants in a hot, short years and he returns to the soil and becomes, not his time, but a component part of it. Better stick to the farm.

BLANKETING THE HORSE

Judgment Should be Used or Animals Will Suffer

There are horse blankets and horse blankets, as classes of horses and to every kind of weather and condition in which to use them, but horses often are forced to suffer through their use or rather misuse.

The common practice of blanketing horses soon in the fall, when their winter coat begins to come in to keep the animal sweating "fine," is a source of to say the least, discomfort to the animal, to keep a horse in a warm stable and then blanketed and then walk him throughout the day will not help things much but only add to the misery. To make a sleek coat can be maintained in this way but it is rather dear one to the horse. The use of every blanket under normal conditions cannot be condemned too much. First place is for not to secure warmth. Under horses have to stand outside or in open sheds during the winter and take on a light, dried coat should be used. Even during the middle the horse should not have clothing over a light cover.

The heavy blanket, while it is to maintain to protect the horse in certain conditions and should always be on a handy place on the farm ready for use, can be greatly abused and take circumstances use and choose the horse as much or more discomfort than if it were taken away entirely. Besides keeping form of action, it keeps the water from drying out and yet it is all the time drying rapidly within the jar. In a few moments the water is comparatively cool and is relished by the thirsty passerby.

Hogs and Hens Bad Neighbors

No farm is only that can with hogs. No one can tell how what moment a hog may decide to have children for a relish. The more glorious the fowl the greater the risk.

MOOSE VERSUS DEER

Savage Battle Fought on Railway Tracks While Train Waited

The passengers on a train bound Cobalt saw a sight that few human beings have ever witnessed, and that was a battle between two fresh deer and a moose. The engineer, having to curve in a forest saw the animals several times and started down, coming to a stop within fairly easy distance of the struggle but they took no notice, so best were they on beating each other to pieces.

Many of the passengers alighted and ran to the front of the engine, some three stories but still the fight was going and by about this minutes the combatants witnessed a magnificent struggle.

The antlers of the two bucks had become locked and had it could not be seen whether the horns of the moose were of use or not for kept his head down and fought with his feet, hoofing might. The two snorted and blew and the moose tried in vain to be starting off defeat as long as position. The sides of all were red with wounds and blood streamed on the tracks. Finally the moose drew back about five yards and with a plunge lowered both of his opponents into a ditch beside the track. This for the first time he seemed to notice the human beings, and bounded off into the woods.

The passengers and trainmen climbed on board and the train started once more, but not before a long week and exhausted beside the track with their horns still locked.

A caricature of Calvert, the famous Niagara drawn by himself only better than figures entering into the compositions. Calvert is on the right with a cigar in his cathe corner.

EUGENICS DEFINED

Sir Francis Galton's definition of eugenics is the study of agencies under social control, that may improve or impair the racial qualities of future generations, either physically or mentally. He has also defined eugenics as "the science which deals with all influences that improve and develop the inborn qualities of a race." He appears to have always favored more particularly to hereditary influences, for in this one section he adds "the study of eugenics is to represent each class or sect by its best specimens that they may contribute more than their proper ton to their next generation, that is, to leave them to work out their common civilization. In their own way." Another high authority has drawn a clear distinction between "race improvement through heredity" eugenics and "race improvement through environment" for which a new term 'euthenics' has been coined in this wider definition 'eugenics' is concerned specially with the improvement of the human race through marriage and parenthood associated, as those are, with the principles of heredity, race culture and race (eugenics).

Peculiar Way to Cool Water

In central Nicaragua it suffers no hot water in one of the most peculiar ways imaginable. They take an earthen jar. All it perhaps three quarters full of water and when anybody wishes a cool drink they grasp the jar by two leather handles and swing it through the air as if it were an enormous dumb-bell. Then centrifugal force drives the particles of the water from flying out and yet it is all the time moving rapidly within the jar. In a few moments the water is comparatively cool and is relished by the thirsty passerby.

Lord Strathcona Passed Away

Lord Strathcona, Canada's High Commissioner in Great Britain, passed on to his Great Reward at an early hour yesterday morning at his home in London, England. He has been ill but a short time, in fact, a matter of but a few days. He had, however, been in a decline of health since the demise of Lady Strathcona, a few months ago. Lord Strathcona was an indefatigable worker in spite of his extreme old age, he having passed the four score and ten mark two or three years ago.

Mail Boxes at Depot

Mail boxes of the regulation type have been supplied by the Post Office Department for use at the depot for the mailing of letters to catch the east and west going mails respectively and were installed a few days ago by Geo. Dixon, the local mail carrier. East going mail may be deposited in the box at the east end of the station and west going mail in the box at the west end. The provision of these boxes is a matter which has been urged upon the department by the Tofield Board of Trade and credit is due the latter organization for the success of its efforts on behalf of the general public.

Organize U. F. A. Local At Kingman

A meeting of the United Farmers of Alberta was held in Tofield on January 14th, for the purpose of reorganizing the local, also one at Kingman on the same evening Mr. Austin, of Ranfurly, one of the directors of the provincial association, addressed the meetings, giving a brief account of what the association is doing for the benefit of the farmers.

The farmers in the Tofield district do not seem to be alive to their interests, as they did not want to reorganize again. At the same time they admit that the association is doing a lot of good but for some unaccountable reason they refuse to support it in any way.

The meeting at Kingman proved to be quite a success, the school house being packed full. A large representation of farmers from the West was in attendance, representing two other locals of the association. A district local was organized, with a membership of twenty one.

The farmers around Kingman are alive to their interests and are willing to support the association when they expect to be benefitted by it. Mr. Bell was appointed as delegate to attend the convention to be held at Lethbridge on January 21st, 22nd and 23rd.

H. Mayer, of Edmonton, who is interested largely in Tofield real estate and who has lately returned from an extended trip to England and Europe paid a visit to Tofield last Monday. Mr. Mayer says that of the districts and countries he had seen on his trip he likes Alberta the best. Right glad was he to realize that all the stories being circulated in the Old Country and eastern Canada about the hard times in the West are utterly untrue. Times, he says, and conditions are much better in the West than pictured and much better than they are in the east.

Allan Hall Passed Away

Allan Hall, of Tangy, Kilsbeasie, Campbellton, Scotland passed away last Saturday at his home in Scotland after but a short attack of illness. Word came by cable and telegraph to his son, S. A. Hall of town, last Monday morning. Mr. Hall was well and favorably known to quite a number of Tofielders, he having paid several visits to this portion of the West some years ago. He was contemplating another trip to Tofield this year.

The opposition of the doctors has broken down as they are making more money under the Act than ever before.

Carnival A Success

The first carnival of the season at the skating rink took place on Tuesday night of this week and was the occasion when many of our young people planned and carried out a successful inroguate. The costumes worn at the masquerade were varied. The clown and comedy were predominent. Tasty, natty and attractive costumes were comparatively few. Special mention is due to Mrs Somers as a gipsy, Miss Marshall as Spanish Girl, Mrs. Geo. McLaughlin as Norse Miss Reddish as Quaker Lady, Miss Marion Ferguson as Flower Girl, Miss Nola Hamman as Indian Girl, Miss Alva McDonald's Night; Messrs. Pinnett and Travers as South African Hottentots, J. W. Somers as S. A. Volunteer, H Rogers as Highwayman and D Masters as Retana.

Strict Precaution Necessary.

THE disastrous fire at Didsbury on January 1st, which wiped out the entire business section of that town is a lesson to all other young towns throughout the province that they cannot be too careful in the matter of the prevention of fire and the provision of capable equipment for fighting fire. Since Tofield had its two disastrous fires three and four years ago greater care has been taken in the matter of fire prevention and much has been done to establish an efficient fire fighting equipment. The demonstration at midnight on New Years Eve as Old Father Time ushered the Old Year out and the New Year in gave to the citizens several comforting assurances. The installation of a steam whistle at the power house, which was blown its first blast as the New Year was ushered in, the fact that a full reservoir of water is on hand and mains full, ready for an emergency, the full head of steam which is kept on at the plant, the fire alarm system in good working order although the ringing of the fire alarm was in one sense regrettable and a goodly number of young men, willing and ready, members of a capable fire brigade to handle the apparatus, all combine to show that Tofield is as up-to-date as it is possible for a young town of its present status to be.

While the above is an excellent condition of affairs for the town in "being ready" for an emergency, the matter of fire prevention merits a more co operative spirit on the part of the citizens. Recent regulations passed by Council, Fire Observer, will do much to eliminate any probability of a blaze originating from causes, which are, generally speaking, all too frequent. Council will do well to see that the attention of citizens is drawn closely to the danger of improper disposal of live ashes, to the careless manner in in the burning of rubbish and to the further danger of allowing stoves and furnace pipes and flues to remain in a defective condition.

Others Views.

THE starting of regula train service on the E. D & B. C. to Smith is an important step in the process of opening up the great northwestern region whose settlement will give a great boost to Alberta, and particularly to Edmonton. How important a step it is, and how urgent it is to carry on the process with all despatch, was shown by the fact that only half those who wanted to go out could find room on the first train. The "great trek" toward the Peace will likely be greater than ever during the coming spring months. Bulletin

THE Manitoba Government passed unanimously a resolution asking the Dominion to turn over the control of the natural resources to the province. The resolution is in line with an arrangement made by Premier Roblin with Premier Sifton and Premier Scott to urge similar claims on behalf of all three Prairie Provinces. Premier Roblin's acceptance of this arrangement, and of the resolution introduced in the Manitoba Legislature, indicates that the Ottawa authorities are not averse to the change of administration being asked for. Not that they have necessarily any intention of conceding the request. No preliminary step has been taken which would indicate that. But a Dominion election cannot be indefinitely postponed—it has not been thought safe to delay redistribution longer than the present session—and the request for the resources will give Mr. Borden another opportunity to promise to attend to the matter if he should be again returned. It is true that his previous promises have been undulified and this must discount his future promises as vote-getters in the West. Still as between a badly discounted promise and no hint at all he doubtless thinks the former is likely to catch more fish.—Bulletin.

Kratchenko Is Re-captured.

Kratchenko, the alleged Pine Creek bank robber and murderer of the bank manager, who escaped a short time ago from the goal in Winnipeg has been re-captured in Winnipeg. His counsel has been arrested on a charge of complicity in alleged use of the police on duty at the time of his escape on the same charge.

Senator Cox died at Toronto at the age of 73. He was an active business man right up to the last and interested on the directorate of many companies.

TRAGEDY OF RADCLIFFE

Radcliffe-Trevor at Bury Lancashire, is the reputed scene of the tragedy told in the Lancashire ballad of "Fair Elinor of Radcliffe," daughter of Sir William de Radcliffe, whose terrible fate is also recounted in a ballad in Dr. Percy's collection, entitled "The Lady Isabella's Tragedy, or the Stepmother's Cruelty."

Elinor's mother died in giving her daughter birth, and Sir William married again. The stepmother was in constant jealous of her predecessor's beautiful daughter, so one day while Sir William was hunting she sent the girl into the kitchen with a message to the cook to cross "the white doe." The cook understood, and killed the girl, making her bring a pie. On the knight returning he was told that Elinor, or Isabella, had entered a nunnery, but Sir William was suspicious and the truth was revealed by a swallow who warned the master against eating the pie. For her share in the crime the stepmother was buried, the cook being placed in boiling lead. There are several versions of the story, which undoubtedly, is based on fact.

CEREMONY OF PLOWING

Chinese Emperors Took Part in This Every Spring

While the old order of things remained in China, and before that country became a republic it was the business of the emperor to attend to the important ceremony of the early spring plowing, which from time immemorial was performed by the ruler of the Flowery Kingdom in the sacred fields near Pekin.

The solemn ceremony was observed for the purpose of impressing upon the Chinese people the importance of tilling the earth and striking to the farm.

The emperor, accompanied by his retinue, was summoned to proceed to great state to the sacred field. At each of the four corners of the field stood a pavilion, where the seeds of wheat and other cereals were kept. In the middle of the field members of magnificently attired courtiers held aloft many colored flags, while thousands of farmers looked on, each holding some agricultural implement in his hand.

Placing his left hand on the plow and holding a whip in his right hand, the emperor began the ceremony. By prearrangement the officers did their allotted share, some wielding hoes and others scattering seeds out of baskets, as if sowing them, while the emperor was busy with the plow, which was hitched to a richly caparisoned bullock, draped in yellow, and led by two of the emperor's body guard.

When the emperor finished his stint at the plow, the royal princes went through a similar performance, and after them nine of the highest courtiers took a turn. Then the ceremony was completed, and the royal plowman and his train returned to the palace.

Landseer's Amiability.

Sir Edwin Landseer appears to have been one of the portest examples of the absentminded person on record. In Mrs. Cowden Clarke's reminiscences she recounts her amusement at "Edwin Landseer's wonderful fear, when some one was talking of being able to write or draw with the left hand. Landseer remarked, 'I think I can not only draw with my left hand, but I can draw with both hands at once. Whereupon he took up two pencils and actually drew a horse with one hand and a dog with the other, at the same time!"

(Held over from last week.)

The entertainment and dance at the New Hastings School was a huge success and although the management deserve due credit, the real success of the opening was due to the co-operation of the settlers who came in crowds. Filled with enthusiasm and glad to show good will to all at dust opening of school and year.

The affair commenced after a short address by the chairman Mr. A. J. Pool and report by secretary Stackhouse, with the first act of a drama presented by a group of hard working and talented Lindbrook folk, a partial list of whom is as follows—Messrs. Geo. Weiderill, Percy Nowais, Will. James, Ray Dunn, Guy Dunn, Mrs. W. James, Miss Rowan, the Misses Wiederrills, Miss Waite, Mr. Fred Pinnock and others. The work these people did was beyond praise and the management and district join in hearty thanks to these clever folk for their hard work and devotion in spite of many difficulties.

Mr. George Wetherill deserves special mention in the dual parts of "Hopeful," a gentleman with rag and clothes, but humorous disposition, and a "Celestial," whose "English" brought forth roars of laughter. Miss Rowan tickled the funny sensibilities of the audience with her very fine rendering of a "School-mistress," whose fastious interests and the free use of whose umbrella on the heads of those who crossed her path caused much merriment. Mr. James was a villain who took his part so well that the audience was pleased when he was finally carried out dead. Mr. Percy Dunn was an ideal innocence agent, whose "butting-in" was much appreciated by an audience who had been pestered by that breed of agent.

Mrs. Jones deserves unlimited praise. Her work was intensely dramatic and her lines flowed with a smoothness which was entirely out of the amateur class. The other members of the company were very good and had their lines well memorized.

A sketch entitled "The Smiths" was rendered very loudly by the audience. W. C. Stackhouse took the part of Mrs. Smith. A. J. Pool that of Mr. Smith.

Mrs. Verge and Mrs. S. George entertained with piano duets on solos.

Mr. Robt. George tickled the children with a short talk and stories.

Mr. John Lofts sang a Scotch song.

Mr. Stanley George sang "The Road to Yesterday." Mr. George has a fine voice and his work was much appreciated.

At exactly twelve o'clock the chairman announced the 1912 has arrived and that the "kid" was off. After giving three cheers for 1913 thereby regratulating ourselves into the good graces of the new year we also what the ladies brought (I mean the sandwiches and cake) and then the dance began. Words fail here, but one happy young man, whose opinion was asked, said: "It's a boat," which was the general opinion.

Mr. Chas Blake was an efficient floor director. Mr. Dibbs, violin, Mr. J. Lindsay, violin, and Miss Hutchinson, pianist, all contributed to the general enjoyment by their good work.

The next affair is announced to take place at the hall of the 2nd every noon. Exact dates to be announced later.

POULTRY POINTERS

Young turkeys are of a delicate nature when first hatched and should have brooder not be fed on their heads, which usually remain about three months of age. After that they are hardy and may be allowed unlimited range at all times.

When the hens have the run of the farm, which is common, many are disposed to make their nests away from the regular buildings, says The Weekly Witness. Unless they are to be allowed to set, much care is needed in locating these nests and protecting eggs. Indeed, it is best to confine the hens for a time in indoor nests to get in the regular nests.

Immediately after thawing quality should be placed in an old tight boot and allowed to remain there until all the animal fat has run off the body. Failure to do this is sure up to cause the carcasses to turn sour and spoil by the time they reach their destination.

Huerta's Routed Army Gets Shelter

MARFA, Tex., Jan. 18.—Fed-erals crossed and almost exhausted from four months of fighting the Villa Mexican Federal soldiers and generals sought refuge from Villa's victorious army on American soil here today. Nearly 1,000 women and about 400 children, escorted by a strong force of Mexican troops, were brought into the border town. They will be transported by train to Fort Bliss at El Paso.

The rapid retreat of the Huerta army which sought asylum in this country rather than face possible extermination by the rebels, was in Ojinaga by Tuesday, according to the commandant. Some of them, the commandant was quoted today, are going to Chihuahua City, where they will be allowed to remain unmolested. Such a course, the commandant said, would be followed by all Mexican soldiers who might cross the border, except Huerta, Mercado, Huerta's military chief.

Nothing on a large, but wireless scale, is known of the two officials who disappeared not only at the defeat of their army and the necessity for his flight to foreign soil, but also because of a report from Mexico City that he would be surreptitiously landed in reform to his native country.

Comment

Verily the reports of proceedings of the dignified (?) aldermanic board of the Capital City of Alberta these days are not elevating literature. Neither does the calibre of some men of aldermanic standing seem to be of a very high order. When Mayor McNamara raps for order in Edmonton's Council Chamber it is not so quiet as the now proverbial Main Street of Viking, or was it Bruce ?

o o o o o

Edmonton Gas prospectors have an offer from a gas company interested in supplying gas to that city from a source which is not Bruce or Vegreville, of a standard drilling outfit and the offer is supplemented by a further one of drillers to operate the machinery. Outfit and crew to be used to prospect the East Beaver Lake District field. Will that offer be accepted ? If so, it can be safely conjectured how the prospecting operations will pan out.

The Provincial government is coming in for considerable criticism these days on account of its policy of licensing clubs. Enough has been read of the doings and influence of these clubs to satisfy the minds of all self respecting citizens who have the general welfare of the present and rising generation at heart, that these booze joints as a general rule, are cancerous growths in our national life and for the good of thousands of our young men, their homes and dependents, the good of the general community, should be suppressed and wiped out of existence. Such legislation as which author izes these places assumes too readily that men can control their appetites and passions, an assumption that is far from the facts. There are some who can, but the number in comparison who cannot are legion.

Now that the question of terminal grounds for the G.T.P. Railway at Calgary has been satisfactorily settled it will be hoped that no time will be lost by the company in preparing for the opening of traffic between this and the southern city.

o o o o o

The Council of Cornhill Rural Municipality at its last meeting adopted a move in line with the spirit of economy. Satisfied with the assessment of last year and of the opinion that values have not varied during the last twelvemonth to any appreciable degree, they dispensed with the field work of the assessor and adopted last year's assessment as a whole.

o o o o o

The definite proposition of Councillor George of the Rural Municipality to frame up a programme of the work to be done in each township of the municipality and not to exceed in the aggregate the sum of $8000 for the year and dividing the appropriation among the township in proportion to the amount of taxable lands in each township will meet with the approval of the ratepayers generally. If the work started is designed to be of permanent character and to the end that each succeeding year will see additions to that of each preceeding year the policy will be of a nature which should commend itself to every section of the district.

A BLOCK OF MAGNESIA

A small square block of magnesia, costing but a few cents, may prove most useful. Fine lace that cannot or ought not to be washed may be cleaned by rubbing a good quantity of magnesia on it, then laying it away for a while in blue tissue paper. If it is much soiled, keep it in the paper for a week or more, then shake out the magnesia and the lace will be soft and clean, and none of its beauty marred.

After each wearing of white silk gloves which soon lose their stiffness by washing, rub them with the block of magnesia, and they will not need washing for a long time.

White canvas shoes can be kept clean in the same way. Wherever the shoes are worn, wipe them off with a clean cloth, then apply the magnesia before putting them away. The next time they are to be worn, dust off the magnesia, and they will be fresh and clean. Little white crochet, satin pins can be kept clean the same way.

The soiled collar of an unwashable silk waist may be much freshened by applying magnesia overnight, and the magnesia remains on in the better the result.

After a trial, the practice of using magnesia on all unwashable neck furbishings, ruffs, yokes, etc., recommends itself, but it is better not to let the article get too soiled, rather keep it clean by frequent applications, as there is nothing about magnesia to injure an fabric, it may be used freely to advantage.

DRIP PAN HAS ALARM

Automatically Gives Word When It Is About to Overflow

Unless the refrigerator drip pan is emptied periodically and its contents by short periods, it is going to overflow. Sometimes it does overflow, to the exasperation of the housewife but not of the maid. Maids do not get exasperated over their mistresses's misfortunes. A Western man has patented a drip pan that gives warning just before it is full and if the warning is heeded it cannot overflow in the least of the pan is an electric bell, operated by an electric battery. An arm that projects inside the pan has a float fixed to it and this float rises as the water in the pan. If the water gets too high the float rises and establishes a connection in the circuit that makes the alarm to ring. It will continue to ring until the pan is emptied.

Graham Pudding

1 cup chopped raisins, 1 cup sour milk, ½ cup molasses, 1 teaspoon soda, 1½ cups Graham flour; spices to taste, a little salt. Steam one hour.

The sauce for this pudding is made as follows: ¼ cup butter, ½ cup sugar; ½ cup milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Rub butter and sugar together, add milk and flavoring, bring to the boiling point.

The Inside of a Teapot

The following is an excellent way to clean the inside of a silver teapot. Put in a large piece of washing soda into the teapot to be cleaned and fill with boiling water. Then boil it for one hour over a spirit lamp, when it will become as bright inside as out. This does not injure the silver in any way.

Reheating Meat

The best way to warm up a joint is to wrap it in thickly greased paper and keep it covered while in the oven. By having it covered thus the steam will prevent the meat from becoming hard and dry, and the joint will get hot through in less time.

If vegetables are cooked in a steamer over hot water and sprinkled with salt when nearly done, then served in a very hot tureen, they will be found better and are said to be more nutritious than when boiled in the ordinary way.

WOMEN LEARNING TO BE GARDENERS

At Her Agricultural School Lady Warwick Gives Her Students a Thorough Course

Lord Wolseley's daughter, Viscountess Wolseley, has devoted herself to an agricultural school for women, which she established at Glynde in Sussex. Her work attracted much attention that the ancient London Guild of Gardeners bestowed upon her an honorary membership in their "worshipful company," the first ever given to a woman.

Viscountess Wolseley's school at Glynde covers about five acres. There are buildings for the school and her own little home is in the midst. She has christened the place "Ragged Lands," saying that it contains a little of everything in its natural state.

There are models laid out of the different styles of gardens, the formal Italian and the French, the old Dutch and the modern English. There is a model of a sunken garden such as exists on many of the English estates. There is also a terrace garden, a wall garden, a water garden, a rose garden and a rock garden. Every modern and ancient idea in gardening is introduced even to "Japanese" gardens and several small orchards as well.

Lady Wolseley's own garden is full of roses, in which a tall, latticed wooden pillar is covered with them and another by a carved wooden crest, the dog star of Wolseley.

The school was founded in 1901, upon the site of a corn field, which had been long unproductive because infested with wire worms. The land was reclaimed by Lady Wolseley and her pupils, but it has in such an unprotected situation upon the downs that their success in all the more remarkable, as many winds can reach it from all directions. There are only twelve students and each has her set of garden tools and has to work absolutely in keeping the land in proper condition. The pupils are often ignorant of the first principles of gardening and sometimes begin without knowing the difference between a strawberry plant and a potato sprout. The sum of $500 is regularly set aside for the crops which are raised by the beginners.

During the winter months the students take lessons indoors in garden carpentry and the work of keeping the green house furnaces going day and night occupies a good deal of their time. The students are also taught the commercial side of their business and how to market the fruit, flowers and vegetables to the best advantage.

New Mounted Police Posts Established

Annual Report Submitted to Parliament—Force Now Number's 55 Officers and 708 Men

Ottawa, Jan. 23rd—The annual report of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police was tabled in the Commons today by Premier Borden. Comptroller Fortescue in his introductory remarks states that on September 30th, the strength of the force was 55 officers, 708 non-commissioned officers and constables, and 572 horses. Compared with last year, there is an increase of one officer, 109 non commissioned officers and constables and a decrease of 14 horses.

The strength in Saskatchewan is the greatest because the headquarters and depot are at Regina, and therefore all the administration staff and recruits under training are included.

The force is distributed in the different provinces as follows:

	Divisional Detach ments	Posts
Alberta	5	93
Saskatchewan	4	92
Manitoba	1	8
Yukon Territory	1	11
Northwest Territories	3	5
Totals	14	211

Three new detachments were established on the route of the Chilcoa goldfields, in Alaska, which passes through Canadian territory.

NEW POSTS IN ALBERTA

Two detachments were opened at Fort Simpson and Fort Resolution on the Mackenzie river in the Northwest Territory. Outposts were also established at Fort McMurray, Dunvegan and Lake Saskatoon, in the Peace River district and at Fort Nelson on the Hudson Bay.

The report states that the wide distribution over such a vast area creates difficult problems in efficient control and supply.

The total number of cases dealt with by the police during the year was 18,453. Convictions numbered 12,485, while 2140 were dismissed or withdrawn and 312 had not been tried. The commissioner states that crimes of violence are on the increase. There were 14 cases of murder.

The commissioner says:

"The amusement to the criminal code, especially in its parts with regard to firearms, ought to greatly strengthen the hands of the police in punishing the carrying of revolvers, and those remove the handy weapon, which, in the hands of a drunken or angry man precipitates a tragedy. I have recently brought to the notice of the immigration authorities the fact that newly arrived emigrants, are found in possession of high power automatic pistols, and suggested that all such weapons should be confiscated at the port of entry.

EXCESS OF CRIME

"With a varied population such as we have in the Western Country a large preventative of which is flent ing, there is bound to be an excess of crime as compared with old settled countries where conditions are stable and all classes are well known.

"Police work is difficult amongst a floating population. Often the victim of violence is not known and his identity only established after a long search, and not always then. The police are handicapped in dealing with foreigners who do not speak English and who often withhold vital information and evidence. The 2,135 cases of vagrancy illustrate the floating character of the population. Many are tramps, beating their way along the railroad, others are railroad navvies drifting from point to point where work is to be found, whilst others have come in with the yearly immigration of harvesters."

MARRIAGE IS POPULAR

Statistics of India Taken Cartoony So-cept Among Lawyers

Among the banks of the lower Ganges, in India, there dwells a race of people known as the Santals, and they have an unique claim to distinction. According to a writer on the subject, only idiots enjoy single blessedness among the Santals. Not only is marriage popular, but the Santals have evolved all sorts of ways by which they may obtain wives or husbands for themselves.

The methods followed vary from a purely commercial transaction to a romantic elopement, or, in the case of ugly and unattractive women, the prospective bridegroom may if he cares waive his future father-in-law for a stated period, after which he is free to go off with his bride, occasionally some substantial presents as well.

"Buying the bride" is, however, the most common method of doing the business, though there exists also the alternative ceremony known as "buying the husband." The bridegroom has apparently very little choice in the matter, which is arranged by his father or friends, who erect in front of the bride's dwelling a

Having fixed upon a likely girl, they proceed to parley and bargain. "Have you," they ask the head man of the village where she lives, "got diamonds to sell?" "That," is the guarded reply, "depends upon the quality of your pearls," and the bargaining goes on until the price has been fixed, usually five rupees for a girl and half that amount for a widow, which is only just, seeing that she rejoins her first love in a future life, except for prohibiting my little of what it knows of him. And oft times the latter is one of the most vulnerable to attack. A big noise is often a device employed to over trepidation. Newspapers put up with more hobbling than any other agency would endure. It is not because they lack courage; it is because they are unwilling to use their power to destroy or ruin unless the interests of society imperatively demand it. It might be well for some people to reflect upon those truths and in silent gratitude accept mild admonition lest worse befall them.

OBD BIRTHDAY GIFT

Prince Oscar of Germany Received an Old Railway Ticket

Probably the oddest birthday gift on record—an old unused railroad ticket—was received by Prince Oscar, the Kaiser's fifth son, on the occasion of his twenty-fifth birthday.

The story connected with this unusual present is as follows:

A simple inhabitant of a small neighboring town was in Berlin on business, and by chance happened to be standing before the royal palace when the salute announcing the prince's birth, was fired. The visitor, filled with patriotism, returned home. By some oversight the guard neglected to collect the ticket, which bore the date, July 27, and which was carefully preserved during the ensuing years.

The ticket was sent in the prince with an explanatory letter on his twenty-fifth anniversary. The prince accepted the simple gift in the spirit in which it was given, and sent the donor, through the adjutant, a letter of thanks, accompanied by a signed

Newspaper Work

Editing a newspaper in some respects is a good deal like preaching.

The gospel truth must be presented in the form of generalities or some fellow will get hit and howl, says a recent writer. Few persons like truth, even in homeopathic doses, if it hits them. But while preachers and editors are criticised for what they do say, no one thinks of giving them credit for what they do not say. Yet what they keep to themselves constitutes the major portion of what they know about people. Very many people harbor the belief that newspapers are eager to publish derogatory things. It's a mistake. There isn't a newspaper that could not scring a sensation in the community at any time by merely telling what it knows. There is not a newspaper that does not keep under the lock of secrecy scores of derogatory things which never meet the public eye or reach the public ear. Decidedly what not to print is the most troublesome part of a newspaper work. How many good stories are suppressed for innocent reasons and for the public good notably outside a newspaper office but my idea of. In some instances be the films into a passion because a newspaper insists something about on which he considers incompetent any less every reason to feel profoundly grateful to the newspaper for publishing so little of what it knows of him. And oft times the latter is one of the most vulnerable to attack. A big noise is often a device employed to over trepidation. Newspapers put up with more hobbling than any other agency would endure. It is not because they lack courage; it is because they are unwilling to use their power to destroy or ruin unless the interests of society imperatively demand it. It might be well for some people to reflect upon those truths and in silent gratitude accept mild admonition lest worse befall them.

TOMMY ATKINS BEHIND THE BARS

Be Prepared for Spring Seeding

Now is the time to ... Remember the question of a good seed grain for next spring.

The greater part of the grain in the West was harvested under ideal conditions last fall and little difficulty should be met with in getting seed of strong vitality. Notwithstanding this there are some individuals and even sections of the Western Provinces that were not so fortunate at harvest time and there have arisen doubtful results as to their grainage for the spring seeding.

Seed of strong vitality makes a good start ... germinates in 3 days and finally gives the big yield, while seed of poor vitality is a sure loss.

Therefore a farmer who suspects the vitality of his seed should send a sample to the Dominion Government Seed Laboratory, Calgary, for a germination test. In order to get the result of this test ... First Bishop of Edmonton Elected Is Archdeacon Gray

The first bishop of Edmonton was elected last Thursday. Only five ballots had been taken. The successful candidate for the position, is the Venerable Archdeacon Gray, rector of All Saints church.

The voting started early in the morning so there were five ballots taken in the field and before any one of them could be elected to the bishopric they would have to obtain a majority from the ordained and lay delegates. This would necessitate the taking of several ballots. The two nominees were, Venerable Archdeacon Gray, Bishop Richardson, of Fredericton, N.B.; Canon Webb, Rev. W. G. Boyd and Rev. T. Dolbey.

The vote on the fifth and last ballot was Archdeacon Gray clergy 16; lay 74. Rev. W. G. Boyd clergy 12; lay 16.

TEETH NEED EXERCISE

Foods Which Require Chewing Should Be in Daily Diet

Do you take care of your teeth? Do you recognize the fact that good teeth are a valuable asset in maintaining the general health of your entire body? Do you know that the kind of food you eat has an effect upon the condition of your teeth?

Teeth are only other organ of the body need exercise. This exercise must be in the variety of mastication. If the teeth are not used to it. You will remember that the savage who is accustomed to chewing and eating tough fibrous food usually has very fine teeth. The tendency, as civilization increased has been to eat softer foods. And the result is that he do which requires chewing have become ... affect eliminated from the daily ... Cooking took up grinding ... means are resorted to ... save the trouble of chewing what ... food which needs chewing has been retained in the daily food list. This state of affairs has caused the teeth to forget their old training. Nature finding there was little or no need for strong teeth has failed to provide them.

Teeth are an attractive feature of the human face as well as a valuable member of the digestive apparatus of the body therefore we should not give them a chance to disappear because of lack of use. Some foods which require chewing should always be found in our daily diet so that we may give our teeth some exercise and preserve them. Nature's aids to good health.

Curling Notes

In our Curling Notes last week an error occurred which for a time appeared as though it was going to get the Editor into trouble. Fortunately he heard in time that four ladies were looking for his scalp and was told what the trouble was. In the report of the ladies game, Mrs. Morton vs. Mrs. Dawson, it was said that as the last end Mrs. Morton won the day, but it happened that the game was a draw. Ye Curling Editor is only too glad to steer clear of trouble with the wielders of the curling stone, log pardon, curling stones, and takes pleasure in getting things right. Skip Mrs. Morton enjoyed the distinction of being announced the victor for only one brief an interval. Her over sic informs the Curling Editor that she enjoyed the joke while it lasted

The ladies again played at the "Parrie" game last week, Mrs. Simpson leading one rink, Mrs. Quartette and Mrs. M. C. Hammond another. Great interest is being manifested in the games both by participants and spectators This week will see further games between the ladies the results of which will be announced later

The Merchant's Trophy series goes merrily on and will shortly draw to a close As the season progresses one feature of play on the part of various rinks appears very noticeable. Some of the rinks making a poorer showing in the McCauley Cup series are picking up while others who appeared almost invincible are showing a falling off. One good feature in the present series is the rule adopted that games must run sixteen on time under pain of forfeit of points to the delinquent rink. This is circulating a spirit of promptitude which with all members of the club aids in facilitating greatly the carrying out of the series as per schedule. As yet it is too early in the series to attempt a guess at the winners. Surprises have happened nightly and much interest is manifested in the daily results of the games.

Hockey

The Bashaw Redcoats-Islets journeyed to Tofield last Friday to play a game with a local team. The match was arranged for 2:30 p.m. In spite of the cold weather a good crowd of spectators assemble I. As for the game reports are that it was more a game of what used to be called "shinny" than hockey a free for all "every all-in" Reports also say that ten penalty all the goals scored by either team were from offsides. Still on the whole it was a pleasant social reunion and the score 6-3 in favor of the home team kept everybody in good humor even to the visitors who thought they were doing well No other did

Cement Mills Being Closed

It is announced by the Canada Cement Company that, owing to the dullness of business, they have decided to close down four of their plants for the balance of the year 1914 or until further notice. The plants affected are those at Marlbank, Ont., Lakefield, Ont., Shallow Lake, Ont., and Calgary Alta

Start New Jail at Fort Saskatchewan

Hon Chas Stewart, Minister of Public Works, has announced that construction of a new provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan will be commenced as soon as the weather moderates

Jail accommodation in the province is urgently needed at the present time, and operations will be rushed so that the above new jail cells will be ready early in the fall. The building will be large enough to house 150 prisoners.

Mr. Stewart said that the problem of taking care of prisoners was fast becoming a serious one in the province At the Mounted Police barracks at Edmonton there are ninety prisoners where there was accommodation for only forty. Other places of the province are similarly crowded. At Calgary the police barracks also have been transformed into the Provincial jail for the present, and the prisoners will soon be taken care of in the penitentiary, leaving another burden on the shoulders of provincial officials.

The jail accommodation at the disused Police barracks at Fort Saskatchewan and Edmonton is suggested that in the cells at the central police station are 13 prisoners who should be in the custody of the province, and there are seven there in the south side station.

Mr Stewart said very little work was going on in connection with his department at the present time The addition of a dining room is being made to the jail at Lethbridge An addition for the accommodation of one hundred more patients is also being made to Ponoka asylum Foundations for Camrose Normal School has been completed

A good life is the best philosophy a firm faith the best [illegible]

Comment

The wisdom or unwisdom of a majority of the council in disposing of some thirty odd thousand dollars worth of our unsold debentures last week to the first bidder at a lower price than that at which last year, under more unfavorable general financial conditions, a large block was sold will probably appear in a more pronounced form later—within the next two or three months. It does seem proper that they should have waited a little longer before they took the step the last that the alarm decline of the past two weeks in the Bank of England rate is normal will be the signal for letting out of a vast amount of Old Country capital for investment in Canadian Securities. That Medicine Hat securities [illegible] three weeks ago could not obtain more than a twenty [illegible] offering at 85 were withdrawn from the market at that amount and two weeks later upon being again offered were snapped up at par in lieutes in a striking manner the wonderful easing of the money markets of the world. The words of Byron E. Walker, uttered recently, in referring to the coming opening up of financial markets upon the old basis of peace, "It will come in a night" have apparent [illegible] proved true as exemplified by the quick drop in the Bank of England rate. If the above be true, it is to be regretted that the hasty sale of our debentures should have lost to the municipality a matter of between two and three thousand dollars at least. This loss itself is not the only regrettable feature for the willingness to dispose of our bonds at the low price of 93 is a wilful cheapening of our securities from our own standpoint which a worse than had the price had been set by an outsider. We surely know that with a country around it such as Tofield has and with the valuable natural resources as assets of the future, we do not need to cheapen ourselves unwarrantably in the eyes of the world and particularly the financial world

It may also be said in connection with the above that most small towns, such as Tofield, might do well if they would employ the services of a competent financial adviser. Advice in such matters as that under discussion from reliable sources in financial circles could very properly be taken advantage of. It can be said that in connection with the sudden determination to sell our debentures to the first bidder [illegible] Standards upon careful inquiry from men whose business it [illegible] and whose particular business it is to keep them [illegible] informed in regard to financial prospects, it appears [illegible] of collossal folly to act with as injudicious haste in this matter. As a matter of fact the town's finances [illegible] very favorable as compared with that of a [illegible] and there does not appear to be any urgent reason [illegible] sale immediately of our bonds. Any liabilities out [illegible] being are but temporary and might well be met for the time being out of current revenue. Second thoughts, too, are often best, and in connection with the ditch debenture of $1000 it might be considered advisable, upon careful thought, to [illegible] the amount [illegible] the 1st time of the work is very limited and to spin out the town's share of the cost of this work over a period of years means the payment of it's share [illegible] nearly one and one half times over. Amongst young municipalities in the west, there is too much of this heavy [illegible] running into a large bonded indebtedness which means the [illegible] upon the citizens of later years of a burden which is heavy to carry and the needless curtailing of a credit upon which at no time in the future a demand might arise to finance a municipal undertaking of infinitely greater importance and value than any hereto fore taken in hand

So confident was the Standard in its opinion regarding the more favorable condition of the financial market than the majority of council is taking the stand upon as instanced by their move to sell our debentures at [illegible] wired to C. H. Burgess and Co., of Toronto, who have in the past handled most of our bonds, asking them a question [illegible] the situation and asking them for a quotation and opinion as to the desirability of selling just at the present time For the information of the ratepayers that they may for themselves form their own conclusions upon the matter, we give below the telegram sent to Toronto and its answer.

C. H. Burgess & Co., Toronto,

Majority Council committing town to acceptance of eight-eight for thirty-four thousand our six per cent debentures twenty years. Wire me immediately best possible offer in these and your opinion re advisability of sale now or later and about when best price may be obtained.

(Sgd) R. N. WILLIAMS,
MAYOR.

Toronto, Ont. 10.

R. N. Whitton, Tofield

Could likely get you ninety for debentures now but think better price will be obtained in month's time. Don't think town justified in issuing more debentures at present.

(Sgd) C. H. Burgess Co.

During the past week Abt sold debentures at 97; net, which were withheld from the market last year and which placed on the market

HINTS ON HOUSEBUILDING

[illegible] to the [illegible] The [illegible] the most [illegible] to move be used later on the floors [illegible] the day's beginning [illegible] Remove the walls [illegible] the [illegible] Cement mortar walls cost no more than stone set in cement, and are cut and more good, besides the effect being a more agreeable wall to the eye. There is no reason why cellar walls be dark and disagreeable. Have for considerable window space in the outer wall, and paint the walls in pairs. Then sunlight enters which aids in keeping the cellar dry. The safe course for a house, be color red, are white, gray, yellow, and brown. Yellow or gray with white trimmings make a plain pleasing roofed or square colonial house. Greys and browns are good for Mission, Craftsman ones, the grays always being picturesque on the palest shades than on cold blue tones. White roofs [illegible] the formal type again. It is a very good color for a country house, thereby it up from a distance in the [illegible] glimpses, for it seems trees about it, and serves to contrast against its walls. Such a house will be attractive when the leaves are gone from the trees, for the hues bought will serve to soften the effect.

For Cuts and Burns

Bad cuts and burns sometimes happen in the kitchen, as it is well to know of handy remedies. To stop the bleeding of a bad cut, apply finely powdered rice or flour to the wound. It will soon be in bed, it will ease the pain of a burn at once.

Add a little salt to powdered [illegible] which is to be used. If [illegible] people are to be served [illegible] potatoes just before serving, and they will be so delicately white and light you will never serve it as without.

Financing The Road Work

CONSIDERABLE difficulty in financing has been experienced by the Rural Municipality during the past year owing to the fact that much of the road work done throughout the municipality was allowed on the taxes. This necessitated a wholesale amount of cross entering on the part of the secretary and besides is contrary to the meaning and letter of the Act. The Deputy Minister of Municipalities has, it is understood, given his ruling that all work must be paid for in cash and that taxes must be paid in cash. It would seem that if the council would only be strong minded enough to adopt a policy of cutting down to the smallest possible amount the work to be done on the roads this year and have all taxes paid in cash as the Act calls for, they would enable the Municipality to get a year ahead with their finances and then be always ready to pay in cash for the work which is done in building and repairing roads throughout the municipality. It would be a distinct advantage to have the money in hand next winter to start opening roads where necessary and later on when spring opens up to have the wherewith to finance the grading and ditching. In this way the municipality could always be a year ahead and be able to conduct all business on the cash basis called for in the Act

Financial Stringency Easier

During the past few weeks information in financial circles is to the effect that the money situation is improving. The Bank of England discount rate has dropped to three per cent and the Canadian bank statements indicate that the bankers are loosening up somewhat on their reserves. Mortgage money is also stated to be somewhat easier and more of it in sight for investment. The general public, or that portion of it inclined to borrow, has had a pretty bad scare during the past year and will undoubtedly be very chary about assuming fresh obligations, even though money is easier. Those who have felt the financial pinch in the past year will, in the majority of cases, register a firm resolve to avoid borrowing on uncertain time and terms in the future. The result of this hesitancy to borrow money during 1914 will have a very salutary effect in reducing interest rates, and increasing the supply of money available for business.—Grain Growers Guide.

A Model Town-Planning Bill

The Commission of Conservation has under consideration a model bill providing for the creation of town planning boards in all important municipalities. This bill will if finally approved by the commission be presented to the various Legislatures for adoption. One good feature of the plan is that if the bill were framed in a reasonable and acceptable way, so that its adoption substantially as framed would be possible in all cases, there would be fairly uniform town planning legislation throughout Canada. It is not an easy task to construct a scheme of town planning supervision that will be uniformly acceptable and applicable throughout the Dominion. In such matters there ought to be more uniformity among the provinces. It is somewhat difficult to arouse public support of such projects as town planning, which, because they are yet unfamiliar to the public, have an appearance of foolishness. Some of the Canadian provinces have fairly well advanced legislation on town planning others have nothing worth mentioning. The Ontario legislation is defective, in that it applies only to municipalities of 20,000 population and over. An exhaustive study of the situation in several provinces would be of great benefit.—Toronto Mail and Empire

Don't Miss It

The Musical Treat of the Season.

Don't Miss It

In presenting the Polmatier Sisters Concert Company to a Tofield audience, we feel we are giving our townspeople something really worth while—worth hearing, seeing and holding in memory. It is seldom the sisters play a town as small as Tofield, and for that reason, want to make this the musical event of the season, as it is sure to prove. The company comes here fully guaranteed, and with the highest praise as musicians and entertainers. Their programme is made up of special features, interspersed with solos, vocal and instrumental duets, trios and readings. In their college act, the sisters use about fifty college pennants, from different colleges all over the United States and Canada, as the same time appearing in that all. The sisters are dressed in beautiful white college gowns and the various pennants, and the stage presents a very pretty appearance. During the The curtain goes up for the first number on a twilight scene and full strains of a mandolin are heard. Miss Le Seur Polmatier, as director, with the camp fire, partridge drills

Uniform For Museum

Hobos Wagner's uniform and his pitching glove are to be placed in the Carnegie Museum at Pittsburg relics, believing him to be the most wonderful ball player ever known.

An electric toy for throwing balls from its base on four of its revolving fingers might throw it harmlessly and tearing strokes against a surface to be cleaned every minute.

Use Hot Vinegar

When making mint sauce if hot vinegar is used instead of cold it will greatly improve the flavor and give the sauce better color.

Freshening Green Vegetables

To freshen green vegetables cut off the ends of the stalks and set aside decayed in small pieces in cold, filled water for three or four hours.

A Simple Precaution

To prevent custard dishes or cups from cracking when pouring boiled custard into them, place the dish or cup on a cloth rung out of hot water.

Lovers of the Cat

Cats have persons of considerable mind have always known how to treat the cat with honor. But perhaps it is hardly necessary to repeat the assertion that Mahomet—how, rising from his seat and fearful of rousing the cat that was sleeping on his sleeve he cut off that part of the garment and left her undisturbed.

Richelieu, also, loved pleasure and relaxation, the society of cats, yet he never regarded as only accomplished by his side and as kittens only. He loved to keep a family of them in his study until they arrived at a certain age, and when they were three months old he had them taken away and replaced by others but were younger. Mon seigneur also loved cats, and wrote about them as did Bet-beatie and Hoffman and Gautier and Edgar Allan Poe.

Temple of Heaven

China's famous Temple of Heaven was formerly visited once a year by the emperor to give an account of his empire and the affairs thereof to the supreme Deities months. This was set forth in writing, and the names of the gods were then placed in the fire and so that way consigned to the emperor in heaven. The Temple of Heaven is one of the most beautiful and interesting sights of pigeons see Pekin. The main entrance into the temple the royal apartments the altar and the ground's are three times in circuits once and the white marble. Here the emperor till their sins and green porcelain tiles have to be seen to be appreciated.

RURAL FREE MAIL DELIVERY

Three Routes May Be Established Having Central Distributing Office at Tofield

That the people of the Tofield district, not only in the Bardo section but westwards towards Minisith and Hastings Lake and eastwards to cover the Amisk Creek section, stand a good chance to obtain the privilegium of a rural free mail delivery in the near future is the opinion from the keen interest taken by the officials of the postal department in the questions put in from the people of the various sections, for the establishment of one or more rural free mail delivery routes.

For the most part of last and this week the post office department was had an official representative in the district going over the different routes proposed. There are No. 1 south to Bardo, No. 2 east and south throughout Amisk Creek Section and No. 3 West to Minisith.

It is understood that more than the requisite number of settlers for each of these proposed free mail delivery routes live along each of the routes, and that the bona fide settlers, one and all, hail with delight any indication towards the establishment of the delivery system throughout the country. The majority of the farmers in the outlying sections of the Tofield district route from provinces and states where they have had some length of the rural free mail delivery system and will be immensely pleased if these days be not distant from the granting their request

That the department appears to be seriously taking up the matter is evidenced by the fact that through its representative it is going over the ground on each proposed route carefully. At the last meeting of the Council of the Rural Municipality he was present and placed the matter of the opening up of a section of road on the correction line between Tps 50 and 51, R. 20, which required to be opened up to complete the Minisith circuit and council agreed to see that this was done Expectation now fills the minds of farmers and business men alike of this portion of the province as probably such a road would please more than the settlers, one and all, hail with delight any indication towards the

Mixed Farmer Has It All Over The Grain Raiser

R. G Greeve Returns From Trip To Regina. Makes Some Interesting Observations

R. G. Greeve returned last Monday evening from a business trip to Regina. Mr. Greeve on his return had very good words to say for Alberta as a mixed farming country and particularly the section. Observing the stretches of open country through Southern Saskatchewan and the lonely farmhouses dotted here and there over the snowy wilds with here and there a pile of straw to mark where the thresher had separated the wheat from the chaff, no outside stock around, he forthought himself of the thousands of farmsteads in this section of the country, the large stock barns mark the prosperous business carried on.

Passing by many Saskatchewan people about Tofield and district he surprised them by stating that we had only one elevator at Tofield besides several grain warehouses. "Why you must have a power country up there," they said "Not on your life was the reply. "Our farmers do not sell their grain through the elevator They feed the most of it to stock and ship the cattle and hogs on foot. You should see the carloads and even train loads of stock which are being continually shipped east, and the farmers realize that they get more for their grain on foot than when sold in the sack. Our farmers are MIXED FARMERS and have lots of cattle and hogs and besides go in strongly for dairying These markets are right at their home town. The grain is needed right at home and is turned into much more money in these ways than by selling through the elevator

The Saskatchewan people had nothing to say when Tofield Booster Liberty told them those facts. In fact they admitted the force of his statements and many wished that they too were Tofieldites.

Writer In German Paper Declares Situation In Europe Is Intolerable

Berlin, Feb. 23—Immediate war as the only means of extricating Germany from an already intolerable situation among the European powers is frankly advocated by a writer in the weekly article in the Post today He says: "In the face of nations there are complications and dangers which can only be disposed of by the sword to a situation today belongs in the stocky.

Tofielders Visit Kingman

Last Friday, about fourteen ladies and gentlemen from town visited Kingman to take part in a concert which was held in King man hall.

Prevett's Orchestra, composed of Mr. Davis and Mr. Ness, R. W. Prevett and R. Hoare took down a fearful array of noise producing instruments with which to disturb the peaceful atmosphere of King man.

Mesdames Cole, Hosler, Stenbach, Davis, Cox and Owen of the Ladies Aid put on a very clever dialogue entitled "Our Rich Aunt From California, which was very much appreciated

At the close of the entertainment some of the Ladies and Gents retired to the Pool Hall where a dance was to have been held but owing to a lack of illumination and the music forming to the instruments, this enjoyable part of the programme had to be cut short.

The gay party then left for Tofield Arriving in the city at 3 p.m in the morning.

Burglar Enters Jackson Bros. Jewelry Store

In Early Alarm Makes Getaway

Jackson Bros. Jewelry store here was broken into by a burglar at an early hour Tuesday night Henter-ed into the building in the rear cutting a hole in the upper pane of glass used by putting his hand through the aperture and turning the lock and then raising the lower sash The burglary was just behind the watchmaker's work bench and the intruder climbed over this in making his entrance He went through the drawers in the work table, and through one of the glass cases and was busy at the safe when Chas. Hall, who rooms next door in the same building, when returning for the night, noticed the man at the safe. He immediately gave the alarm and gathered a few men who surrounded the building. The discharge of a revolver in the hands of one of the posse gave the alarm to the burglar who made a hasty exit through the rear door and made his getaway. Mr Cartwright who was on deck when the alarm was given and who followed the man by the front door just at the instant that the burglar made his exit by the rear, says that the latter must have been looking for money only, as practically nothing has been taken. The affair created quite an excitement around town as this is the first instance of the kind when a near capture was effected

Restating a Truth

SOME time ago it was suggested in this column that the mere reduction in licenses would not "save the boy" — that he must be saved by the mother, the father and the school teacher. The suggestion seems to have met with more approval than some of those things which appear in this paper sometimes. To-day the idea may be developed further.

Those who favor good roads and better roads are suggesting that the motorists be taxed and that these taxes should be applied to road construction and road maintenance. Isn't there a parallel here? Why not take the license fees collected from the hotels and use them to provide public clubs, gymnasiums and sporting fields for the working man and his boy? Why should the license fees be applied to the reduction of general taxation?

If the working man and the boy are to be saved from the evils of intemperance they must be given other places in which to spend their leisure hour. If the working man wants to spend a pleasant hour with his fellowman, smoke his pipe, and talk politics, where is he to go except to the barroom? The churches are closed and the schools are closed and silence is demanded in the public reading rooms. Men must talk with their fellows. The richer classes have their clubs, what is there for the working man?—Canadian Courier

Comment

The Mayor of Edmonton, backed by officials of other cities and towns in the province, is leading a concerted movement on the part of these municipalities to influence the government to so amend recent legislation that the municipalities may in their respective cases reap some financial benefit from the liquor license system and the tax on amusement. There is much that may be said in favor of this principle and from the standpoint of the municipalities, there does not seem to be much that can be said against such a move. From our best information, we do not feel any doubt that the liquor license amendment will go through.

Town of Tofield
Auditor's Report
And Financial Statement for the Year Ending December 31st, 1913.

(Mimeo 1 Advertising)

January 20th, 1914.

To The Mayor and Council,
Town of Tofield.

GENTLEMEN:

I beg to report that I have audited the accounts of the Town and produced final statements for the year 1913 hereto attached, as follows:—

Assets and Liabilities at December 31st, 1913
Statement of Town Property at December 31st, 1913
Revenue Account for the Year 1913
Statement of Debenture Debt at December 31st, 1913

I have certified your Cash Book and have agreed and certified your Tax Roll for the year.

The Tax Enforcement Return is not yet written up, but all the necessary information is ready and the Return is in course of preparation and can be appraised and certified when complete.

All Expenditures for the year appear to be properly and sufficiently vouched for and legally authorized.

The Secretary Treasurer's Bond is in good standing.

I have not produced an abstract of Receipts and Expenditures for the full year but the full details are contained in the Revenue Account which is probably a more convenient form. The details of the month of November and December are summarized in the Cash Book and are readily available if required for reference more particular information. The result of the Revenue Account is very satisfactory and will speak for itself.

The statement of Debenture Debt is a new form and sets forth the full standing of the Town in a manner which will appeal to debenture buyers and should be made use of for this purpose.

Respectfully Submitted,
GEO. J. KINNAIRD, Auditor.

In due time he got a $2.00 set of dishes to which he later having been left alone, took through the spoiled meat into the parlor running a bran new $.50 rug.

Entries Close For The Edmonton Spring Show March 28th
For The Cattle Sale, March 12th

We understand this locality will be well represented at the Edmonton Spring Horse Show, in connection with which a Fat Stock Show and Cattle sale are being carried on April 7-11. The entries for the Cattle Sale close March 12th. A minimum freight rate of $2.00 is charged per head on all cattle entered for the sale. Exhibitors are requested to bill stock direct to the Edmonton Exhibition grounds. For all other exhibits of live stock from the Province of Alberta the Exhibition Association will pay the freight to the grounds. This should induce a large entry from the province. The prize list, which is now out, and can be had on application to Manager Stark, is most liberal and attractive, and cleverly arranged to entertain the public only from the province of Alberta, but all over western Canada. Those who have not seen the new Stock Pavilion, a model of its kind and the largest in Canada—should not fail to do so. The show ring is larger than that of Madison Square Garden, and will give ample opportunity for the high jumping contests, the display of high stepping horses, fast roadsters, four horse teams, unicorns tandems, and other attractive features which have been arranged to entertain the public. The greatest enthusiasm prevails among all classes in the city of Edmonton in connection with the Spring Show. The merchant's enclosing entrances are giving away cups for competition on many classes. The store windows will be decorated in the official colors of the Horse Show, navy blue and yellow—and it is expected that Horse Show Week will attract many visitors to the Capital City.

Opportunity Beckons You To Tofield District

In comparing prices of land here with those of other parts of the country there are certain things the homeseeker or investor must bear in mind. In the first place, this is virgin soil and it is so deep that with the proper farming methods to which the people are to-day being educated, it will never wear out. Again, the rapid growth of Alberta and Saskatchewan cities, such as Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat and Lethbridge is rapidly developing a great home market for our product. Alberta is already famous on account of the rapid development of its railroad systems. The Grand Trunk Pacific provides this district with unsurpassed transportation facilities. There are three large packing plants in Edmonton, only forty miles away—thus the question of a market for cattle, hogs, sheep, etc., is solved.

A country free of droughts—certain section of the province is now advertising that it does not pray but pays for rain—meaning of course that it irrigates. The farmers of the Tofield District neither pay nor pray, the elements have always been good to this section and we always get plenty of rain.

Practically all land in this section of the province available for homesteading has been taken up. In fact the days of free land, except in the north country are practically gone. Consequently settlers in this country from now on will be land buyers and as the country develops as it surely will, values will rapidly advance. The old pioneers familiar with the rates of land values in Iowa and Nebraska can tell you many stories of comfortable fortunes quickly accumulated through farsighted investments in farm lands in those states. Farm lands that not so many years ago were sold for taxes in Iowa are now worth $200.00 per acre. It was only ten years ago that farm lands could be bought in the sand hills of western Nebraska for ten dollars an acre that are now selling from a hundred up. In Idaho, eight years ago the writer had a chance to buy irrigated land with the water rights, for $23.00 per acre. Today the same land could not be bought for $500.00 per acre.

History always repeats itself. There are the same opportunities for making money here as in those states a few years back. And another thing when the land in this country advances in value, it will never go down again, because it is capable of producing big returns at over $100.00 an acre valuation, and then you must remember this is the last crop of land on the North American Continent.

Our Natural Resources

Untold Wealth Will Be Produced In Their Development

COAL

(From Tofield Standard Special Industrial Number)

THE development of Tofield's natural resources can scarcely be termed to be begun. It is in the earliest stages of its infancy. But, notwithstanding this very early stage, the steps which have been taken towards developing our natural resources have resulted in such successful tests that our most sanguine hopes were more than realized. It will be our purpose on this page to briefly outline the variety and extent of these natural resources, their present development, the plans laid by manufacturers for this year and the bright prospects of the future of Tofield taking a place in the front rank of manufacturing centres of the West.

Elsewhere in this issue the reader will have set before him with surprising vividness facts relating to the wonderful coal deposits which cover the Tofield district within a few feet of the surface. For the benefit of our readers we have secured still an other photograph of one of the mines which more clearly portrays the appearance of the works, and an engraving of which appears in the centre of this page. Let us here emphasize the indisputable fact that we know of non here else on the broad prairies of the West where coal is found in such amazing quantities, of such excellent qualities for manufacturing purposes, of such remarkable ease of accessibility. Ponder this well. To us in Tofield who have lived here for several years the fact has become an everyday matter, but this does not depreciate its striking importance. Just let your imagination run riot for a few moments while you read these words. We have a coal seam, averaging from six to ten feet in thickness and lying from eight to twenty feet below the surface of the ground, and this coal seam lies in one continuous bed, under upwards of 20,000 acres, so far as has yet been tested, and this within one mile of the centre of the Town of Tofield. It has been being mined for a few years but as yet the development has amounted only to a slight tapping from its almost illimitable quantity. The Dobell Coal Company, immediately south of town, probably has the most active operators during this winter. The picture on this page is taken at their works. Day after day this winter from five to fifteen cars have been loaded right at the face of the coal seam and where it has been being worked, and shipped to points anywhere and everywhere between here and the province of Manitoba on the east, Regina in south Saskatchewan and points in Central and Western Alberta. At one time we noted nineteen cars in a string being shipped west, all loaded with Dobell Tofield coal. Similar things may be said of the Tofield Coal Company's workings and the Pioneer Coal Company.

Regarding the qualities of the coal for manufacturing fuel purposes little need be said other than it has been found by the many using it that it possesses all those qualities which are to be found in an excellent fuel. It is high in heat producing features, going under test at the government fuel laboratories up to 11,000 B.T.C. It is being used in many factory furnaces in Edmonton and in large heating plants in their hospitals and civic buildings.

Manufacturers in locating at Tofield will make no mistake in so doing from the fuel standpoint. Its easy accessibility makes production cheap and the illimitable quantity adds to this feature. At no other point in the wide west, or in the Dominion for that matter, can coal in any quantity described be laid down for the manufacturer as cheaply as it can right here in Tofield.

And now, Mr Reader, one word more before we leave this discussion. What applies to the manufacturer in this matter, applies to the private consumer. If you a farmer or a consumer in the city, if you become a resident of Tofield or district, as farmer, workingman, tradesman or in any other capacity, your fuel bill at Tofield will be less than at any other known point in the east or west. Ponder this well and when you are thinking of bettering your position, point to field in the list of places to be considered when making your choice.

Limit of Weight Is Now 11 Pounds

The Parcels Post Department Has Been Running Smoothly and Limit Is Raised

Ottawa, March 5.—The ultimate uberous pound limit of weight for the parcels post went into effect to-day.

Thus the restriction to six pounds for such packet accepted for transmission by parcels post during the months of February, March and April, has been removed. The order that has gone forth from the post office department also eliminates the additional fee of five cents to be prepaid by postage stamps on each parcel mailed for local delivery in places where the letter carriers system is in operation. However, the insurance of packets does not become operative until the first of May, as at first set forth, and in the meantime packets of the parcels post may merely be registered.

Information gained at the local post office was to the effect that an order had been received from the post office department stating forth changes in the parcels post regulations as made above.

It is stated the order had been issued by the post office department as the post offices throughout the country were all reported to be in a position to cope with the in crease, or, in other words, that the machinery for handling the parcels post was now complete.

Re "Ratepayer"

THE Standard always appreciates any statement from any of its readers, be it for or against, or otherwise its policy. With reference to Ratepayer's letter in our last issue we regret that lack of space only, which prevented us from speaking about the suspicion referred to in the letter. Ratepayer talks somewhat pessimistic all about municipal matters, but as to doing he assumes conditions are particularly bad.

With reference to the proceedings of council we come home and with the exception of delinquent taxes and that all pass bills before council are opened up in the minutes of meetings and any information on the point referred to is plainly cited there in black and white and the books are open to inspection by any and all ratepayers. That mail is not a pay envelope is true and the Standard does not see any benefit to be derived at this paper's office in advertising these facts as well. It is right he pointed out also that council meetings are always open to the public.

With the above actions of Ratepayers letter aside from the above there is that with which all good thinking citizens will be in accord. The idea that economics all expenditures and that no bills should be passed and the elimination of expenditures which can well be done without is good. We are sorry to see any unnecessary waste of funds, robbing of the treasury and pilfering or spending on civic funds as intimated in his letter. Such language is very insulting on his part unless he can prove it. Let us be high with any insinuation of graft, if such there be and let it be clear that he does not mean it to be taken that way. A matter pertaining to council would be a good thing. It is to be regretted if at this last meeting of a general interest taken in the government of towns Boards of Trade and Industrial Associations should take honest interest and exhibit more of a co-operative spirit with the councils than is usually shown. Constructive co-operation is what is needed more than anything else.

At the same time there is reason to believe that it is good that such a question of ratepayers should thus publicly be expressed. It will provide food for thought to those on whose charge the handling of our public affairs is placed. It does show that there is a keen interest taken by some citizens in the carrying on of municipal business. And it shows that the actions of council are being watched with critical interest.

Expenditures of grants as ratepayers made in the matter alluded to in the hearing on the public mind of suppression which are very frequently misleading and misunderstanding of the matters of essential dealing with municipal problems in the manner looked upon by the one or two. It must not be forgotten how, ratepayers that the members of council spend many sleepless hours wrestling with many and perplexing while these things they represent are thoughtfully taking their rest and that after finally coming to decisions credit should be given them for honest and conscientious labors in the interests of their fellow citizens. At the same time again we find that hard numbers of council do honest and we just as prone to err as the other man. Those were not the particular gift of members of council, but sometimes there is a judgment in the part of some to set us the right a note. Another error in thinking that when a mistake is made it is to be blushed out. Anybody can make a mistake and a graceful withdrawal hurts nobody.

With regard to matters of municipal financing there is generally room for improvement.

* * * * *

Comment

The following from the Edmonton Bulletin in discussion of methods of municipal financing may be distinctly apropos to many municipalities. "Throwing on the happy-go-lucky method of pending whatever is in the treasury to the Providence and the ratepayers to replace it when needed is an easy way at the moment but it involves an accumulation of complications which some time has to be dealt with.

* * * * *

The Standard is in receipt of a lengthy letter this week from R. W. Pincott in reply to Ratepayer's letter of last week. Again lack of available space prevents us from giving public room to the interesting matter. Watch for it in the next issue.

* * * * *

The attention of our readers to matters political will doubtless be soon called by the announcement which appears in this issue of the next meeting of electors which is called for Wednesday the 18th inst. in the Variety Theatre, at which Hon. Wilfrid Gariepy, Minister of Municipalities, J. S. McCallum, M. L. A. for the constituency, will be present and deliver addresses. Adherents of both political parties will doubtless be present in force to hear the questions of the day discussed from the government and party standpoint.

Best Country He Ever Saw

FORMER IOWA FARMER WHO HAS SETTLED IN TOFIELD DISTRICT TALKS ENTHUSIASTICALLY OF MERITS OF THIS AS A MIXED FARMING DISTRICT

Joseph Kaufman, age 42, who came from Parnell County, Iowa in the spring of 1912, says:

I came from Parnell, Iowa in the spring of 1912 and bought a half section of wild land one mile north east of Bardo P. O. and 9 miles south east of Tofield. I like this country fine so far. Weather conditions are excellent. It beats Iowa, so far as that is concerned, both in winter and summer. My half section was unimproved when I got it and now I have fifty five acres under crop, a fine 8 roomed farm house built and a 36x56 dairy barn. I am going in for hogs and dairying. I find this country excellent for hog raising. It can be carried on as cheap as any where else on earth and the hog markets are fair. As a dairy country it is a fine one. As for grain and vegetables I have not seen the best of Alberta anywhere. Potatoes particularly yield immense crops. I am surely satisfied that I came to Alberta. I would not stay if I wasn't and have told my neighbors my intention of making a change. So far as I can plan I am here for good, in Alberta. I could write fifty per cent of real estate here also. My health, too, is a lot better than before I came to Alberta. Tofield district is developed enough for me. Finally, think it the best country I ever saw.

Otto Hoehle returned from a visit to Sioux City, Iowa, last Tuesday evening. He has been gone since January 15th last. Right glad is he to be back again to Alberta. He has little to say complimentary to Colonel's round tuses down in Iowa. First rain, then sleet and then snow, this repeated again and again was the line of dope the weather man dealt out to the people plus there while he was there. It is Otto opinion that down there they do not know what good weather is, the Alberta kind at least.

Eternal Vigilance

The advertising merchant is the one who does the business in these days of push and enterprise. There are more newspaper readers today than ever before in the history of the world. The newspaper reader is the business you have and your wants before the eyes of buyers, who see what they want and knowing where to find it, look up the wide-awake merchant who wants him to come and see him. Success in these days of sharp competition calls for eternal vigilance. You cannot keep a banker down.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 1913

British Columbia's Act of Direct Taxation

SOMETHING has been said in the conservative press on which to rescind the Bulletin amendments to the act of the government of the province of Alberta, by having minor license receipts entirely to the province.

British Columbia already takes all the liquor license receipts, as so does the conservative Roblin government in Manitoba, and has done so for some time. There is at present going through the British Columbia legislature a measure of direct taxation which provides for the levying of licenses against almost all businesses conducted in the province.

According to the terms of the bill, wholesale houses operating in B.C. will pay $1000 a year, retail houses $10, lawyers, real estate agents and land agents will pay $50 a year, druggists, veterinaries, dentists, architects and surveyors $5 twice a year, circuses $500 a day, freighters and pack trains $5 twice a year, cattle drivers $50, pedlars $20, canning factories $25, bowling alleys, shooting galleries, skating rinks $10 and dance halls $100 every six months, and the whole receipts are gathered in one fell swoop by the McBride government.

The protesting conservatives, who allege that the Alberta government, which does all the inspecting and enforcing of the liquor laws and which bears the cost of the provincial institutions such as the jails and lunatic asylums, to say nothing of the cost of chasing bootleggers across the map to the north of 53, is unreasonable in appropriating the liquor licenses, should take one long look at McBride and forever hold their peace.—Edmonton Capital.

Comment

R. W. PINCOTT, in his letter this week raises the recent debenture sale question to the forefront again in a manner which necessitates some small attention. This is dealt with briefly in the reply.

But even supposing we grant the Council was unanimous at the moment that the bonds should be sold at any figure. In the face of a rising market, a rising demand for financial conditions, a calm and continued reflection of these conditions might well cause one to realize that consideration of a foolish decision, a snap judgement, would be a move much to be desired. Reconsideration with good grace all round could well have been entered upon and the interests of the ratepayers and the credit of the municipality somewhat less impaired. This was the main point of the STANDARD'S article.

T. H. Ritchie, representing the W. L. McKinnon Co., financial agents, of Regina, with headquarters at Toronto, was a visitor to Tofield on Tuesday, his purpose being to investigate whether the town, Rural municipality or school district had any bonds for sale. He saw several of the municipal authorities who informed him that we had none to sell.

Interviewed by the STANDARD, Mr. Ritchie stated that his company recently purchased $145,000 of 25 year debentures of Athabasca Landing at 97 and $67,000 of Coronation debentures, 20 to 40 years at 92. He stated that Tofield's debentures could easily have sold for 92 and the people who got them certainly got a snap. The fact is that Mr. Ritchie informs the STANDARD that the Ontario Securities Co., a different company altogether to the Canadian Bond Co., to whom the recent sale was made, are now hawking Tofield bonds upon the eastern markets. All the above bears out the contention made by the STANDARD some weeks since that it would be better financing to make haste slowly in the face of a rising and hopeful market.

Letters to the Editor

NOTE. The Editor does not necessarily endorse the views of correspondents, but welcomes a general public discussion of matters.

Sir

Did you ever have the experience when you were at school of getting a "calling down" for doing something that you were not guilty of? I did and when I read Ratepayer's letter in your last week's issue I had a recollection of those feelings. However, let us get to business. Firstly Ratepayer wishes to know the names of the Council men who were in the minority when a vote was taken as to whether our debentures should be sold for 98 or not. For his information I wish to state that there was no minority, every member of the Council was present at the special meeting, and the decision was unanimous. The resolution, which I may say was moved by Councillor Whillans was as nearly as I can remember it as follows: That Council is not prepared to accept less than 98 for the debentures offered, and failing the acceptance by The Canada Bond Co., to-day, they will be withdrawn from the market at this figure." For the further information of Ratepayer I may say that this resolution was carried the same day on that date. I wish also to Ratepayer's attention to one of the Editorials of February 27th last, 5th which reads as follows: — "Tofield this week has disposed of practically all her debentures at a good figure. This will mean that our financial position will be on settable one amongst the Municipalities of the west."

This shows very plainly the STANDARD'S opinion as to the sale at that date. It will not be unfair therefore for the Reader to understand that when the "Standard" published its "Comment," as they term every Editorial, I think could have been "knocked down by a feather" Subsequently it would have appeared that a better price could have been obtained, tho' this is not at all sure, nor is it at all sure that even at those debentures could be sold for more; however I do not intend to go into the advisability or otherwise of the sale, but merely ask in show Ratepayer that those debentures were sold with the unanimous consent of Council.

And right here, Mr. Editor, I would like to say that I have a suggestion to make to you, which is, that in future you employ some entirely disinterested party to take down the proceedings of council meetings for publication. This would eliminate the possibility of criticism against council, and I will go as far as to say that there have been times in the past when the reports as they appeared in the "Standard" have not been altogether satisfactory to other councillors.

Now Sir, with regard to the further statements of your correspondent. Before proceeding further, I must say that this letter reminds me somewhat of Lord Billings' description of Dr. Pill when he says "when you've caught him, he isn't there." I mean that the statements are apparently so definite and at the same time so full of red herrings, that you don't know at which end to start.

I must confess that I am not eager to meet Ratepayer and while I have no idea that for a while a Hoodwink would suit me like the ticket's watch will I feel convinced that at the conclusion of our meeting we could part the best of friends, and Ratepayer would feel, to say the least of it

Reply To Mr. Pincott's Letter

Regarding Mr. Pincott's opening statement in his letter, the editor's reply is, "Yes, Mr. Pincott's letter regarding the Standard is a case in point."

His statement as to there being a solid vote of the entire council in favor of this sale as enumerated in extenso. Councillor Whillans was not present at the time of any vote.

The statement that Councillor Whillans moved the motion to sell at 98 is also erroneous. Coun. Whillans wrote the motion only in a secretarial capacity, no minutes being taken, so as to bring the proposed discussion to an end. The motion, as drafted did not meet approval. He did not move it and left the meeting before the question was put—if it was put at all.

Regarding the Standard's editorial of the previous week: the Standard's information was just what the week conveys. The formation given the Standard was that our bonds were being sold at a good figure. The statement was accepted in good faith, but the actual figure was not known to the Standard. It is admitted that it would have been better had the Standard used the words "We are informed" in the article in question.

Paragraph two of the letter is simply dodging the question.

Paragraph three is interesting. It is no doubt prompted by a friendly interest. However, for information it might be stated that since Mr. Whillans has resigned a seat upon the council the reports of proceedings as published have invariably been taken from the minutes as entered upon the records of council. If a Hansard were taken of council proceedings the publishers might be still more economical sorry.

The next four paragraphs of Mr. Pincott's letter refer to Ratepayer and do not concern the Standard much.

Healthy, Contented And Doing Well

EX-POLICEMAN FROM SCOTLAND FORSAKES FOOD AND MAKES SAVING OF LIFE IN MIXED FARMING IN TOFIELD DISTRICT ALBERTA

William Thomson Scotchman, aged 50 says.

Editor Standard

I came to this country in 1906 from Scotland after having spent several years in police service in Glasgow and Hong Kong. C. P. R. advertising first directed my attention to western Canada and in the year mentioned I sailed for Canada. I first came to Alberta and worked for the C. P. R. in the south part of this province. I later went to southern Manitoba with a view to settling. Not content with what I saw there I came west again to Alberta and homesteaded in the construction of the C. and E. Railway line to Edmonton. I found that this portion of the province was as nice a country, soil and water and so many other things as I had ever seen and I homesteaded in what is now the Tofield district. The fact that I am here yet surely abundantly testifies what I think of the country. After I homesteaded here I spent portions of several years in British Columbia, but I always, from the first, looked on the Tofield district as my home. I have lived here continuously for fourteen years. The fact that I and my family are living and well and prosperous on 160 acres of land speaks plainly that any reasonable man can make a good living off a quarter-section. Of course in the early years we were up against a lack of ready markets, but now we have as good markets as are anywhere. But even under these early conditions one can live as comfortable as one would in the old countries of continental Europe and Britain, on the farm. With our present markets we are unquestionably better off than in Britain or continental Europe. I follow mixed farming. I raise cattle and hogs — pursue dairying from which there are good returns. Horse raising is a natural accompaniment to dairying and, with the great crops of grain we can raise, preparing hogs for market and raising calves in far more remunerative than exclusive grain growing. Aside line on the farm we have found poultry raising is very profitable. One can certainly raise chickens economically and by preparing them for market at regular intervals throughout the year one can reap handsome returns.

I and my family are healthy and contented. The fact that we have got on well and doing well is evidence enough that we believe we are in a choice spot of God's Green Earth (Signed) WILLIAM THOMSON.

LIBERALS RE-ORGANIZE

Hon. Chas. Stewart Minister Public Works and J. S. McCallum, M.L.A., Address Meeting Saturday Afternoon

Hon. Chas Stewart Minister of Public Works and Acting Premier of Alberta during the absence of Hon. H. L. Sifton in the Old Country, and J. S. McCallum, M. L.A. from Vegreville constituency were the main speakers at a mass meeting of electors held last Saturday afternoon in the Variety Theatre. Mr. Jos. Rogers of Tofield presided and Mr. McCauley of Edmonton also accepted a seat upon the platform. In the audience was a large representation of the farmers of the district.

Mr. McCallum was the first speaker. Briefly he sketched the record of the provincial government up-to-date and outlined the policy of progressive legislation for the benefit of the rank and file of the province. He commended the policy of legislation for the farmers' interests and touched upon the railway policy which he contended was for the purpose of bringing shipping facilities to farmers in every section of the province. He eulogized the railway policy of the late Rutherford government in response to the G. T. P. and C. N. R. and said that after appointing a commission to search out graft in the G. T. R., the Borden government had failed to find such. He thanked the electors of Tofield district for doing their part towards securing his election and guarantee and his close attention to all requests for the improvement of the portion of the constituency.

Mr. McCauley was called upon to say a few words and this he did in his old humorist way telling various humor some stories but not delving in the discussion of political issues.

Hon. Mr. Stewart was treated to an ovation when he was called upon to speak. He prefaced his remarks by reference to his former capacity as Minister of Municipal affairs and stated that the legislation leading up to the form of local government by Local Improvement Districts, Rural Municipalities and Villages and Town Municipalities had been the object of close study on his part. He stated that the form of local government given the people of Alberta was one which has commanded the admiration of the east, and that under the present arrangement the government of the province did much more for the people than western provincial governments did for the peoples of their respective provinces. For instance the Alberta government took care of the administration of police, asylums and care of the feeble minded, agricultural schools and demonstration farms, large public works in connection with roads and bridges, and in many cases grants to the purpose of education. The government had had in past years a horrendous task in construction in the opening up of the country to keep pace with the advance and spread of settlement. He cited figures showing the numbers of bridges built by the government, in various sections of the province and pointed out the necessity of local rural municipalities relieving the strain on the department in the case of smaller bridges and culverts.

Mr. Stewart also drew attention to the government's policy of assisting the farmers through the grain elevator legislation. Results achieved through this act had done much to relieve the situation amongst farmers particularly in the south portion of the province. As a whole, Mr. Stewart said the policy of the government was to make Alberta the best governed, the most economically governed and particularly the most honestly governed province in the Dominion.

In the evening the local Liberal Association was reorganized at a meeting in the town hall. W. C. Swift was re-elected president, Jos. Rogers, vice-president and A. J. H. McCauley Sec'y-treas.

Exceeded All His Expectations

DAIRYING AND HOG RAISING PAY 100 PER CENT ON HOGS AND 80 PER CENT ON BUTTER ALL THE YEAR ROUND SEASON AND COLD MAKE NOT BE

Mr. Thos. Jacobs, 50 years of age who came from Lincoln Nebraska to the Tofield district says:

I came in the spring of 1912 and purchased a half section one mile north west of town. I like Alberta first rate. Why? It is so much better in many ways than I expected. The climate is better and it is a much better stock country than I expected. My experience is somewhat limited but when one can let one's stock run out so much longer each year than in the states and when we have to feed fewer months each winter than we have to in the states one can certainly see that in these ways it is a much better country. The expense of preparing stock for market is even for keeping over for another year is much less than it is down there.

My work horses were turned out last October after getting through the fall work and we have not fed them one bite or put them in the stable to this day and this is March 14, 1914.

Dairying here is a paying proposition. We get good prices for dairy products. We have always got good prices for dairy products since we took up dairying. The hog market too has been good and is going to raise, this year, 150 lbs for market on which I should realize from $12.00 to $13.00 more than I received for them. We have recently rented a farm to a Swede, a Lapland. He came to me to see if he could rent from me. I told him I would rent to him if he would farm it as I wished it to be farmed. He agreed to that. I was brought up on a farm and was sent out to farm independently at 21. I felt that I was brought up to farm and that I knew the old home I have a handicap for the other. I guess I know, yet I would like to farm here for it is so much cheaper to and one's profit is not eaten up from the sale of the product of the farm as it is in the east of the enormous value of farm lands as the years go by.

THOS. JACOBS

Mrs. Jacobs and I motored into the Capital on Monday.

Chas. Mitchell has purchased a team of horses from P. F. Ingram for $400 a span. He makes a specialty of finding pedigree Morgan horses.

Mrs. Thos. Mitchell left on Monday morning for Edmonton where she will undergo a surgical treatment for rheumatism.

Mrs. Bert Bethel informs the Standard that he has purchased an imported Suffolk Punch stallion from Walter Pendlebury, 100 head in 1911 and registered as No. 8-32, Vol. XVIII in the Suffolk Stud Book of England. In order to accommodate the increased patronage his new stable on the Stoney Lake Stock Ranch will be completed next month.

Despite the fact that it is yet March it is interesting to note that many farmers in the Tofield district have during the past two weeks done a lot of cultivating on the fields preparatory to spring seeding.

Much interest and sympathy is manifested with Mr. and Mrs. L. Ashnet in the illness of little Clarence who is making a strong fight for recovery. The little fellow has now lain on a bed of illness for several weeks and despite extreme weakness exhibits a cheerfulness and a tenacity of purpose that is very encouraging. Two Good Road Measures

THE motion before the Good Road Act which has been put on the United State Congress and the House of Representatives and the Senate at Ottawa for the present session of government deserves attention.

The Act provides that $25 millions shall be raised over from the Federal Treasury annually to the State Governments for the construction of good roads. They are to be used three years. The Act to be matched with machine this. It will be used, as said or else. The Government is to contribute [illegible] The expenditure [illegible] is limited to $40, $30 and $20 per mile respectively, and the distribution of the money among the States is to be decided on the basis of population and half on the ratio of post road mileage. As a condition of receiving the federal money, the State must expend an equal amount per mile on the same work, and the work must be done by the State, county or township authorities under rules prescribed by the Federal Government.

The Highways Aid Bill introduced at Ottawa was a bill to authorize the Federal Government to devote money from the Treasury—amount unspecified—to road making purposes, and left it entirely to the Federal Government to decide in what Province, or Provinces, and in what part of such Province or Provinces, the money should be expended. When the Bill went to the Senate that body inserted an amendment to provide that the money should be distributed among the Provinces equitably, and that it should be expended by the Provincial authorities in some form with their own road work as the United State amendment provides.

Rather than recommend immediate legislation from the Senate the Dominion Government withdrew the Highways Aid Bill—Free Press.

Large Rush For Homestead Lands

A dispatch from Prince Albert the terminus of the Prince Albert Valley and the Grand Trunk Pacific, says that during the past ten week the Dominion Lands office has been very busy. Settlers in search of homesteads are coming into the district in numbers almost unbelievable. According to the rush at present the facts is that considerable new land has been opened up and in that section all of which possesses the best of agricultural qualities. The Grand Trunk Pacific passes through the heart of this section giving the farmers and business men a quick transportation for their goods.

G.T.P. to Operate Edmonton, Dunvegan and B. C. Railway

Edmonton Alta. March 26 Returning to Edmonton from Vancouver where he interviewed high official of the provincial government of British Columbia, J. C. Hamilton-ega, a pioneer of the Peace River country and today that the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia railway in Alberta and the Pacific Great Eastern railway on the coast province will be operated by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company, as feeder lines for its transcontinental system.

The Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia line has laid stake for the town of Shawraige, 175 miles northwest of Edmonton. J. D. McArthur of Winnipeg, president, and builder of the road, is also the builder of the Alberta and Great Waterways road, to be run from Edmonton to Fort McMurray, 300 miles. Work on the first named line is being rushed and it is planned to reach Peace River Crossing before the end of the year. The bonds are guaranteed by the provincial government.

The Pacific Great Eastern line, the bonds of which are guaranteed by the government of British Columbia, is to complete 330 miles of road in three years, work to start early in May. That is known to be a subsidiary road of the Grand Trunk Pacific system.

The extension of this line into the Peace River country now the scene of immigrants from all parts of the world, will start from the confluence of the Fraser and Salmon Rivers, following the latter to Shuswap Lake, thence along the Canoe River to Fort McLeod and McLeod lake, thence along the Parsnip-Finlay river through Pine Pass and along the Pine river to Hudson's Hope following the Peace River to the Alberta boundary connecting with the MacArthur railway.

Danger to the British Empire

(From a speech by Winston Churchill)

The greatest danger to the British Empire and to the British people—and to be found among the masses of Boers and scenes of the European continent or in the sensuous homes of Hindostan—it is the lack on part of the Britons of any danger in the wide realms of civil and foreign affairs. Not to be in any mental state of alarm—I see at hand in the vast growing states of England and in the thousand villages of our densely countryside. It is there you will find the seeds of imperial ruin and national decay. The national gap between rich and poor the divorce of the people from the land the want of proper discipline and training in our youth, the appalling state of low labor, the abysmal degradation which seems to follow assembly of civilized poverty, the awful pages of an absolute Poor Law the horrid havoc of the liquor traffic the constant insecurity in the midst of subsistence and employment which breaks the heart of many sober hard-working men, the absence of any established maximum standard of life and comfort among the workers, and at the other end the swift increase of vulgar poison luxury, here are the enemies of Britain. Beware lest they shatter the foundations of her power

Could'nt Better Himself by Moving

FORMER KANSAS FARMER NOW A TOFIELDER IS ENTIRELY SATISFIED. SEES SOME THIRTEEN YEARS. HE PRAISES SCHOOL, STORES

W. F. Wood, age 61, formerly of Pleasant Township Harvey County, Kansas, says
Editor Standard.
Tofield, Alberta.
Dear Sir:—

I came from Kansas to Tofield District, Alberta, about September 26th, 1901. At that time there was no railroad nearer Tofield than Edmonton. I have farmed here ever since on a farm one mile north of what is now the town of Tofield. As a grain producing country this cannot be beat for small grains and mixed farming. We raise our own seed corn every year for the last five years, this is for table use. My experience of the cattle and hog markets here is that inspr are better than ever near before elsewhere. Our dairy market has always been good winter and summer. We can sell anything we have.

The educational facilities in this country—I am glad I came to this country particularly on that score. Tofield has got one of the best schools in this country. They keep the pupils well up to the standard. I don't think I could better myself or my family by making any move.

Municipal Loan Board For Alberta Will Be Appointed

An important announcement was made by the Hon. W. Cariepy, M. L. A., minister of municipalities for the province of Alberta, in Calgary a few days ago when he stated that it was the intention of the department of municipal affairs in the near future to form a municipal loans board for Alberta on the same lines as the board formed in Saskatchewan some time ago. Mr. Cariepy said this board would be created so as to be free from political control and would have quasi-judicial power to make some pronouncement on the proposed expenditure for which a by-law has been passed and debentures issued a power to say to whom the debentures should be sold and at what price. The board would be a sure and regular channel through which money would pass, not for the municipality as a whole.

District Court

His Honor, Judge Taylor, presided at District Court last Tuesday. Court opening at the hour of ten o'clock in the morning.

Only two cases were on the docket to be heard. Phillips vs Tofield School District, and Rex vs Edmonds. In the first case plaintiff is suing the School District for remuneration under an alleged agreement for the lease of his property at the corner of Cookson Ave., and 2nd Street North. The latter case is for alleged theft.

When Court opened and the case of Phillips vs Tofield School District was called, the defense was present with their legal representative but the plaintiff did not put in an appearance nor was he represented by the council. The judge then set the case over until the next setting of the District Court here which will be in October. The costs of adjournment assessed to plaintiff.

The case of Rex vs Edmonds was then called To the surprise of the Court neither prosecution or defense appeared. His Honor then dismissed the Case. It is being suggested to the Court that the Crown Prosecutor and the accused would arrive on the 11 o'clock train from Edmonton, the judge remarked that he himself, had to get here for the hour set for court opening that morning, and the sitting The case will likely, it is understood, come up for hearing at Kelsey about the middle of April

Education Policy Outlined

Speaking at Edson a few days ago, Hon. J. R. Boyle Minister of Education dealt on the manual training and domestic science courses and emphasized the value of vocational training. The aim of the department was to have a course in elemental agriculture taught in every rural school as well as the vocational instruction in the towns and cities. The present difficulty was in getting a supply of teachers qualified for this work but that was being overcome by special courses at the normal schools and the establishment of summer schools in connection with the university.

Frank Wagner, a man who has lived in Tofield for some time was taken ill last week end and on Monday was taken in charge by the Health and Relief department and sent to the hospital at Edmonton for treatment, he having no means with which to provide for medical care and nursing.

The report stated that a test hole, 3 inches in diameter and forty feet in depth was put down on lot 24, block 19, on the west boundary, and that another water hole was put down on lot 20 feet in the north west corner. Tests were made on the latter supply of water and it was found that the water rose 17 feet in two hours. It was recommended that a three foot hole be bored on the same to a depth of fifty feet if necessary and that a pump be secured to be applied, with a view to testing the situation much larger duty. The report was duly received and adopted.

Free Trade is No Dead Issue

It is interesting to note as time progresses the varying presentation of matter political on the part of party organs. Statements are flung out across country which are often very striking in their positiveness, apparently in an effort to make the public think that alleged conditions are matters of fact.

Thus it was not seeing since that the Canadian public was informed most positively that "Reciprocity is Dead." Pages upon pages of arguments were published in the effort to bear out this statement. In the western provinces, particularly, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the wider markets doctrine has been continually in evidence in spite of any statements spread broadcast to the contrary. And now we have the Toronto News which has been in the forefront of those preaching the "Reciprocity is Dead" theory, editorially discussing the situation in an article under the caption of "A Free Trade Party" and opening with the statement that it is apparent that the next general election will determine whether or not protection is to continue in Canada. It says, knowing the character of the contest in which it will be required to engage, the Borden government cannot afford to give any advantage of position to its opponents.

In further elucidation of its argument the News, after demonstrating that free traders are in the ascendant in the Liberal party and that the chief Liberal newspapers and the Western grain growers have moulded the party into this attitude, it goes on to say. "It is for the Government to consider how far it will adhere to present protectional duties in face of the position into which the Liberal party has been driven and where manifestly it must remain. It is also for manufacturers to consider if they need as much protection as they now enjoy and what would be the consequences of a Liberal victory before the end of 1916.

It may be that the Government should undertake a rapid inquiry into existing duties in order to see if there cannot be revision downward. It is certain there should not be revision upward. All groups which enjoy protection are likely to believe that they have some special claim upon the community. They are likely to feel that it would be treason to disturb them. On the other hand as population increases the arguments for lower duties become more formidable. It is wholly out of the question so to adjust certain duties as directly to encourage manufacturing in the Western Provinces. It is only upon national grounds that protection is maintained. If we had to consider only the interests of manufacturers the system would end to morrow. We need to be careful, therefore, that we truly recognize the national interest and do not maintain unnecessary imposts for the particular advantage of special classes.

Farmers Organization and Politics

THE decision of the farmers of this district arrived at after a lengthy and interesting debate at the meeting of the Tofield Local of the U.F.A., with regard to the question as to what extent the organization as a body should go into politics, is a wise one. While the point is no doubt covered explicitly in the constitution of the Provincial Organization, in that entering into politics is forbidden the debate had many good features. Incidentally it brought out the fact that amongst the members of the local organization we have some good speakers, who will be heard from in time to come upon the public platform upon some of the day. During the debate in question the history of farmers' organizations of former year, both in the States and in Eastern Canada, their rise and fall was dealt with and the cause of their demise in practically every case was laid to their having entered into politics. It was shown that farmers of all shades of political opinion could unite for the common weal and seek legislative enactments which were for their benefit. In the case of the Alberta farmers when the provincial organization kicks to something like distant strong including members of every political leaning unite in demanding from the government legislation which is necessary for their progress and benefit and which will be to the interest and general good of the province as a government having for its object the good of the democracy would be only too glad to listen and consider such demands. To refuse would be fatal. The decision, we repeat, was a wise one.

FACTORY EXTENSION IN WESTERN CANADA

A Winnipeg Paper States That the Yeast Men Come to Boost the Yeast in Manufacture

The Toronto Star recently quoted a Winnipeg paper on the subject of manufacturing development in the West as follows:

Winnipeg Sept. 27.—"We have no sympathy with the view that there is bilateral antagonism in the West against manufacturers as a class. Men with political purposes to serve are resorted to faster such a spirit. It should not as a fact, be a matter of political at all. There are sound economic reasons why manufacturers who have, perhaps, not unanimously up to now resisted their activities almost stolidly in the East, should now begin to turn their attention with more seriousness to the needs of the West. The West has ceased to be a great grain field only. Big cities have sprung up on the plains, the development of natural resources has been proceeding apace, our agricultural population has grown amazingly in recent years. These cities and towns of the West need mass production to meet our living costs. The basis of every community is rightly acknowledged to be agriculture, but to retain its soundness in true greatness it is to remain on those dependent upon agriculture alone. That is a time in the West when prosperous was sparse, raw material was small, standards, and labor difficult to procure. Manufacturers were then reasonably justified in refraining from establishing upon untily variables. But that day has passed. Every year sees the manufacturers' Western market increasing."

In this connection the Canadian Courier in an editorial article comments with approval on the intention by Eastern Canadian firms of branch factories in the West.

"Strangely enough," says the Courier, "nearly all the manufacturing industries in Western Canada have come from Eastern Canada, not from the United States. When an American firm establishes a Canadian branch factory it is placed in the East, seldom in the West. The American wants to be in the big centres of population. He is not looking so far ahead as the Canadian manufacturer, preferring immediate returns.

"All the flour milling concerns in Western Canada were founded by Eastern capitalists, with a big mill in Moose Jaw as a notable exception. The same is true of the cement mills, most of which are now controlled by the Canada Cement Company. The Diamond Flint Glass Company, at Hamilton, the Dominion Bridge Company, at Calgary; the Stuart Woods Hog Company, Alaska Bedding Company, and Sherwin-Williams Company, at Winnipeg, the Quebec Iron Mill, at Saskatoon; the Copp Shoe Works and the Berlin Bedding Company at Port Arthur, all these and many others may be mentioned.

"The situation is pleasant. It spells unity of feeling and unity of interests between the West and the East. It suggests a development in industry of a national character. What the three transcontinental railways and the national banks have done in the East and West will be compelled by not progressive and patriotic manufacturers.

It has raised some people to regret past Eastern manufacturers on composing against those in the West, and striving to belittle the development of their western rivals. But the fact remains that the best Canadian firms will eventually, but the west will, branch plants as long as the present reasonable protection against free imports from their vast and highly specialized rivals south of the line is maintained.

Jewellers often keep a piece of gum camphor in the cases with their silver goods. It keeps them from tarnishing, and should be equally useful for the housewife.

Apples Grown at Tofield

Apples grown in Tofield district. How often truth sounds stranger than fiction. Yet it is true. No page dreamt in the hazy land is true, but Mr. Reader, whenever you are thinking of that issue with him that the Alberta climate is such that you should dream of Arctic conditions and that everything else in the province is under the same condition. In the instance in question told by, the camera. Apples growing in the Tofield district. They are on the Farm of George Reader, and, to the south of the T. which gives the district its name. The young trees were planted by the Rev. Robert Whillans, one of the early settlers to the district, ten years ago and to-day are healthy producers. The kind is of the hardy Russian variety and they are doing well. The photograph was taken in the summer of 1913 by R. C. W. Lett, Colonization agent of the G. T. P.

Tofield Grown Apples

Nor are those the only apple trees in the Tofield district which are making good and demonstrating that this immense fruit can be grown successfully here. Around the east bend of the lake may be seen on the farms of Henry Doty, one of our sturdy and most respected old pioneers, and Jas. B. Steele, another one of our fine old timers, apple trees annually bearing a goodly load of this prime favorite. What need we more say, Mr. Reader and the possibilities of growing of the excellencies of our climate. The great yields of our grain fields, the excellent returns in the dairying industry from our pastoral lands, the wonderfully productive nature of our gardens, both as to vegetables and small fruits—backed up by the silent but convincing testimony of the story of the camera in our orchards and the facts in connection therewith surely speak more clearly and forcefully than mere words which are too often disbelieved. Come and see, Mr. Stranger. Welcome you to our midst. Bring along your goods, your stock, horses and implements and if you do not make good, why, you're none there the worst amongst us.

ARMY AUCTIONS

Soldiers Glad to Buy Articles at Sales and Save Their Allowances

Auctions are a feature of Army life, for whenever a man has been absent for twenty-one days, and is officially declared a deserter, an auction of his effects takes place. Any one can buy the articles, and the money is then paid to the man if he is found to be sold, and the proceeds are credited to the public as a setoff against the waste of money in having trained him. Any non-commissioned officer or private is also entitled on discharge to an auction among his barrack-room comrades of what he owns in the way of clothing and kit, a coloured woman usually performing the office of auctioneer. Buyers do not pay cash on the spot, but have to submit to a stoppage from their regimental pay, although the does not present itself that they will be defrauded by any circumstance. Each one has just as much chance of getting his money back as the Lords of the Admiralty have of getting their money back when they buy a battleship. The auctioneer is the keenest man on the ground, and he knows how to get the best out of the articles for sale. Boots are generally the first to go, and the auctioneer has to be careful to see that the boots are not in the wrong pairs. Sometimes they are not even a pair, one boot being a size or two smaller than the other. Sometimes a pair of boots will be knocked down to a purchaser who is entitled to only one boot, and a difficulty may arise. Auctions have penetrated the whole of the army, and even the Navy, and recently a sale was held aboard a battleship at Portsmouth, when the auctioneer was the ship's steward, and the articles sold were the effects of a deserter. The auctioneer was a popular man, and he had no difficulty in getting rid of the articles.

TREES DYED AS THEY GROW

Sap Carries Stain Upward Through the Trunk

Staining wood by inoculating the living tree has been done in a very limited way in the independent forests of Europe, but it is introduced into the tree by holes bored through the trunk of the tree to the ground and the wood appears with the flow of the sap. Such staining is considered very rapidly. A French firm was known to have set up a factory in the Vosges for the purpose of staining beech wood in this way, and it was said that the wood so treated was used largely in the manufacture of furniture. Many of these are used for the purpose of staining beech wood in this way, and it was said that the wood so treated was used largely in the manufacture of furniture. How "Sterling Originated

In England money is characterized by the word sterling, its name in the time of Richard Coeur de Lion. Money coined in the east part of Germany became, on account of the purity in special request in England and was called Easterling money as on the inhabitants in that part of Germany were called Easterlings. That was the foundation of the practice of designing English coinage "sterling."

License Question Non-Partisan

Of interest in connection with a discussion now in progress in the province is a letter written by President Wilson when he was Governor of New Jersey, which is quoted from in the Pittsburgh Dispatch of the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post, which says:

"Then before I can answer that question I must be informed positively that 'Reciprocity is Dead.' Pages upon pages of arguments were published in the effort to bear out this statement. In the western provinces, particularly, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the wider markets doctrine has been continually in evidence in spite of any statements spread broadcast to the contrary. Sixty Bridges in Eighteen Mile

Edmonton, Alta., April 2—Sixty steel and wood bridges, running from 75 to 125 feet in length, will be required in a distance of 18 miles on the Central Canadian railway, north of Edmonton, for which the route plans have just been filed with the provincial department of railways for Alberta. The survey shows a line from the main line of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia railway at Bend Lake, along the North Hart river to Peace River Crossing.

Numerous other engineering difficulties are presented. Engineers report that at least 50 miles south of earth will have to be removed from steep side hills on the right of way along the North Hart river. The rout is placed at 50 feet a yard. It is estimated that the construction cost of this stretch of line will be more than $50,000 a mile, or perhaps a mile more than the bonded obligation of the provincial government.

The sliding banks along the torturous meanderings of the North Hart river are fully 200 feet above the high water level. The grade from this river to the open, at a distance of one half or more from Peace River Crossing where the railway connection will span the Peace River, will stand higher, running 300 feet. The new line will continue to Dunvegan along the south bank of the Upper Peace River.

The Central Canada railway upon which it connects will soon be completed, work will begin this season on to be the connecting link between the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia and the Pacific Great Eastern railway, and will open up one of the most fertile agricultural districts in western Canada where settlers from many parts of the world have taken up homesteads during the last few years.

Will Test For Natural Gas

The citizens of Bassett have decided that they will have a natural gas boom to test for natural gas. They believe that gas or an oil proposition will be struck at the depth of 1,000 feet.

PAY-ROLL FARMING

A Successful Mixed Farmer—The Development of Urban Centres

The location of manufacturing industries in certain Western towns is affording a ready market for the diversified and profitable products of the mixed farmer. Today one of the farmers in the C.P.R. irrigation block in Alberta is the envy of his neighbors, the entire farming expenses of a big farm are met by the proceeds from dairy products and garden. This diversified farmer has the advantage of the straight grain farmer in that he has many fairs in the year where he can exhibit his products, and by this means gets the best prices for his produce as against one year day which the grain farmer sees his grain in the elevator.

Pays as He Goes

The farmer in question does not borrow. He has spent more time on improvements than the average city man or summer resident. Besides he has never had a crop failure in the nine years he has been on the land. He manages to put a few dollars in the bank each year, and has now a snug little sum to his credit. He has also been able to keep his family well and comfortably clothed and fed, and to attend to summer holiday.

Farm and Factory Interchange

As further evidence of the value of mixed farming, Mr. Edmonton, of Calgary Medicine Hat, Edmonton and Lethbridge, is still greater. Every new factory of any account means a vast new hundred more mouths to be fed. Unlike the grain farmer the mixed farmer cannot ship his products over great distances because of their more or less perishable nature. It is the factory works and his family who must absorb the greater part of the products of his mixed farm. All economic history proves that the prosperity of the people is greater where there is a resultant and convenient interchange between products of the farm and the factory. This is the aim of Canada's present trade policy, and that it is succeeding is borne out by such figures as are quoted above and many other which could be cited from other parts of Western and Eastern Canada.

MIXED FARMING

What a Grain Dealer Says About a Convenient Home Market

James Fairclough of Montreal in certain matters bearing on the question of his recent address before the Canadian Club, in which he urged the mixed farmer as against the grain farmer, as the best asset for the Dominion of Canada, and the best guarantee of its commercial prosperity, he said:

"The question of manufacturing industries in certain Western towns is affording a ready market for the diversified and profitable products of the mixed farmer. Today one of the farmers in the C.P.R. irrigation block in Alberta is the envy of his neighbors, the entire farming expenses of a big farm are met by the proceeds from dairy products and garden. Eternal Vigilance

The advertising merchant is the one who does the business in those days of rush and enterprise. There are more two-square traders today than ever before in the history of the world. The power later can place the business you have and your wants before the eyes of buyers, who are what they want and knowing where to find it, look up the wide-awake merchant who wants him to come and see him. Success in these days of sharp competition calls for eternal vigilance. You cannot keep a lucky down.

The Situation in Britain

Another ... has been reached in the development of constitutional government in Great Britain. In some respects it is the most serious in centuries, but when the greater self control of the masses is remembered, the situation is not worse than at the time of Catholic emancipation or the reform bill it is unique, however, in so far as it embraces all the phases of popular unrest that stirred the country at those epochs as well as at the time of the Irish Church disestablishment, and carries the street back to the revolution of William III., who fought the battle of the Boyne to establish religious liberty for all faiths and churches, and back to Cromwell who fought to overthrow the aristocratic regime of the people.

To-day the situation presents a mixture of constitutional and historical ... but attempts to explain which ... seem ... recriminations

In the first place, the long ... between the aristocracy and the democracy has once more become acute. The growing power of the democracy has thereby ... the party which under wise guidance ... to the welfare and guardians of the democracy. The Lloyd-George budget, however, touched the self interest beneath, and as a direct result the Parliament Act was passed after the rejection of the budget by the lords. The Parliament Act means the supremacy of the democracy in legislative affairs.

In the second place, the home rule issue has been before the nation for many years. Nominally an assertion of Irish nationality, the real principle involved is decentralization of government. It was the principle whose violation lost the American colonies to Britain. It was recognized in Canada and elsewhere. Under stress of constituency and by coercion, it has been ... a considerable ... in Ireland for generations. Last year it was recognized as a principle applicable not only to Ireland but also to England, Wales and Scotland.

In the third place, the power of the aristocracy, curbed in the house of lords, has asserted itself in the military arm. We have no desire to emphasize ... but we cannot ignore this phase of the situation, but whether right or serious, the intimation given of the attitude of the commander of the Irish military officers in sufficient to mark the progress of the conflict from the hustings to the battle lines, from the house of commons to the house of lords, and now from the gilded chamber to the mess room.

But ... the novelty of the whole situation consists in the fact that the new conditions have ... tated the relations of all the old parties. The democratic party of Ulster, which represents the staidest and steamiest of the old covenanter breed, repudiates the old cause of democracy and decentralization, and is aligned with the army and the aristocracy. The forces which ... hooked with little favor on Thos. ... James that but, Ireland' are at one with the British democracy in the demand for popular government and decentralization. The aristocracy and the army, inherently supporters of law and order and constitutionalism, are in defiance of the government of the day, and almost on the verge of acts which might precipitate the gravest crisis and they have already called forth the reprobation of an important section of the British press.

In any other country in the world such a state of affairs would have led to open revolution. But in Britain the stock market is unaffected. Business goes on as usual. Democracy will work out its destiny.

Disastrous Prairie Fire

D. W. Warner and C. Sutter Suffer Severe Loss

A serious prairie fire took place north east of Tofield last Saturday when a large portion of the country down by the lake was burned over by an fierce a blaze as the country has seen for many years. Fed by a strong gusty wind from the north west, the fire extended into and across stubble field and consumed the stables, granaries, etc with all their contents. C Sutter has suspect this farm since last spring as a renter from Mr. Warner and sustained a most severe loss. Everything contained in the barns, stables, machinery sheds and log pens was destroyed. This included several sets of harness, saddle, tools, binder, harrows, disco, seed drill, several plows, 7 head horses, 1 boar, 4 tons of hay, ton tons of grown feed, top buggy and other stuff, all belonging to Mr. Sutter and 2000 bushels of grain, 4 tons of hay and 50 tons of green feed belonging to Mr. Warner.

Skirting the south of this farm the fire found its way onto and across the Hall section upon which lives C. McMillan and on this farm all of Mr. Hall's hay, in several stacks fell a prey to the flames. It was with difficulty that a band of horses ranging on this section which is enclosed with a strong wire fence, were saved. Leaping the roadway on the east side of this section the blaze spread with great rapidity across the Bayer Neal farm and it was only after strenuous efforts of a determined band of fire fighters that Mr. Neal's buildings were saved and the Francis homestead likewise. Twice the flames leaped the road south of the Hall farm but a number of persons were ready for the emergency and extinguished them before they could gain a hold on the long grass which, losing dry as timber, offered an easy ton easy victim to the fiery feed. Had the fire got to the lowest to cross this roadway there is no telling how far it would have travelled and how much more damage it would have been.

Prince Arthur of Connaught is mentioned as likely to be first viceroy under the new order of things as they will be in Ireland after the going into force of the provisions of the Home Rule Bill.

Spring Seeding Operations in Full Swing

SOWING THE GRAIN

The farmers in the Tofield district are busy almost too busy to talk. Old Sol and the weather man have at last agreed and spasmodic showers of Farmers Smith Brown Jones and all the neighbors have been awaiting with impatience the turn of the season and now it has come. All are out on the fields, many plowing and harrowing some planting and others sowing the seed for a bountiful 1914 harvest. Cases time is down to a minimum for every moment is valuable upon the fields. The ground is warming up quickly and within the next three weeks the major portion of seeding will have been done. Already, when farmers have a goodly acreage sowed, Hafford's who last year produced the Mackenzie farm have something like fifty acres seeded.

Teach Settlers Best Methods Of Cultivation

Mr. A. H. Toothson, Provincial Horticulturist of British Columbia, is busy planning three demonstration farms in the north country. These farms will cover tracts of five acres apiece and will be devoted to work in connection with horticultural and agricultural experiments. One of them is to be situated in the vicinity of Lake Stony the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The second at Queen Charlotte Islands and a third at Bella Coola. Every assistance is to be given to the farmers along the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in keeping them posted in the best manner of cultivating the soil, in securing the proper kind of seeds, roots and trees for planting and in the care and marketing of their produce.

A Gratifying Tribute From An Authoritative Source

"A MAN cannot be idle and honest at the same time" is the way Professor Robertson, of the Dominion Technical Education Commission puts a thought which should score everyone living to do with the business of educating the people of Canada, young and old, and it makes it plain that in his mind at least Alberta, through its agricultural schools, is making it unnecessary for a very large number of young men in this province to be idle.

It is a fact which is becoming more and more generally recognized as the science of education advances that Canada has been following entirely false lines in the matter of education. Heretofore the theory has been that any thing could exist as a general education, equipped with which the scholar was supposed to be able to step out of the class room into the world. In the pursuit of this general education, topics have been taught many useless things, or at least things useless for the purpose of earning a living. The Canadian system has given more attention to equipping scholars to enter the university than equipping them to follow the plow or build a house or a bridge across a stream. When it comes to producing the things which make the country great it is upon the tillers of the soil, the artisan, the mechanics and the factory hands that the nation must depend. The professions produce nothing. But Canadian education has been with a single eye to equipping scholars for the professions. Followed to its finish, it inevitably landed the scholar in one or the other of these.

As Professor Robertson explains, the time has arrived when the people of the Dominion of Canada are commencing to see that the education which is required is the one which equips for some productive employment. Along these lines he recognizes the start which has been made by the province of Alberta in the agricultural schools as the most progressive step in the Dominion.

The tribune from such a source, should be intensely gratifying to the minister of agriculture

Home Rule And The Natural Resources

THE Lethbridge Herald publishes a story to the effect that if the home rule bill passes thousands of unemployed from Ulster will pick up their traps and move for Alberta at once.

The story, if true, is good news indeed, for the Irish are a fine class of folk, and they are welcome in Alberta, no matter what their party affiliations may be in the land from which they come.

But I am a Irishman to attempt to escape from home rule by coming to Alberta looks somewhat like an Irish bull. Alberta is a more home rule than is being given to Ireland the home rule bill in Ireland and Alberta only stands upon the matter at the present time is to get more home rule by becoming proprietor of the natural resources

The Clarion who came to Alberta would probably find himself a home ruler as soon as he landed in this province.

Farming Outlook Good

THE farming outlook in the Tofield district is excellent. With the advent of springlike weather soft and mellow during the past few weeks various farmers throughout the district who have large areas to seed got busy cultivating the fall plowing and in some cases actually sowed parts of their crop. Last week and this week was a general activity throughout the whole of the district and plans are fast maturing and seeding are now general The soil is warm and conditions are most favorable for seeding. Notwithstanding the dry spell there is apparently an abundance of moisture in the ground and farmers would be well advised to cultivate well their fields with the harrows before seeding. A few hours extra work on the seeding time with the harrows means a much greater yield at harvest time

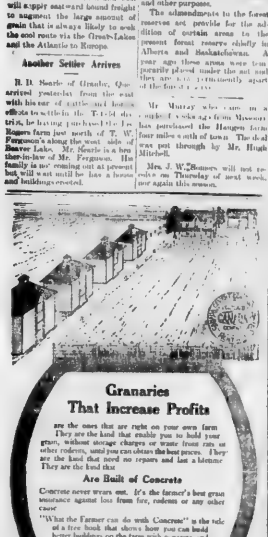
Expect Good Traffic East And Westbound

Every effort is being made to develop the natural and fishing industries in British Columbia. They will provide a large amount of freight traffic for the Grand Trunk Pacific on the eastward run. Prince Rupert is looking for and is being, in the future, the Pacific headquarters from which grain will be shipped through the Panama Canal to Europe. It is confidently predicted that a large percentage of the grain grown in western Canada will find its outlet on the Pacific coast. The Grand Trunk Pacific is pre-eminently a grain carrying line. With a grade through the mountains that is almost level, and a gentle grade it surpasses both its rivals in the handling of this class of freight. The Grand Trunk Pacific also runs through one of the very finest grain growing areas in the world A few months ago a settler named Paul Gerlach, whose homestead is in the Grand Trunk Pacific zone, captured the blue ribbon for high class wheat. Fish and coal will supply eastward bound freights to augment the large amount of grain that is always likely to seek the coal route via the Great Lakes and the Atlantic to Europe.

Another Settler Arrives

R. D. Searle of Ursuline, Que., arrived yesterday from the east with his car of cattle and household effects to settle in the Tofield district, having purchased the J. P. Rogers farm just north of T. W. Ferguson's along the west side of Beaver Lake. Mr. Searle is a brother-in-law of Mr. Ferguson. His family is now coming out at present but will not until he has a house and buildings erected.



Changes Made In Homestead Regulations

Ottawa, Mar. 11 - Hon Dr. Roche announced yesterday a number of important changes in the homestead and pre emption. These changes have been under consideration for some time and have for their object the improvement of the position of the new settlers and the encouragement of cattle industry.

The amendments to the dominion lands act is of far reaching importance of the western homesteader. One change does the time for securing patents on pre-emptions from six to three years and abolishes the interest charges of five per cent. However a homesteader has the option of paying for his pre-emption in six years and in that case is charged interest during the last three years.

Another important amendment allows homesteaders on land which is not of the highest grade to qualify for their patents by keeping stock instead of breaking land to a certain amount as at present. The first year there must be five head of cattle in the second year ten and the third sixteen. On the completion hand, the homesteader can also secure his patent by keeping sixteen head of cattle three years after the third year, he must have 24 head of stock instead of 16 as at present. The principal object of this amendment is to encourage mixed farming and cattle raising

There are a number of other amendments of which the most important withdrawals from entry or sale, lands adjacent to water powers.

There are also a number of changes in the irrigation act but they are largely technical, such as arranging for order of precedence for disposal of water for municipal and other purposes.

The abandonments to the forest reserves act provide for the addition of certain areas to the present forest reserve chiefly in Alberta and Saskatchewan. A year ago these areas were temporarily placed under the act and they are now permanently apart of the forest reserve.

Mr Murray who came in a couple of weeks ago from Missouri has purchased the Hargen farm four miles south of town. The deal was put through by Mr. Hugh Mitchell.

Mrs. J. W. Somers will not receive on Thursday of next week, nor again this season.

No Misuse of School Funds

We have received a letter from the Hon. J. Tweed, Minister of Education, stating that they are unable to pay the amount due us on account of the municipality not paying over to the District, the taxes collected for 1912, amounting to approximately $500.00. We will be glad to know when this District will receive their funds from you as we have incurred them a great many months and must now insist on them doing something with the matter promptly. It strikes us as peculiar that the Rural Municipality have power to collect the above School District taxes and not be forced to pay the tax money over. Our understanding of the matter is that those taxes from the School District have been collected by you and the money spent for other purposes. Is this correct? We will be glad to hear from you explaining the situation fully.

Yours very truly,

Above is one of the many screeds and statements made of annual certain parties, verbally and through the mail, and in order to do justice to the present and 1912 Council's statement below this is taken from the auditor's report dated January 20th, 1913 shows that the Council have advanced the municipality $125,275 over the amount collected during 1912, for school purposes and anyone making a statement of such a misrepresentation should first investigate the Municipalities books and then take into consideration the struggle during its financial stringency with a $16,000 unpaid taxes outstanding since 1913, and only a limited bank credit which is not sufficient to arrange for order of precedence for disposal of water for municipal and other purposes.

The abandonments to the forest reserves act provide for the addition of certain areas to the present forest reserve chiefly in Alberta and Saskatchewan. A year ago these areas were temporarily placed under the act and they are now permanently apart of the forest reserve.

THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS ON TRADE QUESTION

They Contend the German Tariff is Greatly in the Interests of Agriculture

In Germany the central Democratic or party of the urban masses are the low tariff or free trade party as opposed to the agrarians who have protection as their cause Marks for the food products they raise According to "Vorwarts" the organ of the Social Democratic party published in its November issue the Social Democrats are going to change the attitude of the party, makes a declaration that "The party is for protection; the present tariff is on a poor basis the time of war against all the expenses of the necessaries of life and the agreement, but broad, better, reasonable about a basis for protection food of our people. Not only does the tariff increase the prices greatly in price already and the leaders of the Agrarian organizations are endeavoring to take further advantage of the attention to make life still harder for the poor and the very poor in town and country."

The Agricultural Value

If this is true in Germany and the rise in the price of food stuffs affords some sense of similarity, it would seem consistent to some that the adoption of the policy of protection has not been without advantage to the farmers of Canada. Alberta Mayors Discuss Liquor Licenses With Cabinet Ministers

A deputation of Alberta Mayors held a convention in Edmonton last week and on Wednesday called upon the government where they were received by Hon. C. W. Cross, attorney-general, Hon. C. H. Mitchell, provincial treasurer and Hon. Wilfrid Gariepy, minister of municipal affairs in the executive chamber and upon whom the deputation urged what is regarded by them as a more equitable division of liquor license fees between the province and the municipalities.

Mayor McNamara of Edmonton, Mayor Bimnett of Calgary and Mayor Twomey of Camrose were the spokesmen for the deputation. They pointed out that while they realized that the province had the right to take all of the fees raised by the issue of liquor licenses if it was needed for provincial requirements but the justice of doing so was questioned by the municipalities upon whom fell the burden of the enforcement of law as the great majority of infractions of the bar law were caused from the use of drink.

Hon. C. W. Cross, who responded on behalf of the cabinet, said that the ministers were glad to be able to see the point of view of the municipalities and that the matter would be laid before Premier Sifton on his return from England. He announced that it had been practically decided to appoint a stipendiary magistrate through the province, paid by the provincial government.

Appointed An Official Councillors By Provincial Government

Chick Chat

By A. W. Fahey, Poultry Superintendent, Edmonton

Hatch your chickens in April or early May if you want winter layers. Keep them growing continuously as while you are growing you are laying.

Young chicks are babies—treat them as such.

Do not feed the chicks for at least thirty six hours after they are hatched as feeding too soon overtaxes their digestive system and causes diahoerea.

Dust the setting hens and keep them free from lice at all times.

Protect the chicks against chilling when transferring them to the brooder or coop. Have your brooder clean, disinfected and heated before transferring the chicks from the incubator to the brooder. Use chaff for litter in the brooder. Never use damp or musty litter.

Teach the chicks that under the hover is their source of heat supply. A little patience in this matter will save many from sickness or death through chilling. If chicks huddle together the brooder is too cool, if they scatter in the corner it is too hot.

Remember that unsanitary or damp conditions breed lice and disease. Disinfect the brooder or coop every week and clean out the brooder or coop often and remove the chaff.

Give chicks grit for first feed. It is advisable to feed commercial chick feed for the first two weeks, following commercial chick feed is cut steel, feed stale bread crumbs, rolled oats or granulated oatmeal.

Hard boiled eggs may be fed occasionally, but should be mixed with other feeds and fed sparingly.

After the chicks are two weeks old they may be gradually changed to cracked wheat and finally ground oats with the husks removed.

Keep bran, grit, shell, ground oats, green feed and fresh clean water before your chicks at all times. Chicks should have a supply of animal food or skim milk. Never allow milk to remain in vessels till it sours.

Boil feeding hoppers heated in daily use or soaking bran, grains and grit must ensure a constant supply of food to the chicks. Cracked grains should be fed in the litter.

If chicks droop they ought to appear to be sickly, look for head ... Head lice burrow into the ... end of the chick and can be killed ... by an application of equal parts of ... and sulphur.

Get your chicks on the ground ... soon as possible. Green feed is necessary to rapid growth.

A wet mash of skim milk and ... cooked oats may be fed to adult ... occasionally by way of variety ... Grass feed clean wholesome food

How Gunners Will Find Mexico's Range

A team on board the U.S.S. New York, now in the Brooklyn Navy Yard awaiting orders to sail for Mexico and join the remainder of the fleet making a huge naval display in Mexican waters, showing method of gun sighting and range finding. After those men have peered at the object at which the guns are to fired, the proper range is worked out mathematically and the information given to the gun crews who set the guns accordingly. The men who operate the big guns, who load and fire them seldom see the object at which they have sent the big shells speeding. The New York is the latest to unde Sam's ess fighting force and was lately put into commission and prepared for service, because of the mexican crisis.

An interesting fossil has been presented to the geological museum of the University of Alberta. This consists of a slab of sandstone of the cretaceous period from the celebrated Hitchcock collection. On the slab which was secured through the kindness of Mr W. E. Forster, of Toronto are the fossil prints of some three-toed land animal of the Mesozoic age. The specimen was collected over fifty years ago in the Connecta at valley and constitutes a valuable addition to the museum from the standpoint of geological history. In all during the present term, specimens to the value of more than $2,000 have been presented to the museum by friends of the University, and former associates of Dr. Allan, the professor of geology.

Albert and Graham, Tofield's immortal artists, are apparently developing into something like lightning change artists. The ever genial and obliging pair were had in the meantime moved bag and baggage up town from the old stand and were comfortably settled in the new stand in the Ingram-McConnell block, and next door north of P. F Ingram's real estate office. The new stand is much more central than the old place of business and the general public will appreciate the move in a substantial and practical manner

Western University Development

"UNIVERSITY Development in Western Canada is the title of an interesting article from the pen of W. A. Craick in the February number of the Canadian Magazine. The principal feature about the articles, from the point of view of the Westerner, is the writer's contention that the real estate valley is not the true criterion of Western growth nor is the subdivision its most suggestive feature, but rather that "In the schools, the colleges, and above all, the universities, one must therefore look for a true conception of the principle that underlie Western development

An interesting comment on the above article is furnished by a report furnished the Advisory Council in Agriculture for Saskatchewan at its annual meeting. This showed that during the year [illegible] students have been in attendance at the University of Alberta, with one year's standing or less, 331 students are in attendance The fact that in the two largest provinces of the Dominion 810 are being attending the provincial universities is the strongest possible confirmation of the truth of Mr Craick's conclusion

Lincoln On The Tariff

THE Hon. Lincoln quotation which you copy from the Philadelphia Ledger, but which you have not been able to find in any authentic works of the great man, must be a fiction. The quotation is in the words —

"I do not know much about the tariff, but I know this much, when we buy manufactured goods abroad we get the goods and the foreigner gets the money. When we buy manufactured goods at home we get the goods and the money

My reason for thinking that Lincoln never said this is that he was not a fool. He knew that a good rule must work both ways. In the case supposed both the foreigner and ourselves would be able to live wealthy by not trading at all. How strange that the world never before discovered this method of making us richer by abolishing commerce altogether

The fallacy in the quoted saying consists in the misuse of the word us. When we buy goods abroad we do not pay for [illegible] goods but with our own products — in Liverpool [illegible] coal, beef and cotton; at the present time increasingly with automobiles, sewing machines, locomotives, and other manufactures between us and the foreigner arising from the exchange of labor for labor, and some times [illegible]

Royal Humane Society Medal For G. T. P. Conductor

The Royal Humane Society of Canada and the citizens of St. Hyacinthe combined this week to honor Mr Austin Doyle, passenger train conductor on the Grand Trunk Railway. Mr Doyle saved the life of a young woman at St. Hyacinthe Station on Dec. 9th last at a great risk to himself.

The train of which he had charge was bound for Montreal and was leaving into the St. Hyacinth station at a slow speed when Miss Cecile Beauregard attempted to cross the tracks and was struck by the locomotive. From an opposite direction a freight train was approaching and Miss Beauregard was thrown almost under it's wheels. Conductor Doyle was on the steps of a coach and the young lady fell in the space between the two tracks. When she attempted to raise a portion of the train again it struck her and she was in danger of being fatally injured. The conductor sprang from the train, and grasping Miss Beauregard held her in a safe position until the two trains drew clear.

Col. Reuse Campbell drew at tention of the Royal Humane Society to the conductor's action and the society decided to present Mr. Doyle with its bronze medal. The presentation of the medal took place at St. Hyacinthe on Monday Mr. P. Payan, the mayor of the town, made the formal presentation but Miss Beauregard was present and pinned the medal on the conductor's uniform.

Government Will Sell Its Holdings In McBride B. C.

The Provincial Government of British Columbia which last week announced the sale of its holdings in Prince George has now informed the Grand Trunk Pacific authorities that it will offer for sale by auction the Government lots in McBride B. C. These will be sold on the 30th. They comprise of 140 lots and keen competition is expected for them as McBride situated on the Main Line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, is making rapid progress.

Cost of Living

The professionals will say to us that even if the expenses of the country are going up, it is never easy to maintain high duties or else business will be bad, factories will close, people will be out of work. That will be worse than any advance in household expenses. But England's business has not gone low. It was never greater. In the United States the alarm expressed by some when the tariff was reduced unfounded. Business is flourishing there as it never did before. The revenues are coming in, of course, somewhat less no longer than the tariff is lower as expected, while the loss from this source has been made up by other taxes. Neither Britain nor the United States show any signs of business failure. But Panama tolls looks outrageous. Its business cannot proper without subsidizing.

Mr. while the remedy for the high cost of living lies at their feet. The ministers smack their lips and append a commission of their own employees to make enquiries at that source, when they have nothing else to do, and report — as in due time in the infinite future I suppose.

Says Branch Lines Are Necessary If Farmers Are To Thrive

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will, it is announced, have this summer considerably over one thousand miles of the branch lines in operation.

While the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway have been rushing rush ways and in order to connect at the earliest possible date the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, they have been pushing out with these branch lines and feeders. This was naturally of the first importance to gather in the traffic for the Trunk line, to take advantage of such as some makers who are scattering into what was, when the main line was laid out some six years ago, an almost empty West. After it was finally last year that they should take possession of every mile of [illegible] to secure locations late in the season to be lost.

How essential to the development of the province the Grand Trunk lines are is emphasized by the Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Railways in the Saskatchewan Government Mr. Calder, who is visiting in the East just now says.

"People who talk about putting on the brakes and stopping work are really unfamiliar with conditions," said he. "These lines are required in order to open up new territory, but the supply railway facilities for settlers who look up lands years ago. The report of the Board of Railway Commissioners on the freight rates case clearly indicates that the branch lines are urgently needed and must be proceeded with. Unless this is done not only will settlement and development be retarded, but thousands of our farmers who are completely disheartened will pull up stakes and leave the country. This represents the real situation, a situation that eastern Canada is interested in just as much as the west. If we are to hold what we have and if we are to secure annually the increase in crops area which we should expect it is imperative that railway facilities should be provided in all large settlements in the west where the farmers are compelled to haul the grain a greater distance than from ten to twelve miles to market. Wherever this has been done the result has been immense crop gowing to an profitable and will not be carried on."

The Age of Talent

According to some recently compiled statistics the most eminent of all and medical discoveries have been made by men of 30 years of age. Forty-four is the age at which a poet may expect to do his best work; soldiers and sailors tend to distinguish themselves most at the age of 37, at 38 years of age composers and actors are at the summit of the power; geographers excel at 52 years; philosophers at 53, and humorists at 56. These figures perch patron to the young Lee Nouvelle.

No Promotion for Drinkers

A new rule has been passed by the Carnegie Steel company, at all its plants in the Pittsburg district as follows

Hereafter all persons employed at any branch of the business will be made from the ranks of those who do not indulge in intoxicating liquors of any kind and are known to be abstemious in their habits, in all the meantime that these words imply. Persons in the employ of the company who are found to be guilty of violating this rule will be discharged.

MACHINE GUNS DEFEND BORDER

A machine gun platoon of the army division now stationed at El Paso, Texas, on a forced march near the city. Several of these machine guns have been stationed in the vicinity of the international bridge which crosses the Rio Grand and connects El Paso with Juarez on the Mexican side. Both Federal and Rebel Mexican troops have encamped across the border. General Villa's detachment, being a particularly strategic locality should he decide to bombard El Paso. All traffic has been suspended across the bridge and adobe breast-works have been erected at the American entrances, on top of which machine guns have been placed on the heights to command the bridge in case the Mexicans make a rush to cross it. The citizens of El Paso are alarmed at the situation and the army authorities have ordered reinforcements from San Francisco and other points along the border not so important as El Paso.

Potato Diseases

Transmitted By The Use Of Unsound Seed Potatoes

THE Standard is this week in receipt of Farmers Bulletin No. 4 from the Dominion Department of Agriculture on Potato Diseases Transmitted By The Use Of Unsound Seed Potatoes which bulletin is illustrated with 12 colored plates. The Standard wishes that every farmer in the Tofield district would write to the Dominion Department of Agriculture a post card asking for this bulletin. The subject matter which we produce below we consider of so much importance that every local farmer and gardener should know and by writing for the bulletin the advantage will is that he will have the colored plates which illustrate the diseases of the potato That many have diseased potatoes is a fact that is very patent to consumers. The sooner that we rid ourselves of such, the better for all concerned. The bulletin says as follows —

The ideal seed potato is free from any blemish perfectly sound externally and internally.

Potatoes of this description produce the best yield, largest in quantity, best in quality, provided they are planted on suitable land that has not previously produced a diseased crop of potatoes.

Poor, unsound seed potatoes will give a poor yield, small in quantity and of inferior quality. They do not, if they sell at all, bring the highest market price.

THERE ARE TWO POTATO DISEASES WHICH WILL INFEST THE LAND AND WILL REMAIN IT UNFIT FOR RAISING POTATOES TO AN INDEFINITE NUMBER OF YEARS. The first is POTATO CANKER (see fig. 5), NOT AT PRESENT FOUND IN CANADA, BUT AGAINST WHICH GREAT VIGILANCE IS NECESSARY. The second is POWDERY SCAB (see fig. 1a), A DISEASE RECENTLY DISCOVERED OF THE CONTINENT OF AMERICA.

Under the Destructive Insect and Pest Act of Canada, any person using seed potatoes infected by Potato Canker or POWDERY SCAB is liable to prosecution

Never relax attention in looking for these two diseases any case of Potato Canker should such be found anywhere—or Powder Scab, which already occurs in some parts of the Dominion, must be reported immediately to the Dominion Botanist, Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Potato growers are requested to send specimens if they suspect the presence of either disease

THE ABSOLUTE DISCOVERY OF UNREPORTED CASES OF THESE DISEASES BY ANY OFFICIAL OF THE DEPARTMENT, WILL LEAD TO LEGAL PROCEEDINGS AGAINST THE PERSONS HAVING FAILED TO REPORT THEM.

These diseases are to be reported to the Dominion Botanist in order that steps may be taked to prevent their establishment or spread. Concealment of Potato Canker and its subsequent discovery in potatoes exported would further bar Canadian potatoes from export Negligent growers may thus inflict a serious hardship upon the potato growers of the whole Dominion.

POTATO CANKER IS NOT KNOWN TO EXIST IN THE DOMINION AT THE PRESENT MOMENT.

Powdery Scab is known in some localities. This disease must be wiped out Farmers alone can do this by advising the Department of cases known to them, and by closely following the instructions which will be sent

If in doubt as to the fitness of potatoes for use of seed, send a sample to the Dominion Botanist (post free if below 8 lb. in weight), who will advise you by return mail

POTATO DISEASES TRANSMITTED BY THE USE OF UNSOUND POTATOES

The colored plate shows a number of potatoes effected by fungous diseases and blemishes which are not diseases, but which it is undesirable to use for seed.

Fig 1 represents a potato externally apparently without a blemish but which when cut in halves will show a hollow centre This is common in Potatoes. It is not a disease but due to unfavorable conditions of tuber.

Fig 1a shows a physiological trouble known as "Internal Brown Streak" It is not a disease but more of a varietal or seasonal trouble Potatoes affected may appear quite sound externally

Fig 2 represents a potato affected with Common Scab Both diseases are widely prevalent where our potatoes are grown. In some cases it is difficult to secure seed potatoes free from either disease. Seed treatment is recommended for these two troubles. Soak the tubers for three hours in a 1-2000 sol. of bichloride of mercury (corrosive sublimate) or in 1 lb. formaline in 30 Imperial gallons of water The former chemical is highly poisonous and will corrode iron vessels—brass or wooden

Fig 3 shows a potato affected with Dry Rot. The fungi of disease is most common among stored potatoes in bins, pits or cellars. Whitish fungous or mouldy growths appear on the outside of a shrunken, dirty hard skin. The inside consists of a dry, powdery, discoloured substance Another disease not in the "Wet" list as it can be prevented to a safe, decaying mass, giving off a putrid odour Both diseases render tubers totally unfit for use as seed

Fig 4 Shows potatoes in rough coat quite sound externally (see also last picture of figs. 1 and 2) but when cut at the "Stem end" a brown ish decaying or discoloured as a just below the skin, may become noticed. These discolorations will appear frequently on cutting seed tubers on the "Stem" end. This is a disease known as "Stem End Rot" In severe cases the discolouration area will be diffused through the whole interior of the potato. Tubers showing this disease will frequently rot in the ground while planted. They are quite useless for seed purposes

Fig. 6 and 5a illustrate a disease very widely known in potato-growing countries. This shows potatoes affected with "Light Blight" Externally this disease is visible by the darker brown sunken in portions of the skin When cutting into these spots the "flesh" underneath will show irregular brownish spots permeating the interior Such potatoes are unfit for seed purposes It is probable that the destructive epidemics of Light Blight in the standing crop originate from the planting of such seed

Offsetting Competition
The thing for the merchants of this community to do in their own interests is to advertise faithfully, and to make their printed announcements interesting and helpful to those whose trade and favor are desired.
The serious competitors of the retailers of this community are the big stores of the big cities — those who send out catalogues and have mail-order departments.
The poorest way to offset this competition is for our local merchants to remain silent. For them not to "speak up" is to give the mail-order houses a better chance to get business from this community.
A WORD TO THE PUBLIC
When you send your money out of this community, you enrich the great shops and impoverish this community. Strengthen - not weaken - the merchants of this community. It will all be returned to you in the form of better service and better values.

Provincial Government Offers for Sale its Lots in Prince George
Probably the most remarkable sale of lots in the history of the North American Continent was the disposal by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway of its holdings in Prince George, the eagerly sought land bringing at auction over $2,000,000. The Government of British Columbia announces that it will sell its holdings during the coming summer These auctions will be held at Vancouver on May 19th, 20th and 21st and at Victoria on May 26th and 27th and at Prince George on June 9th, 10th and 11th.
Prince George will become it is rumoured, the clearing centre of Central British Columbia. Situated on a flat table land in the angle caused by the confluence of the Nechaco River and Fraser, it is an important divisional town on the Grand Trunk Pacific and also the point where the Pacific Great Eastern line from Vancouver will join the Grand Trunk Pacific main line to the newest development in the rich Peace River District.

Good Progress On Western Canada's Latest Railway
Progress on the construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway which is to connect Vancouver and the Grand Trunk Pacific Main Line is rapid. Work is being pushed forward as quickly as circumstances will allow and grading and bridge building are finding employment for a large force of men.
Part of the first assignment of rolling stock ordered a short time ago by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway has arrived at the Coast. Fifty box cars and one hundred flat cars were purchased by the Company. Ten of the former and thirty of the latter are due to arrive early in June, as well as a second consignment of freight cars
The engineering staff are now busy making a reconnaissance of the proposed route north of Prince George to the Peace River Country are still in the field, but are understood to have nearly completed their preliminary observations. On their return to Prince George parties of hunting engineers will start out to map the course of the proposed extension.

One Thousand Farmers Will Be Served This Week Write In Connection With Canadian Society of Equity

Within the next few days, at least one thousand farmers scattered all over the province of Alberta will have their attention called to the fact that having been disfranchised of the illfated Canadian Society of equity, which went broke to the tune of almost seven ten ages they must now pay their just portion of the $10,000 worth of debts incurred by the late society Judgments have been obtained against all the shareholders, and yesterday quite a large number of writs of execution were served upon farmers in the Edmonton district as the result of instructions issued by Mr. H. Ross, K. C.
A representative of The Alberta was informed by Mr. Ross last night that he was to start issuing writs in the Calgary district with in the next few days, and that all the other shareholders would be similarly served before the end of the week. It was his intention to have the whole business wound up in the shortest possible time and he was to consider as many sheriffs as might be available in order to expedite the work. Albertan

New Cars For Grand Trunk Railway
The Grand Trunk Railway has just had delivered from the East ern Car Co., New Glasgow, four hundred new box cars for use in the prairie where the Fall Wheat is being increased to take care of the extra grain and one hundred parlor buffet car are shortly due for delivery from the Canadian Car & Foundry Co.

Their Royal Highnesses To Visit The West This Summer
Montreal April 27.—The Duke of Connaught will spend several weeks in the prairie and Pacific coast provinces this summer, announcement to this effect having been made here on Saturday prior to the return of the Governor-General to Ottawa. The Duchess and Princess Patricia will accompany him.
The trip, according to the present plan, will begin about the middle of July and terminate in September. Beginning June 4th, the Royal party will spend a month in Quebec and then ten days in Halifax. From the latter they will leave on the trip west.
Just what cities will be visited has not been definitely arranged, but Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver have already been decided upon. It is almost certain that Regina, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, New Westminster, Victoria and other cities would be honored by a visit.
The trip was decided upon, it is believed, following an invitation extended to His Royal Highness by Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, recently. A similar visit to Western cities was made two years ago.

REVENUE NECESSARY
A Grain Grower's Referendum and a Sender Correspondent
Writing in the "Grain Growers' Guide" recently a correspondent from Sceder, Sask., replies to the second and third questions of the recent referendum conducted by the "Grain Grower's Guide" as follows:
1. Free Trade with Great Britain would be alright if Britain had a tariff against foreign nations. Otherwise Britain is not in a position to make a special agreement with us.
2. It would not be advisable to completely abolish the Canadian tariff, as considerable funds are needed to finance the affairs of the Government. If there was no customs tariff, who of your Free Traders would feel like putting up the money?
While this is probably not the so never that the "Grain Growers' Guide" expected, there are, no doubt, many farmers in Western Canada who realize that the elimination of the protective principle from Canada's trade policy would not provide a panacea for all the difficulties with which they have to contend.

There are the commonest diseases of potatoes transmitted by the used tubers.

NOTE THE IMPORTANCE IS AT ONCE REPORTING ANY CASES OF POTATO CANKER OR POWDERY SCAB PROMPT ACTION ONLY WILL AVERT SERIOUS DAMAGE. THE SOONER POWDERY SCAB IS WIPED OUT THE BETTER. THIS SHOULD BE THE AIM OF ALL CANADIAN POTATO GROWERS.

The result can be brought about only by the use of sound seed potatoes planted on suitable soil that has not previously produced a diseased potato crop.

RE-APPEARANCE OF POWDERY SCAB IN POTATOES IS AN INDICATION THAT THE DISEASE HAS BEEN ALLOWED TO EVEN A CROP OF HIS SEED POTATOES ON HIS LAND. THE ABSENCE OF ONE MAY BE A DETRIMENT TO A WHOLE COMMUNITY OR A WHOLE COUNTY.

The Dominion Botanist Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, to whom letters and parcels under five pounds in weight may be addressed free of postage, will be very glad to examine any suspected cases of diseased vegetation. It is important to communicate at once in order to save time and not allow it to become serious before action is taken as often too late to be of service.

One Clock for the World
Thirty-five years ago—our rail roads were operated by solar time as recorded at clock-faces at Halifax, Montreal or Toronto. Their timetables were confusing, even to veteran travellers. Early in 1879 important steps toward reform were taken in Toronto, and quietly enough At session of the Canadian Institute, of which he was a founder, Sir Sandford Fleming proposed that the globe be divided like a melon; into twenty-four time zones, each of fifteen degrees, and that within each zone time should be uniform. He also suggested that the basic clock of the great circle of time-planes should be the national obrun meter at Greenwich Observatory, near London. Like every other architect of genius, Sir Sandford builded better than he knew. His method was soon adopted and is now and abroad, bestowing a golden simplification not only upon railroading, but upon the broad field of universal timekeeping. To day his labors are brought to a further and marvellous utility, thanks to wireless telegraphy.
At the International Time Conference, recently convened in Paris with M. Darlous presiding, it was agreed that Greenwich time should point the clocks of the world Those clocks will beat in a wireless pulse throb by throb, from the equator to either pole. Thus does William Marconi drop the keystone into an arch which first began to rise in Toronto thirty-five years ago, under the hand and the prophetic eye of a great engineer. Twice a day Marconi signals are to be announced from stations which belt the globe; their hours are numbered continuously from 1 to 24, excluding uncertainty as to forenoon or afternoon. The 0-Sel Tower in Paris sends signals at 10 and 22 o'clock, San Fernando in Brazil at and 16; Arlington, Virginia, one hour West Washington, at 3 and 17; Manila at 1, Mogadishu on the coast of Italian Somaliland at 4; Timbuctoo at 6, Norddeich in Germany at 12 and 22; Monowrah at 18; and San Francisco at 20. To this round of stations it is intended soon to add Melbourne in Australia and Tananarive in Madagascar Three minutes are accepted in meeting each signal, so that the recipient has plenty of time for the due regulation of his chronometer
We may well enjoy time sent for ordinary telegraph from these stations. This service much better rendered by wireless waves, which register themselves directly in clock mechanism. A message by wire may most several transmissions on its way from city to city, history to an ordinary watch or clock and these introduce a delay hard to measure. At sea, even more than on land, a simultaneous clock beat will have supreme value. An error of four seconds in a chronometer may introduce a step by as much as one sea mile. Precise therefore, is the boon which absolutely accurate time keeping men confers upon mankind. Exchange.

CANADA'S INDEBTEDNESS
Ability to Pay Interest Charges Dependence on Productivity
The President of the Bank of Montreal, in his address to the shareholders at the annual meeting early in December, emphasized the fact that the balance of foreign trade has been heavily against Canada during the past decade. In the last six fiscal years imports exceeded exports in value by $1,000,000,000, and this considerable sum has been made in certain quarters the subject of adverse criticism of Canada. We cannot, moreover, expect to go on widening the gap between imports and exports indefinitely. The lesson to be taken from these remarks is that the ability to earn interest charges on our heavy borrowings from abroad must come from increased production of the farm, factory and mine, etc. A good portion of our borrowings are for the Dominion Government, and our ability to pay the interest charges depends on a growing revenue.
Canada's fiscal policy, during the last three years, has not only produced a revenue equal to all the claims of interest and a sinking fund, but has afforded a considerable margin to manufacturers as essential factor in our national development. A reduction in the tariff to-day would not only reduce Canada's income, but in so far as it resulted in increased imports would lessen the productivity of Canadian factories, and therefore reduce in the long run the earnings from productive undertakings which are required for our interest
Having regard to the serious conditions in which the country has been placed during the past two years the wisdom of disturbing the stability of Canada's trade policy at the present juncture is doubtful.

WAGES AND LIVING COST
Labor Secures Better Return Today Than Ten Years Ago
In a discussion of the purchasing power of the dollar in one of the following appeared in the New York Journal of Commerce: the other day
We presume, of course, that to some extent the tariff may be said to be responsible for the high cost of living but we believe that the extent to which the tariff is so responsible is very small in comparison with other causes
Pays to Labor
"More than 60 per cent. of the cost of all production, be it agricultural or industrial, is the wages paid to labor We all know that for several years past the price of labor has steadily and persistently increased Not only so, but no one knows that the hours of labor have steadily and persistently decreased During these two causes together is there any reasoning man who can deny that the high cost of living is due very many, more times to the high cost of labor and the reduction in working hours than to the tariff system?

Care Of Setting Hen

A farmer has left to her own devices, frequently selects her nest in a place at and hung off a [illegible] of healthy chickens. The fowls many to believe that the setting hen which has not the first time [illegible] heart her nest, and to come [illegible] when she likes, will get along with next to no care. That theory is a wrong one. The hen that stays frequent and brings off a good lot is usually seen the hen cause that nature gives her and does her so in the natural way. The hen that is moved on to a nest prepared for her and then shut up most of the time is at a great disadvantage and that disadvantage must be overcome by better care. In the first place, the hen that cannot find a dust bath and dust thoroughly should have her plumage [illegible] lice killing powder when she is first set on the nest, and also [illegible] another dose of the same powder at the end of the first week or the second week, care being taken that her plumage full. This will take care of the vermin, which must not be allowed to exist on setting hens.

Unless one is free to get off the nest and to it again when she do she will not be taken of at regular intervals that is, at the same time each day. Her food should consist mainly of whole corn, of which she should have all she will eat, and fresh, clean water, charcoal and grit should be within reach at each meal time.

It is wise to remember that whatever ails the hen more commonly ails it, if not contented happy to produce the good hatch all poultry keepers desire.

Limit Raised

On Parcel Post

The post office department has issued the following statement in regard to the parcel post service

"From numerous inquiries received from the public on the subject of parcel post it would seem desirable to emphasize the fact that all restrictions as regards weight and delivery have been removed.

"Parcel post packets may now be mailed up to the weight of 11 pounds. It has been the intention to limit the weight of parcel post packets to ten pounds during the organization period, but as the organization of parcel post was quickly made however parcels have now been handled for some time, it having been determined to give the public the full benefit of them. Parcel post packets may therefore be mailed up to the limit above stated.

"The additional fee of five cents each which was at first charged on parcels mailed for local delivery in places where the letter carrier delivery is in operation has also been abolished and this additional fee is not now charged.

Lessons for Lower Willem

The drink interests the world over will now know something of the pangs arising from a real German menace, as the German Emperor not only advocates total abstinence from all shades of alcoholic beverages, but now not only says, "Do as I preach," but also, "Do as I do," having ordered all indulgence in beer, wine and stronger drinks, taking to peculiar water or lemonade with a dash of orange juice.

If it is true that corporals have no soul, it is particularly true of the drink traffic. It never has that manhoness restored with the dead curdling shrieks of its victims or that women and children weep unassuaged tears, and that wholesome, stalwart youth is transformed by its black magic into hideous caricatures of manhood. The only dart that can penetrate its crocodile scales is the fear of financial loss. Think what it would mean the world over if Germany, purchased, went dry!

Germany is going at the solution of the drink problem scientifically. In other countries the entrance of the thin wedge of prohibition may be left to the women, the ministers of the Gospel, and what may be considered a number of visionary men, but Germany is going at it with the crucible in the laboratory and the report of the experts as to the absolute results. Therefore, Germany will not take as long as America to come to some inevitable conclusions. The Kaiser has professionally the German mind of such a mind that keeps an open ear to anything scientific. Kaiser Wilhelm asks of science the latest professional answers in regard to the action on the human mind. Through the voice of Dr. Max Kassowitz, Professor at the University of Vienna, science makes answer:

"For the animal and human organisms alcohol is not both a food and a poison, but a poison only, which, like all other poisons, is an irritant when taken in small doses, while in larger ones it produces paralysis and death."

Through the voice of Miss Van Wolfring, Paris, it says that alcohol produces the same changes in the blood of healthy men as is produced by the poisons of bacteria.

The Kaiser asks further about its social moral results and His Majesty receives the reply that more than 60 per cent of the insane, 52 per cent. of the epileptics, 46 per cent. of the criminals, and 82 per cent. of the immoral women are reported as being born of drunken parents. And yet Germany as quoted as being a nation of moderate drinkers. It is abstemious compared to the Kaiser that in his kingdom drink annually consumes 1,600 seconden, 1,200 accidents, 30,000 cases of delirium tremens and insanity, and 180,000 crimes.

Considering the paternal nature of the German Government it is any wonder that the "Father of his people" has avowed himself as a total abstainer?

Salt-Shelled Eggs

During the late spring and early summer when the hens are producing heavily, many complaints are always registered regarding the frequency of eggs with soft shells or no shell at all. It seems that Biddy in her spell of heavy production, runs out of material with which to properly finish her eggs.

There are several things that may be responsible for the production of soft shelled eggs, the mean one being a lack of mineral matter in the feeds. Hens that have a good range during the year and are able to gather a variety of foods, seldom lay soft shelled eggs. Clovers, grasses, and other green foliage contain lime and mineral matters in sufficient quantities for the production of egg shells. Where clover or alfalfa is grown and fed on the farm and the hens have the run of the stables and feed lots, they will consume enough of the containing mineral matter for proper egg production.

Oyster shells, of course, furnish the concentrated raw material for making egg shells. But the laying of eggs without shells oftentimes results when the hens have access to plenty of mineral matter. It is sometimes caused by a derangement of the nervous system connected with reproduction. If a hen becomes badly frightened or if there are too many active males in the flock to worry the hens, soft shelled eggs are liable to result. Overfeeding with insufficient variety of foods is also a frequent cause of the trouble. Fat hens lay more

Wireless Will Play Big Part In Mexican Invasion

Officers and sailors from the U. S. S. Virginia, which has been ordered to and from the Charleston, Mass., Navy Yard to Mexico testing out the field aerial service, in anticipation of its use in Mexico. Every ship in the U. S. Navy, with exception of the submarines, boats and small vessels, is equipped with a wireless, and also a field wireless apparatus which can be set up on land, and used for communication with the ships and with other detachments using similar outfits. The wireless set up on the navy is unsatisfactory with stations on the American side of the Mexican border will be carried on constantly. The field wireless outfit carried on the Virginia proved successful in its tests at Charleston and the officers feel grudged at the results.

Rev. Mr. Bowen worth of Holden, occupied the Methodist pulpit in Tofield last Sunday during the absence of Rev. Mr. Wiggins, pastor, at Holden.

H. L. Yoder was in town on Monday morning on business, getting a load of lumber for improving his farm outbuildings. He reports his wheat well up, three inches high and an excellent stand. Pete has put in Marquis wheat this year and expects to win a prize or two at this year's fair. This is the spirit of enterprise amongst our farmers which is most commendable.

An exchange says: Our attention has been called to the fact that we never saw a bobbinded woman in Wall, what of that? There are a good many things we never saw. We never saw a woman sit on a dirty mouth bun and surround herself with filthy pools of extract of tobacco sprayed through her teeth. We never saw one go fishing with a bottle of bait in her hip pocket and set on the damp ground and go home drunk at night. We never saw a woman yank all her coat, give her pants a hitch, spit on her hands and swear she could whip the biggest man in town. Come to think of it, there are a good many things we never saw. We never saw a woman do, and don't want to either.

Tofield district farmers are busy. Although many are through seeding and in many places the wheat is well above the ground, it cannot truthfully be said as some western newspapers, carried to excess in the endeavor to put it strongly that as yet the seed drills are hauled out of the field in response for another eleven months in the tranquil solitude of the machinery shed. True the wheat is practically all in, but the farmers everywhere are busy as well assisting farmers are at this time of year putting the completing touches on the cultivation of their fields and getting the oats and barley in. The wheat in many instances is well above ground and shows an excellent stand. The soil is in grand condition this spring for working, there is an ample supply of moisture and there is plenty of warm sunshine coming during the next three months, all of which augurs well for the forthcoming 1911 harvest.

Cigarettes and Boys

A well known and experienced high school principal across the line, with ample opportunities to observe the effects of the cigarette habit upon boys, has summed them up as follows:

First. They make him egotistical and unendurable. He becomes a knocker and thinks that he knows more than his father, his mother, his teacher, or any one else who is an authority.

Second. They make him cowardly and untruthful. He knows his own weakness and cannot help his "knocking" look. He will not look you in the eye and does things under cover. He also has a man taken about that more can be done by deceit and trickery than by hard work.

Third. They make him unreliable and changeable. They arouse his contempt. He easily confuses duties and he does not appreciate the value of time as his work. Cigarettes also make the schoolboy very forgetful.

Fourth. Cigarettes destroy the moral sense of the boy. It is hard for him to distinguish between right and wrong. It is very easy also for him to become a criminal. From statistics that were recently taken by the authorities we find that in the past five years ninety-nine per cent. of the boys arrested in the city of New York have been cigarette smokers.

Fifth. Cigarettes destroy the mental ability of the boy and weaken his will power. They destroy his power of application, so as to interfere with his school work. His love is present. He can see no future, as tobacco practically destroys his ideals.

Sixth. They produce physical weakness, destroying his nervous forces, and quite often lead to a tobacco heart. The is shown by the fact that one-third of those who have applied for admission to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis have been refused admission. A great part of this has been due to the use of the tobacco. If a boy smokes before the age of ten years it can be safely stated that he will never finish the high school course. The boy who, as a rule, is addicted to the use of cigarettes, is out of harmony with his school work, is irregular in attendance and is often tardy. Little or no dependence can be placed upon what he says. These facts are shown by the notes of investigations that have been had in the high schools of the country. Forty per cent of the students of the high schools who smoke quit school every year while only ten per cent of the non-smokers quit. In over 50 of the high schools where investigations have been held the percentage of the non-smokers is those who do smoke is equal to the question marks in their work was forty to seventy, and the work done by those who do not smoke was thirteen per cent higher than those who do.

In colleges it has long determined that students on an average are fifteen months older than the non-smoker. At Harvard University where investigations have been held out of a hundred students taking honors only five were smokers. The non-smokers are now in a very small minority. It is safe to say that out of every 50 students in college, five are smokers, and very often this is very low for the percentage. In the last fifty years there has not been a single graduate at Harvard University that has stood at the head of the class that has been a smoker.

Mrs. P. B. Anderson returned last Friday night from an extended visit covering several months to friends and relatives in B. C. and Pacific Coast States. She looks and feels fine as a result of her stay on the Pacific slope and has gained over twenty pounds.

Advice To Girls

By Annie Laurie in Toronto World.

Dear Annie Laurie:

I am very young and pretty, and all my men friends say they adore me. Do you think they do because they long and kiss me incessantly? Should I let them? Please tell me what you think, as I am so much perplexed, but like to be loved.

Yours sincerely
MODERN MAIDEN

MODEST MAIDEN, you have chosen a peculiar name for your signature. Honestly now, don't you think so? Do you really believe that any modest maiden would let any men friends "kiss her incessantly," no matter what they said about her.

"Now I'm going to talk some very plain English to you, little girl. I think you need it, and it's time you got it.

So you like to be loved, do you? What has unwanted hugging and kissing to do with love? Nothing in the wide wide world!

Do you want to be really loved? Do you want to be held in some good man's heart like a jewel in a ring of precious metal? Then stop this "incessant" hugging and kissing this very minute, and stop it once and for all.

Don't imagine for one moment that the men that hug and kiss you so incessantly feel about it the way you do. They don't. They look you because you let them do it — that's all. You're just a convenience to them, like an ash tray or a cigarette holder.

They scan you and then go out and tell each other about it and laugh over it. You're just a joke to them, that's all, a poor, pretty, little goose of a joke.

The weaker sex—it is to laugh. No man in the world could put up the fight for decency and virtue and modest self-respect that any plain little schoolgirl can, and does put up, year in and year out.

When she loses in that fight she's a poor little girl, all gone out of the world you want to live in. She no longer sat there in the street, and that's where she will go sooner or later.

Don't like to be loved so well that you can't like to be respected, too, for whether there's lots to respect without love, and there isn't a lot of real love in all the world without respect. Read your "incessant friends about their boisterous.

Hold yourself too high for any such coarse and brutal common love.

Summer Schools

The plant of the University of Alberta will not be idle during the summer months. It will be utilized for a summer school for teachers conducted by the department of Education of the province of Alberta. This school in particularly valuable to teachers in rural districts, offering as it does a complete course in Natural Study and Agriculture both theoretical and practical. A study is made of such their properties and methods of improvement, and a considerable amount of field work will be done School gardening is given special attention. Besides this the depart ment offers a course in elementary manual training and wood-work, a quite handy course in Art, including drawing and color work and their relation to other school studies; and a course in drill and physical culture.

First Through Freight Train Carried Dry Dock Appliances

The first through freight train over the Grand Trunk Pacific line to Prince Rupert has now arrived at its destination at the Pacific terminus. Five of the cars carried heavy machinery for equipping the big floating dry dock that the Grand Trunk Pacific is building at Prince Rupert to take care of the ocean and coast shipping which is increasing in volume every week. The machinery was shipped from Sherbrooke, Que. and will be installed on the dry dock in the near future.

This dock will have a lifting capacity of 20,000 tons and in addition will be capable of operating in sections as a number of smaller docks. A complete shore plant comprising electric power generating apparatus with air compressor, machine shop, boiler and blacksmith shops and concrete construction shed are being built. The dock is to have an over all length on keel block of 624 feet, a clear width of 120 feet, and a width over all of 230 feet, capable of accommodating the largest commercial ships on the Pacific Coast.

The school celebrated Arbor Day last Friday. The regular routine studies were abandoned for the day and the time spent in cleaning up and beautifying the school grounds. Appropriate were made for making some flower beds and a number of trees were planted.

HOW LONG WILL THEY HOLD THEIR PACES

The above is the latest photograph of President Huerta. He is shown herewith on the left with his Minister of War General Blanquet. Their hold on the destiny of the Mexican Republic seems to be slipping at a rapid pace. Harrassed by internal strife with Carranza and Villa who hold many important towns in Northern Mexico, and Zapata and his followers occupying many places in Southern Mexico some of them uncomfortably near the Capital, Huerta has all he can do to maintain his present position. As though he did not have enough trouble on hand, a fresh and more serious difficulty is now facing him, and which if he continues his present stand, will result in war with the United States. Huerta while serving Madero was not known as a man of means. He is now worth, it is said, about $8,000,000 and we wonder how much more he wants to "gather" before he takes his long delayed trip to Paris.

I.W.W. Responsible for Labor Trouble

Edmonton, Alta., May 20th—"Professional agitators, connected with the Independent Workers of the World, are directly responsible for the large influx of unemployed labour in Edmonton at this time," said W. J. McIrath, provost of the Edmonton Industrial Association, today. "These firebrands are doing everything possible to embarrass our civic and provincial authorities," he continued. "but these officials are determined that the experiences of cities in the United States and elsewhere shall not be repeated here. We have never invited or encouraged unskilled laborers or artisans to come to Edmonton, unless they desire to engage in farming, city's are laborers or settlers. We have offered to place 1,000 men men on farms in central Alberta at once, but that is not what the I.W.W.'s want. Their sole aim and purpose is to harrass our civic and provincial authorities, and we are unable to give publication this week.

The town authorities are evidently determined to deal severely with offenders upon streets which are amenable to the police. In the stand they will have the distinct appreciation of the vast majority of the citizens. The enjoyment of true liberty is the part of the individual and is no means a hardship for the law only steps in when the individual overstep his liberty. Law does not prevent an individual doing what is legal but it takes from when the individual exceeds his liberty and does what is wrong.

Sheep Ranches to Be Established in Northern Alberta

Edmonton, Alta., May 20th. James R. Buckley, an wealthy New Zealand sheep grower, interior of New Zealand, announced in Edmonton today that he has completed arrangements for a large tract of land in the Peace River district of here, where he will establish a large sheep ranch, beginning with 10,000 animals this season. New Zealand Capital is interested in the project, Buckley said, and it is expected that other ranches will be started in a short time. The move is identified with the enterprise also interested in wealthy men in England and Scotland. The success of the venture, he added, will mean the establishing of vast sheep raising and weaving plant in Edmonton and other points in Central Alberta. Buckley had a conference with Hon. Duncan MacNeil, minister of Agriculture for Alberta and W. F. Stevens, provincial branch commissioner, who promised to give him and other sheep growers every encouragement and support in the new industry in this part of the country. It was also announced today that three great ranches will be established at different points in Alberta this season.

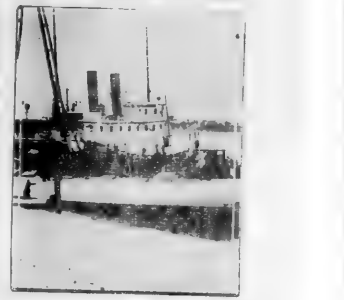
BESOLUTE SLID DOWN WAYS AT SUNSET



This photo shows the Resolute just after she slid down the ways for the first of the three Alberta Expeditions to Hudson Bay. She will be rigged immediately and completed in all her qualities very shortly. Compared with the Resolute at Regnaud, and the Belfast at Belfast, she is of short and chunky. The actual dimensions are not to hand, but even her rating may not be much greater. She looks to be about 167 feet over all, with 141 feet keel, 24 feet beam and 14 feet draft. The Resolute is decidedly smaller than either the Belfast or the Bellanoch, and will probably prove a much faster sailer in the races. A couple of hundred persons were present at the launching dip. Most of them were townspeople in the vicinity of the shipyards and beneath the boat before she started, but a number were noticed in her owners as Vessels connected with the Hudson Bay Company. Vanderbilt. The vessels are to be manned by Eskimos, and will be commanded alongside the wharf. By the time they get back they are expected to be about nine.

FOLLOWING the publication last week of our editorial on the Hospital question the Standard was in receipt of complimentary remarks from prominent citizens. J. W. SOMERS, TOFIELD

W.C.T.U. Department

Conducted by Tofield W.C.T.U.

The last annual meeting of the Tofield W.C.T.U. was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. McCann.

The most interesting and important part of the meeting was the report of the district convention held at Vegreville.

Mrs. Wiggins attended the convention as delegate from this local union and brought back a very full and interesting report of the proceedings which was much appreciated by the members here.

Committees were appointed to attend to the Sunshine department and also to keep station box supplied with literature.

A Dominion Life Membership Pin At The Seat Of Government In Canada

Where to ring from the Tofield W.C.T.U. Provincial convention to be held at Red Deer, when and to the Dominion W.C.T.U. convention at London, Ont. it was suggested that a Dominion Life Membership be presented to the Speaker, the wife of the speaker of the House of Commons. A number of members gladly contributed. Mrs. Cooke of Markdale, Ont., and Mrs. Dafoe of Ottawa, became conscious of its need.

At a later date the Markdale W.C.T.U. of which Mrs. Sproule is a member, under the leadership of its President, Mrs. Cooke, with the County of Carleton W.C.T.U., supplemented the full amount required.

On Monday, the 30th of March, Mrs. W. W. Wyles, of Ottawa, County President of the Carleton County W.C.T.U., and Mrs. Dafoe of Ottawa, Ontario's Provincial Superintendent of Exhibitions, made the presentation of the Life Membership pin to Mrs. Sproule at the Speaker's Chamber. They received a most cordial welcome. After a delightful visit, they came away feeling that they had indeed a warm friend of the cause in the very heart of the Seat of Government.

Mrs. Sproule became a member of the Markdale W.C.T.U. the first season the present Government came into power. Later the Provincial W.C.T.U. of Ontario presented her with a Life Membership. Now the Dominion is honored with her Life Membership in its ranks. It only remains for the W.C.T.U. of the World to make Mrs. Sproule one of their very own. There has been women who occupied Mrs. Sproule's present position who took the stand in the temperance question, but by Speaker or at least Speaker of the House of Commons is the first woman in his position to eliminate wines and liquor from his table. When you remember that he is the chief host of Canada and is obliged to entertain all the great dignitaries who are guests of the Government, you can form some opinion of the strength of a man who will take the stand he has taken.

Honor to whom honor is due.

WOULD-BE ASSASSIN SHOOTS AT MAYOR'S PARTY

A man who was later identified as Michael Mahoney, a human derelict, fired a revolver shot into an automobile occupied by Mayor Mitchell of New York Commissioner Pendergast, and Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk, rounding Polk in the mouth. The man was standing in front of the City Hall as the Mayor and his party were just about to leave for lunch. The shooter was immediately captured and rushed into a nearby police station to get him away from the crowd which had begun to shout "Lynch him." The attempt on Mayor Mitchell's life recalls vividly the shooting of the late Mayor Gaynor who only died last Fall, and as many believe, died from the effects of the wound received three years before. Like Gaynor's would-be assassin, Mahoney believed he had an imaginary grievance against the Mayor and his actions since the act indicate he is mentally unbalanced. It is more than likely he will be sent to Matteawan Asylum for the rest of his life. The photograph above shows Frank L. Polk (with the hand) aged head), Mayor Mitchell and sergeant Phelan, escorting Polk from the police station where his wound was dressed.

Citizens Discuss Gas and Oil Situation

A mass meeting of citizens of the town was held in the Council chamber last Tuesday night to discuss the gas and oil situation. All members of the council and a large number of the citizens present spoke to the motion which eventuated an expression of general opinion that gas and oil were to be found in the Tofield district and that the citizens should and would pledge themselves morally and financially to support any legitimate endeavor on the part of any individual or company with solid backing to further develop our gas and oil resources.

The motion received general support in all the speeches made, and upon being finally put was carried unanimously.

During the meeting Mayor Letourneau stated that Mr. Harry Mayer of Edmonton, who was a considerable property here had a proposition to go on with Well No. 2 at once, 3000 feet if necessary. This statement was met with considerable applause. It appeared to be the consensus of opinion that if Mr. Mayer orderers wanted to go on with this well down to oil or gas that all the town property in the well should be given them at cost or at a sale factory figure and if the boring were not successful it would not be charged against them.

The Town Band did you say? Oh, yes, we have one. They've been nightly getting ready for the 12th. Band Concert. Ans. We haven't had any yet this season. Sure-ly-rise would like it if they would.

The stalwartness of the call to Herb Lott, taken off in the full prime of his manhood, recalls the great fact of the frailty of human life.

Note the less sudden was the last call to the thousand odd of the good ship Empress of Ireland, last Friday morning. That good motto of the Boy Scouts, "Be Prepared, is one which older people might well think of at least once in a while.

The tragic end of one who has moved in and out amongst us for years fills the hearts of those in the community with [illegible] Sympathy will flow out freely to those [illegible] bereaved by the loss of husband and father. Yet, deep and thoughtful beings closer to us the realization of what the loss of so many lives as were lost in the Empress of Ireland disaster means to the hundreds of home circles and how the sympathy of the nation, through every community, should go out to those who have been suddenly bereaved of dear ones never to return.

The ways of Divine Providence are inscrutable. He moves in a mysterious way. His wonders to perform. The storm of last night brought sorrow and bereavement into a home. The rain which accompanied it brought joy to hundreds of farmers who are closely watching the progress of the growing crops.

The civil service has extended its influence to Tofield. The citizens here thoroughly believe that the field covers this section of the Province. With this idea firmly impressed on their minds, a syndicate is being formed for the purpose of still further developing this section. There is every reason why a firm belief should attach itself to the theory that oil exists in the Tofield district. Similar experiences were met with in the drilling of the gas wells here as are being met with in the wells in the Calgary district. The same black oils [illegible] oil was brought up from the bore of the [illegible] on the drilling apparatus. Drillers Point last [illegible] I have that the time that oil was to be found [illegible] at a lower depth from the indications shown. The new [illegible] Co. [illegible] has no time to lose for the satisfaction of all [illegible] It is also understood that this territory is [illegible] by experts from as far away as California with a view of developing along this line.

[illegible] perhaps more so than for [illegible] the good roads idea. Possibly this is because the agitation and boost had a mix of countless pioneers who hacked up to the [illegible] numbers of arrivals of recent years and, because the strength of public opinion is gradually forcing the progress of the [illegible] Tofield district has of late years become [illegible] Edmonton district has of late years become [illegible] in this respect. But roads to city communities from every direction. It was a pleasure the other day to [illegible] to the city and into the country this time toward Bruce by motor vehicle and to note that the road was simply a delight. Road like this are a splendid asset to the country. Progress would do well to move earnestly to appeal with these local reasons, who are fighting a long hard, up hill battle for the betterment of the country road. Progress is being made but much remains yet to be done in the Tofield district.

Why is it [illegible] before taking an interest out for a drive, goes to a [illegible] and [illegible] society of liquor and rinse the intended lessons [illegible] while in the company of the said lessman it would not appear that one would have to go to the same resort the dogs like and has less movement or at least one of them, who simply to furnish a person [illegible] in advance of the law.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1914

Unless some strange thing happens the council should have no trouble in the stand at the first meeting of the year in the matter of the striking of the rate. The striking of the application of the 5 per cent penalty on arrears of taxes until February 15 with the view of encouraging all those ratepayers who on account of hard times or otherwise were unable to pay their taxes for 1913 in time to do the year was out might be induced to pay them in a reasonable time mentioned and then at last Monday night's meeting decided that against body go on record as being in favor of stopping from the subdivision men a lesser amount of CURRENT TAXES, this means 1914 taxes, than the minimum set out law on the pretext that we need the money and although such in September is better than twenty-two dollars outstanding on December 31 at ten per cent per year. What business man in Tofield would apply the principle to his own business? Then why apply it to the citizen's business?

THE law as it stands recognizes no discrimination as to classes of property holders as to who of these may be benefitted by a higher rate of taxation than others. It presumes that if a man be able to build only one lot and another man ten lots that the ten-lot man is ten times in a better position to pay the taxes on one lot than the ten-lot man, and if another man or syndicate be able to build one thousand lots he or it is naturally in a position to bear the proportionate share of the expense of the government and development of the municipality

AT the same time, looking at the proposition from the point of view of the large investor, it may well be that the question of consideration should be given him which runs deration might well affect the interests of the municipality as whole be some large holdings for its betterment of detriment. Within municipalities as a rule are not noted for their skill in running up a large bonded indebtedness and under present legislation they are permitted to assess and levies on in such a manner as to run up the assessment to enormous totals and thus place themselves in a position to practically bankrupt the large their public revenue, and despite to raise the amount of annual fixed charges, the position of such will become decidedly uncomfortable if by reason of a general falling off of buoyancy in the real estate market the large property owners feel the necessity of throwing back, remand of the old their registered subdivisions into farm lands. One can readily imagine the position of the resident or individual property holders in those portions of the municipality which are more central and which cannot for ever revert to other than residential or business property. If the law as it, prevent such lands does not permit the assessment of large holdings within municipalities such as outer subdivisions which are not developed and being used as residential or business property in such a manner that should the necessity arise for its being thrown back into farm lands the general total assessment of the municipality would be reduced nor the annual fixed charges on bonded indebtedness become a greater load on the permanent smaller land holder, then that law might well be so adjusted to provide for this protection to the municipality. At the same time it would decrease the burden of taxation on the owners of outer registered subdivisions which landed under present regulations, is entirely disproportionate to the value on those areas in regard to benefits received from taxation.

It is a well understood and accepted theory that the punishment supposedly the person or persons who feel the pinch of the shoe If they squeal the public take it that the shoe has a close fit If such persons were a wise as the proverbial owl, or even half as wise as they think they are, they adopt a policy of silence. An innocent man would not likely be the one to squeal the loudest.

The Empress of Ireland disaster brought bereavement to people of the Tofield district. Miss Bangeu, a sister of Mrs. H Eggen and Mrs. Bradshaw of Bardo, was a passenger on board the ill fated vessel and her name is not amongst those saved.

A Baseball Story

The newspapers have recently been calling attention to the striking contrast between two pairs of baseball pitchers who started a bout the same time and with much the same natural ability

Rube Waddell and Rags Hay mond were the stars of the old model aggregations and won many ball games by their brilliant pitching, but both were dissipated, and their weakness was the "rum that no latakee" When they left the home alone and kept them selves in condition they were almost invincible, but they were never to be depended upon. To day one of them has been under ground for a year and the second died a few weeks ago, penniless and dependent upon the charity of an old employer

The other two pitchers are Christy Matthewson of the New York Club and Eddie Plank of Philadelphia, who show the way of sobriety and self control, and as a result are still in the game and are recognized as the leading pitchers in the two major leagues, with probably several years of service before them Judging from these examples, not much argument is necessary to show which is the better way

196 IRON PRODUCTION DECLINES IN CANADA

Imports Increase While Canadian Blast Furnaces Are Idle—A Remedy Needed

Canadian iron ore resources have not been developed sufficiently to supply home demands—in fact, since 1906 Canadian blast furnaces and steel plants have become more and more dependent upon supplies of imported ores. The total shipments of iron ore in 1912 from mines in Canada were 314,383 tons, whereas blast furnaces consumed a total of 2,096,753 tons, and steel furnaces consumed 43,096 tons. Although the shipments from iron ore mines were slightly higher than in 1911, they are, with the exception of the previous year, the lowest that have been recorded in thirteen years, and amount to less than 20 per cent. of the year's requirements of blast and steel furnaces.

Mr J J Carrick, M.P. for Port Arthur, in asking the Dominion Government the other week to encourage the development and utilization of Canadian iron ore deposits, drew attention to the fact that during the fiscal year 1912 there were imported into Canada iron and steel products amounting to $141,800,000. This importation constitutes nearly one-quarter of the total amount of imports of all commodities into Canada during the fiscal year 1912. What would it mean to the development and prosperity of Canada if this vast amount of iron and steel, or even a substantial portion of it, were manufactured in our own factories and steel plants, and from our own iron deposits, asked Mr. Carrick.

During the past year we produced 58 per cent less Canadian iron ore than we did ten years ago, but the imports of foreign ores have increased 25o per cent. Canadian blast furnaces are closed down, and we are keeping busy United States furnaces and United States steel plants by importing their products.

The situation clearly demands action on the part of the Government.

TELL HOW TO GET THE MONEY AT HOME
A Western Company's Advice to the Farmers of Saskatchewan
With the rapid development of industrial centres in Saskatchewan and other Western Provinces, the time is coming when the Western farmer will have all he can do to cater to the home market demand.
"A great opportunity is here and we trust you will make your best effort to meet it," says the Saskatoon Commercial Company. Limited, in a circular to the farmers of Saskatchewan. "The cold season is approaching, when the supply of cream will decrease. There are large quantities of outside butter being sold in the Province to-day, because the demand is greater than the local production. We trust you will feed your cows liberally and produce a large amount of cream, so that you can ship frequently and help keep the money at home, that is now being sent to other parts of the world."

ADVERTISE IN THE STANDARD

Debts and Debtors
If we give a merchant our custom, we have a right to expect him to advertise to tell us weekly in the columns of The STANDARD what he has for us. Advertising is shop news, designed to in form us, save our time, and bring to our attention desirable merchandise.
Every retailer who is alive to the interests of his customers has a message for us. Shop messages for his customers concerning new goods, special offerings, and things that we ought to know about. Customers and non-customers will attend and give patronage to these messages, if they are delivered every week in the form of advertisements in the TOFIELD STANDARD. The way to get more business is to ask for it.
A NOTE TO MERCHANTS
Would YOU buy much or regularly from firms that never solicit your trade? Do you not say—"The firm that wants my business must come after it?"
Yet some of you say in effect to your customers—"We're here. If you want our goods, come and get them, but don't expect us to go after you."
It's a poor rule that don't work both ways.

TRUSTS THRIVE UNDER FREE TRADE

How Combines and Monopolies Have Grown to Retain the Enormous Profits Free Trade Country

It is often asserted in Canada that protection fosters combines and that a country enjoying Free Trade is exempt from the evils of monopolies and trusts. Several economic writers have investigated this question. In Great Britain and their reports have been printed in various periods of time. One of these writers, Mr H. W. Macrosty says in the Contemporary Review that in 1899 single amalgamations, while not entirely confined to protection, controlled the cereal, cottag, thread, salt, alkali, and India rubber tire industries in Great Britain. In many cases where an actual combination had not taken place there was an agreement to maintain prices. In Birmingham 500 employers and 30,000 workmen were working under agreements to maintain prices, which were fixed by committees after examination of books and accounts. Another writer Mr E. J. Smith, the author of the Birmingham scheme of trade combination, said in January, 1908 "It was first adopted seven years ago in the metallic bedstead trade, and has been so successful in that industry that the trade is to-day one of the most envied in the country. The scheme has been tried by the makers of spring mattresses, cramed tubes, open mantle, rolled metal brass wire, metal tubes, iron and brass fenders, chain, tarred yarn, nail, hollow ware, tinplate and common building bricks, and iron, steel, and non-ferrous rolled trade plates and ornaments. Amongst other manufacturers who are taking it up are the makers of pit and hoe shovels, wire, pottery galvanized hollow ware, and brass and iron pins."

Many Combinations

"There is no open market in anthracite, coal, mercury, lead, paper, flat, supply and petroleum, said Mr. Macrosty. "Most of the trade is controlled by a ring. All the largest paper mills engaged in making newsprint have put consolidated their interests into one large combination. The sanitary earthenware trade of this firms have a subscribed capital of £14,248,000. In 1897 Armstrong & Company absorbed Whitworth & Company, raising their capital to £4,210,000 in the process. In the spring of 1897 Vickers & Company, the armor plate manufacturers, bought up the Naval Construction and Armaments Company, and later they acquired the Maxim Nordenfeldt Guns and Ammunition Company Now they boast of being the only firm capable of turning out a complete complete in every respect." The firm of J. & P. Coates Limited, of Paisley, after being made a limited liability company for the mass feature of sewing thread with a capital of £4,000,000 absorbed Kerr & Company of Paisley, Chadwick & Company of Bolton, Goddard, Brook & Company of Meltham, the capital being raised to £10,000,000, on which a dividend of 8 per cent. is being paid. In December, 1897, the English Sewing Cotton Company, consisting of an amalgamation of fifteen firms, was floated with a capital of £3,000,000 shares. Coats took a large amount of the stock and it was thought that this would lead to an amalgamation with the great Paisley combination. In 1899 the new firm absorbed the Glasgow firm of J. & J. Alexander with a capital of £475,000. Seventeen firms of cotton spinners, mostly in Manchester and Bolton, had combined under the name of the Fine Cotton spinners and Doublers' Association, Limited, with an immense capitalization The Bradford Dyers' Association, Limited, is another combination which in 1899 embraced twenty two firms with a capital of £1,850,000 and employing 7,500 men. As a result of a recent amalgamation of several coal companies the combination employed 12,000 men, and an attempt had been made to consolidate all the coal companies In the distributive coal trade W. Cory & Sons, Limited, formed by the union of eight large firms, handled 3,000,000 out of 6,000,000 tons of coal that reached London by sea in 1899

Small Man's Struggle

In the retail trade the small man has a desperate struggle to retain a footing Grant Department stores known as universal providers are rendering the smaller stores. The best known system has spread to the distributing business. The capitalization of trading companies in the grocery, provision, meat, oil and drug trades organized in 1896 was over £18,000,000 and the movement has since been accelerated One well known retail provision company has a capital of a million pounds and an other of two and a half million pounds These large firms spread by setting up branches in both town and country, so that nowhere in the private shopkeeper secure from their competition. EXPENSIVE HANDKERCHIEFS

One That is Valued at $30,000—Costly Wearing Apparel

Some time before his death the Marquess of Anglesey purchased three dozen handkerchiefs for evening dress wear They were of pure white linen with his crest worked in human hair in the corners. These handkerchiefs came from Switzerland and cost $64 10s each.

It is interesting to know that the late Miss Alice wrote of the article Empress, was in the habit of ordering twelve dozen handkerchiefs at a time, for which he paid $166 or $

Perhaps the most expensive hand kerchief in existence is in the possession of the Italian royal family It took three women more than five years to make and is valued at $2 000

One of the Bulgarian princes has the peculiar hobby of collecting precious gems His wardrobe contains an enormous number of these articles of apparel many of which are worth $500 each. Some time ago he had a dressing case specially made for him in Paris, for which he paid $600.

The Gaekwar of Baroda has a coat, the front of which is covered with diamonds and rubies, which cost $125,000; the fellow of which is composed entirely of brilliant scarlet and a cap of black and gold studded with gems which are worth over $150,000, while the Maharajah of Patiala spent nearly $200,000 on a pair of trousers and a turban, thick with pearls, diamonds and emeralds.

CURIOUS SCOTTISH CUSTOMS

Guests at Horse Fair Fined Some Strange Notions Prevail

In parts of Scotland some curious old customs still prevail. For instance, in the Aberdeenshire town of Inverurie Association and the case of people when it represents. However there that on all occasions of a fair on hear of the establishment of factories or workshops in their neighborhood. For example there is a general feeling in this community that Calgary would be greatly benefitted by the addition of a number of productive industries employing many hands The general opinion appears to be that the men who would build large workshops here, employ them vigorously and profitably, would be useful members of the community There is no disposition to extend the dose of investor as the sorrowful to the farmer of or the consumer of the laborer This hospitality to the manufacturer is the general attitude of the people in other Canadian cities and towns toward the local manufacturers Thus it happens that what in abortion time an attempt is made in not other interests against the manufacturer who succeeds usually fails The plain people know that it is not a private concern, and that those who make it are either dead beats or men who do not understand what they are doing."

JEWELS OF GISELA

Valentine Unearthed Supposed to Belong to Consort of a German Emperor

The few coins into the possession of the German Emperor a fine collection of mediaeval jewels which are believed to have belonged to the beautiful Bavarian Princess Gisela, consort of the German Emperor Conrad II. (1024-1039), and were found during excavations at the market town of Mayence

The jewellery consists of a neck lace pendants, brooches, pins, and nine finger rings all of pure gold, a gold coin with an inscription of the Byzantine Emperor Romanus the Third and a golden pendant set with precious stones There is a broad ornament consisting of five chains hanging vertically from a cord ornamented by six horizontal rows each of which contains fourteen pearls and antique gems Suspended from the lowest horizontal row is an elaborately executed gold work, four pieces of pendants

These valuables were found by workmen in a cellar while excavating in the old Jewish quarters of Mayence The men divided the jewellery among themselves, but the story leaked out, and two collectors promptly succeeded in buying up nearly every article.

SNEER AT MANUFACTURER

The recent convention of the Canadian Manufacturers Association at Halifax seems to have prompted many unwarranted attacks on manufacturers in certain quarters. This causes the Calgary Herald to administer the following well merited rebuke in an editorial entitled Freely)

It is the fashion in some circles to sneer at the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the class of people whom it represents. However there is no disputing the fact that on the head or the establishment of factories or workshops in their neighborhoods For example there is a general feeling in this community that Calgary would be greatly benefitted by the addition of a number of productive industries employing many hands The general opinion appears to be that the men who would build large workshops here, operate them vigorously and profitably, would be useful members of the community There is no disposition to extend the dose of investor as the sorrowful to the farmer of or the consumer of the laborer This hospitality to the manufacturer is the general attitud of the people in other Canadian cities and towns toward the local manufacturers Thus it happens that what in abortion time an attempt is made in not other interests against the manufacturer who succeeds usually fails The plain people know that it is not a private concern, and that those who make it are either dead beats or men who do not understand what they are doing."

News Of The District

Beaver Lake East

A fine season on school grants has been carried on in the Vegreville Observer for a few weeks by H. H. and the other by H. Has had either three or a few scraps, as we gave the contract figure below as the paper in the Beaver Lake

At our school was closed for some three weeks in 1912 the grants for that year were about $100 less than usual. Deducting this amount from $143.50 we find a net drop of $111.50 on the year.

There was no school in a former letter, the grants have been changing and causing a reduction of about $67.25 from what they formerly ... the figures
For ... to the children
Average ... $149 per day ... $296.30

Under New Ordinance ... $295.30
210 days at $1.10 ... 231.00

Reduction ... $67.25

There is a grant on the inspector's request, but none of it is paid as such. I believe there is also a grant on school gardens and agriculture but amount is not stated. The department gives an extra grant to new schools for three years. This is a good move, but old schools deserve the old grants at least. We are also informed after weeks of waiting that the grants on the inspector's reports for 1912 and 1913 will not be paid in cash, also that no will be paid the grant for 13 days the school was closed in 1913 on account of diphtheria. To wait on we may state that the taxes in No 222 have had to be raised, and the reason as given above is plain to see.

Well, if those who like wind and moisture are not satisfied this year on, then we hard to please. Such a year the wheat is yet to come, so far as rain is concerned. We will see. Crops look fine in the locality.

Le Pell has left Minsdare for Edmonton. The doctor will be missed. Two had he couldn't start ... ...

Letting The Light In

Shops and businesses that are illumined by advertising have a vitality and efficiency not possessed by shops and businesses that drape their service and activities with a pall of silence.

Everybody knows that it is in all ways good to let much light into dwellings, factories, shops and stables into all places where life is and where health and efficiency are desired.

We commend to the merchants of this community the advantages and good results of persistent advertising in our columns for the public always goes where light is — the public shuns dark places. Light means welcome and comfort.

Advertising will go far towards retaining the loyalty of old customers and winning you new ones. Fifty-two advertisements in our columns will prove an excellent salesman — one of those yearly cost to you will be less than what you are now paying to some salesmen behind your counter.

TO FLY FOR CLUB WOMEN

Photograph of Miss Katherine Stinson in her aeroplane which she intends to fly at night over the city of Chicago for the benefit of the Central Federation of Women's Clubs which is holding its biennial convention in that city. Miss Stinson is a licensed air pilot and has made many successful flights in various parts of the United States. In her night flight she will have the biplane outlined in multicoloured electric lights, the current to be supplied from a dynamo in the machine. She will wear bloomers and allow her hair to hang loosely, presenting a weird and novel spectacle as she guides her aircraft through the darkness.

Elections in Ontario And Manitoba

ELECTION campaigns are on in Ontario and Manitoba. It is interesting to note the similiarity in the opposing policies of both provinces. Advanced temperance legislation, a national system of education, equal suffrage, direct legislation and municipal local option as to taxation are promised by the opposition party in each province if turned to power. In Manitoba the opposition promise a more faithful administration of justice, protection of wage earners and the establishment of an 8 hour day, extensive agricultural aid, good roads. A stiff fight is being put up by sympathizers on both sides. It is worthy of note that the Ottawa Citizen (Conservative) has come out strongly in favor of the Rowell policy on the ground that it has advocated for years and very principles which form the planks of his policy. The citizen states that Sir James Whitney and Hon. Mr. Hanna several years ago opposed it to undertake a campaign along tax reform and it asks that the Conservative party live up to its promise, asserting that there is a great demand from practically every municipality, township and county for the advanced legislation. In reply, the government denies the legislation, hence the Citizen's first party change since confederation

Comment

EXCEPTION has been taken by some to comment on current events as published recently in the Standard relative to the conduct of certain individuals within municipality who appear to have so far forgotten the ... legal privilege as to provoke street comment on the ... behavior, a comment which has been reflected through the columns of this paper. It is curious that so many of the public seem to take it for granted that public comment is spoken of by the public upon the streets is something that can be blissfully ignored while if one tenth of this same comment is breathed through the columns of the local paper a wave of wrath immediately arises and the poor newspaper man is subjected to all sorts of scathing denunciation.

Now, right is right, and wrong is wrong, and when other legitimate means of seeking to right a wrong meet with decisive contempt a duty falls upon the people's voice, or, in other words, the newspaper. Practically every newspaper man has the welfare of his community at heart and if he meets his obligations fairly and squarely in the face he cannot do other than speak the opinion of the people when it is their earnest desire to that something must be done to correct an evil. It is a matter of keen regret to any newspaper man to have to raise the people's voice in condemnation of an existing evil in the community or in warning of impending danger through such evil. Publicity hurts more than anything else. The newspaper recognizes this just as much as any person. Knowing the power newspaper refrains from publishing much that is private gossip, and even publicly known, and as a matter of fact, newspapers have to be thanked more for what they do not publish than what is published, that is, facts the character of which is none to savoury

The regular monthly meeting of the local union was held at the home of Mrs. Wiggins the past evening on June 11th. Probably owing to the unfavorable state of the weather it was a rather small attendance. Reports from the different committees and several exchanges made the meeting interesting. At the close there was the usual social half hour. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. F. Kinsey on the second Thursday in July.

What is Intemperance ?

The power to be begotten [illegible] is that the earliest effect of alcohol may be in a real sense its measure, man's power to inhibit — to hold in check the impulses of self indulgence, anger and lust, is God's supreme gift. Accordingly that thing is attack at that [illegible] There is to be [illegible] moderate drinking. The slightest lessening of the brake power on evil desire is too much.

In truth, in view of the verdict of modern science the meaning of intemperance needs to be extended. Some defend as wise no intemperance as simply the yielding to excess of the drunkard as a public shame and offence. What of the [illegible] and will

"Intemperance may be T B Dyola. It may not necessarily mean only alcohol and palpable drunkenness. From the very moment in which alcohol has disturbed the healthy exercise of the mental faculties, or has impaired the moral sense by unduly exciting the animal passions, or has in any way inhibited a person for discharging his duties in the proper struggle for survival, from that moment has there been guilt of intemperance."

On scientific grounds the temperance attack must be on alcohol in drinking, not simply on drunkenness. This fact dictates the order of our arguments.

Because alcohol, as a brain poison, first paralyses the brain centres which inhibit, it is the enemy of character.

Because brain centres of knowledge, it is the enemy of intellect.

Because alcohol injures the brain centres which dictate physical movements and vital actions, be sure the power of resisting disease, and thereby the organs of the body into disrepute, it is the enemy of health."

In these succeeding chapters these assertions will be sustained. In each case the feeling of reverence will be tested and illustrated by the facts of everyday life.

"Can"

ADVERTISING is the public expression of a master's will and wish — his word of power.

We want to say this to the merchants of this community.

You CAN make the public of this community buy more goods from you

You CAN teach the public new customs, new tastes, new habits. You CAN make the public do what it is not in the habit of doing. Powerful and persistent advertising has revolutionized modern life. It sends people to travelling. It has made them photographers. It has made the motor-car a necessity. It makes women change the fashion of their apparel twice or thrice a year. It selects the very food we eat.

A NOTE TO THE PUBLIC

Does not the publicity expredse will & wish of the merchants of this community influence you in your shopping? Do you not go where you are guided? Are you not very attentive and responsive to the advertisements which appear each week in the columns of the STANDARD?

Shop Where You are Invited to Shop

MILLING POLICY

It Pays Good Wages, and Alberta Employment For a Large Number of People

An important element that enters in to the free trade discussion is the fact that the building of large mills in the various centres of Western Canada has provided a stability and diversity of employment which has been profitable as a great asset. The employes of the flour mills in Western Canada spend their money in Western Canada near the members of Western Canadian merchants and among the farmers of the surrounding community. If we must and when ever in the United States to be added to, his money would be spent among United States people for the building up of their communities. It would seem therefore, that unless the Western farmer is sure he is going to get a substantial increase in price he should be very slow to advocate a change which is bound to bring serious disadvantages not only for the Canadian miller, but for the united farmer, and all Western communities which already have or are seeking big mills

Canadian Peace Centenary Association

The movement for celebrating the Hundred Years of Peace between the British Empire and the United States is judging by a circular just issued by the Canadian Peace Centenary Association, taking rapid hold on Canada, Great Britain and the United States.

The general program contains four main features, (1) Monuments and other memorials, (2) Thanksgiving Services in the Churches, (3) Educational Propaganda, (4) Festivities.

The circular enumerates various suggestions regarding the erection of monuments, and states that the matter has been referred to an International Committee.

February 14, 1914 has been selected for Thanksgiving Services in all the churches of the British Empire and the United States. This date is the nearest Sunday to February 17, 1915, the centenary of the ratification of the treaty of Ghent.

The educational propaganda includes several important ten years among which may be mentioned the preparation of a series of peace books dealing with the various questions which have made the hundred years possible, which it is intended to send to all the schools in Canada, Great Britain and the United States, and magazine articles in the course of preparation which will be sent to all the leading periodicals for publication upon a date to be hereafter arranged. A somewhat unique proposal is that schools in Canada and the United States or places having the same name should be invited to exchange Shields. It is intended to arrange for the writing of competitive Essays on Anglo-American relations and questions is being made for Provincial and Dominion Prizes.

Almost ten centres have been chosen for special celebrations in Canada and strong local committees have been arranged for a start of the year.

The circular also reports the progress made in Great Britain and United States and contains replies received last Christmas from World Rulers to a message sent to them, with the celebration by the Ottawa Executive.

The Dominion Government has agreed for an appropriation to aid the preliminary organization expenses. In announcing this the Hon. R. L. Borden said: The cause which the Canadian Peace Centenary Association and the rest are pushing before us the United Kingdom and the United States have set before them is one with which we are warmly sympathetic. It is a triumph of humanity that it was a century ago developed ... long ... existence of ... Canada ... United States ... bound ... and most humane methods of adjusting differences than the arbitrament of war. We welcome the ... of a century of peace. ... that it will prove to be ... first century ... peace the ... existence of a long ... which ... into the future as far as human ... can trend itself."

The list of members is a most representative one and contains the names of all the Governors, all the Ministers of Education and nearly all the Premiers in Canada. Among those prominent in this ... Province who have ... with this movement may be ... mentioned:

The President of the Canadian Peace Centenary Association is Sir Edmund Walker of Toronto, and the Honorary Secretary, Major Hamilton of Ottawa.

HARVARD WINS BUT YALE WINS BETTER

Yale and Harvard met on the water for the "steel" time Friday and in the surprise of everyone, including Yale, Yale's crew won out over Harvard in record breaking time. Though Yale won, the finish was so close the spectators did not know who had crossed the line first until they got home and read their evening papers. Harvard claims her crew was man's better and that only the worst of luck beat her out of winning her eighth successive crew race over Yale; but none partisans know the individualistic Yale spirit once again came to the front and asserted itself over it's ancient rival. Yale has indeed had a famine in athletic victories the last few years and her crew victory over Harvard, coupled with her baseball victory one day later against the Harvard nine presages a bright harvest of athletic victories in store for Yale. In the photograph above, showing the finish of the Harvard-Yale crew race, Harvards crew is at the left and they seem to be in the lead, but the picture was taken at an angle and Yale really won by about four feet.

Edna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cochran has been seriously ill for a couple of weeks and at the time of writing appears to be in a critical condition. All that medical science can do is being done. Tofield and Hammond of Tofield have been in consultation over the case and Dr. J. McGibbon of Edmonton also called in and a nurse from Main to Edna and one from Edmonton is in attendance.

That the big slough south of the Dobell property south of town, which has during the past few weeks been a serious hands up to traffic over the main road which crosses it, owing to the rise of water following the heavy rains will be drained some to the probable outcome of strenuous representations made to the provincial authorities. As a result of the latter the department sent an engineer down on Monday to look over the situation and it is probable that action will quickly be taken to relieve the embarrassing situation.

Jas. Shaw a hobo who was yesterday committed for trial on a charge of theft escaped from the R.N.W.M.P. barracks last night where he was confined in the cells. Though searched when he was placed in the cell it seems that he had concealed a knife and with this he whittled through the two by four scantling of which the cell wall was constructed and then gained his exit from the building by the rear window. He was charged with disposing of stolen goods having sold O. H. Mahaffy several canteens which were stolen from M. C. Hammond's plumbing shop.

The escape is being made the subject of a police investigation and yesterday, officers removed the local R.N.W.M.P. to Edmonton for further examination.

The Vote In Ontario

THE Whitney government in Ontario was returned to power last Monday in the provincial general election. True, the Opposition made the gains of several seats, but the preponderance of the people's vote showed a strong confidence in the government policy of Sir Jas. Whitney. While the "Abolish the Bar" movement appeared to be one which would secure a strong support throughout the province seeming that there is a large number of counties under local option, yet the results of the polls show that there is strong public opinion behind the Whitney government's policy of vigorous legislation affecting the liquor traffic. It can scarcely be gain said that the Whitney government has vastly improved the legislation governing this traffic and made it possible for local option to be a success throughout Ontario. Ontario's legislation in this regard is, we believe, far ahead in some respects of that in effect in Alberta and this, no doubt, has had much to do in influencing the vote in the elections just passed

Special Meeting of Town Council

At a special meeting of council held in the mayor's office on June 23rd at which all members were present which was called for the purpose of dealing with an offer from A. J. Bates, of Stratford, Ont., to take over well No. 2 and continue drilling, the mayor advised council that he had correspondence with Mr Bates for some time and that he had offered Mr Bates the use of the said well on the condition that he would pay for the town's casing in the well at present in the event of gas or oil being struck in commercial quantities. 2nd That Mr Bates agree to pay the town of Tofield the actual cost price of the casing at present in said well as shown by original invoices and freight bills, in the event of gas or oil being struck in commercial quantities and that he agree to pull the said casing from the well in case neither of these commodities be not obtainable in paying quantities. The resolution was unanimously passed.

The resolution of council of May 27th respecting offer to Mr. Harry Mayer et al of Edmonton was unanimously rescinded

On motion of Councillors Keith and Pincott, the mayor and secretary treasurer were empowered and authorized to execute an agreement with Mr Bates in which the town agrees to release all its right and title and interest in well No. 2, subject to the following conditions :—1st that Mr Bates agree to commence actual drilling within sixty days from the signing of the agreement. 2nd That Mr Bates agree to pay the town of Tofield the actual cost price of the casing at present in said well as shown by original invoices and freight bills, in the event of gas or oil being struck in commercial quantities and that he agree to pull the said casing from the well in case neither of these commodities be not obtainable in paying quantities. The resolution was unanimously passed.

HE MAY BE THE NEXT PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

The above is a photo of Fernando Iglesias Calderon, one of the three new delegates of the Constitutionalists, who has the approval of Gen. Carranza and Gen. Villa to avow their intentions regarding their "grant" of peace in Mexico. Calderon is now on his way to Washington and has been mentioned by the A. B. C. mediators as the man most likely to be the provisional president of Mexico. Calderon has already been listed to succeed Rafael Zubaran as chief representative of the Constitutionalists in the United States.

Grand Trunk Will Extend "Safety First" Movement This Month

The "Safety First" movement, introduced on the Grand Trunk about one year ago, has been found after a thorough test to be such an effective means of preventing injuries to employees, patrons and others that it has been decided to extend the work to the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Mr. Geo. Bradshaw, Safety Engineer, who has had charge of the work since its inception still retains the organization to the new system under the direction of Mr Morley Donaldson, the president and General Manager, who is sparing no effort to give employees and patrons of the system the benefit of every approved method of modern railroad operation.

The remarkable success of the movement on the Grand Trunk has been due in a large measure to the hearty co-operation of the employees who have become, not only interested but really enthusiastic, in carrying on the safety campaign. There is a most commendable disposition prevailing on the part of employees to see how careful they can be in the performance of their duties and to see which division terminal or shop can make the best safety record. There may have been a time on all such when a careless act of an employee would attract little attention, unless perhaps to mark the one committing it as a "brave fellow", but that day has passed, especially on the Grand Trunk, and the employee who disregards an approved rule or method of safety in doing his work is soon informed in no uncertain terms by his fellow employees that "safety first" is the rule on the road" and the "Grand Trunk does not want its men to take unnecessary chances in the performance of their duties for the sake of saving time or for any other reason."

The members of the safety committees, about an hundred in number, are on earnest in their efforts for the correction of unsafe conditions and practices that the rank and file of the employees are becoming imbued with the spirit and for practical purposes the great body of employees are in effect safety committe men. And the best thing about it is that it is a work which appeals to the highest instincts of the men and they have entered into it, not in the least from compulsion, because there is no driving methods and no harsh discipline connected with the safety movement, but because they really want to help the management make the Grand Trunk the "safest road in the country to work for and to travel on"

Yesterday, being Dominion Day, was a general holiday. In Tofield it was celebrated very quietly, our big day being the 12th. Quite a number went to Edmonton, Round Hill and other places while others spent a pleasant time at the Lake.

You CAN make the public of this community buy more goods from you

You CAN teach the public new customs, new tastes, new habits. You CAN make the public do what it is not in the habit of doing. Powerful and persistent advertising has revolutionized modern life. It needs people to travelling. It has made them photographers. It has made the motor-car a necessity. It makes women change the fashion of their apparel twice or thrice a year. It selects the very food we eat.

A NOTE TO THE PUBLIC

Does not the publicity expresses will & wish of the merchants of this community influence you in your shopping? Do you not go where you are guided? Are you not very attentive and responsive to the advertisements which appear each week in the columns of the STANDARD?

Statistics of Implement Industry—Where the Factories Are—Many Canadian Plants Were in Town

In view of the general discussion of the agricultural implement industry, which has gone on all over Canada in the past few years, the following facts, as presented in the course of the budget debate in Ottawa recently, will be of great interest to all readers, particularly those who live in the West.

According to the census of 1911 there are in Canada seventy-seven implement factories, with a capital of $48,000,000. The number of employes at factories and head offices nearly all men, is 9,500 and the number of salaries and wages paid is $5,500,000. Materials used amount to $12,000,000, and the value of products is $20,700,000. There are fifty-four of these establishments in Ontario, located at forty-three different places and in 16 electoral districts. The capital invested in Ontario alone is $24,000,000. The other establishments are located in the provinces of Quebec, and at Winnipeg and Brandon in the province of Manitoba. I have a complete list of the places in which there are manufacturers of agricultural implements. I shall not go through it in detail, but for the information of the House—because it was a surprise to me—I propose to mention brought the names of the places in Canada in which agricultural implements of one kind or another are manufactured. This is the ten: Hamilton, Brockville, Toronto, Peterborough, Preston, St. Mary's Smith's Falls, Tweewater Welland, Terrebonne, Guelph, Ingersoll, St. George, Woodstock, Bradford, Owensville, Acton, Ayr, Bolton, Galbraith, Harrisville, Orillia, Paris, La Prairie, Montmagny, Tillsonburg, Brandon, Chatham, Waterloo, New Hamburg, St. Hyacinthe, Winnipeg, Ottawa, Ridgetown, St. Andrew Warwick, Summerside, P.E.I., Calgary, Sherville, Joliette, Halifax, New Glasgow, Waterloo, Walkerville, Sorel, Walkerville (So far as the record goes there are agricultural implement establishments in every province except British Columbia, and these places there is invested $48,000,000 of capital, supporting directly, in operation and their families, probably 50,000 people—the dominion industrially of many of the towns I have mentioned which afford a market for the surrounding country. Some are too established which the policy of the abolition, rust and branch of duties on agricultural implements would destroy

It is commonly supposed that Ontario and Quebec alone have shared in the advantages resulting from the protective manufacture of implements in Canada. It should not be overlooked, however, that Winnipeg and Brandon now number among their industries several good sized successful implement factories, while smaller factories are located in Virden, Melita and one or two other Western towns. It is perhaps not surprising that the best of emphasis of the implement factories view with keen disfavor the vigorous attacks that have been made on the industry from which they obtain their livelihood, particularly as these attacks seem to be gathering strength in the past few years.

Co-Operative Credit

only that at Stockton accumulated $191.86.

The capital of these co-operative credit societies is provided by the members themselves, but all members are not necessarily borrowers. A share which cost $5 may be acquired by paying 12 cents weekly. But no member may have holdings in a sum of $5,000. The only paid official in connection with the whole system is a general manager. There are three committees, a central of Administration of from five to nine members, a credit committee of three members and a committee of supervision acts also as a Board of Audit.

There are reserve funds and provident funds. The reserve fund is provided out of 20 per cent of net yearly profits until the reserve equals twice the amount of general assets. The provident fund is derived from 10 per cent. of net annual profits and must be regularly increased until it equals one half the general assets. These funds, as Professor Hewamez, of the Department of Political and Economical Science in Queen's University, has said "serve as the outer and inner defenses of the institution. Loans are granted on personal security and may be repaid by instalments. Interest is not remised by the margin of safety. It is true that only small sums are borrowed, but the societies protect small farmers and poor workmen against usury, and thus are a powerful benefit to the classes in whose interest the system was established.

The founder of the system was Mr. Alphonse Des Jardins, formerly a journalist, and now an official of the Canadian Parliament. The societies have legal recognition in Quebec, but as yet are not sanctioned by legislation in Ontario nor in the Dominion, although a bill to give legal recognition was defeated by only one vote in the Senate. It cannot be long, however before the adverse judgment will be reversed, since all the evidence that for available suggests that the system is surrounded by adequate safeguards and affords, cheap, convenient and necessary credit to a class of borrowers who cannot use the chartered banks to advantage. It is of course, impossible to foresee what weaknesses may develop with further experience, but that there is a public demand for co-operative credit is admitted, and it is understood the Dominion Government has the whole subject under sympathetic consideration.

The Price of Success
Big business is not an accident—it is a result. It is the fruit of purpose, energy, persistency and ADVERTISING.
You know the story of Rip Van Winkle—the man who went to sleep for 20 years and who, when he awoke, expected to find the world the same as it was when he entered slumberland.
There are men to day very much like Rip Van Winkle - their point of view and their position are those of a generation past. They do not believe in advertising.
To succeed in these modern days one must be in accord with the spirit of today. For a merchant this means that he must advertise, if he would prosper.

EX-PRESIDENT AT PLAY

Theodore Roosevelt, back from his strenuous South American expedition and still more recent European trip where he attended his son's marriage at Madrid, has at last sought a much needed rest. Here the ex-president is shown at play, some less than it as work, fishing tout in the river of Doubt, he will probably fish there when he re enters the political game, his son Archie, in his turn probably telling Papa where to cast cast his line, for if anyon ought to know, it is Archie. The ex president's favorite department as fishing and horse back riding, also political "confabs," and of the last sport is probably the most refreshing to the Colonel. Away from the country for the last year, important national questions which have arisen since his absence, have been brought to his attention, and his followers are waiting for him to fully digest them and then have them served the public in true Roosevelt on style. The first gun will be set off next week at Pittsburgh, and right after that the Colonel will prepare for a tour of New York State in behalf of his progressive principles

OCEAN FLYER READY TO MAKE HISTORY

Rodman Wanamaker's mammoth flying boat "America," in which Lieut. John Cyril Porte, the daring English officer and this. E. A. Hallett will attempt to cross the Atlantic Ocean, was successfully launched at Hammondsports, N.Y. and its first exhibition was so successful that it is planned now to start the history making flight July 16th. The starting point will probably be from St. John's, Newfoundland. The photograph shows the flyer just before launching with engine section in paw though not planes were not yet adjusted. The bow of the boat and cabin for aviators can also be seen in the photograph. The following verse was recited at the launching and was written for the occasion by Dr. A. F. Schem of the Smithsonian Institution:

Majestic course of the sea and air,
Within the ample hold, two navigators bold,
The Atlantic main alreadygreg are to bear
Glad greetings from the New World to the Old.
Peace herald of the century
America, I christen thee.

The poem carries the spirit expressed by Rodman Wanamaker—that the crossing of ocean by air should take place in the year that marks the 100th anniversary of peace between the United States and England.

The Calgary Campaign

Temperance Sunday in Calgary was May 10. Many ministers of the city divided their interests between Methodist Day and the great temperance cause, which every mother has so near to her heart. The day passed off successfully. Messrs Gadd and Fulton spoke in different churches and special meetings were held on Monday and Tuesday nights. Rev. Dr. W. L. Armstrong, McDougall Methodist Church, Edmonton, joined forces with the secretaries and spoke in Central Methodist Church on Monday evening. The meetings were representative, but the beautiful summer days and long evenings interfered with the attendance.

In Calgary, as in Edmonton, the Sunday meetings were the most important, in the campaign. Large congregations heard temperance sermons everywhere. Dr. Fallon dealt with both the scientific and economic side of the question. The evil effects of the drink habit were all too vivid and to familiar. He linked up the subject of temperance with Mothers' Day, and said that we could not do better in the name of mother than to prohibit the sale of what had been the great curse of the home. In another address he severely criticised the failure of the traffic. The men-representatives claimed that if prohibition were adopted the market for grain would be injured, but as a matter of fact only a trifle over one per cent of the grain produced was used in the manufacture of liquor. He pointed out that the results of the liquor traffic imposed a heavy burden upon taxation. It has been estimated that it would cost the Dominion of Canada [illegible] annually to care for the paupers of strong drink on the way of poverty and institutions for the housing of the criminal and the insane. There were received by the Dominion in yearly taxes from the liquor traffic $20,000,000, so that it was a losing game from the viewpoint of dollars and cents as well as in the deadening of its citizenship.

The Folly of It

Another strong temperance sermon was preached by Rev. A. Mahagey, one of the city pastors. Was it not an amazing thing, he asked, at the stage of the world's life that right here in Canada, we spent last year on intoxicating drink, the immense sum of $30,000,000. It was a strange thing that men would drink as a beverage something that contained poison enough to make them unable to take care of them selves or their work or the families or their homes. It was a strange thing that we should become a land on that made it hard for men to be decent and useful citizens. It was a strange thing that we should take care of and clothe and feed and educate our boys, and then place them along their pathway in the [illegible] form into which they may enter and in one evening make all our care useless.

Denouncing Our Case

One of the chief features of these two initial campaigns was the temperance exhibits. This was some thing new in our work in Alberta and it attracted much attention. In Edmonton it was shown in a centrally located store on Jasper Avenue, which was rented for the purpose, and was seen each day by thousands of people, who all seemed to be taken with the novelty of setting forth the evil of the liquor traffic in that fashion. The exhibit of models including a miniature bungalow house, representing a man's savings for 25 years, as compared with a barrel of empty bottles and beer kegs representing 25 years' drinking of one man, a man state brewery set very strikingly by the side of a graveyard; two mills the new mill which is run with hops, and the gin mill which is run with hops, also told their own story. Charts and diagrams were hung around and were strong advocates of province-wide prohibition.

Some idea as to the reception of this exhibit may be gathered from the following hint of conversation which came into the office: "Well this is the best I ever saw for temperance." "I thought there was nothing new under the sun, but you have got it here." "That appeals to me, so I am going to support it with my dollars." A certain contractor who happened along looked at the exhibit and said, "My firm will give you a good contribution. Call in thirty days." The exhibit seemed to fill a long felt want, and people will realize that temperance is a live issue.

In Calgary the exhibit was placed on the corner of Ninth Avenue and Centre Street, just opposite the C. P. R. station, where thousands of people had the opportunity of viewing the models and charts. Many a man engrossed himself so delightfully with the endeavors of the League and lunged for the day when he could get busy with his vote. There were others who were somewhat agitated, and yet others who were supporters after night and much. Some men interested in the liquor traffic looked over the exhibit and all had an opportunity to see what we had to say. Campaigning of this kind is very effective publicity.

A. J. H. McCauley was a visitor to Edmonton on Monday.

Almost On Friday, July 10 1914, at the residence of his father, Clarence Abbott, in the twelfth year of his age.

Little Clarence Abbott passed away last Friday morning, July 10th, 1914 after a lengthy illness covering the months since the first of the year. While [illegible] unexpected, the end came suddenly and the entire community was plunged at once into deep sympathy with the bereaved ones and a sense of actual personal loss for the little boy was a general favorite with all with whom he came in contact in his all too short journey.

Many will remember Clarence Abbott in health and in sickness. Under all conditions he was smiling and cheerful. As a member of the Boy Scouts he took a keen interest and gave to putting into practice the principles laid down by the government. [illegible] the actions of members of that worthy movement. At the tragic little funeral on Sunday afternoon, services being held in St. Andrew's Church, Pastors Stewart of the Presbyterian church and Wiggins of the Methodist congregation officiated and St. Andrew's choir lead the musical part of the services. Sports---Orange Celebration Huge Success Beaver [illegible]

Largest Crowd Ever [illegible]

It was a gala day and one that will be long remembered in Tofield and district. The holiday shown open to the Grounds of the farmers and friends and [illegible] people from every [illegible] of the district. Conveyances took place the numbers [illegible] to town on Sports D[illegible] Orange Celebration [illegible]

The [illegible] and west brought [illegible] gatherings from as far east as [illegible] and west from Edmonton a [illegible] points as the C.N.R. [illegible] trains from Wainwright on the west and Alix on the south brought in hundreds from these and intermediate points. [illegible]

The town was gaily decorated for the occasion. Hundreds of poplar trees had been brought and lined the streets while flags, bunting, banners and arches adorned both streets and buildings and private residences.

The Tofield band had met the [illegible] trains with their inspiring [illegible] and the scene at the station during the morning was a lively, bustling, music at one. Hundreds had packed in from the country early in the day and took part in the [illegible] of the visiting Orange Lodges. Many also were there to meet friends who came in to spend the holiday. The town band played gay music and as visiting lodges [illegible] [illegible] and drum bands got [illegible] and even the skirl of the bagpipes [illegible] in the galaxy of sound.

Then the parade began. It was led by Bro. Chas. Dickson, [illegible] of Cordall, I.O.L., 2231, carrying the banner of the Grand Orange the band and visiting lodges formed in line four abreast [illegible] marched up main street and through the north section of town [illegible] returning via King, St. and down 5th Av. TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JULY 9 1914

Everything went off well

TOFIELDERS and their thousands of visitors last Monday had good reason to feel satisfied with the success of the Annual Sports day programme. The weather was delightful, crowd good, humored, entertainment well provided and interesting, both hosts and guests delighted. The rainless sun and spirit which characterized the arrangement for the day's entertainment of the throng of visitors and the general success in the carrying out of the programme augurs well for future events of this nature which may be planned for or carried out at Tofield. There is opportunity in the town, well kept streets, clean alleys and back yards, substantial sidewalks, bright happy faces of welcome to our many guests, theatre of busy activity and general evidence of prosperity, all combined to create the most favorable impression and the cordial treatment of our visitors send them away with the feeling that the day was all too short. May more of those occasions come our way.

Rural Municipality Drainage

THE ratepayers of that part of the rural municipality affected as well as of other parts of the municipality will no doubt back the council strongly if the latter take up the matter vigorously of applying the principles of the Drainage Act in the case of the proper drainage of the big slough over the hill south of town between sections 35 & 36 and 25 & 26, twp. 50, Rge 19. By the application of the provisions of the Drainage Act council can quickly improve the traffic conditions in this case and no doubt the government would materially assist financially.

Good Prospects For Cleaner Town

THAT the town will become cleaned up so far as undesirables are concerned seems to be evident from the apparently determined stand taken by the authorities as shown in recent cases at the police court. Magistrate Sea in imposing [illegible] fine and costs of $10 and costs on [illegible] has the unanimous support of public opinion behind him. The weight of public opinion is decidedly against allowing the police to continue of persons of pronounced alcoholic tendencies to make public nuisances of themselves.

THE COST OF LIVING IN THE UNITED STATES

Most Increasing Steadily—The Underwood Tariff Has Not Produced Promised Reductions

It will be remembered that some national advocates of the Underwood Tariff proposed that which became law the cost of living would fall like a stone.

From the moderate statements of the Underwood tariffites argued that better by the tariff would reduce to some extent the burden of meeting the [illegible] and [illegible] of living. It's quite [illegible] to [illegible] United States Bureau of Labor [illegible] articles of food shows that, when the price of food in the average consumer's family [illegible] retail prices were at a higher level in October 1913, than at any other month during the last three years. Retail prices of food in October 1913, were 0.9 per cent. above the average price for the 1913 year period, 1910 to 1913, 7.9 per cent. above the price in October 1912, and 18.5 per cent. above the price in October 1911.

The bulletin is one of the Bureau's regular series on retail prices. It shows actual prices for September and October 1913 and September and October, 1912, and also summarizes retail prices for the period from 1890 to October, 1913.

Comparing retail prices in October 1913 with prices on the same date in 1912, thirteen of the fifteen articles for which quotations are given advanced and two declined in price [illegible] during the 12 per cent. eggs advanced 18.2 per cent.; round steak advanced 13.3 per cent.; bacon advanced 10.6 per cent.; rib roast advanced 8.8 per cent.; sirloin steak advanced 8.2 per cent.; bacon advanced 4.3 per cent.; lard advanced 3.7 per cent.; corn meal advanced 1.7 per cent., and hard advanced 1.0 per cent. Sugar declined 4.5 per cent., and flour declined 0.8 per cent.

As the Underwood Tariff went into effect on October 13th, 1913, it was operating only two months before the above statistics were taken; hence it would be unreasonable to expect material results in so short a period. However, the passage of the Act was practically certain for months before it was finally approved; yet it seems certain that some prices up to October did not [illegible].

This is a further proof of the [illegible] saying that "Trade laughs at Tariffs." It seems safe to indorse beyond a doubt that the increase in the cost of living is due slightly to [illegible] to the system of protection, tariffs or otherwise. United States has for years a protection been an example of what a policy of excess protection can do to [illegible] the country.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC AND INTEREST RATES

Could Canada Pay Interest on Transportation Systems if Traffic Lessened Owing to Free Wheat

The transportation question is a vital factor in the situation created by the demand for free wheat. In the meantime the Canadian people and their first Transcontinental railway feeling that it was essential to the national well-being had loans raised to an eastern and western connection in the rail capacity to [illegible] [illegible] that time has already [illegible] [illegible] from East to West. Today we have the original Transcontinental practically double-tracked, and two new transcontinentals in course of construction. We have built up vast terminals at Port Arthur and Fort Arthur for the handling of wheat and other crops. Our whole aim has been to have as much of the traffic pass through Canadian channels as was possible. Now it is proposed to change the conditions under which the traffic has been built up. The Panama Canal will be used as a [illegible] [illegible] in the South instead of [illegible] Canadian wheat on Canadian railways and steamship lines for two or three thousand miles in the season, we are to pass to give the Canadian railways from 60 to 200 miles of a haul [illegible] to the border towns. If we [illegible] wheat every basis, that a wheat [illegible] from Winnipeg, hence [illegible] distributed to Canadian railway and steamship employes [illegible] grain men and their employes [illegible] in fact in Canadian business [illegible] generally. From Winnipeg [illegible] treal is approximately 1 [illegible] let us from Winnipeg to Fort [illegible] miles. The amount of money [illegible] to be spent in Canada in handling [illegible] transporting Canadian [illegible] Cameron and via Montreal from [illegible] Winnipeg to Fort [illegible] wheat. Leaving the matter [illegible] way magnate and the grain [illegible] it is safe for the country to [illegible] on a policy which is bound to have [illegible] effects for the railway employes, the mill hands, the mixed farmer and all those who are dependent directly or indirectly on the [illegible] business that is created by our vast wheat crop."

Oil and Gas Proposition Company Organized

Head Office in Tofield

During the past two or three months the Tofield District has been visited and inspected by numerous parties wishing to investigate the oil and Gas possibilities of the district. One of those was R. E. Allison of Saskatoon who is a property owner here, and who has long waited for some person or persons to take hold of the Oil and Gas proposition and endeavour to prove up this field and bring Tofield to the front as it rightly deserves. Having waited the limit for such to be accomplished and nothing actually done, he stepped out from the ranks of the spectators, as it were, and took active steps in that direction himself. The result is that a Company under the name of MONT ALTO LIMESTONE OIL & GAS COMPANY, LIMITED, with Head Office in Tofield, was organized and incorporated. Both the holdings of the company selected by the director Mr. T. H. Stephens, M. E., of Calgary have been secured, the well sites decided on, and just as soon as sufficient stock is sold to warrant the letting of a contract for drilling, the Geologist will be instructed to secure a Standard Rig.

The drilling site most favorable while not inside of the town limits, will not be far from the town but so close that the the town will directly benefit from the actual operations.

The Company expects to offer stock to the public on or before Monday, July 27. Citizens of Tofield and others wishing to purchase stock should look promptly while the initial allotment at the lowest price is available.

The first ordinary general meeting of the Company will be held at the Registered office, Kellal Block, Tofield on Saturday, July 29th, at which most of the directors of the Company will likely be present.

The prospectus of the Company is now on the press and is expected to be ready for the public by Monday next.

Mr. Allison will be in the office for a few days during the early part of next week and will be pleased to meet any parties who wish to become interested in the Company. During his absence, the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. J. Murry Lawson, will be in full charge of the office.

The Tofield public and all those interested in Tofield and the development of the district will watch the progress and success of this company's operations with keen interest, and to those who get in on the game considerable profit.

Rural Mail Delivery

Rural mail delivery in the Tofield district a quarter of a mile will be its second failed first in the near future. Having been notified by the authorities that he has been awarded the contract, and the bond papers having been sent him for signature and execution, Mr. Wm. Parker of Bardo was in town on Monday to attend to this matter of business. His route will be known as the Bardo route. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays he will distribute and receive from over 70 subscribers all classes of mail matter. Mexican Affairs

PRESIDENT HUERTA has at last stepped down and out of Mexico. He surrendered to Carranza at provisional president of Mexico. He turn over to Carranza seems to justify to a large extent the policy adopted by President Wilson and his state department in the sending of copies from papers in the United States and many of the European newspapers and publications who claim that have some knowledge of science, or whatever it may be called, of diplomacy.

Mexico

MEXICO is in the position of being in the hands of a dictator who according to civilized morals, had no more regard for right, legal or otherwise to the person or property of his subjects than a highway robber. Huerta practically assassinated, instead of by election, Wm Huerta in that position there was no chance of peace. United States had in desire to conquer Mexico. But interference would have led the effort of subduing Mexicans against United States and of giving interference the interpretation of a war of conquest. United States would have been compelled to take Mexico, whether or not. This is what Hearst, the Waters Pierce Oil company, and many others who had secured concessions in Mexico wanted. But Wilson was in no wise interested in making their claims good by taking the country. He simply cleared the field and left the Mexicans to work out their own salvation. The result has been the triumph of the constitutionalist, led by Carranza and Villa both of whom have promised to establish constitutional government.

Mexico can not carry on a civil war forever. But Wilson has made the arrangements by which peace is at least possible, and by the consent of the people government that

The Crop Outlook

CENTRAL Alberta is this season upholding its time honored record of the past as one of the choicest sections of the West as an All round farming country. Crop reports indicate that the conditions in this territory are to-day the best in the West. While other sections are bitterly complaining of a lack of moisture and even a severe loss of crops in consequence. The north Saskatchewan valley people are looking forward to a bumper harvest. Here in the Tofield district the farming community has never been in better fetth over the outlook. Early sown grains are showing unusual, if not possible, degree of early and productive maturity while the late sown grains which were held back during June owing to a cold spell are developing the long spell of dry rain have also assisted with remarkable speed during the weeks of fine hot weather interspersed with light and scattered showers. Vegetation generally in this section leads one to the opinion that the yield of potatoes, roots and vegetables will be equal if not superior to any previous year. The quality will probably be under the average. This spells good prices for grain this fall and means that the farmers of the Tofield district and Central Alberta in general will pay back a large portion of their indebtedness. Early supplied returns for their labors this season than were the general conditions otherwise.

BRANTFORD PROHIBITS

Strong and Learned Opposition to Liquor Duly Is Impotent

Although it might be considered that the liberal party are in favor of the Brantford by-law, which prohibits the sale of liquor in that city, the liberal party are of the opinion that the by-law is not in the best interests of the city, and has therefore decided to oppose it.

That is the decision of the Advisory Association, as voiced our first meeting against the renewal, or matter of the present duties and anti-liberal implements, as raised by the abolishing the injury to a most important industry and one in which the city is interested, as a large manufacturing and jobbing industry, in order to prevent the loss of business to the city in the west to be attracted to it, and also because the party does not believe in the principle of the prohibitionists and the result of the referendum is a tariff for revenue only, and not as a means of protection to the manufacturers, and that a copy of the resolution be sent to the Hon. Minister.

Similar resolutions have also been passed by the Conservative Board of Trade in Brantford and the Board of Trade of that city is also taken action of the same. The attitude of the liberal party throughout Eastern Canada, but especially in industrial centres is, to say the least, interesting. The tariff question is the only issue before the people at present, and it was on the platform of tariff for revenue only that the liberal party was returned to power in the last election. The manufacturers are not in favor of protection, but they are in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and not as a means of protecting the manufacturers at the expense of the consumer. The liberal party has always been opposed to protection, and it was on the platform of tariff for revenue only that the liberal party was returned to power in the last election. The manufacturers are not in favor of protection, but they are in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and not as a means of protecting the manufacturers at the expense of the consumer.

BUILD UP YOUR OWN CITY

Practical Policy Advocated by the Calgary "Standard"

After reflecting to the fact that the Trades and Labor Council endorsed [illegible] policy of buying as much as possible of [illegible] goods, and commenting favorably on the Calgary Exhibition, the Calgary "Standard" points out that this movement should be supported by the whole city, and not by the labor organizations alone. It says in part:

"Buying locally keeps the money in town," as Winnipeg's industrial directory campaign keep this motto in mind, and between the two institutions there is absolutely no argument.

Perhaps no of Calgary have been too busy growing to pay much attention to the home industry idea, but we are awakening. We are after new industries and the home distribution of money that comes from outside establishment. The local directory company is a home industry if possible, and is entitled to the support of every business man who believes in the local idea.

With the city council and the industrial bureau and [illegible] working for civic betterment, and the [illegible] which may possibly come here in the future, it is plainly the duty of the people of Calgary to [illegible] encouragement and development of their own industries, of which the directory concern is one. If Calgary will and give generous support to those who are already on the ground in the city, there is but little likelihood of others being attracted to a field which is so uncompromising. And, if the people of Calgary are not willing and ready to support outside [illegible] to the neglect of the home ones, there is little use asking any of the latter from to start up here. The [illegible] to help themselves can no help ourselves.

The White Ribbon Movement

A White Ribboner of London, Out

As a rule the growth of a good organization is slow but the White Ribbon movement has grown and it spread its blooms and refreshing grace as might a tiny rill born in one of our great mountain tops. At first it is so small he who leaves the summit can scarcely mark its ripple or hear its tiny voice but as he follows it downward it is constantly joined by numerous rivulets and brooks, each deriving its source from the pearly snow crowned mountain top, until at last, a great river it rolls through the land bearing in its course countless blessings to all. At last it empties itself into the great ocean, that glorious mirror where the Almighty's form glasses itself.

Circling the globe today it has spread its influence, aroused its lethargic with greater rapidity than has any other known organization. When some giant evil is exposed, and men stand aghast at the harm it has wrought we see up in her banner that our efforts are in vain, but when we realize, thinkingly, that from feeble this seed of intemperation for ages, and that our battalions are only a little over thirty years old, we stand rebuked, and cry out in triumph What hath God wrought!

From snow clad heights, from burning sands, and temperate zones, loving greetings were wafted last October to Brooklyn, where not in earnest debate the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union Brooklyn has been called to order, so it was fitting that there for the first time in the World's W. C. T. U. Convention reports, the little ones of the nations had a place. A fine family roll it presents. Three ages are various—as to or expected in so large a family roll call—from infants of only a few weeks old to those who have numbered several happy summers of the birthday.

Our hearts have been thrilled as we read the sweet simple story of Hannah and Let little son how she brought the child to the temple and presented him to Eli for to serve unto to the Lord, and each year thereafter, mother wise, wrought with her own hands his own linen cotton and carried them to him. Our fancy springs back and to that far Eastern land and we eagerly feel the touch of love that passes from that mother to her boy. Let us try to traverse the vast array of tiny feet taught to tread the straight and narrow way to that most successful of child teachers, a loving mother and constantly it will be reinforced as it rolls resistlessly along.

Surely our most loving God, who hath deigned to liken this love for mankind only to that of a parent, must have listened well pleased to the cheers that hailed this White Ribbon report.

The total membership of World's W. C. T. U. is 474,113. I note there are given the names of forty-seven Presidents of Auxiliaries. Shall I read them that you may polish up your knowledge of the divisions of the Continents and the Isles per thinning in them.

A Confident Company and a Confident Public

THE Tofield public and all those interested in the development of Tofield and its important natural resources have received the announcement that operations are in prospect to further develop these resources at an early date with no small degree of satisfaction. The announcement that a company has been organized and has secured valuable holdings and has taken the initial steps to do business towards this end has caused a deep sense of satisfaction both at home and abroad. That this company has voluntarily entered the field and has taken the public into their confidence in the manner which is outlined in their prospectus will be appreciated by that public in a substantial way seems to be unquestionable. The confidence often expressed by many undoubting Tofielders in the belief of the existence of valuable resources at our hand in petroleum and natural gas, long before the discovery in the Calgary field, is reflected in the company's prospectus. It is clearly stipulated therein that the director's stock shall remain in the treasury of the company until gas or oil have been found in commercial quantities. This will prevent any of the directors stock from being sold in the meantime. They have set out to make good. Their consulting engineer, Mr. H. T. Stephens, M. E., now of Calgary, is a man who is thoroughly experienced and who has won an excellent reputation in the geological world. His opinion is of much weight and will be well weighed by the public in considering this project. The fact that he will be in superintendence of the field work will be ample assurance that the work will be performed with that speed, care and accuracy which is required. Tofieldites, one and all, and all who are interested in Tofield's development will watch with keen interest the progress made as the work goes on.

Farewell Visit Of H. R. H. To West

HIS Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, our Governor General, passed through this part of the province this week on a tour of the country which will undoubtedly be the last during his term of office. The hour at which the royal train passed through Tofield on Monday was such an early one and being unannounced, His Majesty's loyal citizens of Tofield were unavoidably prevented from giving him any expression of their devotion to the glorious empire of which we form a part. It would have given them much pleasure to have been able to do so. Canada is so large a country that few, if any, of His Majesty's representatives in such capacity find it possible to visit any but the larger centres of population. Nevertheless, Tofield's loyal citizens wish His Royal Highness bon voyage when he leaves the shores of the Dominion and pleasant memories of the associations which he formed throughout Canada during his term as Governor General. He will ever remember Canadians as being true, loyal subjects of the Empire and ever ready to vie with other dominions and our brothers and sisters of the Home Land in advancing those principles which make for peace and the progress of civilization.

What Will They Have To Say?

BOTH Sir Robert Borden, premier of the Dominion government, and Sir. Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the opposition, with their respective parties are to tour the Western provinces during the next few weeks. The people of the west will await with interest the announcement with regard to public policy which each and his lieutenants will have to say. With the next general election in the west will send to Ottawa a larger delegation of representatives than heretofore and it is undoubtedly recognized by the leaders of party that thereafter the West will have a much greater weight in the deliberations which will take place in parliament. Hence the approaching visits of the leaders of government and opposition and their lieutenants will have added interest to the electors of their prairie provinces.

Woodlawn

What beautiful weather we are having and how well the grain and gardens are looking. F. H. Rat has one of the best fields of oats we have seen for some time. All crops at times is immense this year

We have been in Alberta about a month and as we look back we remember that we have never seen a season as wet nor one as dry, but what the crops were good in the portions of Sunny Alberta.

The Mrs. Edon and Reta Council South Edmonton are spending a two weeks holiday at the Plaisance, and on Wednesday they with Mrs. Plants were entertained at dinner by Mrs. Frank Ray.

Mrs. John Forester of Edmonton is spending a few days with her sister in law in Mrs. James Fast on.

A few of the Woodlawnites are already busy with their hoeing and the others soon will be. Hay prospects are excellent.

The road work in this section is almost completed. Pretty nearly everybody seems satisfied with what has been accomplished. the Wednesday last Mr. Swanson the overseer was around and was under stand, gave a certain ratepayer permission to work the amount of his taxes, off in a corner by himself, that is, along his own fence. Now the other ratepayers are passing among themselves, why they should go away from home to work roads, they never travel. and this man be allowed to work where it will benefit his own land. We have never been councillor or road boss man, the probabilities are that we never will be, but we do believe in a "square deal for all." As long as this kind of work is done, just so long will we have bad roads. Wishing C. work for the betterment of the community as a whole and not for individual gain, then will we accomplish some thing.

Mr. Editor will you or some one else who knows, please answer the following question, through the columns of the Standard.

The road foreman's wages are $3.00 per day or $6.00 for himself and team.

Does that mean that if he drives his own team he draws $6.00 per day, or is he supposed to pay a man and horses. Let us hear. Rather like a foolish question as he is not but I believe it is of general importance, as I have seen that some foreman employ a driver, wi the others do not.

Messrs Arlo and Harold Plants and the Misses Osler attended church on Sunday, at Lindbrook.

New Settler For Tofield District

George Lawson with his wife and family of six arrived in the Tofield district several days ago from Ohiowanee, Michigan. Since his arrival he has been looking around and this week has purchased a half-section four miles south of town where he will follow his calling. In Michigan he felt that he did not have the advantages for profit-making in mixed farming that Alberta afforded him. So he sold his farm for one hundred dollars per acre and for a quarter of that price purchased a half section of raw land in the TOFIELD district and is now proceeding to build a house and outbuildings. His dwelling will be within twenty rods of a point where daily passenger service passes on the Tofield Calgary G. T. P. line. A depot is within a mile. The rural telephone line passes his door and a tri weekly free rural mail delivery is scheduled to commence in the near future which will give him two mails, including parcel post, at his gate.

Mr Lawson thought's bakers on mixed farming. He is thoroughly experienced on cattle and hog raising. This will be his long suit in Alberta. While the prices not of for stock and hogs, he says, may not be as high as those we got down in Michigan, the fact that population is so sparse, grain produced so much cheaper and the stock and hogs prepared for market at a much less expense, the advantage is all on the side of the mixed farmer of Alberta.

Live Stock Demonstration For Edmonton Exhibition

Consumers' League To Confer With Producers

We'll level ourselves once more to raise that a value, the difference in selling price is worth noting.

The matter upon appears to all live stock men of the Province of the Edmonton Exhibition Association is endeavoring to implant in the minds of all farmers and stockmen of Alberta. The stock competitions at the Exhibition show that the efforts are already showing good results, but there is still a wide field to cover.

To help on the good work, the Association has this year arranged an entirely original event. This will take the form of a Live Stock Demonstration, and will be put on in a large tent placed adjacent to the new Stock Pavilion. Ample room for a fair should fail to visit this tent.

The demonstration will be carried along simple and practical lines. Steers — as would sell for the best prices on Edmonton mar. fed, with age, weights, prices per cwt. and value, will be exhibited in comparison with common steers, as marketed with the same in contrast.

The advisability of saving manure, how to supply the demand for milk and how still be shown, also the advantages derived from labouring crops.

The Pacific Canadian Company have kindly consented to supply the live stock necessary for this demonstration, and will be able to choose this with an intelligence gained through their own experience.

From the Live Stock Demonstration to the stock pavilion as only a step. Here visitors to the Exhibition will find the Edmonton Consumers' League established in the above overlooking the arena. Here they will be able to meet many farmers and farmers wives of Alberta and exchange ideas as to the best ways and means of getting produce to the consumers from the actual producer, thus ensuring best results to both.

Still bands have been engaged to supply the music for the Exhibition and special attractions will entertain visitors early and late.

In addition to the lots of single fare return arranged on all rail ways here entering the Exhibition week an excursion has been arranged for Farmers Day, August 12th, at a special reduced rate, and a big crowd is expected in the city that day. This special train will leave Mirror at 6 a. m., arrive in Edmonton at 11 o'clock. The train returning will leave the G. T. P. depot, Edmonton, at 6 p.m. stopping at the Exhibition grounds to take on passengers.

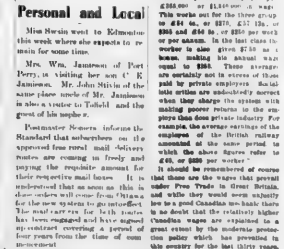
AMERICAN DUCHESS AN ADVOCATE OF SUFFRAGE



The Duchess of Marlborough, the former Consuelo Vanderbilt, snapped at the home of her mother, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, at Newport, R. I., while the Duchess is spending some time. While not in favor of the militant tactics pursued by the English suffragettes, the Duchess is a staunch advocate of women suffrage as in her mother. The titled American woman will address a gathering of prominent woman suffragists called from the exclusive fashionable set at home or her mother at Freeport during July.

Rural Mail Delivery Boxes

The Standard learns from various parties that there is some misunderstanding and expression of annoyance on the part of some of the people along the line of rural mail delivery out of Tofield owing to the fact that when the petitions was first signed up it called for rural mail boxes at a cost of $2.00 per year. The subscribers are now informed that the cost of each of these boxes will be $4.50. It appears that at the time the first papers were signed up the parcel post delivery was not in force and none has gone into effect. The old style boxes were found to be too small to allow the parcel post delivery and the department has been told all those in whom they were being used on rural delivery routes. The new boxes are made necessary in order to accomodate the parcel post and will cost an additional $1.50. Some think that this amount has to be paid each year. This is a mistake as once paid the subscribers will not be called upon to pay any further payments. The extra $1.50 surely is a small enough amount to pay when the additional privilege of parcel post delivery is the cause. The refusal of any large number of subscribers to take boxes on this account might mean that a rural mail delivery route shall not be established. It is to be hoped that all Tofieldites throughout the district will fully appreciate the situation and stand loyally by one of the best propositions ever put forward for the benefit of every family concerned such as this is.

Stock on the Market

Mount Allison Oil and Gas Company Announce Complete Organization and first Issue of Stock. Well Sites to be Selected at Once.

As announced in their notice in this issue Mount Allison Oil and Gas Company, Limited, have become thoroughly organized and are doing business. Capitalized at $500,000 in no money shown on a par value or one dollar stock, they announce a first issue of 20,000 shares at 50c. per share. Immediately upon the stock being placed up on the market it found buyers and is being steadily sought by many who have a thoroughly grounded belief that both gas and petroleum will be found in paying commercial quantities in the Tofield district.

That this opinion is being shared in by many a distance from Tofield is evident from the fact that stock is being sought by many who are comparative strangers who have a healthy bunch that in this proposition they have a good thing. That this belief in ground as safe as any one is shown in the report of the consulting engineer a copy of which appears in the company's announcement in this issue. The company expects to begin actual operations on drilling as soon as possible. The prospective station that the money paid for the stock must be expended on actual work it would appear therefore that no time will not be long until actual field work will commence. Mr. Stephens, the company's engineer is expected to be in Tofield from Calgary this week when the selection for the first wells will be made.

Mountreal Man Buys Tofield Farm.

E. Knight yesterday completed the sale of his farm a few miles north-east of Tofield to Wm Riley of Montreal, the deal being put through by T. W. Ferguson of Lakeshore.

Mr Riley, who is a married man with a family, will move out in the spring and go into farming. Mr Riley, we believe, intends to farm with his son in law, Mr Borch et

While Mr. Riley, personally has not been in the Tofield district a visit there are those here to whom he places every confidence in regard to the truth about the West. Mr Ferguson, who is an old friend of his, moved out to the Tofield district three years ago, coming from the same part of the Dominion as Mr. Riley is a resident. He has found the Tofield district all it was said to be and recommended his friend Ril y to become a Westerner and a Tofieldite at that if he alone is the result. We shall all welcome Mr. Riley when he comes out.

Personal and Local

Miss Swain went to Edmonton this week where she expects to remain for some time.

Mrs. Wm. Jamieson of Port Perry, is visiting her son C. E. Jamieson. Mr. John Stivin of the same place uncle of Mr. Jamieson is also a visitor to Tofield and the guest of his nephew.

Postmaster Somers informs the Standard that subscribers on the approved free rural mail delivery routes are coming in freely and paying the requisite amount for their respective mail boxes. It is understood that as soon as this is done orders will come from Ottawa for the new system to go into effect. The mail carriers for both routes has been engaged and have signed the contract covering a period of four years from the time of commencement.

THE WEEKLY SUN AND FREE FOOD

Believes Free Food Would be Against Farmers' and Consumers' Interests

"How is the Eastern farmer to fare if the new tariff for the abolition of the Canadian duties on all kinds of food should prevail" considers the Weekly Sun. "When reciprocity was advocated in 1911 it was maintained that, notwithstanding our duties on the various products, the Canadian farmer got less for them in the home market than he would get if they were admitted free to the United States. This was the cardinal plea for reciprocity as it now it is asserted to affect that, speaking generally, the cost of living is higher on this side of the line than on the other, and they would repeal the Canadian duties on food of every sort in order to afford relief in the cottons and other wage-earners. It is obvious, however, that if they reduced the home price of food they would damage the farmer's interests. And how could Ontario supply fruits, canned goods, meats and dairy produce to the West if these commodities were allowed in free from the neighboring States? The writer who addresses himself to the subject employs a variety of sophistical arguments that puzzle the audience and probably himself as well. "Everyone knows that, in the face of the existing Canadian duties, the Western market is supplied with quantities of butter, pork, poultry vegetables, fruit, canned fruits and canned meats from the States. The American producer has the advantage of geography over the producer in Old Canada as well as in most cases of climate in addition to which the eastern producer has long been in so far larger business than ours and as a rule turns out cheaper goods for that reason. It is not necessary to labor the point that if our duties were removed the cheaper free necessaries outlined by the Sun would prevail in the West."

The attitude of such a well known farm paper should cause every Canadian to consider carefully where he stands on this important question. It should always be borne in mind that it is much easier to tear down than build up. Once we take our food duties off and allow American food products to be dumped into Canada free of duty whenever it suits the American food producer to step into our market, we would build up interests which would make it next to impossible to shut them out again.

CO-OPERATIVE WAGES

Returns to Workers Very Low in England to Their Own Satisfactoriness

According to Professor Schloss, in an article on "Profits-Co operation," which has recently appeared in a Toronto paper, the "Wholesale Societies in the English Co-operative Movement in 1910 employed about 25,000 productive workers, paying them £9,000,000 or $45,000,000 in wages. The Retail Societies employed 31,000 workers in production, and paid them wages to the amount of £12,000,000 or $60,000,000. The associated workers with their productive supplies paid £38,000,000 or $190,000,000 in wages. This works out for the three groups to $44 6s., or $219, £37 12s., or $183 and £54 5s., or $265 per week or per annum. In the last case the worker is also given $7.50 as a bonus, making his annual wage equal to $265. These averages are certainly not in excess of those paid by private employers. Social statistics are undoubtedly correct when they charge the system with making poorer returns to the employes than those private industry. For example, the average earnings of the employees of the British railway amounted at the same period to which the above figures refer to £65, or $325 per worker."

It should be remembered of course that these are the wages that prevail under Free Trade in Great Britain, and while they would seem unlikely here to a good Canadian banks there is no doubt that the relatively higher Canadian wages are explained in a great extent by the moderate protection policy which has prevailed in this country for the last thirty years.

Set An Example

IN this western country, where so many nationalities are represented, every patriotic citizen should remember that if we are to inspire love for Canada and loyalty for Britain in the hearts of those who owe their birth to other countries it is by setting an example of British fair play and treating members of all nationalities with respect. We are unfortunately thrown into antagonism of sentiment with a one of our fellow citizens through no fault of ours or theirs. It is from every point of view desirable that while those of us who are British declare our loyalty to our flag and cause, we should remember that the principle of loyalty is the highest of which human nature is capable, and that it is not less worthy of respect in others than in ourselves. Edmonton Bulletin

Harvest The Crop

WHAT are we going to do to defend the very existence of the British Empire? demands the Montreal Star. "Harvest the crop first thing," responds the Ottawa Free Press. That, of course, is not all that we should do, but it is one of the essential requirements of the situation. People cannot live by war news alone Besides—a purely accidental consideration assuredly—the operation will be profitable as well as patriotic.—Edmonton Bulletin

The Responsibility

THE peaceful deliberateness of the British people was [illegible] impressively shown than in the present crisis. While other powers were sieging the sword in passion the Parliament at Westminster was gravely considering whether the honour or the interests of Britain demanded that she assist to arms. Under other conditions this hesitancy might be fatal, but with her fleets at sea Britain could afford to calmly survey the situation and determine the course of duty in the clear light of fact and by appeal to reason. What the course would have to be in this case was much to do doubt, but it has been taken. It was a question not of national antagonism or of sentiment, but was a determination of a people who had [illegible] and intend to do it. The path taken, they will [illegible] end of it. It cannot be said hereafter that Britain would war, or did not try to stay out of it if that could [illegible] done. The responsibility lies plainly with Germany.—Edmonton Bulletin

The Great Pan-German Dream

[illegible] Belgium and the Netherlands, the second by obtaining control of the Persian Gulf terminals of the Bagdad railway, the third by the capture of Denmark. In the meantime [illegible] would be confronted with the opposition of Great Britain, France and Russia. Great Britain sees in German expansion westward a menace to India. Russia will not tolerate German influence in the Balkans, and France cannot allow Germany to establish naval base within striking [illegible] of London.

The final consummation of war that [illegible] the capture of Paris and striking a [illegible] Petersburg is the object of the German troops now landed in the island of Alsud in the Gulf [illegible] Finland, to be poised upon, if [illegible] nothing but that St. Petersburg as the objective and [illegible] Germany has decided to the [illegible] peace. Let Napoleon's Grand Army [illegible] at the Russian capital before [illegible] and striking a [illegible] Paris.

It must be remembered that during the [illegible] Russo-Japan se war, when Russian [illegible] were [illegible] England that power, [illegible] the Grand Fleet. As Portland is overdue to Sweden [illegible] is an unrelated route to the which the Scandinavian nation was [illegible]. A third is outside of the middle to accept. Similar over [illegible] The first, Germany hopes would doubtless be made to [illegible] by the subjugation of Germany now, the acceptance of which would enable German troops landing on the Finnish coast, to march on St. Petersburg at the rear, while other German troops advancing on the Russian capital through Scandinavia. Finland [illegible] taken the initiative and all that [illegible] to [illegible] Germany to [illegible] her hands across the frontier and [illegible] Russia, while Germany [illegible] peaceful [illegible] with Russia at St. Petersburg. She would then be in a position to concentrate upon Belgium, Holland, France, Denmark and Great Britain.

By the time Austria, who by means of agent provocateurs has for years past been [illegible] trouble in the Balkans, should have [illegible] Rumania, Bulgaria and Turkey, and secure [illegible] her purpose of establishing herself as a Mediterranean power Italy, the third member of the Triple Alliance would have been expected to engage the French and British fleets in the Mediterranean, her spoils to be colonies on the coast of Africa.

Germany's anxiety to [illegible] Belgium and Holland is due to [illegible] to secure a naval base [illegible] Calais than Kiel. The latter [illegible] Heligoland, but [illegible] would be a position to menace British shore, while her colonies marched [illegible] the Sand and closing the Baltic.

Should Germany succeed in every detail she would become the dominant power in Europe, and she would secure those colonial possessions which she deems necessary to her expansion. Holland's valuable possessions in Java and the Celebes would secure Belgium Congo also the East and West Indies, ceded to Germany.

Between her and the liberties of her neighbours there stands Britain with her powerful navy, France with her army and navy, and the combined fleets of Russia Belgium, Holland and the Balkan States. Portugal and Spanish allies [illegible] Germany's war, is expected to support the Triple Entente.

In view of these facts, which are known to, and have been known for some years to all close students of the War [illegible] it does not seem to be [illegible] to [illegible] Britain would [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] to be [illegible] to the belief that she is attempting to carry out the scheme of conquest as outlined.—Edmonton Bulletin.

SURREY ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS
Zoo of Bygone Days Was Very Popular in London
The old Surrey Zoological Gardens in London, were established in 1831 by a menagerie-keeper named Cross, who conducted the gardens with conspicuous success for many years. A large conservatory, which contained thousands of 6,000 feet of glass, was one of the features of the gardens and was at that time the largest building of its kind in England. It was afterwards used to enclose the cages of wild animals, and of one of these, a lion, a fanciful story is told.

A small black spaniel was thrown into the cage, but the "king of beasts," instead of eating it, took it under his protection, and when it died was so deeply grieved that he survived the loss only a few days! In the height of their popularity fashion flocked to the Surrey Gardens, and once at least Queen Victoria, with Prince Albert and the late King Edward, then a little boy, visited them. The famous preacher, Charles Haddon Spurgeon, used a hall in the grounds as a chapel for some time. After the death of Cross the place lost favor with the public, and was finally closed about 1872.

Farmers Who Have Reasons To Be Thankful

THE farmers of Central Alberta have every reason this year to be thankful that they are settled where they are. ... Alberta south demonstrates this fact in a most striking manner. It is reported that in the southern part of the province that the drouth has been very severe. In fact this was quite apparent to the editor of the Standard on his trip to Calgary last week. The line of cleavage between the drought stricken area and that throughout which there apparently has been a sufficient supply of moisture is the line between the bald prairie and the semi wooded country. This season does not state that the latter country is the best for all round mixed farming.

War conditions will soon begun to be felt throughout the west more severely than personally. It is doubtful whether the conditions which arise in war stricken countries have been in the least realized by the present native generation. Alberta's sons and daughters are today loyal and enthusiastic in their support of the Dominion and Empire in the national crisis. But, the pinch is not yet. True, the beginning of the effects of extraordinary conditions are begining to be felt in the curtailment of credit but this has been a condition met before. Parliment meets on the 18th inst to pass appropriations for the support of Empire in war, It is said that over $75,000,000 will be necessary. This means something to every pocket in every family. A war tax may a necessity. Our friends from across the line know what this means. We must be ready for whatever may come. Our loyal support must be given to the government of the day as man to man.

A Damning Record

THE sequence of events is damning in its showing against the German and Austrain Emperors. In the first place, Germany was a party to Austria's haughty ultimatum to Servia.

The Germany Foreign Office gave out a statement to the effect that, while it had been aware in general of the "scope" of the Austrian demand on Servia, it was not to be understood as approving the violent language in which it was couched.

Upon the ultimatum being served on Servia, an extraordinary council of Ministers was at once called, and at its close the public was informed "Ministers are unanimously agreed that Aust ia Hungary has thrown down a challenge to Russia, and that, in M. Sazonoff's words, there could be only one answer."

This meant that if Austria carried out her threat there would be war. The British Foreign Minister, Sir Edward Grey, took instant action. He brought Emperor William to join with England in immediately calling a Congress of the Powers to deal with the differences between Austria and Servia, and so prevent war. After a day's deliberation, the Kaiser declined the offer.

There followed in swift succession the German ultimatums to Russia and France forbidding them to mobilize their men the declaration of war against Russia; the movement of troops against France the breach of Luxemburg's neutrality; the declaration of war against France, the invasion of Belgium and finally war between Germany and Great Britain

Yet the German Emperor, with appalling hypocrisy, complains that he has been forced unwillingly into war.

We might properly say to our Baster Lake correspondent this week, Hands Off Politics, with reference to his remark about the navy and the Senate. This is not the occasion discuss to politics. The only difference between the parties on the navy question was that the Conservatives wanted a used empty ships to Britain whereas the Liberals wanted the ships dried, armed and manned with Canadian Officers and men. Be that as it may, the present crisis is one when Liberals and Conservatives will stand as man to man, shoulder to shoulder, to treat a common foe as Britain as a grudge to no expense for the defence of Empire by whatever means can be found to create a speedy and effective assistance to the British Empire.

In Revolution Ridden Albania

The western monastery is not alone in the honor of possessing a relic believed to be ... Europe in the course of revolt as well. The new King of Albania, Prince William of Wied is having a difficult time in remaining on his throne. Almost from the time he landed at Durazzo, the Albanian capital, strife and disorder in the little kingdom has been rampant. The photograph shows a company of Italian sailors throwing up a temporary breast work in front of the Italian legation in Durazzo before the last attack which the rebels made on the city. In the Durazzo harbor are several foreign battleships which have landed marines and sailors in order to protect ... property. Among these ... the new King fled to safety on board an Italian cruiser.

The Editor of the STANDARD last week was privileged to take a trip to take a trip to Calgary and back over the G. T. P. Tofield-Calgary branch. As a mere prairie route this part of the G. T. P. system is certainly unexcelled. That part of the country from Tofield south to Three Hills is country which is the Mixed Farmer's delight. The ... is more or less rolling and park like in the innumerable bluffs of full grown trees while occasion takes from small to very large indeed dimensions dot the distant. In passing scores of the latter could be seen than the traveler notes thousands of young ducks in all stages of growth, thus indicating that this is a sportsman's paradise. The luxuriant growth of all kinds of vegetation indicates that here the farmer is blessed by a kind providence as indeed the waving fields of grain and thriving herds of cattle testify. The appearance of this country differs most strikingly from that of the purely prairies south of it toward Calgary and south of that city. There are the ... amongst new comings farmers of the past few years who have transformed the Bonder country to the naked lands or who have been diverted from their land seeking tour to settle on land similar lands before they could observe the wonderful difference in vegetation between the two. It would seem that every prospective settler in the West should make a thorough and through trip over both kinds of territory before making a final choice. This year in a striking proof that the farmer in the semi wooded sections of the country is fortunate indeed.

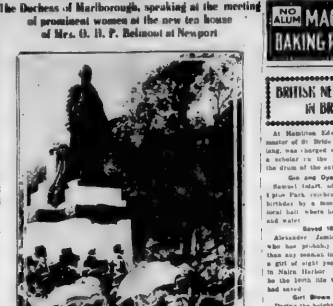
Mineral Springs Deposits
The richest known radium-bearing region in the world occurs in the Paradox valley, Colorado, where carnotite ore is the raw material. Deposits are deposits of carnotite in Australia and Russia, but they are not as rich as in Colorado. Besides pitchblende and carnotite there is one other radium-producing ore ... the uranium minerals contain radium. It is called autunite and occurs in Portugal and South Australia.

Whale of Tree Uttered
In Sweden, the problem of brush disposal after logging operations in order to prevent forest fires does not exist. In that country treetops and branches are all used for fuel and even the pine needles are collected and distilled, the resulting extract being used in the manufacture of carmens for colds, and soap for medicinal purposes.

The Duchess of Marlborough, speaking at the meeting of prominent women at the new tea house of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont at Newport



News pt. One of the most remarkable and inspiring conferences of women ever held in America—a round-robin in which the Duchess of Marlborough met Inocle Rose Belmont-Evans, leader of the East Side garment workers, and Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, representative of the enlightening rich—spoke with Maud Ballington Booth, apostle of the prison reform movement, and Mrs. Belmont—was held this afternoon at the new home of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, in Bellevue ave.

The Duchess of Marlborough deals with this subject in an address on this s ... to America.

GREAT PEAK DISAPPEARS

Oregon Once Had an Extremely High Mountain

The highest mountain in Oregon is Mount Hood, 11,225 feet above sea level. Mount Jefferson, the next highest, to the south in Washington, each rising well above 10,000 feet. Mount Hood does not appear so impressive. However, according to the geologists of the United States geological survey and other authorities, Oregon had at one time probably before the dawn of life upon the earth, a great volcano which towered so far above Mount Hood as does Mount Rainier, possibly even several thousand feet higher.

This was the great Mount Mazama. But thousands of years ago this mountain disappeared into the bowels of the earth and all that is left to-day of the huge ... around Crater Lake. Crater Lake is the caldera of this great mountain. It is 6,000 feet high and 20 miles in diameter. The inside walls of the rim of the ancient mountain are in places nearly 4,000 feet high and almost perpendicular. The lake itself is in places 2,000 feet deep, and parts of the wall rise above its waters another 1,000 feet.

The destruction of the mountain is theory, using as a basis the action of the lesser slopes, which still remain shows that the apex could not have been far from 15,000 feet in height on that Mount Mazama was one of the most lofty and majestic peaks in the United States.

PALMISTRY POINTS

Smooth, conical fingers are a sign of talkativeness and levity.

Strong, knotted fingers show prudence and economy.

A palm too slim, narrow and feeble indicates instinct without energy.

If the palm is too large the person is coarse and animal like.

If the middle joint of the fingers forms a knot, the person has well developed reasoning.

The individual who has knots at the middle joints of the fingers does not have a place for everything and everything in place.

Intellect belongs to knotted fingers grace without knots.

The person whose fingers are smooth and pointed is guided wholly by inspiration and never has a reason for what he does.

The hard, wrinkled hand, which is opened to its full extent with difficulty shows irritability, a mind without ... pliancy.

Large hands mean a close attention to minute details.

Burning Cubes of Solid Alcohol

Cubes of solid alcohol are used in Germany, and now in ... in America for cooking. Lasting curling irons of small amounts of water, and for any purpose which requires a small amount of heat for a short time. Put up in pills or small metal containers, solid alcohol is much more convenient than liquid alcohol, because it can be used on a sheet of metal or asbestos without a burner and the user knows just how much heat to expect.

A butterfly lays 600 eggs, the wasp 1,500; the ant 4,000 to 5,000; while one species of whale will produce 50,000 eggs in a day.

WHEAT CULTIVATION IN ARGENTINE REPUBLIC

Production Less Per Acre Than in Canada—Favorable Conditions in South America

"The Grain Growers' Guide," in a recent issue, had a very interesting description of the Argentine Republic, and the agricultural conditions that prevail there in its population Argentine is nearly equal to Canada having 7,171,199 people on December 31st, 1913, whereas Canada on June 1st of the same year, had 7,504,412. Argentina is known as a cattle country, but in addition to ... wheat growing industry. That country received 267,000 in 1912 as compared with 78,000 who came to Canada. Our total commerce is over $200,000,000 greater than that of Argentina, although Argentina exports nearly $100,000,000 more products than Argentina.

Many ... frequently hear about the hardships of the farmers in Western Canada, and the ... conditions of the big interests through the system of ... high freight rates, elevator charges etc., and doubtful if there is any Western grain grower who would be willing to exchange his homesite ... for a farm in free trade Argentina. ... according to the Minin Gazette, Guide, there are special difficulties to overcome in the case of agricultural experiment. Chief of these is the low general intelligence of the people. In 1911, to ... than one half of the population over 6 years of age were illiterate. Nearly all the farmers are ... owned being financed by land ... shares ... the crop with the owners of the land. With little experience and less money, their lot is a hard one. The farmer and his family do all the work on the land except ... the crop. During the seeding and harvesting seasons the whole family work in the fields from daylight to dark. This condition is little better than serfdom and naturally the farmer's whole effort is to better his condition. With thousands of wheat growers the ... and end-all of life is to get enough money to return to Italy (the native country of most of them) and buy a little farm or boot store of their own. The average holding of the small farmer is 247 acres and even those who own or rent larger farms are not much better off because they do not ... how to till it properly.

Beaver Lake East

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Corbett are here on a visit to Mr and Mrs Malcolm McCallum.

The long spell of dry hot weather is a dread most of the hay crops and that they can be cut.

Our friend H. B. got off a little joke on us in his Observer letter regarding our voting grit. After voting Conservative for over thirty years, we are still there, and see no reason why we shouldn't continue a member of the Grand Old Party. You bet!

Well the emergency has arrived. It sure was coming years ago. Had the infernal grits in the Senate done their duty there would be three Canadian dreadnaughts in the British navy now. It makes one almost sage what a bunch of partisan bumps they were when they refused to pass the Borden naval bill.

Crops around here are in good shape if the hot weather, but rain would do a great deal of good to them as well as root crops and garden truck.

We congratulate Miss Mabel McCallum, our teacher on her great success at the recent P. S. Leaving examination. She sent up three pupils and all passed. They were Lizzie Stewart, M. J. McCallum and Sam Steele.

London, August 8.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "The net result of the operations so far as is known is that the German advance has been stopped on the line of the Meuse and that they have been outflanked in Belgium by the advanced French masses. Similarly the Germans are strategically outflanked by the French on road into Alsace. Thus the hostile flanks are pressured and their front is seriously contracted.

The arrival of the British troops is anxiously awaited by France and Belgium in view of the imminence of a decisive encounter between the French and German armies.

Germans and Austrians throughout Canada are born and there commuting depredations. A number of letters and receipts bills found in a house on the Kingston road in Ontario, and after taking Harry Gunther, a German, and a woman who says she is his wife, to custody searched the premises. They found 96 sticks of dynamite which was confiscated.

A shot was fired into a C. P. R. train at Bottany which passed through the rear end of the observation car which was wrecked.

The Canadian government has offered one million bags of flour to Britain and the offer has been accepted.

Tofield Contributes To Nation's Defence

The Tofield district is one of countless districts throughout the portions of the Empire which are contributing its quota of volunteers for its share in the great crisis at hand. One Day lieutenant in the naval service, who lives on his ranch a few miles north of town, last week received his orders to report at once for duty and he immediately left. Then Warrington Whitlam, the youngest son of Rev. Reed Whitlam, who is a member of A Squadron of the 19th Alberta Dragoons, has volunteered for duty and has been accepted and now is eagerly awaiting the call after the war.

Changes in Railway Operations

Owing to extreme shrinkage of volume of business arising from war conditions the railway companies have been forced to cut down operating expenses and almost universally cut off a part of the service. On the G.T.P. trains 3 and 4 have been cut off from Wainwright to Edmonton and 11 and 12 on the Tofield Calgary line have been taken off on Sundays only.

The staff of operators has also been reduced. Operators Lee and Edgar at Tofield have been released and the despatcher's office at Mirror removed to Tofield. Chief Despatcher Simmons and his assistants, Bartley and Carson are now located here and will direct operation from this point.

Another circumstance arising from the desperate conditions in war stricken Europe is that the railway companies throughout Canada have been compelled to place all their bridges under armed guard. In this respect the G.T.P. ares throughout the west occupies a position no different from any other. Trusted employes have been sworn in by the government as special constables and armed with rifles are placed on guard at all bridges. There is no telling in such a cosmopolitan country as this who may be evilly disposed and what damage might be wrought as instanced by the dynamite outrage on the C.N.R. in Ontario last week. The companies are doing all in their power to make absolutely safe the transportation of their passengers and freight.

War Vote at least $75,000,000

Ottawa, Aug. 10—It is stated that the war vote to be submitted to parliament will be at least $75,000,000 and it may be as much as $100,000,000. When parliament to reassess in continuous session it would not be necessary to vote so large a sum at first, but it will be necessary to provide the government with sufficient funds to provide the money required until parliament meets in regular session.

Many visitors will attend the Tofield Fair this year. Every farmer in the Tofield district can help immensely to advance his own and his neighbours interests by contributing as many exhibits as he possibly can at our growing Agricultural & Stock Show.

Seasoned Veterans Who Will Fight For Servia

Servian cavalry passing through Uskeb on the way to the front. These men trained in the fight against Turkey and Bulgaria have rallied to the aid of King Peter in the present crisis and are prepared to defend their country against an Austrian invasion.

Aerial scouts of the Austrian army mobilized along the Danube river on the Servian frontier, have reported that they have been unable to discover the location of the Servian army which withdrew from Belgrade, the capital, when King Peter removed his court from that city.

That the Servian army has been mobilized is certain, but the fact that they have kept their position a secret from the Austrian spies will for the training they received in the Balkan war.

French Infantry making a Spirited Charge

Here is the manner in which the French infantry makes a charge. The French have not forgotten Sedan and Paris of over forty years ago, and in the intervening time have been training for revenge on the German army. Now that the opportunity has presented itself, it is certain that the French army will fight with all the dash and spirit so characteristic of the French, with the added ardor of spurring accounts with the Germans.

WAR PROGRESSES SLOWLY

British, Belgian and French Forces Now Allied On Battlefields. General Action Now Thought To Be in Progress

General Skirmishing, Hitherto Reported, But Light Preludes to Greatest Battle In World's History

A despatch from Germany says that one more declaration of war cement frighten Germany, Japan's action is without importance.

A communication from Brussels yesterday states that general fighting is taking place from the Swiss border north to Diest, Belgium, a distance of about 250 miles. It also admits that the Germans gained ground on both north and south banks of the Meuse river.

German troops are reported to be near Antwerp.

Despatches from Europe state that 120,000 British troops have been landed in France and have moved off to the front effecting a union with Belgium and French allies. Not a hitch took place during the movement of the troops across the channel. The British troops were received with great acclaim by the French. They are in the pink of condition and are the best land military organization that Britain has ever put in the field both from a physical and military trained point of view.

Since the going forward of the British expeditionary forces and their junction with the allies little may be expected from the front as to news of the movements of the armies. War correspondents have been banished from Belgium and what little will be given out will be strictly censored by the campaign officials. It is known that the Germans are massed near the Waterloo field and are slowly but surely moving south towards the allied enemy and it is expected that a battle, the greatest in the world's history is even now in progress or that old battered battle field. The campaign may be truly said to be now conducted in silence and secrecy so far as the outside world is concerned.

Parliament in War Session

Parliament met in war session on Tuesday. Both parties are a unit in their whole hearted support of the Empire in the present crisis. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, on the first day of debate said, in part: "If in what has been done, there may be anything which in our judgment should not be done, or should be done, or should be done different, we raise no question, we take no objection, we offer no criticism as long as there is danger at the front.

Policy of Retrenchment

A WORLD WIDE policy of retrenchment is being adopted in practically every city and town of any size throughout the country to-day on account largely of the war conditions although monetary conditions for the past year have been such as to cause many large companies, the trusts and large corporations to reduce expenditures along all lines of development. The action of council on Monday night in considering the advisability of being still more conservative in future in the conduct of the municipal business and government will no doubt receive the approval of the citizens. The west has scarcely begun to feel the true pinch of the efforts of the unusual conditions through out the world and it behooves every citizen to look not only to the welfare of his private interests by getting the most value out of every dollar expended, but to approve of the same policy in regard to the conduct of the business of the municipality of which he forms an integral part cause of this there will be a great many horses, cattle, sheep and hogs for sale there at prices which the more fortunate northern farmer can well afford to take advantage of and buy. Many ranchers and farmers in the south country are desirous of having animals wintered at a price per head or on shares. Northern farmers limited means now have an opportunity of acquiring a few head of stock on terms that will represent to them but a small cash outlay.

Various agencies are now at work endeavouring to put the farmers of the north and south in direct communication with each other. The Live Stock Branch of the Provincial Government is taking steps to this end. Mr D W Warner of Edmonton, has been specially appointed by the United Farmers of Alberta to do all in his power to secure a market for live stock now in the hands of the southern farmers which, owing to the present crop failure, they are unable to finish. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company have been asked to give a special rate on shipments of live stock from southern farms to those of the north.

We do not hesitate to advise our readers to avail themselves of the present opportunity, because in so doing they will not only benefit themselves, but they will be doing much toward relieving the distress of the less fortunate farmers in the south

Sectional Differences In England Forgotten In England's War On Germany

That the difficulties in Ireland, have been laid aside for the time being while England is engaged in her struggle with Germany, is illustrated by this picture which shows the Irish coast guards arriving at Liverpool during the mobilization of British forces following the declaration of war against Germany.

Wife of President of United States Who Died Aug. 6th

Mrs. Wilson Life one of Simplicity. Was noted for her Charitable Work in the Capitol.

Mrs. Wilson's typical American Woman. Amiable, helpful beneficent. To the thoughtful it may seem that her life would have been more than the course of half a century, would have been more placid, had not her husband lifted her to an altitude that fevered her pulse, even thitherto. Mrs Wilson's career as Mistress of the White House was notable. Charitable objects occupied her. She entered with activity into the work of the Southern Industrial Society for the Education of the Mountaineers of the South and the Woman's Department of National the Civic Federation.

To Editor gave us a jab on the jaw re our remarks on the naval question. Belong as leading principles talk as they have lately done about the Borden government, we feel perfectly justified in giving our opinions. Two despicable offenders are the Edmonton Bulletin and the Toronto Globe.

We are informed that Miss Fat e and Miss Jessie Watson of Vegreville have volunteered as nurses to go to the front, and that James Watson is going as a trooper in the 15th Dragoons.

We have had another fatal accident at the lake. The victim this time was Joseph Hill, brother of Mrs. Charles Young of Bathgate, who was shot while handling a loaded gun. He died before the doctor could get to him.

Grain cutting has begun but will not be general before the 25th or later. The prospects are excellent.

At the meeting of council last Monday evening a report brought in by the finance committee urging the elimination of all expenses that could be avoided for the balance of the year at least was considered. The Temperance Situation In Ontario

Many excuses are offered for the defeat of the Liberal party of Ontario, and its Alcoholic Bar policy at the polls on Monday, June 28th. We have been told that the defeat of the Liberals was due to party prejudice, to the insincerity of the people or to the money used by the liquor interests. On the other hand, the victory of the Conservative party is hailed as a vindication of the Whitney government's policy, as a failure of the abolish the bar cry to stampede the free and independent electors of this fair province, or as a proof that it was a crime against temperance to bring on this abolish the bar policy.

That there are those who say that the temperance issue was not that which decided the minds of the electorate.

Excuses so ludicrium might be offered and just as many as nauseum might be quoted. But what does the independent advocate of temperance think of the result?

The abolish the bar movement has received a set back not, as many think, serious but rather temporary. The result of the vote has not decided that the policy is a wrong one. No one questions the evil of open and licensed bar whether viewed from an economical or moral, mental or physical standpoint. Seeing that the evil does exist the fight must continue to eradicate the evil

No one will doubt the sincerity of Sir James whether it be on Women's Suffrage or Tax Reform. No one doubts his insincerity on the abolishing to the treating system. He does not see eye to eye with us on some reforms. This we regret and have only pity for him in his narrow range of freedom. In some reforms he is in earnest but how are we to judge him on his own declarations from his abolishing bill? We desire no retrograde movement and no winking at any evils. Local Option with the three fifths majority may have its good features as pointed out by the liquor interests during the recent election but no thanks due Sir James for the law now on the statute books of the province. Our thanks is due the farmers for the law now on when the law is rigidly enforced in those districts where local option prevails. Let us assure him that his forces employed to look after Rip Alcohol must be on a more efficient body whether it be Ottawa, Edmonton, Toronto or Portogese. The two latter places are a speaking every day example of the inconsistency, legislature or obstinate of Sir James abolish the bar policy. Possibly it was after a trip over the northern part of the province which caused the Hon. W. H. Hearst to say that on the temperance question he took second place to no one. In many ways we are prepared to do this, the sincerity of Sir James. When the people in the province begin to feel that way are may look for an advance in temperance legislation.

STANDARD PRESS, Limited.
ESTABLISHED 1907
R. N. WHILLANS Manager and Editor

Volume VIII., No. 1.

WITH this number the Standard enters upon its eighth year of publication. Seven years ago today the first number was issued. A great change has come over town and district since that time. That change has been gradual but sure. It has been marked with a growth with all the car-marks of substantial growth. Each year has seen excellent additions to the number of farmers in the district and steps forward in municipal development. The Standard was first gotten out by being printed in Edmonton and published in Tofield. At that time Tofield had no rail roads, no telegraph and no telephone service and had but a twice per week mail service. Country roads were but trails with the exception of a few instances and Tofield itself was but the nucleus of the trading centre that it is to-day. To-day Tofield is one of Alberta's first rank of hustling live town municipalities, has miles of graded streets and sidewalks, a capable waterworks system for fire protection, is developing as an industrial centre, has gained a widely known name as a coal supplying town and is the trading centre for as fine a mixed farming country as can be found in Western Canada. Trains from the east, west and south bring in mails daily, each also with an excellent express service while out-lying post-offices are served with mails, from once weekly to daily services and plans have been approved for rural free mail delivery routes in four directions from town for a three times per week service. Many farmers in the district are served with telephones, seven rural lines running out in as many directions from town. Three long distance lines emanate from Tofield. Good roads in all directions mark the progressive spirit of the farmers and the finest of building, both in residences and out buildings, and large cultivated areas indicate the character and ability of the farming element to make excellent livings in the Tofield district. Both town and district are going ahead. The progress perhaps has seemed to be tardy at times, but looking backward, much development has occurred in a comparatively short space of time. Conditions will still continue to improve and the next few years will serve to prove that Tofield and district rank as one amongst the finest of Western Canada's best mixed farming and industrial centres.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Why Canada Should Be Confident

The Financial Post of August 15th says

In each of the events taking place in Europe, which will constitute an epoch, perhaps unprecedented importance in history, we appeal strongly to us as urban business men and all who hold securities and investments of any kind to meet the present situation with calmness and confidence. Our first duty at any cost, is to act in Great Britain's interest—our first defence and our next duty, not less important, is to keep the business of the business moving as normally as possible.

Let us remember that while we must lay aside something to pay for the cost of the war we have at our back a wholesome of nature's wealth virtually yet touched. As the calamities of Europe pile up, the demand for our wheat and other exportable crops, as well as the same articles, the result of misfortune and crop failure in the countries of Europe, will make our agricultural lands more attractive because of the best people of Europe—businessmen and lands generally, after generation, have been ruined and devastated by war. At the present instant Canada stands practically immune from the physical menace of war—our fields are growing their wealth to the harvester and our other resources are packing for the early or greater impetus than ever. Wealth production is proceeding and the opportunities for still greater primary production are not diminishing. The sentiment including Canada, will react enough and speedily by the changes in the world's currents of trade forcing the war. Many of our factories will find demands upon them, stimulated because of protection placed upon the production and industry of Europe by the exigencies of war and though for a time in the restricted quantities a fair proportion of Britain's available capital will come to Canada for investment. Under the circumstances, therefore the same great essential to keep business moving is confidence and Canada, probably of all nations of the world, has least excuse to offer for any lack of it.

Servia's Joan of Arc And Her Fiance

Nineteen year old Sophie Yovanovitch, the Servian Joan of Arc and her fiance. This girl, with 40 women, led a charge which led to the capture of guns and prisoners without the loss of one of the enemy. She is a member of the fam ous League of Death, whose members are pledged to do anything, even to their own certain destruction, to further the cause of Servia.

That women such as Sophie Yovanovitch will be of great assistance to the Servian troops fighting the Austrians is an assured fact and the wonderful nerve in the war against Turkey fighting in the trenches bearing bravely all the hardships of the long marches and camp life as well as the men.

"In the unprecedented and critical situation that exists," says Sir Clive Pelly, "it is of the greatest importance that everyone should endeavor to act as if great events were not impending. Were confidence seriously disturbed, business would come practically to an end, and our ability to face the difficulties that may be in front of us would be seriously impaired. Therefore it is of vital importance that as far as possible, the events that are now taking place should not interfere with the daily life and the daily work of the nation. Orders should be given factories should be run, and everything should be arranged to maintain, as far as possible, the productive power and the income of the country.

"But for this to be accomplished, the situation must be faced with courage and confidence on the part of everyone. Investors must continue to invest, bankers still continue to lend, the stock exchange must continue to deal, and everyone according to his ability must endeavor to work hard in order that individual income, and therefore the income of the whole nation, may be maintained at the highest possible level.

"A little over a century ago, when the nation was at war with Napoleon, its income was a very small one, being less than one eighth of what it is at present, and in a comparatively small space of time the British people succeeded in raising about $1,000,000,000 of money for war purposes, and so great was their confidence and courage that at the end of the great war which severely taxed their resources, they were stronger and healthier than they had been at the beginning."

Canada's natural store is an all barely touched. From any temporary lull in our progress, from whatever cause, we can, therefore, recover ourselves more quickly than did the motherland after her world struggle of a century ago. Our people are of the same heart and industry and we are confident they are. Courage in the fight for the Empire is not more necessary than courage in the maintenance of the industry and commerce of the country.—Financial Post.

Every school teacher in the district should see that the school pupils take a keen interest in the School Department of the Prize List

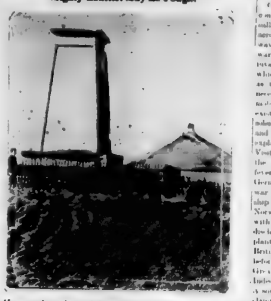
Monuments on Field of Waterloo Where Another Mighty Conflict May Be Fought



Here are pictured two of the monuments erected on the battlefield of Waterloo, where more than 100 years ago Napoleon was defeated by the combined armies of the Germans and English.

Another conflict may even now be in progress on this same field with the same nations participating, only this time the French and English are lined up against the Germans.

AN INTENDED OUTBREAK

One who had opportunities of conversations with the Emperor recalls his telling how he would walk across Belgium as easy as he would cross his lawn. He knew that this war was not prepared for after the manner of Servia by Austria, which has given both to the world as the beginning of it is only necessary to note the high state of exhilaration which was found to exist at the moment when the ultimatum messages were sent to France and Russia, demanding that they explain their military actions. Workers who have escaped from the scene of the conflict report feverish warlike activity on the German side of the line before any war was heard of. The passenger ship Kronprinz Lulse sent to Norway on her usual cruise loaded with the deadly mines which after discharging her passengers, she planted in the open sea to destroy British shipping. She surely knew before starting that war with Great Britain was determined on. Indeed, the lesson of war had burst around on the Emperor before Belgium through every leading newspaper in Germany. Two papers, in Hamburg and Berlin, speaking in unison, evidently by the government, told the world not to the Emperor—that the time of war, but if that should prove impossible he would go to war with France and Russia. The world had been told so often by so many Germans and visitors to the Kaiser of his steady determination to preserve the peace of the world that Great Britain believed his talk about the Emperor's determination to "humble the war," and was fooled by it. Not so the Germans. A leading Liberal organ, the "Frankfort Gazette," says war certain. Russia would not be baffled again as she was when Austria seized Bosnia and Herzegovina. The two great alliances would fail to please. Britain, with a province in open rebellion—would simplicity—would not think of entering the war. The part of Austria starting the conflagration was only the part of the ass in handling the monkey's hot chestnuts. She has burnt her fingers to forsook her neighbor with an opportunity.—Montreal Witness

They number now to duty's call,
Ah! do you ask who Ranks they fall
Britons and patriots, one and all
Soon hasten to the front

Though Britain's arm be tired and strong,
Should we not gladly aid along
The Empire to which we belong
And battle's brunt?

Behold, they come, a gallant band
The bravest, strongest of the land
To fight thy battles, motherland;
To overthrow thy foe

With proudly floating flags they come
With blare of trumpet, beat of drum.

To strike for home and country's freedom
A bold, united blow

Fils say return across the waves,
Many may build a soldier's grave,
And sacrifice their lives to save
Our country and our name.

But everyone we will no mount,
For we in love its quarrel just
And God defend the right

And grant will come from on high
Though weeks be of affliction,
We can not but leave pledges and pass
And rush to arms in self defence.
We can not but play our part.

And give to all a brother hand
That should may not rule the land
But as a fellow sing my stand
United hand and heart

NATIVES WALK ON STILTS

Stones of Locomotion Used in South of France

In Landes beyond Bayonne in the south of France men live on stilts. They stalk wild duck snips and wood cock on stilts and guard the big flocks of sheep. On stilts they trim the resinberry trees and tap the pines for a superfine quality of turpentine. Boys and girls play tag on stilts and in the evening bring each other arms in arms on stilts.

The habit has arisen because it is a sandy wood land, as flat and boundless as the ocean. Tofield District Farmers Respond Readily To Aid Farmers of South

Thousands of Stock Can be Wintered in Tofield District. Fodder and Water in Plenty

The reception by the farmers of the Tofield district of the acts published in the STANDARD last week, entitled "Save Your Roughage" has been most pleasing and judging from the number who have called at the STANDARD office for further explanation, there will be a large number of Tofield district farmers who will be in a position not only to be of assistance to the less fortunate farmers of the south but to benefit themselves by wintering horses, cattle, sheep or hogs at so much per head, on shares or by purchasing them at prices which means considerable profit.

Farmers from almost every section of the Tofield district have responded to the announcement that their co-operation is necessary in order to help the farmers of the south to pull through the coming winter successfully. To the west towards Cooking and Hastings Lakes farmers are putting up immense quantities of hay. To the north towards Rose Creek and the west that Alberta's natural winter fodder is being gathered in in abundance. From the east and south similar word is being brought in. The Tofield district is peculiarly adapted for stock farming. The growth of natural hay is luxuriant. Mixed with this is a profused growth of wild vetch and pea vine which is at most succulent food for cattle and just the thing for milch cattle or to finish them off for market. Water can be had in abundance everywhere. No farmer here is without his abundant supply. The Tofield district can undertake the care on any terms, mutually satisfactory, for upwards of several hundreds of cattle for the farmers of the south.

FARMERS, NOTE. If you are one of the farmers of the TOFIELD district who is able to get into a proposition of wintering horses cattle, sheep or hogs from the south of the province, call, phone or write the Standard office giving us your name, location, kind of stock wanted and number that you can take care of and the terms on which you will take them and the Standard will be pleased to pass the information along to the proper authorities so that a mutually satisfactory arrangement can be made. Get busy on the time is passing.

Personal and Local

Help to make the 1914 Tofield Fair a huge success. Sept 10 11th.

Reggie Blanchard and Glen Coles made a trip to Mr Blanchard's on and one-half miles south east of Ryley last Sunday with their bicycles.

Last Saturday night a match in lawncrossing Basket Ball match between Tofield and Ryley was played on which Ryley won.

P. R. Anderson of Bardo was a visitor to town on Monday. He reports harvesting in his section as well started, cutting into the hay ing operations before these were completed. Mr Anderson's wheat is well matured and ready for harvesting. He expects an excellent crop.

P. R. Alves, formerly of Chauvin, B C is on a visit to his brother on the latter's homestead west of lakeshore. He has been well around the world on his travels and was pleasantly surprised last week on his arrival here to find such a luxuriant growth of vegetation when so many parts of the country is suffering with rather the other extreme of conditions. He is thinking of remaining and going into cattle raising. At one time Mr. Alves was one of the STANDARD's subscribers who was living in Cuba.

WAR NEWS

Antwerp has received a bastaun of fire in an aerial bombardment by a Zeppelin by night. Fearful havoc was wrought by the explosions of bombs and a terrible panic ensued.

Canada is to send a second contingent and mobilization is to commence at once. The above events has changed my reluctance to proceed to the call to a keen desire to serve the Empire.

The basis on situation is said to be very serious in the German empire. Telegrams from Berlin via Paris state the populace in the German capital is shouting for bread at the doors of the Imperial palace. The situation explains why the Germans have attempted to save such heavy tribute from the Belgians.

Orders have been issued by the Austro-Hungarian government for the dismemberment of her ships by China.

Monday August 24th. A battle is raging between the forces and the Germans along a vast line of action.

The allied armies are at all points assuming the offensive. It is thought that the battle will occur several days.

Japan has formally declared war against Germany.

British papers are warning the public that the war is only beginning.

TOFIELD FAIR THURSDAY AND FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 10th and 11th

Fair Next Week is Expected to be Best Ever Held in Tofield District. Entries Coming Tumbling in Fast

Secretary Rogers of the Tofield Agricultural Society is Fairly trembling in his shoes with all the work which is showering in on him to attend to the hundreds of entries which are coming in for the Big Fair next week. The interest being manifested in the Fair is strong and the list of exhibits promises to be the biggest ever displayed at Tofield. Not only will the number of exhibits from the local district be more numerous than hitherto but from the number of inquiries which have been coming in from outside points those also promise to far exceed those of previous years.

Exhibits in all the grains, vegetables, dairy, fancy work, art and school work will all be in place on the first day and judging will commence at 9 a.m. on Friday. All live stock must be in place on early on the morning of second day and judging will commence at 11 a.m. Stock brought in on the first day will be taken care of by the society in the way of protection at the Grounds.

This is the Tofield District's Big Annual Day and it is hoped and urged upon all in town and Country to join in making the Fair the huge success and advertising factor which it is getting to be.

Council

Council met in regular session last Monday evening. Very little business came up for disposal. Further improvements to the main drain at the deep cut was ordered gone on with. This means the placing of more slides basing in the bottom of the cut to avoid caving and thus filling up the drain. The salary of the municipal health officer was set at $30 per annum. Current accounts to date were passed and an item from the Edmonton Test & Station Co. was referred to the Board of Trade for adjustment.

The Methodist Sunday School will hold a picnic on the afternoon of Labor day, next Monday, at the grove opposite Mr. Jamieson's lot which all are invited. Come and bring your baskets.

As the result of the Standard's publication during the past two weeks of articles bearing on the fourth being suffered by the farmers of the south and the assistance which the farmers of the Tofield district can give their less fortunate brothers of the south to the mutual satisfaction of both, many farmers have daily visited the Standard Office to state their willingness and readiness to consider propositions for the care and feeding stock. The Standard has passed on the information to the live stock commissioner, who it is expected, will take the necessary action to eventually bring the farmers of this district and those of the south together. We may have something with reference to this to announce shortly.

Charlie Brenner, W. Benson, and others came down from the city on Monday and went over to their camp at the south of the lake where they will make their headquarters for their annual duck hunt. Ducks are plentiful this year and the enthusiasm for the hunt was at strong as the opening of the season on the 1st.

It Would Be Wonderful

A workman, endeavoring to explain to one of his mates what a phenomenon was, made the following attempt:

"It's like this. Supposing you were to go out into the country and see a field of thistles growing."

"Yes," assented his friend.

"Well, that would not be a phenomenon?"

"No, that's quite clear," agreed the other man.

"But suppose you were to see a lark singing away up in the sky."

"Yes."

"Well, that would not be a phenomenon?"

"No, that also seems clear."

"But imagine there is a bull in the field."

"Yes," his friend could imagine that.

"Then that would not be a phenomenon?"

"No."

"But, now, Bill, look here. Suppose you saw that bull sitting on them thistles whistling like a lark —well, that would be a phenomenon."

How The Kaiser's Soldiers Train for War

German field Artillery during manoeuvres traversing rough country with a field piece.

The Kaiser's vast army for war, and the general European conflict which now seems to be at hand will find the German army ready, trained by constant drilling to withstand the hardships and rigors of war.

It will be remembered that in 1871, when the town was last Berlin that France had declared war, General Von Moltke awakened from his sleep, merely gave directions to procure some papers from a certain drawer in his desk in the War Office.

These papers were elaborate plans for an invasion of France. It is probable that plans for an invasion of France, Russia or England have already been prepared in the general staff.

War News

Monday.—That the French lines are still falling back before the German advance is indicated by an official statement issued by the French war office, which says that the progress of the German right wing has obliged the French to yield ground.

Earl Kitchener, the British Secretary for war gives in detail the part played by British troops in the operations in Belgium and France. These operations extend from August 23rd to 26th and the British losses numbered in the neighborhood of 9000. The combination and sports of the British troops in the front are described as excellent, and reinforcements have been sent that will more than fill the vacancies.

A German Aviator has appeared over Paris and was engaged on Sunday in dropping bombs in a populous section of the city. Several of the bombs failed to explode, according to the accounts, and the only two persons injured were women.

A Berlin despatch says that the German army is energetically pursuing the Russians in the neighborhood of Allenstein, East Prussia.

Very little authentic news is coming through from the front. Eleven German War Vessels Sunk

Eleven German war vessels were destroyed on Aug. engagement between the British and German fleets last Sunday behind Heligoland Island, which guards the entrance to the Kiel Canal. So far as could be ascertained from the British official reports issued at the Admiralty in London, the British losses were comparatively slight.

LAST CHANCE

To Buy Shares at 50c. par value $1.00

An option has been given to a stock broker in the United States on 20,000 shares for a short term, and considering his ability and system for marketing stock, it is wholly unlikely that any of the shares will remain unsold when the time expires.

We have good brokers and agents handling the sale of our stock in the United States where the War has not affected the money market as it has in Canada and have an army of salesmen over there.

Our Managing Director will leave for a central point in that field, about the Tenth of the present month, and will remain there until sufficient stock has been disposed of for development purposes in the Tofield District.

After the above mentioned date, no stock certificates will be issued from the Tofield office, but applications for stock will be taken there and referred to the managing director, who will issue the certificates as the stock is purchased.

It must be distinctly understood that as only 20,000 shares are allotted to be sold at 50c, no applications for stock in this future can be entertained when the 20,000 shares are disposed of.

THIS fact is becoming more and more impressed upon the public mind, that in the land question lies the ultimate solution of the problem of the unemployed. It is clear that when a man goes on the land and there earns a living by producing food required by others he is not only engaged in useful work himself but he is providing work for others in supplying him with manufactured goods, and in transporting and marketing his products, thus starting in motion the endless chain of industry.

War Not Over Until Hohenzollerns Abolished.

MAKING progress at an amazing rate in spite of the best opposition that can be offered by the French, British and Belgians, the German army, as the despatches say, is now within 75 miles of Paris, and operating in a country in which there are no prepared defences short of the ring of fortresses which surrounds the capital of France. The investment of Paris, says the London Times military expert, cannot now be banished from the possibilities.

In the meantime the Russians, in the eastern theatre, are making progress almost as rapid as the Germans in the west. Konigsberg and Allenstein have been surrounded and put out of the field as opponents to Russian advance. Danzig is reported in a state of anarchy, which is not all astonishing considering that its population is largely Polish and the Poles in this war, strange as it may seem, are fighting for liberty, of which they have a promise at the hands of Russia. Posen, the strongest position between the Russian border and the Oder river, is reported to be in a state not much more satisfactory for German chances than Danzig, making promise for a very poor opposition to the Russians when they come up to that point.

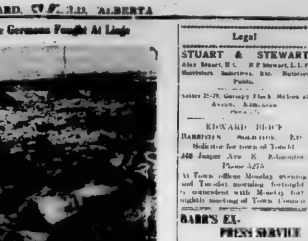
Berlin in the meantime, is commencing to realize the impending fate which is certain to come with the approach of the Russians and Berlin is in no state to stand a seige, which as Paris is strongly fortified. The whole panorama of war would resolve itself into a race the question being whether or not the Germans can reach and demolish Paris before the Russians can reach Berlin.

In considering the possibilities it is worth remembering that Germany has already called out her last man and is now at her maximum strength, whereas the allies, especially Russia and Great Britain, have not yet commenced to bring forward their full strength. With every day that passes, Germany will be getting weaker, while the British and Russian forces will be getting stronger. If Paris can make a stand for three weeks or a month Germany has no chance whatever of even partial success, but will be driven back by sheer weight onto the defensive within her own lines. Even waiving that, there is always the possibility that by a conjunction of the British forces from Ostend and the Belgium forces from Antwerp the German communications may be cut behind them or even that the "iron ring which Germany is drawing through Namur, Mons, Valenciennes, Arras, and Amiens may be cut in two and the far end of the German army separated from the centre and south, now opposite Longwy and Belfort respectively. In this latter case, Germany's position would be such that a crushing defeat would be inevitable.

But even presuming that the worst should happen that the Germans should be able to stand the Russians off and at the same time capture Paris, the war would not then be over by a long, long way. Emperor William, to say his last word, preserve the house of Hohenzollern from being erased, might be induced to sue for peace before the Russian and British armies come up with their overwhelming millions. But the fact that Emperor William might want peace certainly would not bring it now, and the more successful he is in the meantime the less likelihood there is for early peace. From the Russian point of view, peace can never come until the Czech and Slav provinces of Germany and Austria have been put back where they naturally belong, the former to an autonomous province under Russian suzerenity, and the latter absorbed by Russia, to be placed along with the remainder of the Slavs of Europe. From the British point of view, the war cannot be over until the House of Hohenzollern and the House of Hapsburg have been absolutely wiped out and provision made for a government which will make it impossible, for any future war lords to throw the world into conflict.

Great Britain will never allow Europe to settle back into the place where any one nation can send nations to war without the consent of the people. To do so at a time when the Germans were even partially successful would be to court the ultimate destruction of Great Britain and the empire. Britain might better fight it out to the end now.

How The Germans Fought At Liege



After many futile assaults on the Liege fortifications the German army now digs trenches for the protection of their infantry. This method of fighting has somewhat retarded their advance.

How to put up Fruit without Sugar
A new but good Idea

To The Editor

Dear Sir,

The business — rigmond British Columbia preserving peaches and plums are just beginning to appear upon the market, and, in answer once with custom, the prairie housewife is about to commence her annual fruit preserving activities.

The war cares, however, has had such an effect upon the price of sugar, that many people are wondering whether they may not have to curtail the quantities of fruit that they will put up.

It is in the solicitude to re assure such a large class of your readers that I write to call attention to two things.

(1) While so many essential articles of food have risen in price on account of the war, fruit is and will be as cheap as ever. There will be distinct economy, therefore, in using it to replace as far as possible other more expensive food.

(2) Excellent results can be secured with fruit put up without the use of sugar. Although not a general practice, this has been done by many people for years, and authorities on preserving all agree that fruit so preserved retains its distinctive flavor very much better.

And altogether to that put up in the ordinary way. The only point is that when preserving without sugar, it is necessary to be particularly careful to see that the jars are sealed air tight, and to ensure this, the paraffin wax top should be used in every case. Of course sugar will eventually have to be used in preparing the food for the table, but, in this connection I may point out, (1) That very much less sugar is used in this way, when preserved to taste, and, (2) That wholesale prices of sugar in New York have already gone down a little, and there is every likelihood that, long before and great proportion of this season's preserves is used, sugar prices will be normal again.

To put up fruits without sugar, simply prepare the peaches or plums in the ordinary way, place them in jars, fill with cold water, then place the jars in a boiler filled with cold water, and heat to the boiling point. A board should be placed in the bottom of the boiler to keep the jars from the direct heat of the stove. Fruit thus prepared will be found excellent for pies, delicious for eating with cream, and generally, superior to the sugar-syrup preserves. If the jars are properly air-tight they will also keep quite a long.

Yours very truly
J. FORSYTH SMITH

Market Commissioner.

Famous British General Who Is War Minister

General Kitchener, who received a title in the birthday grants by the King, is the selection of the cabinet ministry in England for the War portfolio, recently vacated Col. Seeley and taken over by Premier Asquith. In the present crisis the selection of Kitchener, who has commanded British armies with success in India, Egypt and South Africa, means that British intends conducting a vigorous campaign against Germany.

Kitchener was scheduled to sail for Egypt when the war crisis broke in England and his sailing was immediately cancelled.

Germany's Influence Over Austria

Historic traditions, racial influences, economic necessity, political entanglements, military organization and imperialist sentiment, combine in all the explanations of Germany's willingness to enter and frame a European war. The creation of the German Empire was the work of Bismarck. It was effected, not by diplomacy, but by the strength of the Prussian army, which, in 8-month's day had become the most perfect fighting engine in the world. "It is neither with parliamentary oratory" has much told the Prussian Chamber of Deputies, "nor by the votes of majorities, that the great questions of the hour can be solved. It is only by blood and iron." The ended With this reason, he even had the provinces of Holstein & Hesstein from Denmark in 1864, supported by decrees Prussian leadership on the German speaking world, and in 1871 made the French provinces of Alsace Lorraine, a part of the German Empire. The genius of Bismarck has given to German's their faith in Prussian methods of settling great questions by "blood and the sword" has grown with it. The Prussian army, the efficient fighting machine of the middle of last century, has developed into the vast army and powerful navy of the German Empire of to-day. Germany's expansion is a natural phenomenon. The country is overpopulated it must find outlets for its surplus. Instance points to the East, Servian and Bulgaria, abound with raw materials needed by Germany's increasing industries. Asia Minor is a land unrevolously rich in undeveloped resources, and even now subjects of the Austrian Emperor, but within Austrian boundaries are also millions of Hungarians, twenty million slavs and several million representatives of the Latin races. Austria, as a power, is the creature of German foundations. The political intrigues of Servia gain added significance when viewed in this light. Austria has naturally turned to Germany for support, and the result has been Austria's complete dependence on Germany for over a generation. Every move under taken by Austria is suggested by the managers of Germany's foreign policy. Austria's annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, her determination to prevent Servia from obtaining a seaport on the Adriatic and then last act of aggression against Servia, are unquestionably to be interpreted as part of a policy outlined at Berlin. The German is confidently expect Austria to become part of their country.

Austria's territorial acquisitions are looked upon as ultimately destined to increase Germany's own domain, therefore, Austria's ultimatum to Servia had Germany's full support.

The Bismarckian dream of German expansion and power has been widened by force of economic necessity, the belief

The war must not end in either ... The ... must be so beaten down as to be incapable of ... Nothing ... anything less than the complete ... of ... government of Europe and ... world.

... may sound Utopian, but, as the Premier ... put it ... though not too strongly, we must choose between ... and peace. It declares that the ... of ... ambitions ... and local hegemonies ... forever ... Labour Party has ended, once for all ... Treaty of 1870.

After this any war must be a general war. ... side to Balkanic there can be no more ... and ... there we have probably seen the ... of them. What is then continent has reached this stage of evolution it must go forward without flinching, and the longer it hesitates to see the remedy the more surely does it sound the death-knell of its own primacy in civilization.

Great Britain tried the policy of non intervention in the affairs of the European continent. For a long time it was the accepted opinion, shared by men of all parties, that Canada could never take part in an European war. Jibes over the failure of these theories and predictions are out of place. We are all faced with a new condition, with the results of the working of a relentless force.

A century ago this continent was so isolated from Europe that the battle of New Orleans was fought in ignorance of the fact that peace had been made in Europe. Science has made the world smaller. The telegraph, the steamship, the railway have brought men closer together, for good or evil. Science has immensely increased the powers of destruction and the swiftness of military movements. We ... must make science our servant and make it work for good, not for evil.

We realize that we had entertained the hope that this end would be attained by peaceful evolution. It is now coming through the shock of a tremendous convulsion perhaps of more than one convulsion. It is coming, not by a slow, ... process, but by a heroic and dangerous surgical operation perhaps more than one.

Some may see in this a triumph of militarism over pacifism. It is idle now to wrangle over what has been said on both sides. But surely it must be perceived that we are moving either toward a governed and ordered world, or to ward the ruin of civilization. "We cannot afford," says the Nation, "to let history run in Stoic circles, in which each century meets the fate of the last, and worlds are launched and circle to a fated alternation."

We must face the present situation with courage. There is no use in repining over the defeat of hopes that the end would come in a gentler way. The plague must be stamped out as small pox would be stamped out. The wild beast must be hunted out of the jungle, and the jungle opened up to the light. All controversies, all mere wars of words, must be ended.

The danger is troubled right be past

What Are We In Tofield Going To Do

It is not about time that we in Tofield should be asking ourselves what are we going to do towards contributing to the National Patriotic Fund? There are many things that can be done in the way of contributions. If the money is about there are articles a plenty which are badly needed and some of which can be furnished by the poorest among us. Now is indeed a good time for the ladies of the town to organize an effort which will be well worthy of the community in which we live. And the men, yes, there is no dearth of lines along which the men folk may co-operate. They probably will have to foot the bills anyway, directly or indirectly. It seems to our editorial mind that not so long ago there was a well attended m seeing held for consideration of hospital themes at which both ladies and gentlemen took lively interest. How much more the present need! Remember the boys at the front and the maimed and sick who are brought back to hospital.

Nietzsche

THERE is another lashing spirit which has proved itself a little amenable for the time being in Germany and which has occasionally found detestable expressions even in some of the university professors the leaders of her boasted culture is the offspring of her false gods which the intellectual world of Germany has for two generations been more and more murdering after. It was in the fifties of the last century that the brilliant reputable pessimist Schoppenhauer began to gain dismal ascendancy in German thinking and to preach the swell and the pessimistic the self-dominant factors of life, his own great powers of mind being under the sway of a disordered and unanthropolic life. Nietzsche a decapitated Schoppenhauer, another neurotic, found the soil prepared for a still more brutal new morality. Surpassing all the Christian virtues and inverting the "overman" ruthlessly to triumph under foot the sensible head of the weak, degenerate the poor in spirit. It is strange that "leadership in culture" should culminate in this complete contradiction of the gospel, an I that a capricious sagacity of the classes should percolate down among the masses to a controlling extent; but it is not strange that this hideously anti-social conception of life should culminate in a deliberately organized orgy of brute spoliation. The cup of this iniquity seems to have been full, henceforth there will be a new Germany.—Witness

The Exhibition

THE 8th annual Exhibition and Stock Show held under the auspices of the Tofield Agricultural Society, held last Thursday and Friday, was an unqualified success. That the Society is fulfilling one of its important functions in bringing together in competitive manner the produce of a range farm dairy, garden, kitchen, ladies' work room and the schools of the district and by rewarding entries by prize, energy and perseverance, improving the products generally in all these various branches of industry, is apparent to the most casual observer. The success which has attended the efforts so far of the Society should spur its members and the directors to greater efforts in the future. The scope covered by the directors of the Fair is increasing every year and this year's Fair was a splendid advertisement of what every Tofielder might well be proud. With the year's Exhibition as our criterion other plans should be started early to make next year's Exhibition a much better than this. One matter which becomes within the jurisdiction of Agricultural Societies also has belonged to, neglected by the Tofield Society, which if it did receive a good thing, and which would in all probability lead to improvement of the departments of the Annual Fair, both in number of exhibits and quality, is the annual Field Competition in which the Department of Agriculture cooperates with the Society. It is altogether likely that were these competitions conducted by the Society a much greater interest would be taken by farmers in the grain department of the Fair. Taken as a whole, however, the Fair as it was was a signal success and the Directors are to be congratulated for its being such

Every Farmer Has Patriotic Duty In Addition To That of Self Interest

NOW is the time for every farmer in the Tofield district to seriously consider the advisability of making every effort to an unprecedented increase in wheat production in the next year to come. While the Tofield district is essentially a mixed farming country and the products of the average farm are many and varied, the fact remains that for average yields and quality the Tofield district stands second to none as a wheat producing section.

That trade war is creating conditions in the food markets of the world which will have been unparalled within the next twelve months. From humanitarian motives, if from no other, the tillers of the soil should make mighty efforts to do all in their power to stay the horrible conditions which are beginning to be felt through out the war stricken countries of Europe but which will not be felt so sorely and so severely as during the next year or two. It is true, doubtless, that owing to these conditions prices of grain will have greatly enhanced and the wheat producers will gain thereby.

Stock shipping has been brisk during the past two weeks, nine or twenty waggon loads having been sent from the C.N.R. station here to Edmonton. This is one of Ukraine in Alberta.

Donald McCallum, has secured another mundare residence and is shortly occupy it himself, this not having another worthy citizen to the town.

Mr. Rosendahl has built just north of the Alberta an extra office and his drugs and stationery store, also the Standard Bank will occupy this building but it should be remembered that the extra income is the price of labor and the increased energies of widows and orphans in countless numbers caused by this unholy war. Let every grain grower realize fully the many conditions which make it absolutely necessary for him to do all in his power to make the nation's food supply and thereby to correspondingly lessen the world wide suffering which is bound to follow in the path of this awful world's catastrophe.

Unparalleled Struggle Still In Progress

Tremendous Artillery Duel Being Fought Out in Battle of Aisne. Bombardment Most Severe. Attacks and Counter-Attacks of Infantry. Terrific Slaughter. Allies Make Progress in Spite of Fearful Odds. Russians, Montenegrins and Serbs. Victorious.

London, Sept. 21—7.56 p. m. The official press bureau announced at 7.45 this evening.

"Since the last report was received from General French further counter attacks have been made and successfully repulsed."

Paris, Sept. 21—11.10 p.m.—The official communication issued tonight says:

The engagements today have been less violent. We have made appreciable progress, notably between Rheims and Argonne.

London, Sept. 22—(2.47 a.m.)—The sixth day of battle is being fought with the same ceaseless energy as were the previous six days. Very little ground is won or lost. The artillery is engaged in an incessant roar, and the troops are being given very little rest.

Every trench won on the left has been won by the greatest sacrifices. Some of the British regiments have paid very dearly but the French have brought fresh heavy ordnance, and both French and British artillery are hurrying to the line by the railway through Boisons, directly behind the British position.

All the while the battle has proceeded, a small army of civilians has been out burying the dead French and British soldiers are being buried together, nearly always close to where they fell, and their graves mark the course of battle.

The German dead are being burned. Their bodies are placed on piles of stark wood and oil is poured over them and the pyre lighted.

London, Sept. 21—9.35 p.m.—The unparalleled struggle on the River Aisne, which commenced a last a week ago Saturday, has developed into a single operation. The two armies, strongly entrenched, are carrying on an artillery duel, while the infantry make attacks and counter-attacks, which are in the nature of sorties from a besieged fortress.

Occasionally one or the other gains a little ground, but it is so little that the opposing forces remain in their trenches or take up positions in new entrenchments immediately behind those from which they were driven.

It is now becoming the conviction of military men that nothing but outflanking movements can have any serious effects on either army. The German have, a word ing to their own official report, been strongly reinforced both on their right, where Gen. Von. Kluck is making such a stubborn stand in almost impregnable positions on the hills north of the Aisne, and in the centre, where the Germans are making almost superhuman efforts to recapture Rheims. It is probable the desire to recapture this town at all costs, because of its importance as the key to important communications that will improve all their positions for attack or retirement, that has led the Germans to continue the bombardment which has resulted in the destruction of the famous cathedral.

The bombardment has been of the most severe kind. It is being directed from Brimont, which the Germans reoccupied but lost again, and from other hills around the town. The French have brought up additional heavy artillery in an attempt to drive the Germans out of these hills, for until this is done the situation in the town must be difficult.

On the allies left the French report obtain another advance on the right bank of the River Oise as far as the hights of Lassigny, west of Noyon, which has been the centre of heavy fighting for a week past.

Severe fighting also continues north of the Aisne, where the Germans, the French official communique says, have been repulsed at several points with considerable losses.

This is an extremely difficult country over which to make an advance. The plateau of Craonne is of limestone formation with the sides almost as perpendicular as walls; the valleys in wet weather become quagmires. It was on this plateau just a century ago that Napoleon failed to check Napoleon.

The allies apparently have scaled the walls of the plateau and now hold the hights, but ahead of them they found General Kluck in great force and are now awaiting the outcome of the attempt to turn the flank which would clear the road for them. The French army, which is trying to work around the Verman right, is pushing its way slowly along. Starting from Compiegne, it reached Noyon, and today is on the heights of Lassigny.

Its next objective point is Tergnier 10 miles from Laon, an important railway junction which the Germans are using for provisioning their forces.

The French have made some headway in Champagne and on the western slope of the Argonne and have reoccupied Massiges, Hesbecourt and Mesnilles, but elsewhere the situation remains as it was. One thing certain, neither front has been broken all attempts at this having been repulsed and while the German right may be bending back a little, it is not yet out-flanked.

All this fighting has been carried on in most miserable weather, a continuous downpour, which so often accompanies battles, filling the trenches with water and putting the brake on the movements of men and horses.

The Russian grip on the eastern Austrian forces in Galicia is holding relentless. According to Petrograd advices, the fortress of Jaroslav is being bombarded. Przemysl has been invested and General Rauch's army, which is retreating towards Cracow, has been surrounded. The capture of the town of Dubrowko, on the River Save, in the Bosnian, has cut Przemysl off from the western armies, so that it must now rely for defence upon the Austrian and German corps which are now trudging down in huge columns to be added to their ranks.

Driven out of South Poland and separated from the main body of the Austrian army, he has been compelled to make a race for it now, in which he was, according to Russian accounts, beaten by the Russian army, coming southward from the Vistula to Barnanow.

The Russians are now on more of Galicia that they are organizing a civil government for that region as well as for Bukowina, the Austrian crown land of which they are complete masters.

The Germans have retaliated to some extent by penetrating the territory of Suwalki, in Russian Poland, and further to the north. But the Russians are contending themselves with defending their fortress until the work in Galicia is completed.

The Montenegrins and Servians are reported to be meeting with success and the Montenegrins are now approaching Serajevo, capital of Bosnia.

The exploit of the German scout or Emden, in the bay of Bengal, has caused quite a stir in England. It is supposed that British warships are now engaged in searching for her but then far German cruisers which have been free in the Pacific ocean are here succeeded in keeping out of the way.

R. J. Latimer of Montreal and his daughter Miss Kathleen were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Emery last Friday. Mr Emery is a nephew of Mr Latimer. The latter is an active business man from the eastern provinces. He is greatly interested in the development of the west. Chatting over the general business conditions he said that things were not bad as he had as many people but imagined and that there was no reason for many to think that Canada was to be a spell of hard times. Mr. Latimer is in the carriage business and is on his return from a trip to the coast.

Wm. Lee and family moved out on to the farm last week. Mr. Lee and the boys are starting farming on section 10, some four miles south of town.

The members of Lakeview Rebecah Lodge, I. O. O. F., held a very enjoyable party on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs E. S. Cole.

The Cornhill Rural Municipal Council met in regular session last Saturday and transacted considerable business. A number of interested ratepayers from many points throughout the municipality attended the meeting to hear the deliberations of that august body.

When the soldiers come marching home, do you, ladies and gentlemen, wish to feel that you have done a part, however small in bringing victory to our arms? If so, buy a ticket for the Patriotic Concert.

A very pleasant social was held by the young people of the Methodist church last Thursday evening at which an appreciated program of musical and song was rendered. Refreshments of delightful variety were partaken of at the close of the program.

19th Alta. Dragoons Will Go To Front With First Force

Edmonton Squadron Among Most Efficient In Concentration Camp

Valcartier Camp, Que., Sept. 18. Only 200 cavalry are stated to go with the first Canadian Expeditionary force. These are supplied wholly by the 19th Alberta Dragoons, under Col. Jamieson, whose lines are among the most efficient on the camp. The second in command is Major Grisebach, of Edmonton, and the other officers are Lieuts. N. F. Watson, J. W. Tyrrell, K. W. Edmiston, D. N. Ferris, H. M. Dawson and W. G. Stedman. There are many western cowmen among them, and their mascot is a husky dog.

Every horse came from Alberta, and so keen was the competition to join that three lieutenants, Toomey, Parker and Franklin, are serving in the ranks. The men of the force will be armed only with swords and the Colt automatic .45 revolver. There is some regret current that this body may be recruited to the strength of a regiment, but this is not likely.

F. W. Whillans of Tofield is a trooper in the above cavalry squadron.

What The Tofield Ladies Are Doing

The Tofield Ladies Patriotic effort is not like those days. Following the organization last week a committee was entirely appointed to take in hand the matter of arrangements for the programme of the patriotic concert to be held shortly. Last Saturday the ladies noted the call of the Edmonton committee for a large number of socks and shirts for the Canadian boys at the front and that immediate delivery was necessary. At once an executive meeting was called and a decision made to send $25 to the executive of the Edmonton work for immediate use as a start for the boys. The time was too short to make up the order at home. In the meantime the ladies are going forward with work to hand

Ladies Will Meet .

A special meeting of the Ladies Patriotic Society will be held in the Methodist church next Tuesday at 4 p.m. Important business will be transacted. Every lady interested in the work is invited to come and help.

Fire Protection

THE time of year is fast approaching now when proper precautions are necessary to be taken for the prevention of fire. The prairie grass is fast curing and even now is in fit condition to make quickly and immense material for a blaze. Those with haystacks located in such positions of jeopardy would do well to surround them and stack with fire guards. There are also many buildings which would be the better for having proper guards placed around them. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Needed Drainage Being Done

THE farmers of the district residing in the territory south of town will view with unalloyed satisfaction the commencement of the work by the department of Public Works on the drainage of the big slough near the hill south of Tofield and south of the Dobell Coal Mine. The lack of proper drainage facilities at this point has operated greatly to the disadvantage of the farmers south of Tofield and has caused no end of inconvenience to all those who have need to use the road which runs south from town and crosses this slough a mile south of the town. It is proposed to bring the water in this slough north over the hill and down to the municipal ditch which runs across Rosedale Station and the outlet of which is at the west end of the railway yards. The dirt taken from the drain during construction will be hauled onto the grade across the slough to raise the permanent grade. The action of the department will be a great blessing to the farmers, mine operators and all others who have occasion to travel this highway.

Prepare For A Full Crop

IT is pleasing and gratifying to note that the farmers of the Tofield district are preparing to utilize their farm resources in their fullest measure and to take advantage of the opportunity of the present season to prepare for a full crop at the next harvest.

The opportunity is at hand for several weeks of fall plowing and preparation for the seed bed for early spring seeding of wheat. October is just the opening and within a few days the threshing of the present year's crop will have been fairly well completed. We in Canada are at present forming on the basis of war prices. We are called upon to prove right now, and for the next few painful months of fighting, that we commercially the "Granary of the Empire," not simply with agricultural potentialities but with agricultural products ready grown and available for consumption between now and the time that the war closes. If our boasted ability to feed an Empire in war time is to be anything more than a hollow claim, we must use it at work by, work and month by month right now.

Every reasonably effort should be put forth this fall to be in line to raise a large crop next fall. While there is nothing at present which would fix as a guide as a market prices for the next year, the present war which is the most titanic military struggle the world has ever seen, will certainly leave many of the nations involved in such a condition that it will pay the Canadian farmer to have a good supply of food stuffs to sell one year hence. In England the farmers are being strongly urged to prepare every possible acre for wheat crop. The reason is plain. War or no war, the nation wishes to have food supplies assured. In dangerous, trying possibly starvation times, a loaf in the hand is worth ever more than two in the bush of uncertainty. IF THE ENGLISH FARMER IS WELL ADVISED TO PREPARE AS NEVER BEFORE FOR A BUMPER CROP IN 1915 THE SAME ADVICE IS PRETTY GOOD FOR THE CANADIAN FARMER AS WELL.

One fact stands forth which is above everything else namely, that the war is crippling European agriculture to some extent for the next year at least and that American and other overseas areas will find a keen demand for all exportable products. Does not this mean that the Canadian farmer should prepare his land this fall, and as much of it as possible, for next year's crop?

Another thing, and it is well to note this in passing, it will pay to do it well. Stipshod work, simply to increase one's acreage, is just about as likely to lead to profitless crops next season as in any season. Good work will always yield a fair profit. The quality of the work of preparation of the seed bed is always a strong factor in the production of profit producing crops. Let every kernel of the seed sown find a life producing, well-worked soil in which to germinate and nature will do the rest.

In preparing land now, so as to grow as large a crop as possibly next year the Canadian farmer is not only rendering the best possible service to the British Empire, but to himself as well.

THE medical fraternity became, and only became of necessity, armed, like the world's big policeman of to-day. The Red Cross is holding the enemy at bay, keeping open a line of help and aid for the merchant marine of all nations other than Great Britain's enemies, enabling the world's commerce to go to and fro from peaceful to consumer should surely be evidence enough to the most skeptical that there is every reason why he should voluntarily and enthusiastically support mentally if not in a more tangible manner the Empire of which he is a unit. In what a position would every Canadian find himself if it were otherwise? In what a demoralized state would be the ocean traffic the grain and stock markets? What would the farmer in the Tofield district be getting today for his oats, wheat, cattle or hogs? Yet there are some, thank God they are few, that can not see just why Canadians should mix themselves up in Great Britain's struggles against the war-lordism of Germany Fie upon such unworthy thoughts. He is an unworthy Canadian indeed, natural-born or naturalized who, would risk to such a stand.

Destruction of Louvain By The Germans

Photograph of Hotel de Ville (City Hall) at Louvain, Belgium, after the burning and sacking of the city by German Troops who alleged that they had been fired upon by Belgian civilians. The city hall and the railroad station were practically the only buildings left standing. At the left of the picture are the ruins of the famous St. Peter's Church and to the right of the city hall are the wreckage of several of the Old Flemish houses, which made Louvain a delight to tourists and artists.

The Louvain Hotel de Ville is considered one of most marvellous pieces of architecture in Europe. It is of the pure Gothic type and contains priceless art treasures.

A Prize of War

Among the seventeen Howitzers captured by the British troops this is one, the largest of its kind was taken. This gun is the largest of its type ever made, it is drawn across the country by a motor tractor and is furnished with supports which enable it to take the recoil with the resistance of the pneumatic cylinders seen in the picture.

Belgians Awaiting the German Uhlans

This picture gives an idea of how the valiant Belgians met the rush of the overwhelming German Uhlans. Barricading the streets a few men with any available obstacle the determined Belgians fired point blank into the charging Uhlans again and again, but the invading hordes were in such great numbers that they fairly swept over the defenders. Later news reports, however, told how the Germans suffered unbelievable loss at the hands of such a few defenders.

Refugees at Termonde and the Ruins of Their Houses

A scene of destruction and desolation in the Belgian city of Termonde after the German army had swept through on its way to France. Practically every house and building in the city was completely destroyed, many of the inhabitants perishing in the flames of their homes. Those who escaped with their lives were forced to seek refuge in neighboring towns or other places even more distant. Several parties, one aggregating 150 persons, went to England, while others sought refuge in Paris, Ghent and Antwerp.

The family in the photograph is searching the ruins of their former home for valuable trinkets and keepsakes which might have escaped destruction in the flames.

U.S. Ambassador Representing England and France.

James W. Gerard, Ambassador to Germany, is here shown bidding farewell to many American friends at the railroad station at Berlin who at the time, were fleeing from the war infested country while they had the chance. These are busy times for the Ambassador as besides handling the diplomatic matters in his own country he also represents England and France during the present crisis.

Storing Vegetables For Table Use

By A. Margaret Palmer

A good home cellar solves the problem of storing vegetables for table use for the average family. It is the most convenient method, as they can be quickly and easily reached. The chief difficulty with most home cellars is that they are poorly ventilated, improperly heated and some not frost proof. A cellar that cannot be thoroughly ventilated and heated at a definite point will not keep vegetables well or in good condition for table use. This is the first thing to consider. It should have two doors, one to be used for a coal chute and the other for storing fruit.

The cellar should be thoroughly cleaned and white washed before storing it for the season. A good coat of whitewash in spring and fall will destroy germs and in summer when anything else is plentiful plenty of good clean barrels, boxes, bins and barrels.

The barrels and boxes will be found very convenient for the storing of roots, beets, parsnips, salsify, potatoes, etc. These receptacles should be packed in straw or dry sand, which can keep the vegetables fresh and crisp until late in the spring. If not packed in sand they will wither and shrink somewhat but they are not for any use. Place a layer of sand in the bottom of the barrel or box, then a layer of vegetables, another of sand and so on until it is full. Upon storing any vegetables for use, care should be taken each time to cover any that may be exposed. Label each box or barrel, as it is filled. This will prevent disturbing the contents of any box earlier than the one looking for. Take out one in after and leave time looking for the right box. One must bear in mind to disturb the vegetables as little as possible after they have been stored and packed away.

Place cabbages on shelves with their "feet" up and without touching each other. Do not remove them from pumpkins or squashes for if leaves close keeping qualities. These keep best placed on a shelf too. Keep a careful watch of these, as they sometimes spoil more quickly than others, and remove showing signs of spoiling first.

Celery should be taken from the ground on a clear day. Much of the soil of the roots and part of the stalk firmly in a box with sand under, around it and up to the top of the blanched part, but not so far as to cover the buds or tips. Place the box in the coolest part of the cellar and flat on the floor. Moisten the sand down out, moisten it from time to time with water. The object to avoid in storing celery is never to place it where there is any far per or how any other frost it reaches the celery for the celery is almost the color and he unit to eat. The same is true as to [illegible] tion from moth balls, an ordinary room can be close to impart the celery from the odor, place [illegible] have absorbed. Select the [illegible] one looking taper roots of [illegible] pages around the cellar.

Onions should be pulled on a sunny day and the [illegible] stands the sun. They should be turned often and the roots cut off before storing them in a cool [illegible] ture then from the sun and frost by tempting to move them [illegible] ture. Onions will keep [illegible] sprouting and [illegible] shrivel.

Parsnips are about the hardest vegetable to pull as the roots go very deep. The soil must be loosened out way to dig them to [illegible] trench as close as possible to [illegible] onions and then they can be [illegible] lout over into the trench with a [illegible] sticking fork. Leave a few in the ground for use in the spring and they will be found to be much [illegible] sweeter than those stored away in the fall.

Tomatoes may be stored very late in the fall if the entire vine is carefully pulled up and hung upon nails or over rushes in the cellar. Green tomatoes will ripen very slowly and [illegible] of keeping, will make in transit portion easily pass [illegible]

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1914

HUNDREDS of thousands of men throughout the West, dozens of acting their duty, still receive the [illegible] and [illegible] decision to remain at home and continue [illegible] with pleasure. The decision to remain [illegible] is [illegible] more [illegible] at an early date will not [illegible] the popular appeal of the public and the call will be responded to most heartily. Canadians British born or naturalized, are wholehearted. In their support to Britain in this struggle, and will be with her all the way through to the finish.

THE Russian Minister of Finance has issued an order that the sale of vodki will be absolutely prohibited after the close of the war. The reason for the decision is worthy of the highest interest in the evolution of the Russian people since the prohibitory regulations went into effect at the opening of the struggle. It is the more significant that the government has given collected [illegible] revenue from the liquor business. Seemingly the government has come to a very decisive conclusion that prohibition pays.

IT HAS been left to Germany to emulate the worst atrocities of the dark ages, to desolate the country of the enemy for desolation's sake. The wanton destruction wrought by the Germans is a crime against all civilization which has set the world aghast and for which there is no atonement possible.

The Philadelphia Ledger in commenting upon the above, says: "If nothing were needed to complete the case against the government which provoked this terrible conflict, to alienate still further the sympathy of neutral nations, it would be this barbarous policy. Attention ranges which has characterized the movements of the German armies from the first. Who breaks, pays. The teeth of the Italian proverb will be borne home to Germany when defeat comes, as it is almost certain to do."

BRITISH Tommies amazed their French allies the other day by retiring from the trenches during a quiet spell and indulging in a good old game of foot ball. Tunics were doffed and a lively hour spent in hearty frolic. At the same time a German aviator flying high above saw the "Tommie" playing behind the trenches and reported to his commanding officer that the British had gone into a panic. His incident was typical of the "Tommies." It indicates that they are not worrying, wherever the enemy might be.

ONE of the lessons of the war seems to be that a line of infantry is more nearly impregnable than a fortress. The splendid fortress of Liege were reduced in three weeks. The well-equipped fortifications at Namur fell in less time. Yet all Austro-Hungarian efforts to reduce infantry have held each other for a solid month, and might have done so all winter but for flanking operations.

The famous old Grenfell knew an opportunity of combining [illegible] pleasure and profit in getting all hands to work and getting as much [illegible] possible, only [illegible] the crop.

The Provincial legislature opened the week for business. Although [illegible] late in the year it will be late to the war. The session will be the regular session and not the emergency session such as some of the other provinces have been holding. It was understood that the Income Act which sadly needs amending in several respects will be considerably changed.

IT IS now over a week ago since troops from India were rushed to Love landed in France. They are no doubt now in the fighting line. We may have to wait for some time before hearing how they have acted in action, but there need be no fear as to how they shall give an account of themselves.

Scene of Destruction in Louvain

Photograph taken in the city of Louvain, Belgium, almost totally destroyed by the German forces who alleged that the evacuation of the town had fired upon them. The picture shows the railroad station and the Hotel Gare du Nord with a statue left standing in front. It was a peculiar thing that most of the beautiful statues in the city were left standing while the buildings were destroyed.

Dukes Message to Departing Troops

By Bulletin Leased Wire

Ottawa, Oct. 5th.—The following message was delivered to the officers and men of each of the transports carrying the Canadian expeditionary force to the front by His Royal Highness the Governor General:

Sept. 30th 1914

"On the eve of your departure from Canada I wish to congratulate you on having the privilege of taking part, with the other forces of the crown, in fighting for the honor of King and Empire.

"You have nobly responded to the call of duty, and Canada will know how to appreciate the patriotic spirit that animates you.

"I have complete confidence that you will do your duty, and that Canada will have every reason to be proud of you.

"You leave those above with the knowledge that all Canadian hearts beat for you and that our prayers and best wishes will ever attend you. May God bless you and bring you back victorious.

(Signed) ARTHUR, F.M.,
"Governor General of Canada."

When the sea grows grey and sleet, and the moon sinks out o' sight,
And the stars turn sick an' tremble after seven hours of fight,
God keep us duty uniformen, from Pole Star to the Cross,
For we need Almighty keepin', an' some high, Almighty Boss.

For when the whole deck's throbbin'
There ain't no time for prayer,
But tis "Pant your hog tom dainty

When them wounded German fellows came a shakin' on our side
I was funny mood ar' stunch, an' my Mommie' British pride
Trembled like a silly pennant, they was all so human like;
They had eyes an' hands an' faces just like any other tike.

But when the bosun's spitton'
And we're roughin' back at it,
Say it's "Sweep the sea o' Germans!"
An' "I guess—that—hit!"

I was within past a rotan where we kept our prisoners tight.
The nearest go an' "Look to us" an' I see a funny sight:
There was two of them, a feckin' at a picture in their hand,
Just as if there's German mothers in the German Fatherland.

But when we're in the fight line,
It's "Forget your thoughts and fire!"
While the loudest sea sounds pon,
"Steady! None her up a little higher!"

When I stopped an' looked to seaward in a tiny breathin' spell
I saw a dreadnaught stagger with her nose deep in the swell.
She was struck down in the belly at the sunk an' gurgled down in
Very casual like an' careless, made no sweat to see her drown.

But when we're stripped for action,
Say, its "Glory, glory!" then,
An its "Sweep the sea o' Germans!"
As we pick the range again.

We were lyin' close in harbor cookin' up at Halifax,
I was messin' with the range grass, streakin' polish down their backs
There was bosun's mate with me—I felt like a happy English rain.
An' my mate, he says "You're lawkin' as I says "I guess that's plain!

But when we're sweatin' dirty,
An' the sea's nakedy red,
Say, its "Mates, we'll fight for England
Till the sea haul it dead!"

Sept. 15th ARTHUR L. PHELPS

The above poem, written for the Montreal Weekly Witness, is one of the many strong things appearing in that splendid journal, and coming so close upon the wrecks of our own shops grips us hard. The editorials of the "Witness" on the War Situation have the right ring to them, and are the product of a mind more than usually well informed and forenighted. Those not now getting the "Witness" may have it on trial to the end of the year by writing fifteen cents in stamps to its old time publishers, John Dougall and Son, "Witness" Block, Montreal. It costs little to try it, and people who are not getting the "Witness" do not realize what they are missing. Some do not agree with it in everything. Neither do we. But it is one of the few great worth while papers all the same—and fifteen cents gets it to the end of the year.

POLITICAL NOTES

Sask. Grain Men Despised For 0 Months Purposes

At Preston, near Ipswich, stands a picturesque 5 acting known as Preston Tower, which was constructed under somewhat romantic circumstances. The owner of the estate upon which it [illegible] was Lord de Preston, whose beautiful daughter, Ellen, possessed instinctive abilities of a high order. Fearing that intellectual achievements would be attained a the expense of her natural graces and beauty, advice was tendered to the ambitious Lord de Preston to "build a tower six storeys high, each one with purpose known." Accordingly Preston Tower was erected as a place of study and recreation for the gentle Ellen de Preston. The six storeys of Preston Tower were originally designed for the following purposes: Lower room for the dispensation of charity from seven to eight o'clock, the second room for working tapestry and fancy work from nine till ten, the third for music from ten to noon; the fourth for painting from twelve to one, the fifth for literature from one till two, and the sixth and highest for the study of astronomy and the heavens in the evening. It will thus be seen that Ellen's parents and expositions were much diversified. Beautiful scenery is visible from the tower, which overlooks the River Orwell.

The first 5 am play ever shown was seen 40 feet in length. Over 7 yards which required no fewer than 1,500 actors. The play was 40 feet long.

He has been in five actual engagements and has used more than 500 cartridges in his automatic pistol. He has made six trips from Ant Werp to Brussels on his bicycle, passing through territory infested by Germans, carrying important messages.

An illustration of the desperate measures used by the Belgian army to check the German advance through Belgium. The photograph shows Belgian soldiers digging pitfalls near Antwerp to expose [illegible] an advance by the German cavalry. These pitfalls are covered over with brush and earth and as the Uhlans advance they [illegible] stumble and fall to the ditches while the Belgians fire on the Germans from an ambuscade.

TRAMP STEAMERS

They Are So-called Because They Are the Wanderers of the Ocean

A tramp steamer is a "tramp" because she wanders the world over, carrying the most advantageous cargo she can procure and proceeding to any port no matter how unfamiliar and remote to which her manifest takes her.

She is not a "tramp" captain. He gets a Magazine because she goes about to letters and poverty. Quite the contrary is true. There are great tramp owners immensely wealthy and powerful, and the ships that fly these flags are modern. In every respect equipped with wireless of vast radius and most comfortably appointed as regards officers' quarters. When he reaches in port the tramp captain expects to be the serious subject so sooner to live a life of the most agreeable sort.

As a general rule however the captain himself holds his occupation in no high regard. Tramp captains may gratify their desire for romance it is true but only in a limited way after all, and their prospect for material prosperity is of the smallest. The cash return is little more than a competence for the married, the rich cargo and lives carried through months of arduous weather of gales and bogs at sea, of lonely and monotonous wastes, the wage isn't much greater than a [illegible] bookkeeper may earn ashore.

The pay of a junior officer aboard a tramp steamer would outrage the feelings of an alert office boy. The pay of a first mate would shock a bank clerk. But even a first assistant engineer on a tramp is proportionally doubled. If his ambition possesses no other ship than his the chances for advancement are extremely slight, but if he is in the service of one of the great freighting lines his prospect at the best is that of the newest ship at a wage of $150 a year. The next move in fortune of the tramp captain is to be command of a mail steamer. Having obtained this eminence in the service of one of the most considerable trans Atlantic lines he is paid no less than $1,500 a year, and possibly as much as $2,000 a year. It is the ultimately sought for job.

The World's Wheat Supply

The Canadian Producer's Opportunity in a Universal Crop Shortage

Public officials have been exhorting the Canadian farmer to sow more wheat this year. But it is doubtful if, even yet, the North American wheat-producer realizes fully what an opportunity confronts him. The farmer, of all men, should not share the exaggerated idea of the importance of Canada and the United States as contributors to the world's food supply, which leads many persons to feel that there can be little check or shortage as long as the production of these countries continues unimpaired. It is rather the actual predominance of Europe as a food producer that renders the situation serious and places a premium on American supplies. The following fact is are significant:

Europe feeds the continents in annual wheat production and, normally raises twice as much as North American, her nearest competitor. She grew over one half of the record breaking crop of 1913, doubling the combined contribution of Canada, United States and Mexico. European nations now in turn alone grew 42 per cent of the total yield, while the whole of North America produced only slightly over 26 per cent. On the reasonable supposition that shortage of labor, poor tillage, decreased acreage and other adverse conditions will reduce the 1914 wheat crops by European combatants by one third, over half of North America's entire yield would be required to meet the deficiency.

Europe probably carried over into 1914 a fair surplus from her banner wheat crop of 1913. But what of this year's production? Russia's yield promises to be the war power promised within 150,000,000 bushels of last year's total and the war must have caused further huge decreases. Hungary and Italy, great wheat nations, will show a combined shortage 75,000,000 bushels, while India and Canada fall behind 50,000,000 and 70,000,000 respectively, as compared with the 1914 harvest. How will deficiency be met? Canada's exportable surplus has been cut in two. The bumper crop of the United States will hardly offset the shortage of Russian shipments. Consumption must decrease somewhat, but can hardly parallel the sudden shrinkage in production. Canada, United States, India, Australia and Argentine will find every bushel of their 1914 crop required in Europe next spring to meet the shortage of Russia, France, Germany, Italy and Austria-Hungary. If war be prolonged for six months, hindering seeding operations in 1915, the demand will be even more insistent in the spring and summer of 1916.

The moral to the Canadian farmer is simple. Grow wheat. Sow every available acre to a crop of which the world will stand badly in need in the coming months.

The following table shows the respective contributions of the ten leading wheat-producing nations to the record crop of 1913. The excessive outbreak with at outside are either directly or indirectly engaged in the war.

To use Antwerp For Destruction of Great Britain

Earl Curzon Warns England That Taking of Antwerp is Deliberate German Plan

London, Oct. 12.—Earl Curzon of Kedleston, former viceroy of India, in a speech made at at a war meeting at Harrow school tonight, said that the taking of Antwerp was a deliberate part of the German plan.

Germany has taken Antwerp to fortify it, to keep it, to make a great naval port of it, to use it as a great jumping off place for her future attempts upon this country. It is no temporary occupation unless we make it so.

The speaker added that by fortifying Antwerp, Germany would secure a grip on the whole of Belgium, make Holland play her will, and then settle down to her main object—the destruction of this country. He said England was in for a long war and declared he was shocked that some people should think the hostilities would be over by Christmas. In fact he believed that one Christmas will roll by before the setting of hostilities. In conclusion, he advised his hearers not to begin to divide up the German empire "before you have got hold of it."

22,000 British and Belgians Interned

London, Oct. 13.— Altogether 22,000 British and Belgian soldiers are interned at different points in Holland. About 1,500 of these men are British. The report has been made by the Dutch war office, according to a despatch from the Rotterdam correspondent of the Times.

German Control of Belgium Tightening

London, Oct. 12.— The standard correspondent at Geneva says that German control of Belgium is tightening. The latest measure is to prohibit Belgian banks doing business with France and England even through their banks in those countries.

Germans Revoke All Exemption To Military Service

Petrograd, Oct. 12.— The German losses have forced the German government to revoke all exemptions to military service, says a statement given out by the official press agency. The German army being short of equipment, an order has been issued to bury the dead soldiers without uniforms and shoes.

The Novoe Vremya's correspondent at Fukushima, Japan, says that Japan will prove to Russia the sincerity of her policies. Agents of the committee of union and progress continue to excite public opinion in Constantinople by giving out news of the war at patriotic meetings.

Bad Cholera in Ontario

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 12. Dr. W. A. Jones, superintendent of the quarantine for Essex and Kent counties, is authority for the statement that hog cholera in his municipal farm has made its appearance in Essex county.

Yes. Antwerp has fallen. But, while it may be of tremendous importance to Germany for military purposes, it will be of little use to them for naval purposes. The good old British fleet has attended to that.

The Thanksgiving Dinner held under the auspices of the Tofield Patriotic Association in aid of the Canadian Patriotic Fund was a huge success. The ladies having the arrangement and management did themselves proud in the preparations for the occasion and the manner in which the public responded to their efforts and invitations was a reward which well repaid them for their efforts. Much credit is due Mrs. R. A. Hall, chairman of the committee and every member of the committee, for the splendid army of workers who organized and in spite of the crowd which thronged the entrance to the dining hall everything went smoothly as each worker now exactly what her duties were. At 5:30 p.m. for adults and 30c. for children the sum of $66.00 was raised which added to the $113.97 which the Saturday's tender and on hand will be a comfortable donation to the National Patriotic Fund in aid of which the functions have been held.

Much credit is due the ladies in the country around town for the hearty manner in which they responded to the solicitation to donate materials for the supper. In an able spirit they came forward and assisted not occupying even second place, but entering in to the occasion with keen delight, they and with the town ladies in hand their utmost to make the supper a success. AND IT WAS

The Ladies desire through these columns to express their thanks to the many in town and country who gave forward at their solicitation. They also desire to thank the merchants generally of their time and means towards the success of the undertakings. It has arisen that some were overlooked. Kaiser Tells of Capture

Rotterdam, Oct. 12—It is announced that the Kaiser Prince Leopold, his aunt, the dowager grand duchess of Baden, as follows. Antwerp was occupied this afternoon without fighting. "God be thanked in deepest humility for this glorious result. To him be all honor."

Standard Has been Lowered For Recruits in Great Britain

London, Oct. 12 — England's need for more fighting men was emphasized by the announcement tonight that the infantry standard which had been raised to check the rush of recruits at the outbreak of the war has again been lowered. The minimum height for recruits, which formerly was 5 feet 8 inches has been placed at 5 feet 4 inches and the chest from 33 1/2 to 34 1/2 inches. An appeal has been issued in Glasgow for 2,000 recruits to replace the naval men interned in Holland

Allies Gain Ground Along the Aisne

Antwerp Falls a Victim to a Mighter Power

From the Aisne comes news of engagements at various points along the lines. The Germans are reported to be re-inforcing their positions along the heights and these are being occupied by the allies. Attack and counter attack and counter attack has been the substance of daily reports with no decisive outcome by either side. The effect of the taking of Antwerp it is thought will not be the further extension of the allies lines to the west and north to form a junction with the Belgians. The German advance towards the southwest through Belgium is to be held down by the allies and by reducing the forces in a counter direction to meet and stem the advance of the enemy. It is quite probable that within a few days at the least we will have the reports of a further action in this region as it appears to be the German intent to effect the complete control of the territory along the sea board between France and Belgium. This would enable Germany to operate against England with greater advantage than at any time previously in the campaign.

Antwerp has fallen. Though desperately and loyally defended the beautiful city has fallen a victim to a mightier power. Though beaten the Belgians did not yield, thousands of the young men and boys laid down their lives in defence. The large siege guns of the German demolished the defending forts against them was expected while bombs from field batteries and air ships caused conflagrations throughout the city. When it became inevitable that the Germans would enter the city and for outwater the defenders, the Belgians withdrew. For the last part of the words Colonel Whither it is now understood the Germans are now advancing. Little news has come from the front regarding the movements since the capture of Antwerp but it is a certainty that every step of advance will be fully contested by the allies.

Prohibition Question Laid Before Provincial Govt.

The provincial government was this week presented with a huge petition signed by thousands of Alberta electors, asking for a vote next year on the Liquor Question and amendments to the Liquor License Act. The number of signatures on the petition is reported to be largely in excess of the petition required under the Act. A delegation of several hundred accompanied the presentation of the petition to Edmonton at which time many leaders of the anti and licensees thought out the province. Premier Sifton it is said gave the delegation to understand that the matter would be considered and brought before the House.

SHORTAGE of crop supplies for the next year is assuming the attainment of Europe and the at But in no unusual degree. There is no Canadian farmer, make good your upper lip and Speed the plow. Prepare for early seeding in the spring and the coming for a bountiful harvest of 1912. Not only amongst the nations engaged but amongst those who are in the position of observer, that of armed neutrality or of the passive sort, will the lessons of the sad European war be lost. For soon as Absolutism is the great question being solved. The benefits which are bound to accrue to civilization throughout the world include the realization of a higher value of liberty, honor, patriotism a clear, plain, healthy, and a keener appreciation of art.

Toronto News on Bourassa

IT IS hard to imagine a more doubtful, shiftless and unenviable position than that which Mr Bourassa occupies. He opposes a federation of the Empire. He is against political union with the United States. He has not the courage to advocate Canadian Independence. But he would have Canada display all the arrogance of an independent nation and all the fawning impudence of a professional mendicant.

He simply takes the contemptible position that Canada should be defended by taxes extracted from the pockets of British taxpayers and that we who enjoy British freedom as a free way for our trade upon the seas should do nothing to maintain and protect the Imperial fabric under which we and we enjoy security and prosperity.

Making Soldiers Slowly

(From the New York Press)

THAT Lord Kitchener believes as well as says it will be a long war is manifest by the methods he is pursuing in preparing the British recruits for service. Persons hopeful that the end of the war will come this winter will be interested to know that the first hundred thousand of the extra division men will not be fit to take the field until after Christmas, although the training centres have been at work with them for weeks.

The raw men are being put through their paces as if they were to make soldiering their work for the rest of their lives, as, indeed many of them will. What with physical and squadron drills, musketry, night work and marching, each man puts in about seven hours a day. Between times he hears lectures on a great variety of topics, such as sanitation, the cause of the war and the German army. He is to know not only how to fight, but why he is fighting and what he is to contend against.

Kitchener's war school runs a 20 week course to prepare a man to be "about ready." This causes impatience among the patriots and at the same time cures it. Every young man that enlisted for the Spanish war expected that he would be an aspirant at the fore as fast as a steamer could take him to Cuba and and unlettedly the same spirit prevails in England. But Kitchener knows the folly of sending untrained men into the field against such a machine as the Kaiser's.

The English clerk rushing to the colors is getting at Aldershot a taste of the discipline which made the sinular master of Egypt.

In General Election Impending

THERE are persistent rumors emanating from Ottawa that a general election is impending. It is, we think, quite safe to say that the general public of the Dominion, including a large proportion of common sense conservatives are largely of the opinion that the present, while it may be judged by various of the leaders of government as an opportune time to seek a renewal of their tenure of office, in view of the fact that Parliament has yet two years to run before its term expires, it does appear inopportune in under the circumstances. Liberals and Conservatives are united shoulder to shoulder, to day in a common cause in which they have an equally enthusiastic and loyal spirit. To divide, many people hostile to our camps would at the present time be very unfortunate and we think it is based on the part of the leaders of government.

Canada Doing Her Part in Struggle Against Germany

Soldiers from French Senegal in Africa on a visit in Belgium. The French Africans are taking a great deal out of themselves in the war and have made many soldierly charges. The differences with which they fight have led to many comments on their methods.

Germans are using black troops from Senegal, sending them to the front in Belgium, and French soldiers sometimes take aim and open fire on the Germans with horror and refuse to keep on shooting. Nevertheless, with the horrible jells they utter, and their fierce manners and at one occasion a detachment of 40 were bayoneted and fled the minute they saw those "mantled Senegalese" charging them.

FISH IN HOT SPRINGS

Thrive in High Temperature But Die in Cool Water

In certain parts of Jamaica and Cuba there are hot springs so acid that the hottest boundary of a mid summer sun in Toronto is lower in temperature than the water in the springs. An eminent Russian biologist has discovered that dozens of species of fishes and other animals inhabit these hot baths and that these same fish are placed in cool water they very soon die. Some of these fish can survive in cold water, but none can survive in hot water, at the boom, prior and places in the manufacture of spirits a kind of arsenic as flooring, resembling wood in its width, and close in other respects. It is used for kitchen floors and in halls, corridors, cafes, restaurants and public rooms. It is impervious to water, and is practically fireproof.

USES OF SAWDUST

It is an ingredient of Dynamite, Linoleum and Rubber

Flour for trade purposes from sawdust is now in common use. The wood flour is ground in a mill, very similar to those which grind corn and rye. Fine and spruce sawdust is used, and after being passed through the stones and the bolting chest, it is sacked or baled for shipment. It is then worth $12 to $13 a ton. The flour has a number of uses. It is the absorbent for nitroglycerine, which is the explosive ingredient. Wood-flour dynamite is therefore in that made with infusorial earth as the absorbent; but it serves many purposes and is cheaper. Linoleum makers mix it with linseed oil and give body to their floor coverings. It is not considered quite equal to ground cork for this purpose, as it is less elastic, but it is cheaper and meets requirements for medium grades. The flour fills an important place in the manufacture of sprains a kind of arsenic as flooring, resembling wood in its width, and close in other respects. It is used for kitchen floors and in halls, corridors, cafes, restaurants and public rooms. It is impervious to water, and is practically fireproof.

The Bible contains 3,566,480 letters, 773,746 words, 31,173 verses, 1,189 chapters and 66 books.

ELEPHANT'S TEETH

The Huge Molars Are Removed Because of Them

The elephant has no cutting teeth like most animals, but only a series of molars. These molars or grinders as they were once called, are set in front of the tooth, so the surface is worn away instead of being cut out in front. The same molar can thus be ground and make its eight times. The tusks, which are not always developed in both, can be removed only by the wearing process and the ejection of the stump of the tusk as the ivory is being formed. If the elephant could use one of his tusks as a saw as he can use it in both ways, he would be a very formidable animal to face. The ivory is extracted only from animals killed in battle in the best fifty years

NOTICE

A Kind Appeal to all Ratepayers of the Municipality of Cornhill

Due to the present financial stringency which obviously, causes hundreds of cases of real distress and is generally the case in war time, I am compelled to adopt a certain attitude in the matter of financing the necessary expenditure on part of the road account.

The current school expense of 1914 leave amounts to, approximately, $2,000.00. None of this $1,000 has been paid up to date!

I therefore appeal to all ratepayers and parents especially to those who have children to be benefited by the education, to pay their rates as soon as possible, as I am unable to collect.

Knowing that I am impressing with a serious matter, according to the financial stringency which is engaged all over the country, I am sure that every ratepayer will do his best to help me out.

Yours truly,
THE SECRETARY-TREASURER.

THE ONLY SON

Another of the Famous Players Photoplays will be Seen at Variety Next Tuesday Night.

Probably the best of the Lasky releases, "The Only Son," has a deeper significance that the others and is closer to the human heart, especially in the big sympathy chord it strikes in comparison to the acting. The acting note is not thrust into prominence, but the quiet home conveyed in the more impressive on that account.

"The Only Son" is the dramatic action of a story of the shoulder-to shoulder struggle of a young lawyer and his wife to build home and means of future happiness for their two children. Success attends the efforts of the determined inventor who eventually becomes a powerful railroad magnate. But success interferes with the happiness of the home. Neglect becomes the cause of error and husband and wife become estranged. "The Only Son" has been brought up with careless education and much indulgence and disagrees with his father in everything in connection with work while under the thrall of the latter's health and his comfort in that of a wrankling until his taste manhood leans into flame at the imagination put upon his serving mother. He grows into manhood overnight, converts all his available securities into cash, enters into business with inherited pluck and genius and comes into a clash with the father with some melo-dramatic incidents which, however, culminate happy result. The photo-drama, in story, structure and interpretation measures high and merits a generous patronage when Tuesday next at the Variety.

Mr. Thomas Atkins

T. P.'s Weekly gives a stirring little story of the way the subaltern, "Tommy Atkins", originated. It was the name of one of the interval pictures over known wounded to death in the Low Countries campaign.

The Duke of Wellington was at Walmer castle, and, as commander of the forces, the war office sent and asked him for a name typical of the private.

He passed rapidly in review the panorama of all the greatest deeds he had seen done in war, "generalling in a memory stored with results," came for the man who should best typify the dogged gallantry of British arms, and he thought back in his first campaign in the Low Countries fighting his first action.

His regiment, the 33rd, a corps of veterans, stood in reserve. He knew that his officers were waiting to see how the hop-colored wool handle his regiment under fire. The French were in superior force. Then young Wellesley put the discipline of his regime to the one of the severest tests known in warfare. At the word of command every company went back, leaving them a wide line through which the hare-pressed troops in the firing line could retire. Grimmit with pardner and cursing in anger, the line dead set through, and the companies of the gallant 33rd swung back a gain.

The French were so close then one of the men were bayoneted before the word to fire was given. Then the Brown Besses spoke—well-go as steady as if for regiment, was firing on inspection parade—and then word to advance was given, and with bayonets fixed, the 33rd moved forward to take up the ground from which the other regiments had been forced to retire. The volleys had done their work; the day was won.

England Profoundly Moved at Arrival Canadian Contingent

The Canadian forces were landed last Friday and moved to Salisbury Plains where they will undergo a further period of training. The dispatches from England land the arrival of the Canadians their fine appearance and the completeness of the equipment. The reception has given rise to expressions of profound satisfaction on the part of leaders of party and government in the Old Land. Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, said "Canada sends her aid at a timely moment. The conflict moves forward to its terrible climax and fierce struggles lie before us than any that have yet been fought, and in these supreme trials Canada will strike her blow and make her sacrifice for the life of the British Empire and the determination of the world." Will Crooks the famous labor leader said, "Sons of the Empire, a thousand welcomes to England and love to those who sent you for humanity's sake." Edward Carson said "Our fellow citizens of the Dominion are welcomed with grateful hearts. God bless them and send them back victorious." Others were just as enthusiastic and hearty in their expressions of welcome and good will.

Leading newspapers of France point with pride to the arrival of the Canadians in Britain as "Our Friends," and give large spaces in their pages to portraits of Canadaught, Borden and Laurier.

Early Dominion Election Unlikely

An Ottawa despatch in the Edmonton Journal says that if an early dissolution was seriously considered by the government it can be stated that the idea has been abandoned, and that there is very little likelihood of an election except in the regular course of events. Parliament will likely be summoned in January. The proposed cabinet changes are still puzzling, but it is considered certain that Hon. T. Chase Casgrain will be sworn in early this week and that Hon. Bruno Nantel will resign. Hon. Mr. Pelletier, postmaster general leaves upon resigning owing to continued ill health.

Leases on Gas and Oil Claims Extended One Year

According to an Ottawa dispatch of the 10th inst one year's extension of payment of rental on all leases under the petroleum and natural gas regulations has been arranged. This extension also covers the time for installation of machinery and for development of location

A. G. Rinelah depot master at Tofield Jct. Dr. McIntosh went up to the Capital Sunday evening as witnesses in the Wainwright murder trial which is taking place.

"After the battle was over, the duke visited the men who had been struck down in the fight. Right in the front line there lay the pet and pride of the Grenadiers, a man six feet high in his stockings. His head was bound up where a musket had cut him; and he had a bullet wound in his lungs, but he begged to be allowed to die in peace where he was. He saw the sorrow in the duke's eyes as he looked down, and said: 'Never mind, sir, it is all in the day's work.'

The great duke turned to the young officer who stood waiting and said: "Thomas Atkins."

Kaiser's Hordes Checkmated Has Over run Belgium But Up Against Stonewall Defence on Both Frontiers Allies Firm and Confident

The Week's News Summarized.

Things have been happening during the lines of the opposing armies in North France and Belgium since last week. Considerable activity has been shown in the territory between Arras and the coast. Germany occupied Ostend practically with capitulation, the forces there being withdrawn to effect a junction with the Allies. The Belgian forces there are now operating with the French troops against the common enemy.

Following the occupation of Ostend, Bruges and Ghent the Germans pressed forward their advance troops further towards the south and west, their objective being Dunkirk. The allies had in the meantime thrown forward their lines towards the North Sea coast to intercept this advance. It is here where the sharp fighting for the past week has taken place. Strife is for the capture of Dunkirk and Calais. French ports on the straits of Dover, which would give them important bases from which to operate against England, the Germans have run up against most vigorous opposition which they are still trying to overcome. Lille, Armentieres, Ypres, the river Yser, have been severe actions at all of which the Germans have received checks. The allies are adopting strong defensive tactics, having it to the enemy to assume the offensive, but at every point the Teutons are being thrown back with heavy loss.

Along the battle line east across France to the Vosges the situation has been described as stationary. By this is not meant that there has been no fighting. German attacks being the line have resulted in the allies being thrown back, and the allies making counter attacks on the parts of the line. It would appear as if the Germans had taken up a defensive position and were preparing for the expected attack by the allies. It would appear as if the Germans had taken up a defensive position and were preparing for the expected attack by the allies. It would appear as if the Germans had taken up a defensive position and were preparing for the expected attack by the allies.

In the meantime Belgium has virtually become a German province for the time being, the main fighting is the French are not engaged in that country, but are pushing up the right of the temporarily established line. Germany has practically completed the occupation of Belgium and Holland, for the latter country has been allowed to remain neutral. Belgium and Holland, for the latter country has been allowed to remain neutral. Belgium and Holland, for the latter country has been allowed to remain neutral.

Yesterday reports from the west-ern theatre of war indicated that fighting of the most desperate character is going on in the offensive and the German progress in West Flanders was checked. Northwestern France. The Belgian army, supported by the British expeditionary force, is taking an aggressive attitude. Several days ago the Germans were driven from Ypres, but have since regained the ground. Several attacks and counter attacks have been made by the Germans to take Dixmude, but each time they attempts to break through the French lines. In the east along the Meuse, the Germans have been pushing the French back and on the Lassen Meuck parts of Toronto, by H. P. Kennedy and Company, Contractors. The cost of the work is estimated at $6.50 per yard. In commencing from the same the press states that they were a fine sample of the kind of the kind of cattle that Alberta is capable of producing, and were said to be as fine a load as have been seen on the market this year. Ever since the first of August the firm of H. P. Kennedy & Co. sold 2,000 cattle, 1,000 sheep and 1,000 hogs.

New Bridges Being Built

The department of public works is replacing several old bridges in the Tofield district with new ones. The old bridge over Amisk creek is being frequently at Lamb's Creek has been replaced with a new one and this week the bridge gang is busy at work on several bridges north of town on the township line. Those at Kelchamont creek and Hastings Creek are to be replaced with new ones. At Hastings creek only that one over the main creek will be built. The two other ones are to be dry with and the old channels filled in

A well known Tofielder had an experience the other day which he will not soon forget. Being a sinner and a good shot, the gentleman had brought back two spoons for both in his pocket. It is to be 22 cartridge. For some unknown reason one of these cartridges got into his pocket instead of the other and in the course of the day he had occasion to use it. He thought he was using the other and the result was that he shot a hole through his pocket and a bullet through his leg. Fortunately the wound is not a serious one.

Alberta Cattle Sell Well in Toronto

Four of Tofield's farmers there names the informants that on October 9th these were sold at the Union Stock yards of Toronto, by H. P. Kennedy and Company, Contractors. The cost of the work is estimated at $6.50 per yard. In commencing from the same the press states that they were a fine sample of the kind of the kind of cattle that Alberta is capable of producing, and were said to be as fine a load as have been seen on the market this year. Rev. Mr. Reid is in charge of the regular services next Sunday morning. His text will be illustrated by Stereopticon views.

The Women's Missionary Society will hold the annual Tea and Sale of Work in the church next Tuesday afternoon. Rich papers will be read entitled "Missionary Milestones."

A social Evening was held on Thursday last in the basement of the church. Games, music and readings were rendered while the interest taken in the work being done in the homes throughout the town and country showed a fine patriotic spirit and willingness to help.

A member of the ministerial association will preside and Arms of practical interest discussed, but no new work was outlined, it being unanimously agreed that, particularly in view of the present local organization of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, the existing machinery should be allowed to continue to function as it has done in the past.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the President, Mrs. MacPherson, for sewing.

Layman's Missionary Movement

A meeting of the Layman's Missionary Movement will be held in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, October 17th, at 8 o'clock. Two speakers will be present, one from Edmonton and one from Calgary. The subject of the meeting will be "Missions and Missionaries." Everybody welcome.

A GOOD OAT CROP

W. Parker, of Bardo was in town on Monday. He reported to the Standard that his 42 acres piece of Garton Oats yielded 75 bushels to the acre and each bushel weighed 42 lbs. Thus some of the oats grown in the Tofield district are of excellent quality.

Temperance Vote Next Year

It looks now (one year) as if the fight for the right to go through the legislature to grant the petition asking for a vote on the proposed prohibition legislation is through at the present time and before June 1st next.

No Election

Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of Public Works in the Borden government, stated yesterday at Winnipeg that there was no possibility of a general election before 1915.

Tofield Patriotic Society

At the meeting of the Tofield Patriotic Society Tuesday afternoon considerable routine business was despatched, and a number of interesting and encouraging reports presented. From a financial standpoint the efforts of the concert and dance committees were splendidly rewarded while the interest taken in the work being done in the homes throughout the town and country showed a fine patriotic spirit and willingness to help.

A member of the ministerial association will preside and Arms of practical interest discussed, but no new work was outlined, it being unanimously agreed that, particularly in view of the present local organization of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, the existing machinery should be allowed to continue to function as it has done in the past.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the President, Mrs. MacPherson, for sewing.

The funeral of the late King of Roumania took place last Friday. The Roumanians, according to report, are relieved of an unbearable situation by the death of the King as he was a pro-nounced pro-German sympathizer while the country as a whole is pro-ally in the European war.

Farmers Busy Plowing

IT is a most satisfactory condition and one which looks well for the district as a farming community next year ... that many farmers throughout the district are taking advantage of every hour of daylight to accomplish as much fall plowing as possible. With a farmer here with 115 acres prepared for wheat seeding, there with 100, another with 90, another with 75 and so on, each and everyone doing his best, conditions point towards a profitable season in 1915. SPEED THE PLOW seems to be the slogan and appears to be a popular one. The weather conditions are ideal for the work. The threshing is pretty much done, only the cleaning up of odd ones remaining. Very little marketing is being done in the grain line, all are too busy with the plow. It is a good ...

FOR THE PUBLIC

Department of Municipal Affairs
Edmonton, October 2nd 1911

Sir,

I am in receipt of your letter of the 1st instant, in the first place some of the taxpayers are dissatisfied with municipal organization on account of high taxes and assessed values, also in regard to work in School Districts. In reply I may say that the rate of taxation in a Municipality is a matter which is entirely in the hands of the ratepayers once they elect the Council who fix the rate in the same way as it is in a Local Improvement District. I may also add that the returns of this Department of the rates levied for the current year show that on the whole the taxes are for the current year are much higher on Local Improvement Districts than in Rural Municipalities.

The question of assessment values is a matter against which any ratepayer may very easily protect himself. If any ratepayer is of the opinion that his land is assessed too high or unreasonably assessed as compared with lands in his district he has the right to appeal to the Court of Revision and from that Court to a Judge of the District Court. The Act prevents a court of revision being organized on the same day as passing the Judge.

With reference to advances to the School Districts I may say that the Department will be pleased to deal with the Secretary-Treasurer with the Board of Trustees and the Ratepayers with a view to assisting them to accomplish next year, there should be no trouble in regard to the advances to school districts and the levying and collection of all taxes in the Municipality through the one office. I think a much better business arrangement than a great many separate assessments and by this means it should be possible for the work to be done more economically.

With reference to the taxes levied for School taxes I may say that the is compelled entirely to the demands made by the School Boards elected by the ratepayers of the School Districts and the fact that there is municipal organization has no bearing on the amount they will require for the carrying on of the business of the School Districts.

With reference to the system of assessment, as above mentioned I may say that there would appear to be no reason as to the fact that the assessment for taxation is much the same as the actual assessment

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN FOR OUR OWN GOODS

Gust Editor Urges Country-wide Organization to Promote Sale of "Made-in-Canada" Products

The Galt "Reporter," a few days ago, had the following timely and interesting editorial under the heading "Buy Canadian-made Goods" on the economic situation in Canada arising out of the war:

"While one of the immediate effects of the European war was the disorganization of trade in Canada, a secondary result should be of a stimulating character. Owing to the fact that the continent of Europe is the centre of hostilities, a considerable amount of manufactured goods formerly imported from Germany, France, Austria, Belgium and other countries will now have to be produced here. Reports show that every year millions of dollars worth of manufactured goods from these countries are sold in Canada. Our own mechanics and workmen will therefore have ample work as well as the foreign workers and if the manufacturers take advantage of the opportunity and use their splendid result is more work, instead of less, for their employees.

"But the whole responsibility of making the best of the present situation does not rest with the manufacturer. If the people will demand articles made from goods they will be not only supplying their own needs but creating work for their fellow citizens. When the factories are invaded in such a tremendous crisis as the present there is non thing for all to do. We cannot all go to the front but the we stay at home the duty of a great land towards existing conditions that will make the soldier long born as light as possible.

"The patriotic citizen, when - goes to the store to fill his wants will demand the proper cans possible good "Made in Canada." There should be a well-defined campaign carried on throughout the country or, big Canadians to purchase goods of home manufacture. If an accentuated demand for Canadian goods can be created during the war, it will doubtless be maintained after normal conditions return in Europe.

"In this way we stand to benefit permanently by insisting that what we buy must be Canadian-made."

GRILLIA AND "MADE-IN-CANADA"

Grillia Paper Advocates Keeping Money Circulating Near Home

The Grillia "Packet," one of the brightest of Canada's weeklies, recently had the following editorial on the "Made-in-Canada" idea:

"The Grillia Furniture Company is promoting the buy-at-home idea by the issuance of a pay envelope which calls attention in the fact that "last year Canadians bought $18,000,000 worth of furniture goods, half of which could have been made in Canada"—or in other words $1,000,000 a day which went out of the country might have been spent at home thus keeping that money here. Why should not the same principle be extended a step further to "Made-in-Grillia" articles? Our merchants and people generally grumble more or less because "times are hard" and running full blast. But do the promoters do what is to their power to keep our home industries busy? Take the matter of furniture for instance. We have in Grillia a factory whose goods are commanding a ready sale in all parts of the country—in fact so much so that it has been more standing during the last eighteen months than any other furniture factory in Canada. Yet the Furniture Company might have spent much more money than all of the furniture of the class sold in Grillia had been of their manufacture. How often have those who are clamor for industries, or are in ashes making Grillia grow, enquired for, or given a preference to Grillia industry. Naturally, any citizen who want a motor car of the class manufactured by the Fisher Motor Company go out of town to buy it, when they can obtain the best value for their money by purchasing the "Made-in-Grillia" article, and factory service at their door to say nothing of doing their share to make the motor works permanent and prosperous. On the same principle the farmer from any of the surrounding townships who buys Tuthope cutting or Tuthope-Anderson wagons implements or stoves is helping to build up the home market for his own produce, and to add to the value of his own farm. The buy-at-home principle should not be confined to dry goods and groceries."

The remarks of the Grillia "Packet" would bear repetition in almost every town and city in Canada.

Queer Insect From China May Solve Problem of Catching and Eating Them

The mantis is a member of the grasshopper family and grows to a length of from 2 to 3 inches. The foreigns are well adapted for holding the captured mosquito, as they are provided with needle teeth.

The insect gets its name from the fact that its foreigns are folded under in an attitude of prayer and experiments made in breeding the Praying Mantis to get rid of mos quitoes. A Slippery Mystery

After years of study scientists are still in ignorance as to the origin of the eel, which is in many ways an exceedingly puzzling creature

For instance, he will reside for years in the dark depths of the ocean, and then suddenly adjourn to the surface for a couple of years.

He is a born wanderer, and appears quite willing at any time to change of climate, for he will swim himself in the Gulf Stream for a time, and then, all of a sudden, make his way for cold water

After that he may decide to try fresh water and proceed to take up his abode in a river, travelling sometimes 2,000 miles to do so!

Neither does the eel mind very much whether he is in the water or not, for he will walk, he way over damp grass even when quite young or a pond or lake miles away. How he may stay for years, but eventually he will probably return overland to the nearest river, and from thence once more to the sea.

WORKMEN CAN HELP THOSE AT FRONT

Urged to Take Personal Interest in the Manufacture of Equipment For Soldiers

One of Canada's best known publicists addressed the employees of a large London manufacturing establishment recently on the subject of the part workmen can take in the present crisis. He said in part:

"This Company has obtained a contract from the Government for a large quantity of boots to be used by the soldiers going to the front. I am informed by the managing director that a very large part was put in for these goods, primarily for the purpose of keeping your men and women employed during these trying times. Now, I want to say a word to you about the boot you are to make. It is to be worn by the Canadian soldiers who go to war. A soldier's boots are a most important part of his outfit. He cannot fight unless his feet are in good condition. So he has got to have a good boot. I believe that the management will purchase the best material possible to fill this contract. The experienced workmen will see that all the work is well done, and that no inferior boots are turned out. Both the material and the workmanship are essential. Neither can be neglected without endangering the life of the soldier who wears the boot. I am sure that the makers will gladly welcome this opportunity of showing their skill in the production of a really good boot. I would advise all of you to take a personal interest in the matter. Every man who is working on the boots should feel that he is responsible for the quality of the work he is doing. If he does not do his best he is a traitor to his country. Some of you may be employed in making the uppers, others in the stitching process, others in the lasting, others in the finishing. But if the lasting, or any other process, or any making is not done properly or any stitching is not done right, the boot will be useless. It will be a traitor to the soldier who wears it. It will be responsible for the loss of many lives. I want everyone of you to remember that these boots are to be worn by our Canadian boys. That is bad boot may make a lame soldier and a lame soldier may involve a Canadian being prisoner of war. People are giving large sums of money to help those who go to the war. You can be a by seeing that they are properly shod. The honor of the firm, and the lives of our brave men, I leave in your hands with perfect confidence."

WAR AND WHEAT

Winnipeg Quotations Much Higher Than Those of Minneapolis

The immediate effect of the declaration of war on the wheat market was as is well known a stiffening of prices. Roughly speaking the Winnipeg prices for wheat had averaged around 80 cents per bushel before the war, after recent quotations are on the neighborhood of $1.05 and $1.10 here. There have been considerable fluctuations, depending on the conditions of crops and of transportation from the Atlantic seaboard, but on the whole there has been a considerable advance. It is perfectly clear that the war will make a further increase in the Western flour prices, which have been lower than those of Minneapolis for some time past. It is perfectly natural that the Winnipeg price for wheat should be higher than the Minneapolis price, for the same kind of wheat. In fact, the difference—as one great Civil Canada authority has pointed out—is not as great as the difference in the cost of buying wheat in Winnipeg and in Minneapolis. The latter is a manufacturing city, and has to pay the full duty on wheat which it imports for milling purposes. Winnipeg is not a manufacturing city, and has to pay no

Lord Roberts, British Field Marshal, 82, Dies at Front

For more than forty years he served in India upholding everywhere Britain's sovereignty with his sword and gaining world-wide fame. Beginning with the Indian Mutiny, the record of his services is studded with brilliant exploits and gallant deeds.

The Victoria Cross came to him early in his career after he had rescued a comrade from certain death in the campaign against the Indian mutineers, and had recovered a standard captured by the enemy.

Queen Victoria herself pinned the highest prize won in the soldier's ranks.

The Mutiny medal for bravery was another that he won in fighting the Sepoys at Delhi and helping to drive them from their siege of Lucknow. The Indian frontier and the Abyssinian medals came to him from his fighting throughout the Umbeyla, Abyssinian and Looshai campaigns.

A Pointer for Some Farmer

A veteran farmer who has lost a red bull, all with a white spot on shoulder has approached the Standard with the proposition that if the finder comes to the Standard office and takes an advertisement of the lost animal that we shall let him know if it be not taking on the advertisement. There is no use that if anyone who reads this notice has found bull of with a white spot on back of his ribs he does advertise the owner has the first opportunity for daily keep after November 15, and it would be good to note in passing that Mr. Farmer who has lost the animal must pay cost of advertising and keep after November 15, before he can secure it, and as if he finds it, and if has not been advertised he need pay nothing for its keep. In this case THE MAN WHO DOES NOT ADVERTISE IS THE LOSER.

The route upon which No. 2 will be operated as follows—West from Tofield 5 miles to the s.w. cor. of 6-51-19, north 2 miles to s.w. 18-51-19, west 3 miles to s.w. 13-51-21, south 2 miles to s.w. 3-51-21, east 5 miles to s.w. 5-51-20, south 2 miles to s.w. 20-50-20 (Skinland P. O.), east 8 miles to s.w. 28-50-18, north 2 miles to s.w. 21-50-18 east 2 miles into Tofield. This route runs into the section hitherto served partially by Minister P.O. wholly by Birdseil P.O and Stanley Head. There are upwards of 40 families along the route, 23 of which have already applied for their mail boxes. As was in the case of the other two routes, since the service established the demand immediately arose for boxes on each, as those who had not already put them in can do it at any time and will be served thereafter.

It should be understood that a purchaser on one of these boxes cannot have his box changed to any other part of the route above the one at present given, as the box boy doing such is not supposed to carry the mail any other than the one assigned.

Rural Municipality of Cornhill

NO. 487

From January 1st., 1914 to October 31st, 1914

[illegible] Bldg
Edmonton, November 14, 1914

Tofield, Alberta.

Gentlemen:—Pursuant to your instructions we have made an audit of the books of the Municipality for the period from January 1st, 1914 to October 31st, 1914. We beg to report as follows:—

Section 178 of the Rural Municipal Act the Municipal Auditor shall certify all accounts before the same are paid. The accounts have been passed by the council, and have been certified to by the Reeve. In future it will be necessary for these accounts to be passed by the council at their meeting and in response to the necessary roll being the same is to be signed by persons in the council.

Further attention to the handling of the records dealing with real estate in the passing of the amounts due to ratepayers has been carefully attended to by the Secretary. A great deal of work has been done in the Real Property and being particularly enough in the [illegible] and in making the receipts for work done. In [illegible] of this has caused unnecessary work in getting the matter straight to date. These sheets should be [illegible] by the Secretary as soon as possible after the work is done, and it is thought should be passed on by the council at the first meeting of the year following. A number of ratepayers have worked out on [illegible] and have not shown on the sheets. This should not be [illegible] as they are worked out in this way it means that [illegible] as liable for [illegible] to School District in their [illegible].

According to the council minutes the amount to be spent in road [illegible] was [illegible] $8000.00. You will notice that the [illegible] of Statement shows the $8,845.81 as spent or applied on taxes [illegible] $2,200.00 is still outstanding on Road Work account, leaving a balance of $11,045.81. As there was $2,216.14 outstanding at the end [illegible] would make the amount worked and passed on [illegible] $8,829.67. This last amount will be increased by work which has not yet been passed by the Council.

We have seen the Bonds of the Secretary Treasurer in favor of the Municipality for $2,200.00 in force from March 1, 1914 to March 1, 1915.

The records this year are in much better shape than they were last year, and with some slight changes which we have instructed the Secretary Treasurer we believe they will be much improved.

Respectfully submitted,

No Place For Drunken Men In Contingent

Col. S. F. Steele Insists That Rules and Regulations be Lived up to

Winnipeg, Nov. 30. The men in training here are beginning to understand that the days of soldiering is a serious one and that they must live up to the rules and regulations or be fired, is the statement of Col. S. F. Steele, made this morning in answer to a query as to how the men generally were shaping.

We have fired a number of men for drinking and it is my intention to fire every man who appears in uniform under the influence of liquor, no matter how slightly. I am determined to send this contingent to the front in excellent health, and I have instructed all my officers to weed out from each unit all men who are not made of the right material.

I insist that western Canada be proud of this second contingent and only those who stand the test will be allowed to go forward. The officers of each unit are studying their men and advising those on the necessary qualities for a true soldier. We have discharged 40 men from one regiment for disorderly conduct and we feel there will be a number more added to this list, of course, it is very difficult for us to keep tab on the men who are drilling with the different units who are housed outside of barracks, but very soon I intend to appoint a provost marshall, whose duty it will be to look after the men in and out of barracks.

New Principal Engaged

Mr. Chas. E. Popplestone, M.A., Master of Languages, recently attached to the teaching staff of the Edmonton schools, but been engaged by the Tofield School Board as principal of the Tofield schools for the coming term. Mr. Popplestone bears high testimonials as a disciplinarian and instructor.

The government bridge construction gang has completed the erection of the bridges along the township line north of town and is now engaged on a new bridge in the two sections 15 and 16 west of Tofield in Tp. 51-19.

Public and High Schools Will Get Special Aid From Government

The Hon. J. R. Boyle minister of education has announced that the Order in Council providing for special provincial aid for technical education was passed on Monday November 2. The details regarding the schedule of grants and regulations are now being forwarded to the school boards and teachers throughout the province.

The plan adopted provides for special grants (a) to school boards to assist them in providing the necessary equipment and in maintaining the classes, and (b) to the teachers to encourage them to qualify for the special instruction and give satisfactory service therein after having qualified.

In rural and village districts while assistance is given for instruction in manual training and household sciences, special emphasis is placed on instruction in agriculture and gardening. In town districts the encouragement of instruction in household science and manual training receives special attention, while that in agriculture and its related sciences is also provided for. In the cities the plan provides for the greatest progress and being given towards the development of night class instruction and pre-vocational, commercial and technical day classes. Substantial aid is given also for the encouragement of night class instruction in the smaller communities, particularly in the industrial and mining centres.

In all cases the local organization, the accommodation and equipment provided, the course of instruction and the instructors must be approved by the Department of Education before the grants may be paid. In order that the quality of instruction may be obtained at a high standard, the teachers of the various special subjects and courses will have to meet the requirements of the Department of Education before being recognized for grant purposes. For the more advanced work qualified specialists with teachers' certificates from accredited institutions will receive due recognition upon application to the Department of Education. For the elementary phases of the work in the various subjects the teachers already qualified, may secure the necessary training at the summer school for teachers.

To insure that unity of purpose and effort necessary to secure the fullest and most economical use of all accommodation, equipment and specialized service available, the courses and the work effected by these grants are to form an integral part of the work carried under the control of the school board and under the general direction and supervision of the superintendent of schools or of MACS SPECIALIZED HORSE CURLIMG STONES. If you need a set see us.

A Comparison of Wars and Disasters

It is popularly supposed that the ravages of war are the most fatal of the mishaps that can happen to the human race, but cold figures show that the deaths resulting from a war are insignificant when compared with the results of earthquakes, [illegible] and other disasters which [illegible] to those we terrible as they appear, are, so to speak, rather but a mere ripple over the mighty population of the world. This is shown by about 120,000 in seven months. The death roll of the Balkan [illegible] are reached about 240,000. A single earthquake (1755) in Portugal has been estimated to have caused 300,000 deaths. The famines of the Mexican earthquake in 1909 [illegible] and to lay down a low life for the [illegible] principles that the foremost nations [illegible] die for. Hats Off To Russia

GERMANY must bow her head in shame at the news from Germania. When the Russians captured Lodz and Mlawa the German general made a levy of 200,000 roubles on her in default of blowing the city to pieces with siege guns if it were not forthcoming immediately. Yet when the money was gathered and presented he told them he was merely giving them a taste of the German medicine, and that they might take the money back to the subscribers. That was heaping coals of fire on their heads with a vengeance.

Montreal Herald

EYEBROW, Sask., is the latest western town to have experience with the fire fiend, its loss amounting to $100,000. It would have paid Eyebrow better to have spent $100,000 on adequate fire fighting apparatus and fire protection devices. Chances are if this had been done there would be something to show for the money, whereas to-day it has appeared in absolute waste.—Calgary Herald.

Wild Land Tax Popular

REPORTS from all sections of the province to the department of Municipal Affairs indicate that the feeling generally throughout the province with regard to the wild land tax act is that it is very desirable legislation. The farmers of the province have for several years impressed upon the government the belief that the land speculator whose holdings are yearly enhanced in value as a result of the efforts of the bona fide settlers to improve their lands and establish good roads throughout the country, should be taxed and this measure is very popular with the farmers, many of whom think that the government in striking the rate on the dollar did not "hit hard enough."

Several benefits are bound to accrue from the operation of the wild land tax act. It is generally expected that absentee landlords will make arrangements to cultivate 25 per cent of their holdings in order to escape the tax. This will [illegible] gram production of each district and of Alberta. Farmers as a whole will have to increase the area of their cultivated lands, increase the number of their stock and thus will operate greatly to the advantage of business in towns and cities. Non-resident owners will also, it is expected, endeavor in a more or less degree to dispose of much of their holdings and coincident with this will come, for the time [illegible] general lowering of the prices at which much wild lands have been held. This will tend to increase the number of actual farmers in each district and also operate to the advantage of every town and village. The consequent settlement of new farmers throughout the country will fill up vacant spots, mitigate greatly to the advantage of general social conditions in the farming community, assist in the carrying out of rural schools and add greatly to the city operating effort to establish good roads throughout the municipalities. It will assist in the establishment of free rural mail delivery routes and the extension of government rural telephone lines in territory which has hitherto been too sparsely settled to permit of these utilities being put in. The wild land tax act has every good reason to be popular.

[illegible] RURAL [illegible] which is the third route to [illegible] The [illegible] rural district, was put into operation [illegible] the 1st and marks a new epoch in the [illegible] district brought towards the west. The [illegible] mmunal interest of Tofield will remain [illegible] now along the line of travel to [illegible] Edmonton though that district. Today every homesteader [illegible] is taken up as many more lands have been purchased and [illegible] improved so fast as the means of the respective settlers will permit. What such a route means in population of the farming community, the establishment of through roads and cross roads, attention to rural delivery, the [illegible] and the establishment of rural free mail delivery, including parcels post, the progress has been very marked indeed and one of satisfaction. There is that which remains to be done. The building of a progressive town is largely based upon the filling of the rural sections with thrifty and satisfied farmers. That is what builds up a town and makes for prosperity. The extension of telephone and mail facilities to the rural sections facilitates greatly the augmentation to their numbers. In this respect much can be done in assisting the proposition of the extension of telephones and rural mail delivery to the farmers in the territory to the north of town. This section is not served with telephones to a marked extent as of with rural delivery not at all. The farmers towards Bear Creek are keenly anxious for both services. Let us not leave the struggle all to themselves.

Lady, German Spy, Shot by Squad in Tower of London

Karl Hans Lody was executed shot by a firing squad, in the courtyard of the Tower of London, at dawn.

This is the first execution in the Tower since 1792, and the scene was not far from the spot where Anne Boleyn and other persons famous in English history were put to death.

Lody alias Charles A. Inglis, who, although a German citizen, had masqueraded as an American, was executed as a German spy by a court martial.

Tribesmen From Africa Fight For France

Here is a detachment of Algerian foot soldiers passing through Arras, one of the strategic points in the Allies' lines in France. Those swarthy men from Northern Africa have proved to be brilliant soldiers in the present conflict. Time after time they have won by the Bluff bayonet charges against the German trenches and are masters of bush fighting, as are the British native Indian troops.

British and Germans Swap Tobacco In The Trenches

Interesting Sidelights on Battle Front Are Related by Colonel Swinton, with British Headquarters Staff—Germans Use New Silent Gun, Probably of Pneumatic Construction.

London, Nov. 25—Light but interesting touches from the battle front are contained in an account from the pen of the British witness and censor under date of Nov. 22nd, which was not today by the London Press Bureau. Of chief interest was the statement that the Germans are using a silent gun, probably of pneumatic equipment. Concerning this weapon, this correspondent says: "In our centre the enemy employ a silent gun which may be pneumatic or worked by some mechanism. There is no report of the discharge, the projectile travels through the air without any of the warning made by an ordinary shell, and the first notice to be received of its arrival is the bursting of the shell. So far the weapon has done no damage."

The account speaks of the truncheons of the opponents as being at some points only fifty yards apart. The English and Germans talk, bob and farth, holding shooting competitions and exchange tobacco, much after the manner of the civil war.

There the positions are not on end—or one man, the account says: for they at any rate are once from shell fire, the hostile artillery being unable to shoot in the line that it would hit its own infantry. Indeed for either side, a trench close to the enemy often is a safer spot than any other in the fighting zone.

Tacit agreements among the men on both sides have often been made, the report says, a notable one being for remission of the recreant natives of either side to venture from the forts to bout ten on a no-man's-rag fire at a farm. Friend and foe continues to make use of this for days until one man seen in the distance broke the truce and put a bullet in the shoulder of one of our men, thereby cutting off the supply of hot water for both sides.

Cold weather has frozen the slush, improving the conditions in the trenches, in one respect, the account goes on, but the drop in the temperature makes the men so cold that they have to be kept indoors out of the trenches when relieved, and others are sent partly frozen to hospitals.

Describing the havoc inflicted on individuals, Col. Swinton says the changes in the weather chiefly affected aerial reconnaissance and transport. The freezing makes the roads better, and the clear crisp atmosphere aids the aviators to see the landscape more fully.

The Germans in one place are using a 42 centimetre howitzer against which even the 15 inch and the report tells of the capture on Nov. 21st of a German aeroplane and requiring circulars calling on the Hindus to desert.

Two more German aeroplanes were brought down on Nov. 23rd, the latter an aerial fight in which a British aviator was wounded. This German machine was captured but the pilot was succeeded in landing within the German lines.

Some of the roads behind the enemy's front line in one quarter, Col. Swinton writes, have to be flooded, become impassable, owing partly to the weather conditions existing before the recent drop in temperature, and also to the attention of the allied armies. It is possible to render roads impassible by long range fire from heavy guns, either by shooting any object that attempts to pass, or merely by dropping a shell on the road itself.

"A combination of craters," such as these made by large high power explosive shells and deep mud forms an obstacle difficult of negotiating by motor transport."

Stay at Home

It is an extraordinary thing that the people of Canada should try to make money plentiful by sending it out of the country to purchase foreign manufactures.

In this the way to restore good times?

During the fiscal year ending March 31st 1914 we bought $445,272,833 worth of goods from the United States and $76,745,448 worth of goods from the United Kingdom.

Manufacturers cannot make goods faster than they are bought. Every Canadian dollar which goes out of the country in search of a foreign product means the return of good times. If you want more Canadian factories running full speed ahead stay home, but at home

LIEBKNECHT EXPLAINS

Says War Is An Attempt To Crush Labor Movement

Amsterdam, via London, Dec. 10 — Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the Socialist leader in the Reichstag, who was the only one to vote against the war credit at the recent session, explains his actions in an article just published in Berlin. He says: This war was not desired by any of the people affected, nor was it kindled to promote the welfare of the Germans or any other people. It was created by the common action of the German and Austrian war parties i. the obscurity of semi-absolutism and secret diplomacy in order to annihilate their adversaries.

At the same time the war is a Napoleonic attempt to conserve and crush the growing labor movement.

Tofield Town Council will hold its next regular session next Monday evening.

Mr and Mrs. Devereux have taken up house-keeping at Corner Cookson and 3rd St. North.

Gen. Brase expects to leave today for the end of the month on a trip to his home in P.E.I.

Tom Whitmore is back again to Tofield and taking photos as per usual at the old stand on 2nd Ave. West.

Bellamy is handling Prince Rupert fish now. Direc: from the coast to your table. Try some.

Guy Billington has been busy these days cutting wood with his sawing outfit for private parties throughout the town.

The Daily boys returned from a hunting trip up north last week laden with the spoils of victory, viz: the hunt.

Justice of the Peace, Story, imposed fine of $5 each on four offenders against the game the other day. The charge in each case arose out of each of the parties taking in too much beans.

Farmers: get your grain ground at Rehner's Grist mill next door east of Noland's barn. See my adv.

Lloyd Wood is recuperating at his uncle Will's on 3rd St. North. He is making as good progress as can be expected.

Curlers are now in their element. After painstaking care all last week the ice was completed on Saturday and a few scratch games were pulled off.

Mrs. (Rev.) Stuart has received word that a favorite brother of hers has joined the forces of the second contingent at Toronto and will shortly be off to the front.

Ratepayers who have not paid their taxes should remember that on the 1st of January a penalty of five per cent will accrued. Get your taxes paid in this month.

Monday, being voting day, saw a large majority of the farmers in the township to the north and 3rd to the south in town to register their votes in the rural municipal election being held. There was a steady stream all day long to and from the polling booth in the Standard Block.

H. I. White, of Edmonton, who some weeks ago was selling Beverly Oil Stock and vicinity, was brought down to Tofield last Monday by the R.N.W.M.P., having been charged with false pretenses by the issue of logus cheques. It is alleged that he changed Merchants Bank cheques to read Canadian Bank of Commerce, Westside Branch. Edmonton. He came up for preliminary hearing before J. P. Story who committed him for trial.

Tofield is becoming more and more represented in the ranks of the Empire's troops which are daily being augmented by large numbers of recruits from every point throughout the Dominions. Last Monday morning Douglas Roan left for Calgary where he previously in the week had been taken in "C" Company, 31st Catalino, Alberta Infantry, he having transferred from the 19th Alberta Dragoons in which regiment he had previously enlisted. In "C" Company he will be in the same company as his father, A. J. Roan, who is also a Tofielder.

There is a rumor that the 31st Reg. will shortly leave for Bermuda where they will undertake garrison duty and at the same time undergo the necessary period of training prior to being sent forward to firing lines.

A large proportion of the Young People's Society were down to the depot to see Douglas off at 9.40 a.m. It was crowded by the common action of the German and Austrian war parties i. the obscurity of semi-absolutism and secret diplomacy in order to annihilate their adversaries.

Mrs. Hogle of Edmonton is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. H Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Wilson have returned from Des Moines Iowa and are staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mahaffey, 3rd Ave. S.

The bylaw providing for the subdivision of the Municipality into six electoral districts received 158 votes in favor and 71 votes were cast against it.

German Cruisers Bombard English Coast

Wednesday, Dec. 16th—A number of German cruisers made a raid on the east coast of England to-day attacking Scarboro, Hartlepool and Whitby and causing a great amount of damage. The war office reports that the forts are replying but are unable to see the warship owing to the dense fog. The loss of the Germans is well directed and has caused a great amount of damage and loss of life.

The German squadron in the northern Pacific under command of Admiral Von Spee which from last reports was making its way south around the Cape of Good Hope has at last been brought to bay by a fleet of British ships off the Falkland Islands east of the south end of South America in the Southern Atlantic and the cruisers Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Leipzig sent to the bottom. Further advices were to the effect that the Nurnberg was caught and sunk and that the search for the Dresden was still proceeding.

The destruction of these ships of the enemy had an immediate effect of a 25 per cent reduction in rates of marine insurance.

The Dresden is reported now to be cornered in the Straights of Magellen.

Half a dozen German submarines are reported yesterday to have made an attack on British warships in the Admiralty harbor. The attempt was made in early morning darkness but was futile. Two or three of the submarines are said to have been sunk.

It is reported that Germany is now willing to have a Christmas truth, conditional however, on the acquiescence of the other belligerents. The truce was a suggestion of the Pope

General Botha premier of the Union of South Africa, reports that the rebellion is practically ended. Col. Maritz is the only rebel leader who is now at large.

London, Dec. 14—The Austrian government has candidly admitted the defeat of the Austrian army in Servia and apparently of the Austrian invasion of that country has been checked. The latest attempt of the Austrians to advance is by way of Sabac on the Save river and from the Bosnian frontier. A report from Nish says the Servians are making a stand in order to allow time for the retirement of the main body of their army. The Austrian movement is announced and many hours have passed without any further news.

Bardo Concert Postponed

The concert arranged for Dec. 17 at Bardo has been postponed until after Christmas.

W. T. Breen, J. Haggarth, W. F. Parker and Lefebvre have returned from their hunting trip to Cold Lake. They each got a moose and report it to be a fine country.

The progress of the war in Northern Hungary is indefinite. From the reports it would appear that the Russians are too numerous to be easily overcome by the Austrian German forces.

In northern Poland the Germans claim to be making progress but on the other hand the Russians claim that they are in position of great strategic value than previously and that they are correspondingly strengthened

In the western theatre of war soft weather has taken place of the cold of last week and the troops are now suffering from a sea of mud. One feature of the present stage of the campaign and which is operating to the advantage of the health and spirits of the allies is that the troops in the Bring front are better rested and are receiving fresh men such as the vanguard of the reinforcements on hand. Like in the trenches it therefore seems easier than formerly.

Operations in this theatre, during the past week have been more or less restricted to artillery duels. Some slight progress has been made by the allies in wresting ground from the enemy and from the latter's report from them it would appear that there is apparent recognition by allied troops

Heligoland

Heligoland which is now appearing in print as regularly as one of the Chain A countries, is an island in the North Sea about as large as one of the snowballs which it has inspired.

It is situ ated 30 miles from the mouth of the Elbe and is about five times as big as the Grand Central Station in New York. Population about 100 down and even a few of that. Even the Kaiser with a small fortune beneath the rock, does not own it. Heligoland is a fishing village and bathing resort.

Heligoland has 2,500 people which is a pretty fair population for a square mile. Some of the fellows must be married and running around with families. It is a long way to work and home for the average commuter. Heligoland is a free port and there is no duty on anything. Heligoland is a free port and there is no duty on anything. Heligoland is a free port and there is no duty on anything.

It seemed a useless waste of good territory to the people in the world when Heligoland was captured by the British in the year 1807. Heligoland is a free port and there is no duty on anything. Heligoland is a free port and there is no duty on anything.

H.M.S. LION ONE OF BRITAIN'S GREAT SHIPS

The British battle cruisers Lion reported to be part of Vice Admiral Beatty's action to squadron. The Lion, built in 1910 is one of the fastest and most formidable of the fleet. She was Admiral Beatty's flag ship in the fight off Heligoland early in the war

The Ruins at Ypres After German Bombardment

No town in Belgium has suffered more from the terrific shell fire from the German batteries than has Ypres, the ruins of which are shown in the picture. It is a good illustration of the fearful destruction which the big 42 centimetre shells can inflict.

Among those who have made up an [illegible] are [illegible] Mrs. J. de Jacob Astor (first wife of the [illegible] J. Astor) and at her right is Lady Henry Somerset, a [illegible] American woman.

Belgians Flood Country To Drive Out Germans

Here is an illustration of the desperate attempts made by the Belgians to drive the German invaders from their country. It shows a farm near Pervyse flooded by the cutting of the dikes by the Belgians. The Germans have experienced great difficulty because of these floods, which have filled the trenches and mired their guns in many places. With the advent of cold weather the water has frozen making military operations doubly difficult.

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN FOR OUR OWN GOODS

Galt Editor Urges Country-wide Organization to Promote Sale of "Made-in-Canada" Products

The Galt "Reporter," a few days ago, had the following timely and interesting editorial under the heading "Buy Canadian-made Goods" on the economic situation in Canada arising out of the war

"While one of the immediate effects of the European war was the disorganization of trade in Canada, a secondary result—the effect of a quite lasting character—owing to the fact that the continent of Europe in the centre of industries, a vast double amount of manufactured goods for many imports from Germany France Austria, Belgium and other countries will now have to be produced here. Reports show that every year millions of dollars worth of manufactured goods [illegible] other countries are sold in Canada. Our own merchants absorbing the produce such articles as we as the foreign workers and if the manufacturers take advantage of the opportunity provided, the war should result in more work, instead of less for their employes.

"But the whole responsibility of making the best of the present situation does not lie with the manufacturers. If the people will demand Canadian made goods they will be not only supplying their personal needs but creating work for their fellow-citizens. When the Empire is involved in such a tremendous crisis as the present there is no thing for all to do. We cannot all go to the front but those who stay at home can do a great deal towards creating conditions that will make the outlook here as light as possible.

"The patriotic citizen, when he goes to the store to fill his wants will demand in every case possible goods "Made in Canada." There should be a well-defined campaign carried on throughout the country urging Canadians to purchase goods of home manufacture. If an accelerated demand for Canadian goods is created during the war, it will doubtless be maintained after normal conditions return in Europe.

"In this way we stand to benefit permanently by insisting that what we buy must be Canadian-made."

ORILLIA AND "MADE-IN-CANADA"

Orillia Paper Advocates Keeping Money Circulating Near Home

The Orillia "Packet," one of the brightest of Ontario's weeklies, recently had its leading editorial on the "Made-in-Canada" idea:

"The Orilla Furniture Company is promoting the buy-at-home idea by making use of a pay envelope which calls attention to the fact that "last year Canadians bought $12,000,000 worth of bawgus goods half of which could have been made in Canada"—or in other words $6,000,000 a day which went out of the country might have been spent at home in busy Canadian factories busy Why should not the same principle be extended a step further to "Made-in-Orilla" articles? Our merchants and people generally grumble more or less loudly if the factories are not running full blast. But do the grumblers do what is in their power to keep our home factories busy? Take the matter of furniture for instance. We have in Orilla a factory whose goods are commanding a ready sale in all parts of the country—to such an extent that it has worked more steadily during the last eighteen months than any other furniture factory in Ontario. Yet the Furniture Company might have spent much more money in wages if all the furniture of the class sold in Orillia had been of their manufacture. How often have those who clamor for industries, or talk about making Orillia grow, enquired for, or given a preference to Orillia furniture Similarly, why should those who want a motor car of the class manufactured by the Fisher Motor Company go out of town to buy it, when they can obtain the best value in their money by purchasing the "Made-in-Orilla" article, and factory service at their door—to say nothing of doing their share to make the motor works permanent and prosperous On the same principle the farmer from any of the surrounding townships who buys Tudhope carriages, or Tudhope-Anderson engine implements or stoves in helping to build up the home market for his own produce, and to add to the value of his own farm. The buy-at-home principle should not be confined to dry goods and "necessities."

The remarks of the Orillia "Packet" would bear repetition in almost every town and city in Canada.

Council Holds First Meeting

1915 town council met in its first regular session on Monday evening last, a full board being present. After the mayor and new members of council, having been sworn in to office, the new mayor called the meeting to order. Being called upon by several members of council to make a speech Mayor McCauley arose to his feet and said as "Economy" had been the watchword upon which they had been elected to office, he would practice it by cutting short his speech, and thereupon called for the first order of business.

At this point Coun Swift arose and volunteered a cordial welcome to the board on behalf of the older members of council to the new members. Couns Rogers replied in suitable terms.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and special meeting were read and confirmed by the three members of the old council.

Owing to the fact that at the time the tax enforcement return was made Lakeview sub-division was then assessed as acreage and prior to the time such return was sent to the Land Titles office for registration the west half of this subdivision was registered as such and certificates of title had issued, the registrar wrote saying that he could not register the return as made out against this west half without amendment being made to the return. Council authorized a request being sent to the registrar to refrain from registering the tax enforcement against this subdivision as it would necessarily hold up the entire registration and so far as the subdivision is concerned it would be just as well to apply the arrears of tax enforcement on the occasion that the next subsequent return would be registered.

The following standing committees were struck—

PUBLIC WORKS: Rogers, Mahaffey, Ingram.

FIRE, WATER & LIGHT: Ingram, Wallace, Swift.

HEALTH & RELIEF: Mahaffey, Richardson, Wallace.

BYLAWS, LICENSE & POLICE: Ingram, Wallace, Rogers

INDUSTRIAL & CIVIC ADVANCEMENT: Swift, Rogers, Richardson

The Bylaw, License and Police Committee was instructed to bring in bylaws at next meeting providing for the appointment of secretary-treasurer and assessor, auditor, solicitor and medical officer of health. Councillor Wallace gave notice of intention to introduce amendment to by law No. 120, being a bylaw providing for the use of iron covered cans for the use of storage of hay ashes prior to removal from properties, such amendment to provide for the prohibition of placing animal or vegetable material in these cans with the ashes.

Current accounts were passed.

Councillor Swift brought up the matter the need at the special meeting of council on Dec. 23rd last. The then council had an application from the Gratton Oil Company of Irma for the purchase of the 10 in. drive pipe not used in well No 3 at the junk price offered for the old and new material combined. Owing to the opinion being held by council of that time that it was not advisable to sell the practically new piping at the at the junk price and that were the 204 odd feet unused to be sold independent of the quantity of same pipe in the well it would probably result in actual loss to the town in the probable event of the casing being wanted either for local or outside use it was inadvisable at the moment to sell at all.

Extension Lecture

The third in the series of extension of the University of Alberta for Tofield, will be given in the Council Chamber on Saturday, January 9th, by Barker Fairley, M.A., Ph. D. Professor of German. His subject will be "The German National Spirit."

The lectures will endeavor to interpret the impressions and [illegible] al temperament as an [illegible] factor in its actions and its point of view. National temperament is as has proved, exhausted by centuries of history. It cannot be understood apart from history. The enquiry is poor in historical assurances but unusually rich in historical traditions, which must be thoroughly entered into if her present acts are to be correctly estimated. The attitude of a German to his Emperor, to his Empire, to his neighbours, to his ideals, requires the searchlight of his country's past, if it is to be rightly judged. Censure and approval only have value when remote antecedents are considered.

The body of Frank Farrell who died last week from injuries received in the discharge of a charge of dynamite at the Pioneer Coal mines the day after Christmas day, was taken to Viking on Monday morning for burial, he being a Roman Catholic and the Catholic cemetery and nearest priest to Tofield being stationed there. Farrell who was under the care of a physician at Tofield following the accident, disobeyed the doctors instructions and moved around too much apparently with the result that serious complications ensued. The matter was taken up by the Department of mines and an inspector last Saturday came down and enquired into the case. From all that can be learned the affair was solely an accident and in-[illegible] attaches itself to the mine authorities. The accident took place at the open air pit where a gang was working blasting off the coal from the bench

T. J. Glen was appointed issuer of Cowhill Rural Municipality No. 467 for 1915 at the Council meeting held on Monday, January 4th. This is the second time that Mr Glen will have served as such, viz: in 1912.

Councillor Swift prepared the sale of the pipe mentioned. After discussion the price was not up to $2.50 per foot and the secretary instructed to write the company stating that council would sell the 204 odd feet at this figure.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1915

THE affairs of both Tofield town municipality and Rural municipality of Cornhill have each held their annual meeting for the year. As stated in last week's issue, the policy of each governing body is to be towards strict economy in 1915 to be a year of careful financing if credit is to be preserved.

It would seem to be the bounden duty of those men who have been elected by the people to manage the public business, and who have accepted the responsibilities placed upon them, to make the matter of the conducting of the public business a careful study to the end that every transaction so completed will see the municipality and the public interest benefited to the extent of 100 cents for every dollar invested. One of the first duties of a council upon undertaking their year's work is to evolve a system upon which the work in all its phases is to be carried out. The lack of a system, even a fairly well organized, manner or later involves the executive in a tangle of affairs, chiefly financial, out of which it is too often extremely difficult to extricate themselves.

Now, in so far as the municipality of the town of Tofield is concerned the ... had a system for the management of municipal affairs is abundantly justified and shown to be effective in its operation. The maintainance of the town's credit depends practically on his ability to pay his obligations. In order to be able to pay he must have the ability to collect. So in a municipality the preservation of its credit must very largely indeed depend upon its ability to collect ... last year has paid all its ... tax levy. Tofield is one ... working expenses, met all liabilities ... redeem ... 11th, paid over to the school board $7000 of its $7500 demand, and wiped out an overdraft at the bank which at the beginning of the year amounted to some $3000. Tofield is much to be congratulated upon its financial condition. How about the rural municipality?

The main point in this argument, therefore, is the urgent need of the rural municipal council studying a system of careful and strict governing of expenditures, a system which will simplify the work of the office and which will also expedite the collection of taxes during the season in which money is more plentiful than at other stages of the year.

TO Mr. Franklin H. Symonds, who has discussed the progress of the war from month to month in the American Review of Reviews and done so with an unusual grasp of the meaning of its incidents, the situation in December recalls the situation of the Confederacy after Gettysburg and the making effective of the Atlantic blockade.

"The superiority in resources and numbers of the North was established," he writes, "and the Civil War settled down to ... The ... damage to ... which neither side could stand against ... wealth and ... power. RESTING PLACE OF DEAD LETTERS

Parcels Also Reach the Dead Letter Office and Their Contents Are Varied

On the dusty shelves of the Head Dead Letter office at Ottawa there is a strange collection of articles that have been sent through the mails and subsequently addressed in such a way that they have come to the Dead Letter Office. They are the dead, so to speak, of the mails, and a search through them reveals many interesting things. Letters that do not reveal whether the parties are living or dead, and parcels containing articles of every description, are found in the dead letter office. Many of the letters are addressed in such a way that it is impossible to find out for whom they are intended, and many of the parcels are found to contain articles that are worthless. Every year the dead letter office receives thousands of letters and parcels, and every year the number increases. Many of the letters are addressed to persons who have died years before the letters reach the office, and many of the parcels contain articles that are worthless. Prince of Wales Braved the Bullets

Was First Ordered From Danger Zone, and Then Allowed to Stay

London.—The "Weekly Dispatch" says "a good soldier and sportsman" is the reputation that the Prince of Wales has gained for himself during his comparatively short experience of active service, and he has gained it among men who are among the finest soldiers and best sportsmen in the world. The Prince of Wales did not go out to the front to take up some ornamental and ingloriously safe job on the General Staff.

His Royal Highness has been under fire with the British troops at the front, although he was ordered from the danger zone on first arrival. Annoyed by this preference to him, he later was permitted to share the perils of an ordinary soldier.

As a matter of fact, the Prince became a transport officer on the General Staff, and as such he put in nearly [illegible] hours of strenuous work a day, and sometimes twenty-four, or even forty-eight hours' work at a stretch.

As transport officer it was sometimes the Prince's duty to attend the loading of food wagons, in which the rations are conveyed to the trenches. Each wagon contains, as a rule, two days' rations for 1,500 soldiers, made up in as many separate packets. In loading the wagon one packer stands in it and another throws him a packet, and at each throw says, "One, two, three, etc." until he has thrown in twenty-five packets, when the officer supervising the packing shouts 'Stop' and enters the number in a notebook.

This process is repeated until 1,500 packets have been loaded into the wagon. The packers sometimes are careless and lazy, and in order to get over their work quickly, unless supervised by an attentive officer, will skip numbers when counting the packets, with the result that the soldiers in trenches get short rations.

A peculiar trial that is due to get through his work quickly, when the Prince was supervising the packing. "Twenty-five" received the packer, and glanced at His Royal Highness. "I make it twenty," said the Prince quietly. "Now just unload the whole wagon and count all the packets again."

There were 108 packets by that time in the wagon.

After a couple of weeks of work as transport officer the Prince went on to the intelligence branch of the General Staff. As an intelligence officer he had to assist in marking out on maps various changes that take place in the disposition of the British troops every day. When employed in this way the Prince several times has been under fire. The first time this happened the Prince was ordered out of the danger zone by an officer in charge of the mapping out, which, it is said, annoyed him, but of course he had to obey orders promptly.

Subsequently, however, His Royal Highness was allowed to share the risks run by his brother officers, when engaged in this particular work. The Prince, by the way, since his arrival at the front, has taken to motor cycling and two machines have been sent out to him by the King. The Prince when at headquarters, shares a villa with four other officers. The Prince's knowledge of French and German has enabled him to fulfil from time to time the useful office of interpreter. The Prince on more than one occasion has acted as interpreter at conversations between Sir John French and captive Ger-

Earl of Meath Says War Will Be Boon

Purge National Character of Dross Now Mixed With Pure Gold, He Thinks

London.—In his address to the Royal Colonial Institute the Earl of Meath said the present world war is brought with much ultimate blessing to the British race, and the ordeal through which it is passing will purge the national character of much of the dross which is now mixed with the pure gold.

Never before had it been possible to subject so large a proportion of the people to the wholesome influence of a strict discipline, voluntarily and cheerfully endured at the call of patriotic duty; never before had millions of men at the most impressionable period of their lives been brought under religious and civilizing influence under circumstances calculated to make the friendless and careless individual consider the most serious aspects of human life; and never before had millions of Englishmen fought on the Continent of Europe. The British armies of olden days were comparatively small in number, and were not composed of representatives of all classes as they are to-day. Consequently when the war was over and they returned home their influence was not great.

To-day it is the nation which is fighting on the Continent, and the old insularity must of necessity be broken down as the result of the war. Not only for the soldiers at the front, learning to appreciate and to communicate with their allies, the French and Belgians, but the enforced invasion of Great Britain by Belgian refugees must inevitable exercise and influence on the British people who are receiving them as honored guests.

Has not the war sent all the British people to school? Has it not taught them and is it not teaching them much in regard to their Empire of which they formerly were ignorant? Has it not brought home to them the immense importance of sea supremacy? Has it not proved to them the absolute necessity of being prepared for war by land as well as by sea? Has it not revealed to them the incalculable reserve of strength in man power, as well as in material resources, the possession of by vast an Empire places at the disposal of the subjects of King George V.

Has it not shown them how important it is to retain the affection of those four hundred millions of British subjects? Feelings of respect for each other must inevitable be aroused which will go far to strengthen the bonds of love which unite all portions of the British Empire.

Friends of Peace

A nation does not commit the great sin when it fights. It commits the great sin when it fights for a bad cause, or when it is afraid to fight for a good cause. Peace is one of those good causes and on behalf of which fighting continues to be necessary. The effective power for peace in the world at this moment is not the Americans people who are sitting comfortably by their fireside and denouncing the perverted Europeans for the brutality and carnage of the war. The effective friends of peace are Englishmen, Frenchmen, Germans and Russians who are fighting without rancor the battles of their country, but with the determination that 'ill the suffering and bloodshed shall not have been paid in vain—that the war shall be terminated by a treaty of peace which shall make in favor of a less predatory international organization.—The New Republic."

University Extension

The seating capacity in the town hall was overtaxed last Saturday night at the University Extension lecture given by Professor Fairley of Alberta University on the theme "The German National Spirit." The learned professor handled his subject from an educational standpoint and gave such interesting facts the only rise and development of the German nation which has permeated his lessons with a new view of this interesting people. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker and a committee of ladies appointed to further the scheme of having additional lectures given here.

Vets Get Sixty Days

William and Homer Stine were each given sixty days at hard labor at Fort Saskatchewan on charges brought under the vagrancy act. It appears from the records that their peregrinity for assuming at all hours has not suffered any check in spite of jones.

The past and last Saturday they again flaunted a head-guard defiance in the face of the law of the law with the result that they were taken and the after result

It also appears that William Stine has another charge hanging over him. After being arrested on Saturday night with his brother, he made his escape from the constable. The latter swore out a complaint against him for escaping from lawful custody which is under arrest on a criminal charge and a warrant was issued for his apprehension. The R N W M P went out with the warrant on Sunday and brought him in. Two years is the maximum penalty for his offence. Magistrate Nevison held over the charge indefinitely.

Doomed To Defeat

GERMANY is doomed to sure defeat. Bankrupt in statesmanship, overmatched in arms, under the moral condemnation of the civilized world, believed only by the Austrian and the Turk, the backward looking and dying nations, desperately battling against the hosts of three great powers to which help and reinforcements from other states not neutral will certainly come should the decision be long delayed, the issues not the ideal of her hosts but of her existence and wastes her diminishing substance in a hopeless struggle that postponement but cannot alter the final decree.—New York Times

THE sentences meted out by Justice Scott last Monday morning in the case of two apparently ordinary hunters who have repeatedly disturbed the peace by their long-drawn sprees in spite of many penalties inflicted upon them for so doing, will command itself to the better thinking element of the community. The case against has grown stale on the minds of the public by the justice at the time and the unseemly expression of all that goes to debase the peace of the community. The justice emphatic assertion of not more than the extreme limit of imprisonment should further cause either for prosecution for a similar offence will also deserve public approval.

Farmers Meet U.F.A.

A regular meeting of the Tofield branch of the U F A. was held in the town hall on Wednesday afternoon Jan 8th. Fifteen farmers were present. As the secretary was absent J Francis was appointed secretary for the meeting

A letter from Campbell & Hitchcock re coal was read by the secretary. Several of the White Rose Coal Co's mines are closed at present, and coal is scarce. Quotations for $4.25 per ton will be given for 2240 lbs. Any member wanting coal should notify the secretary as soon as possible.

It was moved by W Abercrombie that motions coming before a meeting must be made by the secretary, and that the secretary be asked to correspond with correspondence in order to obtain these prices. Carried.

Mr J Fletcher of Kingman was present and addressed the farmers on the subject of marketing as a co-operative farmer. He proposed that all nations should submit a delegate to the people before they took part in war as the aggressor and that the names of the voters who voted for war should be kept by the war department and those voters be called for active service before any voter who voted against war be called. Messrs Ball, Abercrombie, Bittrott, Cochran, Morton and Francis also discussed various phases of the war question

On the motion of the president the meeting adjourned

Raised No Protest to Belgium's Cruelties

Chicago, Jan. 11th—Edward P. Bell, London correspondent of the Chicago Daily News in a letter to his statboard from the information in interviews with men of importance throughout Europe, that the United States has incurred the enmity of all the belligerent nations and that with the close of the war this nation will face isolation and peril. In a memorandum from London to his paper today, Mr. Bell says:

"Conversations with persons of force representing the sentiments of Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Germany and Austria, compel the conclusion that the United States is making no real friends in this war. On the contrary is is impossible not to see that the American name is suffering, and at all conceivably the republic is carving up grave trouble for itself in the future.

The general charge against our country, is that we are displaying an unwonted lack of idealism, chivalry, magnanimity and courage. Britains, Frenchmen, Russians and Italians, blame America for ignoring the invasion of Belgium and the violations of the convention of the Hague and later protocols, and to the international arena with a protest resting exclusively upon matters of trade. The argument in all these complaints is that if President Wilson had protested against the violations of the treaties and the principles of civilized warfare he could have protested with a vastly greater effect against the arbitrary and possible indefensible interference with American cargoes.

Enormous, profoundly misunderstanding of the situation by nearly every nation misunderstands on any other, always have resolved in the people of the United States as "dollar chasers" and the policy of President Wilson in the present war has crystalized the pervasive impression into a sharp and universal postulate.

It is asserted on every hand that the Americans witnessed unmoved that is, so far as official action was concerned—the cruelties of Belgium, the killing and maiming of women and children and other non-combatants the destruction of private property, the strewing of the open seas with long lived floating mines all, in voicing enormous sacrifices of life and wealth without commensurate military advantage. Again and again one hears men of repute say that Mr. Wilson has revealed his own cowardice, degraded the presidency, dishonored American political and moral traditions. These sentiments do not proceed from resentment of Mr. Wilson's protest with regard to British and French treatment of trade with neutral countries. Everyone admits that Mr Wilson is bound to protect the neutral commerce of American so far as he can.

The indictment against us so far as I can measure it simply is this. We abdicated ignominously and ran away when great questions of morals and humanity were concerned but promptly recovered our sense of duty and our courage when the state of war threatened to reduce the profits of the copper kings and otherwise penalize American materially.

"Now if we have lost at least for a time being the friendly and respectful consideration of the allies, I think it cannot possibly be said that we have gained the high opinion of the Teutonic empires. My opinion is that influential Germans are inclined to speak of us with scorn. They accuse us of erring not to England of enduring its arrogant monopoly of the sea of interfering British control of cables largely owned by Americans and otherwise of showing ourselves small

"It seems that the whole of Europe is hardening against America. I understand that diplomacy and pious aspirations will go down under the language of futility and sham, but one can not doubt, as matters stand, that when peace comes the United States will have no hand in making it; that its isolation in all events, as far as Europe is concerned will be nearly complete and the maintenance of not only of its own traditional policies in the western hemisphere, but its own national security will require the utmost naval and military strength of which it is capable."

All to be Given Opportunity for Enlisting

Third Contingent to be Sought in Smaller Towns and Villages

Ottawa, Jan. 11—Announcement was made to-night by the militia department that in connection with the raising of a third overseas force a plan will be adopted which will give young Canadians in small towns and rural districts a better opportunity to offer their services to the country. The first contingent was mobilized at Valcartier The second is being mobilized at various divisional headquarters. In creating the third force recruiting stations will be opened at battalion headquarters where, after a company has been raised, it will be retained for several weeks before being mobilized at the regimental or divisional headquarters.

Many complaints have been received from farmers' sons and young men in small towns and villages that although willing to serve they have found it difficult to become attached to regiments recruiting in large centres. Under this plan the opportunity to enlist will be brought right to the door of practically everybody in Canada. All the volunteers necessary to make up the second contingent have now been secured and as soon as it is known definitely that the first contingent is to leave Salisbury Plain arrangements will be made for sending the second contingent across the Atlantic.

Orders have gone out to all commanding officers in Canada to the effect that any recruit found under the influence of liquor shall be summarily dismissed from the regiment to which he has enlisted The department has decided not to tolerate any marked inebriety in the ranks of the Canadian forces preparing for the front.

Canadians Need Not Fear Danger From Earthquakes

Over the greater part of Canada, says a report of the Dominion Observatory, we have no fear of any disastrous earthquake, at least to bear the primeval rock; we have no formations known as in what the compression and adjustment takes place. The weak line of the surface of the earth in Eastern Canada, and old wound that would be the first to open afresh, if strains were to be more excessive, is the Great Champlain fault running down the bed of the St. Lawrence from Levis to the Gulf.

Mild quakes which are sometimes experienced in the Dominion are described as very minute manifestations of the pent up energy of the earth.

Poor Seed

Only nineteen out of one thousand Canadian farmers consulted last year by the representatives of the Government of Canada were unprepared to buy seed grain. Two out of three farmers who purchased seed in 1914 have not yet paid for the seed. It is true that quite a number of these people have paid a part of their debt for seed but, in Prince Edward Island, less than one third of the farms visited at that time and only 10 per cent claim to do it on the loan hundred farms visited in Ontario, In Nova Scotia forty per cent of the farmers and, in Alberta, thirty one per cent, bought their seed grain Two from this purchased seed is only feed grain shipped in from the west and sold at a short time will have the privilege of booking it at a fair rate of interest on good security A... THE direction informally arrived at by the council of the rural municipality, to postpone active expenditure ... this year, and to keep in the summer in order to reduce the amount of outstanding liabilities, if adhered to in a policy which will commend itself to the best minds in the municipality. Criticism of Public Men

CORRESPONDENCE appearing in this issue relative to rural municipal affairs indicates that there is a critical ... in ... with the conduct of the municipal business in the past and shows the men who have accepted the responsibility of conducting the public business that they are open to public criticism. A little storm frequently leaves the air greatly cleared and causes a better understanding.

This town needs publicity, and must depend for it on its newspaper.

The newspaper advertiser is paying out his money for publicity that helps the town as well as himself.

The advertiser helps to support the paper to the benefit of the reader, therefore the reader in his own interest should patronize the dealer who advertises in the newspaper in preference to the dealer who either does not advertise at all or who prefers to spend his money for publicity in ... other form which he is sure will benefit no one but himself.

The town and every interest in it needs publicity at the present time. The interest of every one is that the means of publicity should be strengthened as much as possible. Every one reads the newspapers and every one who reads can help the publicity campaign by giving that preference in patronage to the newspaper advertiser which his enterprise and public ... deserves.—Vegreville Observer

This goes to show that the newspaper is read pretty thoroughly and shows further that if advertising ... to reach the people in the quickest and best way, the newspaper fills the bill. This is more true of local weekly newspapers than of the big city dailies. How is your advertisement this week?

More Recruits From Tofield Off For the Front

Lieut. A. W. Gross, recruiting officer for the 31st regiment, was in Tofield last Friday and Saturday and succeeded in enlisting seven more recruits for His Majesty's service across the sea. Tofield district has not done too badly at all in the matter of supplying loyal champions for the Empire's cause. A noticeable feature, however, in connection with the number of recruits offering in the large proportion which are old country born. The Old-country man is admirably showing the Canadian and U.S. born that he is made of the stuff of which heroes are constituted and living down that too oft expressed idea made by natives of this continent that superiority of character and stamina rests only with the latter. Good luck to the boys from the old sod. They're all right. May they uphold the honor and tradition of the Empire with success. The boys enlisting last week were as follows:

Myles Sweeney, born in Ireland
Stephen Stephens " " Wales
Leonard Ward " " London E.
E. Rabbish, " " Ontario
Fred G. Eadie " " London E.
David Hammond " " England
John Blanchard " " London E.

Since the above went off to join the ranks it is understood that E. Bucknell of the Duhall mines left on Tuesday night to enlist with the 31st. Bucknell also is an Eng. Albanian, being a native of Pinkstone. Eng. Kit Robinson Eng. also, it is understood, is enlisting with the same regiment.

With the above serving in the ranks, the number applied from the Tofield district has risen to fairly generous proportions being nineteen as follows in addition to the above mentioned.

C. Davis, Can, 49th Reg. 2nd Coat.

Council

Council met in regular session last Monday evening, all members being present with the exception of Coun. Ingram.

After the disposal of the minutes of the previous meeting a communication from the M.H.O re party keeping hogs in town was read and laid on the table for future consideration and current accounts were passed.

Ch. Mahaffey, Health & Relief, reported seeing Dr. McDonald re bylaw in connection with the re-appointment of the M.H.O. and the same was satisfactory to the latter. The bylaw appointing the M.H.O. for the year was then read a second and third times and finally passed. Dr McDonald receives the appointment and the salary was set at $50 per year. The matter of disposal of refuse on the reclaimed fireguard was came up for discussion and the bylaw amending the nuisances grounds bylaw by substituting the word "twenty-five" for the word four was introduced and finally passed. Refuse will now have to be deposited twenty-five rods back from the road instead four rods as formerly. The construction of a fenced lane from the road back into the grounds this distance was ordered.

The Licence, Bylaw & Police Com. submitted a preliminary report recommending certain amendments to the Licence bylaw. This matter was left in the hands of the Com. for full report at next meeting, the changes suggested being supported by council.

The proposed Transient Traders bylaw was brought up and referred to the Bylaws Com. to be incorporated in the Licence Bylaw.

Mr. G. J. Rimmer appeared before council re certain agreements between the Town and Appleton & Robbs and recommended that steps be taken to complete the deal. This had reference to the agreement to purchase of a block of land in Ruthil park for civic park purposes. Owing to the fact that these gentlemen are interested in the ownership of Ruthil park subdivision with the registered owner, on motion of Coun. Swift-Rogers, the secretary was instructed to write the Sage Appleton Co for information as to what lands in the Town of Tofield they were liable for taxes.

Mr. Hoflin Returns To Attack

Editor,
Tofield Standard:

Dear Sir:—

I see in your paper of January 28th, a few remarks by Mr. Hoflin. He claims that on nomination day he said nothing about the debt of the municipality. His own word you all know. You all know what I said, and he was rising on his toes when he made his remark, up in the hall. That is one drawback of his own word.

He did not answer my question about the taxes for each township. He just looked up the assessment notice that the [illegible] about 7 months ago. He says "Mr. Hoflin had better make another trip of inspection. We have a good piece of road there now. We would not be surprised because several roadgangs have been working on that piece of road during 1914. Further on he says, he never had any conversation with me in regard to that work and any other work since he has been on the council. He must be absent-minded to say that. I am absolutely [illegible] I am sure of them. That shows that Mr Hoflin's memory is [illegible] I did not do it. Dear Sir,
Cornhill Rural Municipality

There are instances in connection in the past in some districts of this municipality with regard to the manner in which the road foremen have been appointed, and also as to the qualifications of the men appointed.

The appointments hitherto have gone to the most successful "crew-ler" irrespective of ability to carry out the work to the best advantage.

A road foreman should also mend other things, be able to correctly judge the lay of the land in order to get the best results from his draining and grading work, also to estimate quantities and costs of grading and to keep correct accounts of time and cost of work.

These accounts if properly made out will save the poor secretary-treasurer an enormous amount of time and trouble.

A. BRAKEFIELD

H. Sarmand, after being stored to place jars, should have the cover removed occasionally and the mixture well stirred. This will prevent it from becoming hard. If a little extra brandy is added occasionally when most can be kept fresh for about one year.

When Storing Linen

Never starch linen that is to be stored for a long time, it is apt to crack, and if left for many years will rot. Rinse the articles quite free from starch, dry and fold away, if possible, in blue paper. The blue paper always keeps them from turning

Dr. MacQueen Banqueted

Given Hearty Send Off by Fellow Members of Curling Club

Has Left To Join Veterinary Corps in Imperial Army

A farewell banquet was tendered Dr. Macqueen, V.S., last Thursday night at the Royal Alexandra by the Tofield Curling Club. The doctor who is the father of the local curling club, being the main instigator of the movement a few years ago who is resident in the organization and since then in its healthy life, has always been an enthusiastic and keen sport, was very popular and will be missed. He has accepted a commission in the Imperial Army in the veterinary corps and left on Saturday morning for Calgary where he was to join the 39th Battalion from Vancouver en route for Halifax.

The banquet was a thoroughly enjoyable function. Mine Host Mr Hannan had provided a plentitude of gastronic delights. After the food a lengthy toast list followed each of which a large number of the members of the club gave highly interesting speeches and one and all of which included many expressions of regret in the doctor leaving and hearty hopes of his safe return. Jos Rogers, Vice-President of the club presided in absence of Pres. McLaughlin who was in attendance at the Rink in Edmonton. At the close of the speeches Mr. Rogers in fitting words made the presentation of a pair of military brushes in morocco rose to the guest of the evening who replied feelingly and gratefully for the kind expressions of good will from his fellow sports. Mrs. MacQueen was not forgotten either on the occasion happy reference being made to her and assurance given to the doctor that the people of Tofield would have both her and him continuously in mind during his absence.

McLaughlin Rink Win Out In R.K. Series at Edmonton Spiel

The Crack McLaughlin Rink representing Tofield Curling Club at the Edmonton Bonspiel while going out in other series, cleverly managed to put it over the head of their opponents and captured the silverware in the Benzinaus Kerr Competition, returning on Monday often a hard but enjoyable week's sport at the roaring game. Tofield rinks, especially the members of the club are highly elated with the success won by Mac and his rink T F Newbigging took up a rink also and won and lost several well contested games, and while they did not succeed in capturing any of the goods they all report having a swell time. Accompanying the R.K. cup won by the McLaughlin rink were four valuable wrist watches which became the property of the curlers or in the case of doubly rather than wives. English Officer Writes That the Soldiers are Showing Up Admirably

The following is an extract from a letter just received from an English officer in the Royal Engineers. He had a commission in Kitchener's army, but was appointed to the Royal Engineers on account of his ability and wide experience as an engineer. He is at Canada:

This information should be given every publicity to counteract the injurious and ill effects of the exaggerated reports of lack of discipline &c. &c. which have been sent home by Mr. and Mrs. Bennett who have been staying with us. I do not know if you have seen any of these reports but I have seen several and while they do not exceed in capturing any of the goods they all report having a swell time. Accompanying the U.K. cup won by the McLaughlin rink were four valuable wrist watches which became the property of the curlers or in the case of doubly rather than wives. The two cups which remains in Tofield for the year is on view in Somers' window

I can only speak from the point of view of my own battalion, but from all I have heard and seen of them, and of Kitchener's army, they compare most favorably with the latter, and I have been most agreeably surprised at the way they have stood the really terrible conditions to which they have been subjected on Salisbury Plain. It was not to have been expected that they would show up at all as well in European warfare conditions as the Canadians did in South Africa, but I think from all I have heard that they are turning out in all the real essentials of discipline far and away ahead of Kitchener's army, in the matter of desertions, drunkenness, absence without leave, and such like offences, which one may fairly rank as of more importance than the mere question of parades and officers walking together on the streets of London, a sad bowl of beer critics, one notes are always irreconcilable non-combatants. Also there are bits are wonderfully good and complete, once again by compare me with K's army. I mention this because a fairly common jest against the Canadians is that they came over with tan boots, which simply wouldn't stand the wet on

Hon. Duncan Marshall Addressed Large Audience

Agriculture His Topic

Local Branch of Patriotic Fund Organized

Hon Duncan Marshall Minister of Agriculture addressed one of the largest audiences ever assembled in Tofield last Monday night when an intense interest and pride in his Hall Block Monday began in the week on the farm. That, the first day of the Short Course in Agriculture School a large portion of the farmers attending stayed over for the evening meeting in order to hear Mr Marshall and for McCallum our local representative.

Mr Marshall lost no time in getting to the heart of his subject and right closely he carried his hearers with him all through the course of his remarks. He briefly outlined the results of the courses in training in the centre agricultural colleges of western provinces showing that instead of adding largely to educate the young men for the farm they tended to keep them away from the farm. He had adopted a different policy for Alberta by establishing Demonstration Farms and Agricultural Schools in connection where young men and women from the farm, no matter what their educational qualifications could come and take up courses of scientific training on all phases of farm work and household science. It he has passed to continue in charge of the Department of Agriculture for the next two years, he would endeavour to have such a number through out the province, so that all farm boys and girls, would keep their feet and farm more intensively than ever before for it was needed more and would be needed more in the close future than ever before

Following the departmental address Mr J. S. McCallum, M.L.A., took up the subject of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, what it is and its work. As a preliminary he discussed the war, outlining all the various incidents which led up to the outbreak of general hostilities and the participation by Great Britain in the struggle, and why Canada is at war when the British Empire was at war. To those of us who remain at home while others are active front to fight our battles

A DOMINEERING STATE COACH

The Lord Mayor of London Goes to Inauguration in a Grand Vehicle

In the eyes of the children the state coach for the use of the "Right honorable, the Lord Mayor of the City of London," seems to have come straight out of fairyland. Its magnificence is of grandeur are by no means insignificant or mythical.

Built in the year 1757, ... was designed by Sir Robert Asgill, then Lord Mayor, in November 9 of that year. Perched in its splendid interior he was driven to and fro from Asgill's ... Thames and attended by his ... City Companies proceeded in ... to Westminster to take ... after that the inauguration ceremonies were performed in those days.

The beautiful panels of the state coach were painted by the famous Cipriani, and the heraldry designs by Cotton, one of the first members of the Royal Academy. Cotton was ... coach painter to King George III ... and the undercarriage is very richly carved and gilt. The body is supported by four leather braces fastened with beautifully-designed gilt buckles, which bear the City arms.

The state harness, after being in use for one hundred years, was restored at the time of the Coronation of King George V., at a cost of £1,175. It weighs 117 pounds for each horse and it was found difficult to procure horses strong enough to carry it. In addition to pulling the coach, which itself weighs four tons. The new harness was found one-third less than the old ... of the one-hundred ... bronze mountings are used on the new set, the remainder rest in the Guildhall Museum.

GUARDING AN EMPEROR

Great Precautions Taken to Prevent Harm to the Kaiser

The following ... serves to show how the German Emperor is looked after ... even when he "needs a very slight ... distance.

During what did not seem to be a very perilous passage from Hamburg to Cranberg on the part of the ... journeying overland, well up and ... the road. Soldiers were stationed at intervals. Pedestrians on the east ... Cranberg were turned back. Travelers by carriage were examined, and allowed to proceed if they proved to ... harbor no nefarious designs.

The imperial equipage passed at night. First there came a mounted escort, then soldiers on foot. Five minutes later more mounted men appeared, and then what seemed to be interminable motor cyclists, ... them side to side, but these men were merely sweeping from one side of the road to the other, and scanning the ground by the light of their vivid acetylene lamps. They were looking for bombs.

Behind the motor cyclists were other mounted soldiers, and then came the royal companions. It passed in a flash of light and color, and ... speed it was maddening, but because of a huge electric light hung at the ... end of the pole. This served a double purpose. It illuminated the way and ... also threw so brightly that the eyes ... of any assassin would have been rendered by it that he could hardly have got a correct aim.

TREASURES AT BUCKINGHAM

Three Visits at the Palace Contain Many Valuables

The treasure vaults on the second floor of Buckingham Palace are three in number, and their contents are of almost fabulous value, comprising the vast accumulation of jewels, armor, statuary, pictures, furniture and other art objects which have come into the possession of the royal family through various channels during the last two centuries, and for which no accommodation can be found in the public and state apartments of the royal residences. The contents of the third vault may almost be termed priceless. Of gold ornaments alone there are over six thousand, weighing considerably over a ton in all, and many individual items would bring thousands of dollars in the open market. Most of these treasures came to Queen Victoria as gifts from other sovereigns.

Mathematics in the Orient

The Japanese mathematician, Tosio Hikami, writing of the development of mathematics in the Far East, claimed that the Orientals on the Pacific were already acquainted, as early as the third and fourth centuries of our era, with facts and theories in mathematics which were unknown in Europe several centuries later. As early as the middle or latter half of the 14th century the Chinese were in possession of all the rules for handling vulgar fractions, being in this a thousand years or so ahead of Europe.

Dresden Has Been Sunk. British and Allied Troops Make Splendid Advance on Western Front

Five British Steamers Sunk

The British Admiralty announced Monday that on March 14 the German Cruiser, Dresden had been sunk in the South Pacific. At 9 a.m. the H.M.S. Glasgow, auxiliary cruiser Orama and H.M.S. Kent caught the Dresden off Juan Fernandez Island. An action ensued and after five minutes fighting the Dresden hauled down her colors and ran up the white flag. She was much damaged and set on fire, and after she had been burning some time her magazine exploded and she sank.

The crew was saved. 13 badly wounded. The Germans were landed at Valparaiso.

There were no British casualities and no damage to the ships.

The German Submarine U-29 sank five steamers and damaged three others around the British coast on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

An advance of upwards of 1500 yards was made by the British in a sudden bombardment of the German trenches at Neuve Chappelle on the Morning of March 10. The bombardment was so severe and so well directed that the Germans were incapable of strenuous resistance with the result that a general rush ensued and the capture of the whole of the elaborate series of German trenches in and about Neuve Chappelle fell into our hands. A widening out of the action followed and by night nearly three parsts in length and 1200 yds. forward advance had been effected. The Tobruies were highly elated with their success. For the time being they certainly had the enemy beaten and on the run.

British and French warships are existing off from Newport News, Va., awaiting the coming out or internment of the German Cruiser, Prinz Eitel Fredrick, which put in there a few days ago for repairs and which had on board the captured crews of British and French vessels as well as of the U.S. ship Frye. It is now known that our warships knew of the German cruisers whereabouts and destination and allowed her to enter Newport News not wishing to endanger the captured crews by prompting a naval action.

Canadians Took Part in Big Offensive of the British Force

Paris, Mar. 14 — "The bombardment with which the British preceded their attack on Neuve Chapelle and Aubers was particularly effective," telegraphs the "Matin's" correspondent at Armentieres. "Their work was an good around Lille that the German headquarters was moved from that city to Tourcoing, foreshadowing a general withdrawal of troops.

"The Germans lost heavily in the fighting, for the British and Canadians fought with magnificent bravery. Their masses overwhelmed them with joy. All the soldiers coming back from the front are beaming with pleasure and singing cheerily. One thousand German prisoners were taken.

London, March 12th— Every known fact indicates that our advance in Flanders is of greater force than say attempted by us since last October.

One Canadian, whose letter is printed in to-days Times, writes: "We've been on the firing line 24 hours mixed up with British regulars who showed us all the dodges and little tricks for these Germans. We are all very proud and give the English Tommies the very highest praise, because we see now what they have been through and see their ability in trenches. The "Tommies" are just it and we all admire them."

The Oddfellows of Tofield held a "Hard Times" Social in the Hall Block last Friday night which was largely attended and very much enjoyed. The costumes of the gentlemen attending were quite original in many cases and provoked considerable merriment. An attractive programme of music, speech and song was presented which was followed by the serving of refreshments in the upper hall Later those who enjoy dancing did so to their hearts' content in the lower hall.

Council Meets in Regular Session. License By-laws Revised. Routine Business Attended To

Decides to Allow Sale of Portion of Industrial Site

Council met in regular session last Monday night, the full board sitting. Upon the reading and adoption of the minutes of the preceding meeting Coun. Richardson asked for the ruling of the chair on the point that the License Bylaw which had not been considered at last meeting owing to council adjourning when the order of business had been reached, should not come up first at this meeting The mayor ruled that it should only come up in the regular way unless council by motion should bring it up.

Communications were received from the G.T.P. re Industrial Sites No. 2. J. D Bouch, engineer, asking council to consider a raise in salary. J. Ferguson, a member of the reading room committee, asking council for the use of the council chamber free of charge.

Current accounts were brought in and passed.

Under the head of "Introducing and reading of Bylaws" considerable business was transacted. The License Bylaw which in a consolidation of and amendment to the existing License Bylaws in condensed form was first introduced and given its first reading. Coun cil then went into committee of the whole and considered it clause by clause. During this operation some radical changes were made Milk vendors' licenses were cut out Circuses, amusements, etc. were put in a better classified form and licenses graded accordingly. The licence applying for the Variety Theatre was cut down by half transient traders license set at $50.

On the completion of its work the committee rose and reported the bylaw for its second reading which was given. For its third reading it is held over until next meeting

Bylaws amending 121 regulating certain town officials and that defining the duties of the Police force were brought in which amendment includes that of membership in the fire brigade were introduced and given their first and second readings and held over until next meeting for final passage.

The bylaw appointing T. F Newbigging auditor for the first quarter of the current year was finally passed.

J Ferguson's letter requesting use of council chamber will be allowed by motion of council. The use of the council chamber will be allowed subject to certain restrictions and conditions.

J. D Bouch's request for an increase of salary was referred to the Fire, Water & Light committee for report

Mrs. Bowman has returned to her home after a few days visit with friends in Edmonton.

Mr. L. Parker is moving his house to his new outside business site in the S. hospital.

Wednesday, March 10th was a Red Letter Day in the history of Lindbrook. Why, such a time as we had in our small little school. A entertainment was got up by the residents and a splendid task it was, people being divided into the Belgian Red Fund. At 8:30 p.m. Mr. F. W. Wade, our president, announced numbers on the programme, which opened with Songs, recitations, dramatic selection. The winds programme was a go-the night with a bang and a whirl and every body had a happy time. At the close the National Anthem was heartily sung by all. Lindbrook is greatly indebted to the Tofield people for their willingness to help in raising the offer the services of Mr. Wade, and to all those who contributed with his kind assistance. Miss Wade and Miss Wade were the candidates and needless to say entertainment was a success in every way. Lindbrook is proud to have such talented young ladies to assist in any entertainment. Lots of fun and amusement was had during the evening, and the sum of $21.20 was handed over to the secretary of the Patriotic Fund by the chairman announcing that it gave the trustees great pleasure to offer the proposition and would with a little donation. Hurrah, who said the Lindbrook trustees were gone behind the times, we can flop on ripple for the right kind of goods. Everybody voted it the best time ever given in the district and the sale to say the least was a success and no doubt all present will be anxious for another such entertainment in the near future.

HON. W. T. WHITE AND THE BUDGET

How the Minister of Finance Dealt With Implement Duties—A Speech Every Westerner is Interested in

While the announcement in the speech of Hon. W. T. White the Minister of Finance in Ottawa on, A., will, with respect to the duties on agricultural implements, did not please some Western people, it will be found of interest to all and prepare to learn what Mr. White had to say on this much discussed topic.

Hon. Mr. White spoke in part as follows: It has been recognized, I think, by all governments that it is most important that duties upon agricultural implements should be fixed at rates as reasonable as possible, having regard to fiscal policy. Agriculture is recognized as the great basic industry, and it is important that the implements which the farmer uses—his plant, so to speak—should cost him as little as possible. This principle is recognized in the tariff of to-day. The average rate of duty upon dutiable goods under the present tariff, the tariff of 1907—the tariff of the late government as well as of the government of to-day—is 26 per cent. The duties upon agricultural implements are chiefly 17½ per cent. and 35 per cent.

The Tariff Simplers

Now, there is one point to which I desire to refer in this discussion. The tariff of this or of any other country—and especially of a young live country—is a structure—one part is dependent upon another part; the rate of the tariff are relative one to the other, the rates on finished products are related to and largely dependent on the rates on raw materials which are usually the finished products of other manufactures, and dutiable. This suddenly, so to speak, of the tariff cannot be lost sight of. Usually it is impossible to deal with a single item without at the same time dealing also with other related schedules. It is impossible to deal with single and special reduces and lower or abolish the duties upon them without dealing also with necessarily related duties which will not only result in the greatest injustice to those affected thereby but would exercise a most harmful effect upon the entire industry of the nation by the causing loss of confidence on the part of the business community. On account of this consideration, it is unusual to make many tariff changes except upon occasions of general revision when the tariff can be dealt with as a whole after due inquiry and consideration as to its scope and bearing of its various provisions. If modifications are then found to be necessary, upon a range of products or commodities any other modification dependent thereon or necessary thereto may also be made, by the end that injustice and disturbance may as far as possible, be avoided.

Means Free Trade

But, there is no reservation or exception in that resolution. It is a drastic resolution calling for the abolition of all duties upon all agricultural implements of every kind and nature whatsoever. Upon the merits of the debate on the address, I referred to the declaration at Hamilton and at Montreal by my right honorable friend the leader of the opposition (Sir Wilfrid Laurier), in favor of a policy of free food, and I said at that occasion and I say now that free food means free trade. I say furthermore, that free agricultural implements means free trade.

Having gone so far, my right honorable friend must inevitably go further. The logical and inevitable outcome and conclusion of his declaration will be to give free food and of the policy respecting free agricultural implements is the focal policy of free trade. Sir, I have no exception to take to my right hon. friend espousing the policy of free trade. I simply desire to say that we do not think in the House are ready to accept that change of habit, whenever he chooses to throw it down.

Duties on Materials

Now, I am going to ask this House to consider the position of the manufacturer of agricultural implements with all the duties abolished. The first what is his position under the tariff of to-day? The manufacturer of agricultural implements in the manufacturer of other commodities in Canada, has subject to duty, his stone, his brick and all other building materials that enter into the composition of his establishment. He buys subject to duties his engines, his machinery and the plant generally. He pays fifty three cents a ton upon the coal that he consumes in his factories. He buys subject to duty his iron and his bars, his shapes, sheets, wire, forgings, plates, nuts, washers, tubing, chains, castings and practically all kinds of materials entering into his product. The items of duties

LOCOMOTIVE INDUSTRY IN UNITED STATES

Serious Depression in This Trade—The Wilson Tariff Blamed For Decline

The Baldwin Locomotive Works in Philadelphia is probably one of the best known industries in the world. Every one will be interested to know, therefore, to a great degree, how occupied with the reductions announced in the Wilson Tariff in the United States has caused a decline in their new works.

Root of the Stagnation

Mr. Samuel M. Vauclain, the President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, in an address delivered before the Annual Convention of the Master Boiler Makers' Association and the Boiler Makers' Supply Men's Association, on May 20th, said that the low and greatly reduced tariff lay at the root of the present stagnation of business and it was he pointed to the immense manufacturers of the United States who have no alternative but to shut down or run on short time for lack of orders.

Mr. Vauclain, who has made a special study of the tariff question, advised the manufacturers to study the tariff of 1909—the Payne-Aldrich tariff—and to see what changes in duties would be necessary to make it effective for to-day. The Payne-Aldrich tariff, he said, was the best tariff ever framed in the United States. The speaker's reason for the low tariff now in force in the United States was the prevailing hard times. He said he was in favor of a tariff that would be a moderate revenue producer, and that would protect the industries in the United States. He said that it is a matter of regret that the tariff question should be settled by the sentiment of the country against individual interests, and that it is unfortunate that the tariff is not settled at the end of a year, so that business could go on without disturbance at the end of each year. Nothing more and more the necessity of out of hiring, but the industry was to continue. Great Britain, and they were continuing employment in the United States. He said that the Empire, all others but the United States.—Montreal Witness.

PRAISES PRESIDENT FOR LOWERING TARIFF

Canadian Manufacturer Believes Reciprocal Tariff in West one as to United States Unnecessary.

Among the few manufacturers in Canada that seem to be in favor of the Underwood tariff is the Paige Manufacturing Company of Sherbrooke, Que. whose president, Mr. Edward Baker, is reported to have said, in one of the local papers of that city, that the Underwood tariff is not only desirable but essential for the country's prosperity. The woolen manufacturers of Canada are in a very different position from that of the cotton manufacturers. The latter have to pay a duty of 35 per cent. on woollen goods to be imported into Canada, while the Underwood tariff as set forth in Schedule K of the Payne-Aldrich Tariff Act.

"I have always thought the Canadian high protective tariff indefensible from an economic point of view, a moral standpoint. The present protective duties ranging the almost incredible figures of 35, 40 and even 300 per cent. It was a most iniquitous, almost impossible burden on the consumer, and a restriction on the capacity on the part of the American producer that was absolutely unjustifiable to every free American citizen.

"President Wilson is to be congratulated that by the Underwood Tariff Act the duties on such a narrow margin and of the worst type was reduced to the comfort of the Belgium children refugees. I believe opposed upon the program for the Canadian people to be put in operation tomorrow, but I think that the Underwood tariff is a step in the right direction, and I believe that the people of Canada will soon be educated to the point where they will demand the abolition of the present high protective tariff. I believe that the Underwood tariff is a step in the right direction, and I believe that the people of Canada will soon be educated to the point where they will demand the abolition of the present high protective tariff.

Made In Canada

When a country is handicapped with literature regardless of cost we assume that there is more interest behind the advocacy. The people of the United States, especially those with German names, have been most active in the development not only of their knowledge bases, but of their business with pro-Prussian and British sympathies tainted at the source and all but the sample have to doubt that the Berlin authorities are behind it all. There is no one when such an advocacy is carried on out of pure patriotism. When a Neal Dow-inspired prohibitionist in Maine, the enthusiasm was such that the fund was raised to "save the state from deep with alternative possibly did as much to drive the state into the arms of Mr. T. Wetmore, who was given his whole time to the campaign and was given to believe that he would be appointed to the Senate. Mr. T. Wetmore, however, was given from what our new tariff has done in practice, manages to those who declare there are all was well with each other. The sentiment of the country had been rapidly turning against duties which taxed the necessities, but to meet the cost of the public works and services, not to the benefit of the factory of whose business is in trade secrets, and which for nearly fifty years on the parole of fiscal legislation in Canada as well as all other forms of activity has been manufactured. A ready there are many in the United States who predict a reaction in the low tariff policy of the Wilson regime. It is perhaps supported from the President's steady faith in the industries in the tariff which he had with the trade depression, and is almost world-wide. It is true that the fact remains that imports of manufactured goods into United States have greatly increased, notwithstanding the trade depression while manufacturing has declined a corresponding or larger ratio.

Whether or not the Underwood tariff changes entail upon us chaos of general revision when the tariff can be dealt with as a whole after due inquiry and consideration as to its scope and bearing of its various provisions. If modifications are then found to be necessary, upon a range of products or commodities any other modification dependent thereon or necessary thereto may also be made, by the end that injustice and disturbance may as far as possible, be avoided.

The work has developed very largely on the secretary, and on the various committees of the executive. It is now proposed to make the office executive, and have the head of the organization as closely in touch with the work of the union as is possible.

The United Farmers of Alberta is expanding and growing in its organization in Western Canada. Its membership is approaching 17,000 with locals scattered all over the province. Its annual conventions, and especially the live stock and co-operative department, is expanding at a tremendous rate, and it is felt among the members of the executive that the president should be located at the organization's headquarters in order to further the union's pretentious undertakings.

Secretary Wooldridge has been [illegible] care of a great deal of the detail of the organization proper, and he is about the busiest man in town. Many questions arise for the consideration of the executive, on which the president has to be consulted, and it is the opinion of the executive that if the president was located in Calgary the work of the union would be facilitated in many ways.

Doing Their Bit at the Front

Trooper Whillans of the Cavalry Service Squadron, now serving in France has written again of his experiences at the front. In a letter to his sister, Mrs. Geo. Cookson, received last week writing from "Somewhere in France, Mar. 5th, 1915. He says Well, I have been under fire. A few of us were rationing an open space yesterday and were fired on by artillery. The shells went whizzing over our heads. Believe me, they make some noise. Although the shell missed us it got one or two others a short distance away from us. For the first time of my life I have seen the wreckage wrought by shell fire. Beddings of all kinds are smashed to atoms in most of the houses close to the line.

Trooper Whillans refers in appreciative terms to one of the facilities at the front provided by the army authorities for the use of the soldiers for their health and comfort, viz: the baths. He says, "Something that is necessary and important is the privilege of good hot baths. I had a good hot bath in a tub big enough for half a dozen fellows at a time. I enjoyed it thoroughly." With references to the weather he says that rain is so common that it does not bother them at all except when there is a cold wind. He also refers to the spectacular appearance of the night operations, saying, "At night the sky is all lighted up over the trenches at intervals by star shells (illumination rockets) and this presents a splendid display of fire works."

Mrs. W. Leversedge will receive on Tuesday, April 6th, from 2 to 5 p.m.

The Juanitas will be the hostess to the crowd on Saturday afternoon and evening. Be one of the crowd.

Question Who are they?

Answer A N.S. class of girls with right ideas the energy and enthusiasm to carry them out and the interest of the young people at heart. All more they need is encouragement and some cash, and this latter they are prepared to raise by a sale of toothsome candies and delicious ice cream, next Saturday afternoon and evening, when they have raised their stand and in Jamieson's Drug Store. Be sure and read all the posters and then come and rally round the colors.

Mrs. Cole has returned to Edmonton after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mackenzie, Sr. Mrs. Cole was accompanied by some new lines of millinery, which are more than usual and for such good value as to select early varieties of oats, such as Laguna and Banner, and of barley, Gaynade or Success, both hull-less oats.

In the preparation of seed the free use of the fanning mill is advised. In 1914 an experiment was conducted at the Lacombe State with Marquis wheat seeded as it came from the threshing machine. The yield was 24 bushels to the acre, once fanned the yield was 28 bus. The thorough fanning of all grains is a ready means of increasing production without increasing acreage. The increased yield, as a result of fanning, is secured at a relatively low cost per bushel.

The seed should be sown as early as the ground can be worked. A strong germinating power is also essential. The seed should be clean and free from weed seeds. Early Seed Grain Means Early Harvest. Remember the Name.

The Tofield Conservation Association will hold a third time at the Hardware Store on Saturday afternoon, April 3rd at 2 o'clock. Everybody welcome.

Patriotism and Production Campaign

In considering the future prospects of farmers to increase production in 1915 in view of the increased needs of the Empire at this time it is important to remember the vital principles underlying production.

The first question that should be considered in the question of seed, both the variety and the preparation of the seed after it have been determined the variety.

The best varieties of grain for this district are in the opinion of Prof. Hutton of Lacombe Exp. Farm are as follows

Experimental Farms Report

The work and scope of the Experimental Farms and Stations have developed to such an extent that it has been found necessary for the sake of convenience to devote two volumes of nearly five hundred pages each to the main or aggregate report for the year ending March 31, 1914. In the first volume is presented the reports of the Director and the Divisions of Chemistry, Field Husbandry and Animal Husbandry. It is by a study of these divisions that the man can be obtained of the true amount of work that is being done and an appreciation arrived at of a resultant good.

In the first few pages are given the usual conservative tables of grain yields and prices and of live stock for the five years extending from 1909 to 1913, each of which, excepting the year 1911, showed a decrease in the Eastern Provinces, since 1910. In the Western Provinces there was a deficiency of upwards of 300,000 cattle between the years 1912 and 1913, but an increase of nearly half a million horses and only a slight disparity in sheep, which however, are showing a tendency to improve. Swine increased by upwards of 500,000. In British Columbia the numbers of cattle, sheep and swine remained stationary. In the Western Provinces there was a deficiency of upwards of 300,000 cattle between the years 1912 and 1913, but an increase of nearly half a million horses and only a slight disparity in sheep, which however, are showing a tendency to improve. Swine increased by upwards of 500,000. In British Columbia the numbers of cattle, sheep and swine remained stationary. Naturally much space is given to reports of experiments in the different farms and Stations. Those experiments, it is hardly necessary say, cover every variety of grain, fruit and vegetable production, as well as soil development, crop management, cultivation of forage crops and grasses, live stock breeding and dairying. It would be impossible to even estimate the importance of the information these furnished.

Of course at this time when the value of by improvement of production is being strenuously urged the reports are of special interest. It is not alone with what may be termed staples of the farm property that they deal but also with build ing, with ornamental gardening. In short, the reports constitute virtually an encyclopedia of farming and its branches brought up to date.

Whole, as has been said, Volume One is devoted to the various branches and reports of the Division of Chemistry, Field Husbandry and Animal Husbandry. Volume Two presents the reports of the Divisions of Horticulture, Cereals, Botany, Entomology, Forage Plants, Poultry and Tobacco.

That has been said of the completeness in its contents of the first volume can be repeated of the second. It, too, is a careful compilation and a sample in detail in the benefits to be derived from scientific and painstaking research.

As in the preceding years, the matters dealt with in this volume are divided into sections, the first being one for the reports of the work at the Experimental Farms in the Provinces referred to, and the following of the various lines of experimental work under way through out the system. It is explained that the latter section is devoted and designed with a view to aiding the former more directly in the details of his vocations. It is issued in a wide distribution. One thing certain is that the nature of the reports makes them deserving of the closest attention. Copies may be obtained by making application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Stock Wintered at Tofield

O A Trout last Tuesday shipped two carloads of young stock to Kamsack Saskatchewan Morse on the C P R. between Swift Current and Moose Jaw where he had been wintering for Lowndes, owner, on his ranch some ten miles north of town. Lowndes shipped them up here last fall, having had the hay put up here for their wintering and Mr Trout took care of them during the winter They came through in an extra sleepy and one being lost In fact there are more given back than came up This demonstrates the fact that Tofield district offers excellent advantages to stockmen from a standpoint of wintering of stock when conditions are adverse in other sections of the west.

J D Wheeler farmer ten miles north of town, hauled of 130 3 young pigs from eleven brood sows Three of these were bred litter of 14 each and all are living. All these pigs are running out at the straw pile, no other shelter having been provided for them. Mr Wheeler is strictly on the pork. TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, APRIL 8, 1915

THESE are not times that western municipalities should find themselves a mockery made the wards of a thrifty people by their unwillingness to work or their seeming indifference to toil find themselves on the verge of such a state of impecuniosity that they and their dependents are thrown upon the charity of their neighbors. Too often in the home a lack of health is apparent as a mere or less result of the failure to come in of a tolerable regular income. Too often also the condition of unemployment is evidenced with a condition of indifference to work in the mind of him who should be the bread winner. Very true, unexpectedly unfortunate circumstances are the basic causes of cases demanding the sympathy and attention of the charitable. But, again, if it were realized by municipalities that they are responsible in cases of need arising from indigent individuals who have resided for a certain length of time within their confines and it was apparent that certain indifferent individuals by their course would in the end become objects of public charge, there would in the end be many fewer individuals were made an example of before they arrive at that stage and made to become breadwinners rather than that class by their negligence should first themselves and their dependents upon a not too willing warden

Principal Elliott of the Olds School of Agriculture declares that Europe has not yet begun to call on America for its meat supply but that it must do so very soon. Beef cattle and hogs have been marketed on this continent at a tremendous rate. Where have they gone? The explanation, Mr. Elliott thinks, could be found in the refrigerator rooms of the packing establishments, every bit of available space in which must be consumed, awaiting the European demand and the upward price movement. This, he holds, is likely to start in June, with the highest prices in July, August and September. If Mr. Elliott is a good prophet, the farmer who has held his stock, in spite of the high price of grain, will thus have reason to congratulate himself on his foresight!

THE PRUSSIAN IDEA

Right Before Fright the Dominating Creed of Militarist Caste

MR. CECIL CHESTERTON

... does not by soldiers on ... to look. They were part of a deliberate German policy to create ... a state of terrorism that no Belgian would attempt say not to endanger the poorly protected lives of civilians through that country.

Mr Chesterton showed a preference for the use of the term Prussian-ism ... than German, and justified it by a short review of the Prussian power, and under the rule of the German states the conquer of Prussia. Prussian rulers had established a system of rigid militarism that was used not only for aggression, but for Kingly; the German people themselves under control.

"The Prussian idea," explained Mr Chesterton, "is to make the Prussian soldier so much afraid of his officer that he is not likely to have more fear of any public enemy."

He readily admitted that the Prussian policy of pulling material force above everything and ignoring all right, and many material advantages for a time, savagery and theft were profitable to a certain point. Prussian France had derived material advantages from this policy, but he did not see in it an evidence of great intelligence or bargaining or soul.

"It is still too much to expect us to admit a certain intelligence ... in Chesterton. On the contrary, we feel so far as to say that our country stumped all the world when it ... down on bended knee ... the country of the German ... Luther ... when civilized ... consorted with Germans," he said ... of fact.

Mr Chesterton had some fun with Germany's complaints that there is a ... against her.

"I have to be admitted, "but it is ... to the complaint of the police against the burglar."

TRAINING ARMY BANDSMEN

Local Option in the only country which undertakes the systematic training of its army bandsmen, and the ... of the band of the Royal Military ... Cambridge ... to provide music ... have ... results in a reminder that the present high standard of British army bands is entirely due to the efforts of the Duke of Connaught. After peace was declared at the end of the Crimean War a portion ... was given at Yarmouth, the Crimea by the massed British bands ... at the time. With ... so grateful that the Duke set to work at once to provide a proper training for army musicians.

He enlisted a large number of officers in favor of the scheme, and with the money they subscribed he took over Kneller Hall Secondary, once the residence of the famous painter, Sir George Kneller, and established there the Military School of Music. For nearly twenty years the Duke carried on the school without any Government help, but in 1873 it was officially recognized, though it was not until within the last four years that the officers were relieved of the burden of supporting the bands of their regiments.

The Outlook for Germany

GERMANY will fight to the bitter end against decisive I feel it for no other reason than that her whole ... is dependent upon relief from ... they are all along less ... on t ... whether the monetary difficulties and the ... of commercial inabilities, a successful war would redress the balance and provide the additional capital necessary for further industrial and trade expansion. That hope, if it ever had any real basis, has already been destroyed. Germany is no longer fighting for world domination, but to avoid disastrous defeat, which in her case means far more than submission to superior arms. Germany is in the situation of a gambler who is facing both immediate ruin and the forfeiture of all that the future held.

The German people, enmeshed in the toils of a paternalistic government, do not understand the situation into which they have been brought. They are living today in what is practically a huge experiment in state socialism. The government in order to obtain temporary relief has resorted to devices that experience has shown to be not only futile but prolific in even greater evils than those it was proposed to remove. Unless Germany can liquidate her paper currency and obligations by levies drawn from enemy countries, her outlook is dark indeed. Germany by her conduct of the war is already a pariah among civilized nations. Defeat will leave her in worse plight than any country has ever been. But to that pass Germany must be brought. If a new and better Europe is to be created.—Toronto World.

SIR George Foster: "What I plead for in this House, is this country, everywhere, is that the best of the Canadian Dominion, Liberal as well as Tory, outside of race or creed or of political faith, may look upon the verities of the war and may learn to value, as in only such cases we can learn to value, the comparative merits of the trivial and of the absolutely important. These things, I plead for, and I do so all, mute that war is determined, bend our backs to the burden. Let us put behind us that which is trivial and not of moment, facing steadfastly the mighty issues in which the the proudest and highest and best of the civilizations that the world has seen develop in fighting for its life and its continuance in the trench and under circumstances of terrible difficulty and terrible peril." Sir George evidently realizes ... hould be busying themselves about some ... ... ally important just now than a politicl

An Outrage Against Germany

A great battle has been lost by the Fatherland on the sea. It happened when the merchantmen Falaba was sent to bottom by a German submarine off the coast of Wales. The Falaba was torpedoed as its boats were being lowered, and something over a hundred non-combatants (including one American) were killed for Killing's sake. This was a crushing reverse for Germany and the German militarists, and the efforts will be further reaching than can be coolly calculated as we write these lines.

POSTAGE STAMPS MAY BE USED

The Post Office Department, having given notice a week or two ago, in connection with the War Revenue Act, that all letters and postcards mailed in Canada for delivery in Canada, the United States or Mexico, and 3 cent mailed to Canada for delivery in the United Kingdom and British possessions generally, or whenever it is two cent rate applies, should in addition to ordinary postage carry a one cent stamp as a War tax, and has also now notified the public that such war tax, while it should be paid preferably by the postage stamps marked "War Tax," could if such stamps were not available, be paid by an ordinary one cent postage stamp, is now issuing further notice to the effect that postage stamps may be used for the prepayment of war duties on bank cheques, bills of exchange, promissory notes, express money orders, proprietary or patent medicines, perfumery, wines champagne, as well as upon letters and postcards, postal notes and post office money orders. The latter two may be provide facilities in these portions of the country where revenue stamps are not readily available. Further, in the case of the last mentioned postage stamps may be obtained at all points over the whole country, by means where there are no Collector of Inland Revenue and no Inland Revenue Stamps could be obtained, as a distinct concession to the public, and no doubt will be largely taken advantage of.

Avalanche Of Mail For "Loneliest Soldier"

Who would not be a "lonely soldier," and, for choice, the "loneliest soldier in the British Army?" That was description given of Rifleman A. C. White of the 1st Battalion Rifle Brigade, by the man in the next bed to him in hospital in France, when he wrote to a London newspaper about him, and as a result the already overworked post office has been put to no end of trouble for the name Rifleman A. C. White, has become almost, if not quite, the most written to man in these islands, to which, mean while, he has returned. Incidentally the episode shows how keen on its fighting men the British nation rightly is, and how eager to make things as bearable as possible for every man who is doing his "bit" at the front.

The well meaning man in the next bed to Rifleman White was Private Dreddah. Discovering that his neighbor got no letters and, apparently had no friends, he wrote to the London news paper, as related, and the deluge promptly followed. On the authority of the newspaper quoted himself the result of the appeal for the "loneliest man" was that in three days 3,000 letters, six bags of small parcels, large packages, each weighing more than 21 pounds, were sent to him. Sad to say, however, not one single letter was the subject of "soul mates" has yet reached the "loneliest soldier," but it is permissible to hope that the fact has upon him like a torrent in the course of a day or two. For, before the presents and letters could be delivered to the "loneliest man," he was transferred from the hospital at the base to one at Notting ham, and began life at letters. A parcels had to be sent chasing a across the channel after him. Rifleman White knows, and appreciates, the kindness he met with at Nottingham and is now at Swindon, where he is waiting in something like tropidation for such a batch of mail as probably no other private soldier in history ever received.

The farmers in the Tofield district are progressing very favorably with their seeding operations. T. A. Horton, five miles south of town, on the other day said that the farmers of the Battle section had all practically completed their wheat seeding, the acreage nearly far exceeding that of last year.

In the Kingman section the farmers are going in heavily for wheat seeding and are progressing favorably.

Mr Hafner, a farmer from a few miles north of town, was in last Thursday and stated to the Standard that he already had 250 acres of crop sowed. 100 of this acreage he had put in the balance to barley and oats. He is immediately proceeding to put in from 150 to 200 acres in crops on Section Ferguson a farm on the same section.

East of town the farmers are similarly busy large areas being seeded to wheat and oats. The acreage in crop this year in the Tofield district will practically double that of last year.

It is satisfactory to note that farmers this year are sitting into practice the principles of intensive farming as well as endeavoring to farm more extensively. These efforts will undoubtedly result in a much greater aggregate crop this year and the success of the seed may practically remove a sore and safe harvest.

March 20th

Dear Dad

Rain day again. This has been a great day, fine and warm just like a September day on the prairie. Three of us have a house to ourselves. In it we are running a drying room. It is just a little ways from the trenches and as the fellows come in from them they get a change of underwear, a hot bath and a general clean up. The medical corps is k after the army's health. There are no pure blood Germans to us many, one part endeavours to kill the many, the other part to preserve them. The medical corps fulfils the latter functions and the British medical corps is said to to the best in the world. The chief on ours visited all the lines of women and by soldiers sent from the battalions. It is up to us to see that it is done right. After washing, the clothes are brought to us and another chap and I keep the fires going and dry them out. Then the men going into the trenches have clean clothes instead of evenly muddy ones. It is humane work but it saves lives. We had most or follow die of wounds this week. He was shot through the abdom en and lingered on five days. He was one of the French canadians. There has been a heavy battery by massing around us all day. It gets on ones nerves after a while, the doors and windows rattle and besides the boom there is a sort of concussion in the air. You should have been here last week when the British made the big advan ce. It was one series of boom, ers ah-bang for three days. And over on one side of us was a village as I tell you here often read a host that was one mass of smouldering fire and bursting shrapnel. It was Hell upon Earth when a heavy shell arri ves, up goes a cloud of dust, sand-bags, arms, legs and God knows what else. But we had it all over the Germans like a tent. The poor prisoners were sort of dazed who is they brought them in. They never had a chance. Our artillery simply had knocked them to pieces and before they could recover the trend se were full of wild Indians and British Tommies. The butchery was awful they say.

Kingman Farmer Victim of Tragedy

Young Family Robbed of Protector and Provider

Ole Forsen, homesteader living some six miles west of Kingman, last Saturday was a victim of an unfortunate accident whereby he lost his life. In the morning he went out shooting rabbits with a hammerless 22 rifle and during the day called at a neighbor's. As he talked with the latter he rested the rifle butt on the ground with the muzzle pointing up towards him. Unthinkingly he allowed one of the neighbor's children to trifle with the gun mechanism of the fact. The trigger was pulled. The gun discharged and the bullet took effect in his chest. He fell dead. Word was brought into Kingman in the evening just prior to Harry Rogers leaving for Tofield and the latter brought the news to town. At the time of writing it is not known whether deceased's body is being held.

Forsen was young, being only about thirty years of age. He leaves a widow and three young children. It is regretted also that they are in rather hard circumstances.

Inquiry on Monday morning of Corp. Talbot at C. Local Headquarters, R. N. W. M. P., elicited the fact that on that day a couple of officers were sent up from Camrose to make a full inquiry as to the facts of the tragedy.

That Prescription is yours. Have it filled right—at Jamieson's.

There is a German battery which takes particular delight in shelling the few houses around us. We are on the edge of a little village of about 300 populations. There is scarcely a pane of glass left in it. Every Sunday we regular as the clock they shell it, and all and on during the week they drop shell in it.

Fate works some curious freaks. Last Sunday they were shelling as per usual. Two or three of the Canadians were talking together. One of the boys, a regular, said he was going for a walk. His friends told him not to stir out as the Germans were shelling the place. "Oh," he says, "there is not a — of a German shell made that can hit me." He went about 50 yards. There was a whistle, a terrific explosion, a Jack Johnson arrived. His friends picked the sergeant up but they did not bother about his brains. I saw them on the road, a little while after. That one shell made a terrible report. It dug a hole in the ground that you could put a nice little jag of hay in it. There men behind a wall about 50 yards away were knocked down in the concussion. The next day I heard a whistle, and a bang, it struck a house about a 100 yards away, instantly killing a woman in it and strange to say, it never hurt a baby lying in her arms. Her bin hand had been killed about 3 weeks previous.

The most exciting thing that can possibly be seen is to watch the aeroplanes when they get over the German lines. Honest I get so excited that I can't keep quiet for every time a shell bursts around him I jump in the air. Thomas the aviators are the most daring men that can possibly be conceived. I watched one go up the enemy's lines today while a perfect hail of shells was bursting around him. Everyone I thought would be the end of him. He was up quiet and high and kept dodging from one side to the other while going up and down. Continued on Page 6

Two bulletins, one on vegetable gardening and the other on potato growing in Alberta, have just issued under the direction of Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of Agriculture. They contain much valuable information and are well worth sending to the department at Edmonton for copies, which will be supplied free of charge.

Right inches of wet snow fell last Tuesday night, April 20, making a thick blanket through which both vehicular and pedestrian traffic found it difficult to work. Farming operations came to a standstill for two days. Two day's warm sun shine, however, quickly dissipated the snow which, melting, percolated into the soil, thus rendering the land in excellent condition for early germination and incidentally the farmers thus favored were a smile that could scarcely come off.

Rev. Mr. Hoenis, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance for Alberta and B.C. occupied the M ethodist and Presbyterian pulpits in Tofield last Monday morning and evening respectively. In bright and interesting addresses he gave to Tofield's ers an insight into the work of the Alliance and told how the Lord's Day Act was assailable law which aimed to secure for all a weekly day to rest, the Lord's Day if possible, and to safeguard that the against the intrusion of unnecessary business and labor.

After the evening services in the churches a combined meeting of the three congregations was held in Holy Trinity Anglican church when a local committee was organized.

Political Purity

THE air is full of charges and counter-charges of political corruption both in Federal and Provincial politics in Conservative circles.

Undoubtedly some of the charges that are made are true, while, of course there are the usual number of false charges made now and then for political purposes. Graft and corruption have been rampant in Canadian politics for a great many years. The politicians themselves are to blame for a great deal of the corruption, and the graft is about equally divided between the two old parties. But there is a great deal of blame also liable to be the individual electors all over the country. They have not done their share towards cleansing our politics. The time is ripe for a campaign for political purity, and the place to begin such a campaign is right at home among the voters in every neighborhood—Grain Growers Guide.

A Campaign Scandal.

CANADA is about to be projected into a fight to a finish between the two political parties the Liberals are exposing wrongdoings and alleged wrongdoings in connection with war purchases under Tory government; the Conservatives are feeding out the evidence collected within the last two years of frauds perpetrated on the country in connection with the northwest, when the Liberals were in office.

The Conservatives as a party will have to disown the frauds in connection with the war deals, and evidently they intend to do so, even if M. P.'s are involved, to punish the guilty, to compel restitution the Liberals will have to admit the frauds exposed by Commissioner Ferguson and disown their friends declared guilty, even if members and ministers are implicated.

There seems to be no way out of it now but a campaign of scandal, vituperation, party rancor, in a general election

The system of purchasing by a patronage list stinks in the nostrils of the people and all implicated in fraud on the nation and the soldiers must go, no matter who they may be and the same with the Liberal wrongdoers, no matter how far back.

There has to be a clean-up, a different way of doing public business hereafter.

The Conservatives are on trial even more than their opponents, as the frauds now being exposed are of recent occurence and under the rule of the men now in office. If the Borden Government is to survive, it must confess, reform, reconstruct. Sir Robert Borden may have to do now what he should have done long ago and only re-organize, but put in some better and more capable men and change the methods. No more patronage, no more politics in civil service appointments, no more of the leeches that infest and have infested Ottawa for ten years or more, in selling and renting to the government, supplying the departments, looting like professional crackers.

JELLICOE INSISTED UPON GOOD GUNNERY

Would Have Nothing But Very Best in Instruments and Result was Excellent Marksmanship

Much has been said about the improvement shown in the British navy, and in this article a writer considers praise is due to Admiral Sir John Jellicoe. Without his help and guidance, he says, the British navy would have remained the good work fostered by Admiral Sir Fisher . . . . . Jellicoe . . . . . gunnery . . . . . Fisher . . . . . Jellicoe . . . . . Royal Navy.

During the time he was in command of the fleet he lived in the most unpretentious manner, and was at all times accessible to those of his officers who were already improved during the tenure of his predecessor.

It was Admiral Jellicoe who insisted that the ships' fleet was to be fitted with the best instruments in gunnery that could be obtained, and he was responsible for the introduction of the system of "spotting" which has since been copied by the navies of other countries.

Admiral Jellicoe was the first to realize that the days of long-range gunnery were at hand, and he therefore insisted that the ships' guns should be fitted with the best instruments in gunnery that could be obtained, and he was responsible for the introduction of the system of "spotting" which has since been copied by the navies of other countries.

A Man to Command.

In appearance Sir John is small of stature, but a man in every sense of the word. He has all the nerve, notwithstanding one of two terrible experiences which would have shattered and finally did shatter the nerves of any but a man accustomed to battle.

One who knows him well said, "A man below middle height, alert, confident in himself, with the full confidence of the seaman, but that of a real leader of men. Any one of these things would have been unpleasantly noticeable, but the combination of the eye and face of a man who has witnessed all the horrors that an ocean-going battle like Jutland can show, and yet keep his head sufficiently clear to command intelligently and use to the best advantage his command."

He is a clean shaven, keen eyed man of the type that is quick and decisive. There is nothing spectacular about his bearing or manner. Briefly, he strike hard and strike again, but always with his head about him, and he has known more than any one what it is to be face to face with death.

An instinct into his character and action, one might say, is the fact that in a recent visit to the fleet by one who was with him, he was seen to say that he was thought mentally during the engagement off the Falkland Islands. It was with him as he lay in an anchorage, where he was not bound to be on the bridge of his flagship. Admiral Sturdee, who was in command of the fleet which destroyed that of Admiral von Spee, was present at all of our ships to cut our way back to Teneriffe, or even in the last resort, to capitulate, rather than allow the ships to be sunk. I don't think I shall ever forget the expression on the face of the eye as he turned on me to the impatient remark. Tell me the truth, don't lie.

"I had found it in leaves the a story I knew by heart have been feeling that I had known him as I learned to later on I should have had to, the pain would straight out. He thanked he said, indicating his wound by a movement with his right hand, "hard luck, just now." That was all, but it was characteristic of the man himself."

Son of R. D. Seale Wounded at Front

More Tofielders off this Week for Continent

Tofield is almost daily becoming more and more interested in the war and its persons. On Tuesday morning a telegram from the Adjutant General, Ottawa, awaited R. D. Seale which regretfully informed him that his son, Thomas Elgin Seale, had been officially reported wounded. Mr. Seale who is a farmer living three miles north of Tofield, came west from the eastern townships, Quebec, a year or more ago. He says, who has taken a course in medicine, joined the ambulance service corps at Montreal and went to the front with the first contingent. His long, brave and newsy letter from the front appeared last week in the Standard.

In the drafts of 250 men each from the 49th and 51st battalions which will this week go forward as reinforcements to the Canadians at the front appears the names of several Tofielders, A. J. Logan, Gordon Edmunds and J. Stewart, of the 49th. A. J. Logan is a son of Robt. Logan. Their fortunes will be watched with keenest interest by the public of Tofield.

The Iowa Canadian Hard Times Social held last Friday week at Bardo was a success from every standpoint. A very enjoyable time was spent by the large crowd in attendance. The program all through was also the source of much entertainment. Allan Lewis favored them with a recitation; Messers Parker, Lewis, Bennie and Olaf Anderen gave several quartettes; Mrs. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, Miss Bickner, Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. Chester Coombes and Miss Ingram together contributed an interesting dialogue; G. Ness, a solo; Miss Magda Anderson, a recitation; Mrs. Bird, the Misses Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Lewis, Miss Anderson, and Messrs Hills, Barnes, and Lewis, also contributed a little [illegible] Mr. Innemstand gave several musical selections. Coffee and lunch were served at the close of the evening's entertainment.

Newsy Budget From Across the Lake

This is what we call a 'middle of the road' spring, neither early nor late, though some things are really early. The ice went out of the lake the earliest we have any account of, on or about April 20, and the grass is greener than we usually have it this month. The prairie sod is in fine condition for breaking, which is a good thing for several new comers who are mostly going on new land or on farms that had reverted to a state of nature.

The new settlers whom we welcome to the district are: John Knox on Jim Wilson's farm, Harry Sissons on J. S. McCallum, M.P.P.'s farm, George Perry and son on the old D. A. McCallum homestead; E. H. Rutten on E. ½ 22-52-17 W 4, D. H. McCallum and family are also back on the old paternal homestead. All things considered, this is a busy place and the grass under crops will be the largest ever. Some wheat is above ground, and the whole seon will be if present weather holds.

No doubt some new settlers coming in the country during the snow storm of the 20 and 21. They should keep cool and quiet for we never saw a land one bare but there was a worse one elsewhere. Then again, just think what Old Borens might have done, had he felt like it, as he did on May 3rd, 1884, when in 24 hours over a foot of snow fell and the drifts were, in some places, five feet deep. Two Edmonton sports named Jack Simons and Dr. Munro were caught at Beaver Creek (north) by the storm. They from their toes nine mile third, and one of their horses gave up the ghost. (Query: could he do that among them are no ghosts according to H. D.) Anyway he was of no further use; so they sent word to Charlie Hardman, one of a number of French Half-Breeds who lived here then, to come and play the good Samaritan. Charlie was one of those amiable pirates who would hold up their mother-in-law if need be, and in hold them up all right. He was four hours conveying the two sports and their dunnage to Dick Steele's and his charge was twelve dollars. Not bad pay, even for those per-historic times. And to cap the climax they got no warion, which were lots that year and pre rious few ducks.

D. McCallum, B. A., C. E., son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McCallum, who has been practising his profession in Vancouver for some years, is now a resident of Mundare. He has a school a few miles north of that burg.

E. G. King has purchased an auto, which we hope will prove a source of pleasure and profit to him.

Klaas Aronson has erected several buildings on his farm, and now has an comfortable and convenient a bunch of them as anyone could wish for. In fact, signs of prosperity are visible all over the district. We've done something also to help along the prohibitionz cause, the patriotic fund, the Belgian fund etc; and will do more yet. We are not making a fuss over these things but are trying to do our share all the same.

While on this subject we might say that the Editor some weeks ago compared the amounts contributed by Alberta and Ontario to the great disadvantage of the latter. As an old Ontario boy we didn't like it, and what's more we don't believe Ontario is one whit behind Alberta or any other province. We know for a fact that two or three Ontario towns here given to these funds from three to five dollars per head. Time enough to shout when the record is complete.

Country Weeklies Give Good Results

At a meeting of the American Advertisers Association, Arthur Brisbane said:

"Not the country publisher, but the business man is the chief sufferer from the fact that our merchants and manufacturers have not utilized the country newspapers advertising columns as they should and can be utilized. Remember the facts: He who reads the little cross roads newspaper or the larger newspapers of the far sized town in the Mississippi valley is a man who buys everything. He lives in a home and on land that he owns. He is interested in everything that the business men of Canada are doing. Through good advertising you can sell him anything, from the paint on the roof of his house to the cement in the floor of his cellar. Everything between the roof and the cellar everything in the barn, and every tool in the field he buys and you may sell him. He is not like the dweller in the big city flat, who gets his water through a pipe, his lights through a wire, his heat from the basement, and whose shopping consists in getting a ready made suit of clothes and a ready made dinner in a five or paper box. The man who reads the country newspaper buys everything. He buys pumps, lamps stoves, automobiles clothing, dresses, books, paints, farm implements, furniture, carpets, oils. In this room are two hundred and fifty men and indirectly Somerville represent a dozen manufacturing enterprises and more. There isn't a man here who has anything to sell that he cannot sell to the reader of a country newspaper. And every man here could more profitably advertise in a country newspaper in proportion to its circulation than to buy other publication on the earth. I emphasize the value of a country newspaper as an advertising medium for it has that value."

Mrs. H. A. Johnson formerly of Bardo writes interestingly of Trip to Last Great West

Feb. 23rd saw us leave Bardo which had been our home for 20 years. While "Hubby" and the 3 helping boys unloaded and reloaded our stuff, the children and I spent our time in writing postals home so I mean to our folks. We left Athabasca on the 25th, and driving the ten miles of poor roads in the first stopping place we camped our first night in the cab on the sleigh, which was furnished with a stove, table and bed. Pader Mallon drove the cattle, walking on about. Helmer Byrge, George Simonsen and my husband drove the 3 teams. This first night being sold did not let us get much sleep. The continued bad roads, almost impassable by [illegible] became a trifle better and I and Helmer exchanged places because he was cold and I was [illegible] sick. Sunday noon we reached Mirror Landing from where another postal was sent home (there I go again) to our friends I mean. We were crossed a terrible piece of road, up and down hills. We would say Lesser Slave Lake all after is not it being open in some places was dangerous to drive on. On Monday we saw the steamboat 'Northland Steamer'. We came to Soukinge, a little town on the shore of the Lake Tuesday noon. On buying some white fish here we continued on Page 4.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, MAY 6, 1915

A general protest against a Federal election is emanating from men prominent in all shades of politics all over the Dominion. The better manhood of the country from Atlantic to Pacific rises against such a proceeding. We are at this time of national crisis. Politics are forgotten on the field of battle in the face of a common enemy. To inject strife, turmoil, recrimination and possibly racial division against the people at a time when the people all are suffering from a heart strain common to all, when all are concentrated on the one idea, that of supporting the government and our boys at the front, so that undivided attention shall be given to help bring this dreadful war to a successful conclusion, is shameful and inhuman. Notwithstanding all the arguments which have been and are being put up by pinay une politicians and their press in favor of a general election there cannot be a sufficient and sensible reason put forward for the action.

It is most satisfactory to learn that the Duke of Connaught, our governor general, is persistently opposed to signing the order for the dissolution of parliament while the country is at war. This, according to Hon. C. J. Doherty, is the greatest obstacle in the way of the government. The better element of the country, regardless of political leaning, is with the governor-general and trust that he will fearlessly withhold his approval from such a contemplated act as unnecessary as it is utterly reprehensible.

ONE of the things which assists greatly in making any community attractive to live in and to the stranger who drops in now and again on a visit, is the presence of shade trees on streets and private properties. The pleasant effect of such has already shown itself to advantage in Tofield but only to a very meagre degree indeed. The early approach of Arbor Day, which has suggested this subject reminds us forcibly that this day is sadly a neglected institution in this portion of the West.

Tofield could be made one of the most attractive little towns in the west with but little outlay and a little energy. The growing of shade trees is a simple matter and a cultivation of community pride by ourselves as citizens, supported by our municipal authorities, would soon give results which would greatly exceed our most sanguine expectations. Our residential streets and private properties could be wonderfully improved in appearance if a little organized effort were made towards this end.

It is regrettable that seeming neglect too has been the cause of the destruction of numerous little groves all over the townsite from fires which might have been avoided. Surely we can protect our town centre from danger of prairie fire without destroying thousands of young trees in the groves all over the section. These young saplings will later be handsome trees if they are protected properly. Then, think of the bird life which the presence of abundance of trees attracts. Their wanton destruction robs us also of other joys and benefits. By all means, let us have more trees on our public streets and private grounds.

A FUNDAMENT DUTY OF CITY FATHERS

Practical Suggestions For Every Municipality—Must Help to Keep Labor Busy

The Kingston Standard a few weeks ago advanced the suggestion that every city and town hall should have a bureau to encourage "Made-in-Canada" goods. Developing the idea the editor points out that every municipality could afford to use the money spent by public officers for the good of the public should serve the good of the public by being invested in what makes work for Canadians. There are cases in this country of councils and boards of works turning down Canadian tenders even when they were lower than foreign tenders, or because they were a few dollars higher, or because they would be 10 cents and able to spend that for "Made-in-Canada" goods, than to have labor running the streets looking for charity or work. It is better to have men busy on something that represents a fair investment of labor than busy on earth that is done by a corporation just on purpose to keep men from being idle.

A skilled mechanic may be able to handle a shovel on a piece of roadwork but he won't do it as well as the man that's brought up on the shovel. His power to work depends on the thing he does. When he is at a job that does not suit him he wastes his labor. The civic government that does not help to keep labor busy in its own factories, or factories elsewhere in Canada, is neglecting a good opportunity to help along. A government that keeps civic governments busy is helping and economic problems on their hands. Every municipal government in Canada should be a city headquarters for the purpose of "Made-in-Canada" goods.

THE MAN THAT WEL A MADE-IN-CANADA SALARY SHOULD HAVE MADE-IN-CANADA TASTES

NICKEL AND NICKELS

How Light on a Live Question—Everybody Can Help

Thousands of tons of Canadian nickel are at the present time in the armor parts of German warships, as well as of Austrian and Russian. From one Canadian mine alone (Ont.) we have shipped out this nickel to the United States in a crude form to be refined and reshipped by American companies to the markets of the world. Up till the last couple of months nobody could have raised any objection to this as a matter of business. Canada had no other use for a useful article. She sold it to the world.

But at the present time there is not an ounce of nickel plate in any German armament, on the Kiel canal or at Essen or anywhere else that Canada would not gladly take back and pay the cash price to keep it in this country, until the war is over.

ranked you could have a taste

The roads on the lake were drifted and it commenced snowing but we got to land once more that being March 3rd. Passed Swan River and stopped at an Indian place. There was the only people we saw all the way. They were very inquisitive about Peder Hellesen's war of walking, sometimes running out to the road to see his trucks. Reached High Prairie on Saturday morning and ordered breakfast. Then commencing a bridge with logs on either side. George Simonsen's team sliped and went over the edge. We left the logs and the harness held and no damage was done. On Sunday drove through 10 miles of timber. This was on the trail Sunday on the trip, but it didn't seem much like Sunday to us. Had nice weather and roads across small lakes but between them the roads were bare and we had to stick to sand and have stumps to find snow. After crossing Buffalo River we reached Bourgeau Lake Tuesday where we had to repair a bridge and to leave a load any way because one of the horses got sore shoulders. We met Mrs. Fenning and her children Olaf and Christ Horte who were going to High Prairie to meet their husbands and fathers. They had to stop at each creek to thaw holes and break down and up its banks. After this the farther north we got the more snow we were like with. We reached Mr. Forsyth's place March 11 just exactly two weeks since we left Athabasca. Here we broke the record, having cattle along. These did fine and did not get sore footed.

With greetings to all

Lightning Rods

Are the safety valves which relieve the electric tension between the electrically charged earth and the electrically charged storm cloud. Just as the safety valve upon the steam boiler relieves pressure beyond a given point and prevents explosion. So the Lightning Rods prevent the explosion of the electric connection between the earth and the upper atmosphere.

This is why Buildings protected by Lightning Rods are an Insurance Against Loss by Lightning.

It's very convenient to have money coming in every month of the year. A well known dairy company gives us the amount of the checks drawn by a few good patrons for the month of April. Here are the figures: A Kasser, Wetaskiwin, $148.09, M. J. Howes, Millet, $119.72, Jos. Wallace, Pembroke, $105.46, W. Simpson, Leduc, $78.30. Those checks were from cream alone. The skim milk each farmer has for his calves, pigs and poultry was probably worth enough to one-half as much more. It is true that feed has been rather expensive, but the owner of such farmers, in addition to yielding a good income while in the stable, will be in good shape to yield large profits when they go on grass.

Inquiries have been received in regard to postage stamps being used for the payment of war taxes. The Inland Revenue Department has decided that postage stamps will be used in lieu of Inland Revenue War Stamps in fulfilment and discharge of any requirement under the Inland Revenue Act 1915 to affix stamps. The public is at liberty at all times to use postage stamps for such purposes in lieu of Inland Revenue War Stamps may be used for the purpose of impressing upon any instrument chargeable with duty the amount of duty thereon, and of denoting that such duty has been paid in accordance with the provisions of the Inland Revenue Act 1915 and the Regulations which the words "War Tax" have been printed.

German's Latest Naval Triumph

Giant Cruiser Lusania Sent to Bottom with Heavy Load of Living Freight

The civilized world last Friday afternoon was struck with horror by becoming a silent spoke in her frenzied war struggles. The Lusania was torpedoed off the west coast of Ireland on her trip from New York to Liverpool and went down within a few minutes. She carried 1,959 passengers and with crew and officers aboard. Of these but some 761 passengers and 292 of the crew were reported as saved. Expressions of indignation have been made from almost every country of the globe with, of course the exception of Germany, where the sentiment of the people of the city was hailed as a new triumph for Germany's naval policy.

Public men and the press through out the U.S. are unanimous in their condemnation of the attack upon non-combatants and together with various state legislatures are pledging their whole support to whatever action that shall be taken by the president. Former president Roosevelt, commenting on the affair, said: "It is inconceivable that we can refrain from taking action in this matter, for we owe it not only to humanity, but to our own national respect." Public sentiment in Britain and throughout the Empire, while gravely affected, is calm and collected and the opinion of all may be summed up in a few words. "In the face of the crime it is idle to waste words in condemnation. We must set our teeth and go on with the war with more courage and determination."

Victoria Liberals Convene

The Liberals of the new Victoria Federal Riding, through their duly accredited delegates, convened at Vegreville yesterday afternoon for the purpose of selecting a candidate for election at the next Dominion election. Primaries for appointing delegates were held throughout the constituency in all polling divisions last Monday. At the moment of going to press the Standard had not learned the result of the decision at the convention. From general opinion however, it would appear that Geo. P. Smith of Camrose will be the unanimous choice. With Smith as Liberal standard bearer and Frank P. Layton, also of Camrose, as conservative candidate, it is quite likely that a lively fight will be on during the election campaign in the centre of which will be the lively burg of Camrose.

Notice is hereby given that the assessment roll of the Town of Tofield for the year 1915 has been prepared and is now open to inspection at the office of the secretary-treasurer of the town, from ten o'clock in the forenoon to four o'clock in the afternoon on every day which is not a public holiday and that any ratepayer who desires to object to the assessment of himself or any other person must with in thirty days after the date of this notice lodge his complaint in writing at my office.

Farmers and the Financial Aspect of the Proposed Liquor Act

When the farmers of Alberta were asked to sign the petitions to the Legislature asking for the passing of the Liquor Act, or its submission to the people, were they given the opportunity of reading the Act before signing the petitions, or were they told simply that they were signing for an act prohibiting the sale of liquor within the Province? If the latter was the case, they signed the petition under an erroneous impression. They did not sign on behalf of a Prohibition Act pure and simple, but the proposed Liquor Act which is a very different thing from the past and branch Prohibition.

Will the carrying of the Liquor Act give any real benefit to the farmers of Alberta? No! On the contrary it will impose many hardships, not the least serious of which would be increased taxation. Is this a time when the expenditure of the farmer can be increased? The reverse is rather the case. He would be faced however with the duty of helping to make up the loss due to private for the increased provincial expenditure required to carry out the Liquor Act which he would be forced to pay. Can the farmer afford to pay for the increased expenditure? This they can very ruples by voting against the Liquor Act which the farmer and people have been asked to support under the guise of prohibition.

When farmers, too, go into the towns and villages, they use the hotel accommodation conducted under the existing Liquor Licens Ordinances. Under the proposed Liquor Act there would be no provision for hotels at all and their supply would be left to haphazard or the enterprise of private citizens. This would work a hardship which the promoters of the Liquor Act would do nothing to relieve.

Further no farmer could be prevented from importing liquor from other provinces for farmers' purposes under the Act but he would be absolutely prevented from buying liquor in the Province except from a registered druggist and upon a doctor's prescription for purely medicinal purposes. In addition to paying for liquor he would have to pay the doctor a fee which would add materially to the cost of the liquor. Even if he had already a liquor in his own home he could not administer it to a sick or injured member of his family with out having received a doctor's prescription.

All these are matters which the farmer should keep in mind. In every way the effect of the proposed Liquor Act would be to make the farmer dig down deeper into his pocket. He should carefully read over the proposed Liquor Act from start to finish and ascertain what benefits he would receive from it to offset its many disadvantages.

Lightning Is An Electric Explosion

One of the most terrifying and destructive forces known. During a thunder-storm the electric current cloud and the electric charged earth present an electrified surfaces which pull on each other. When the strain becomes too great for the air to resist any longer, off she goes with an explosion through the heavens and the result is a bolt of lightning.

Ans: By the use of Lightning Rods.

The electricity in the earth, being pulled up and passes through the rods and out up into the air. This is why no building provided with these is ever struck. They insure against disaster.

Fine Heroism of Halifax Boy At the Front

Thrilling Story of Capt. Francis Whitchurch Townsend, Who With Both Legs Shot off, Said to "Attend to the Others First."

London, April 16—The heroic fortitude of a young Canadian, Captain Francis Whitchurch Townsend, of the Royal Engineers, is graphically described by a motor ambulance driver.

Townsend was born in Halifax, a grandson of Hon. W. J. Blair, and died on March 28th of wounds received the previous day. The driver says Townsend was with the Indian Engineers, laying telegraph wires, when a shell burst in their midst. He was found in the shell hole with his legs apparently buried. He told the ambulance man to attend to the others first, that he was all right. When moved they found that he was standing on the stumps of his legs, both shot off at the knee. He was perfectly conscious and calm. He looked at his legs and asked quietly, in a hands-to-face-closing no pain. "I'm something giddy around both thighs to the bleeding. Another horrible wound was found in his arm. While it was being dressed Townsend said: "I think I'll give up football next year." As he was carried to the hospital, where he died, he was perfectly conscious. He laughed gaily and apologized for all the trouble. The driver adds: "I never saw such courage before. I [illegible] that [illegible] had been a man." The officers of Townsend's company asked the family to be allowed to erect a monument over the grave in Bethune cemetery.

Young Townsend was a cousin of Mrs. Ralph Dawson of Tofield. Mrs. Dawson informs us that she has received no [illegible] since the [illegible] of Neuve Chapelle.

Will Organize Women's Institute

At three o'clock on Thursday afternoon, May 20th, a meeting will be held in the Tofield Town Hall, for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Women's Institutes of Alberta. All ladies interested, whether residing in town or the surrounding country districts, are cordially invited to be present. Miss Carlyle, B.A., Directress of Household Sciences, Vermilion Agricultural School, and Supervisor of Women's Institutes for Edmonton District will address the meeting.

It is hoped that a large number of ladies will be present at the Tofield Town Hall on May 20th, for the organization of a branch of Women's Institutes, as announced elsewhere in this issue.

For the benefit of those who have not had an opportunity to become familiar with the real meaning of these Institutes we may say that they are being established separately throughout the province, having as their object:

(a) The consideration and simplifying of all the problems pertaining to the home, the betterment of home conditions, the increase of general comfort, health and efficiency.

(b) The study of home economics, including household management, sanitation, hygiene, scientific nutrition, the care and training of children, and the knowledge of values (relative and absolute) of household materials.

(c) Mutual helpfulness and social intercourse as it affects the life of the woman on the farm, so that it is being made to [illegible] the highest ideals of home and the best standards of community life.

As the institutes are [illegible] they are [illegible] and non-political and as their object is one who [illegible] immediately enlist the sympathies of every thinking woman who will have a broad [illegible]. Everyone who becomes a member may [illegible] for award not only to being [illegible] but also the privilege of [illegible] something for the help of others.

WHAT IS "THE DRUM MAJOR"?

"The Drum Major" is a GOOD STORY. It is laid in France at the time of the Revolution. Lieutenant Leroux visits Passy, a short distance from Paris, [illegible] of raising recruits for the army. But it is [illegible] fete day, consequently the men have small interest in their country. He is meeting with no success when Clarice [illegible] the village [illegible] needs a woman in Paris, comes to his assistance. [illegible] way to the South, and hearing of the fete, decides to [illegible] witness the festivities. Her arrival draws his attention to Leroux, who laments his non-success. Clarice meets Leroux and being an ardent patriot herself, [illegible] intentions induces the young men to join the army. She is completely enthralled by her charms, and in spite remonstrances of Babette, he enlists, vowing to [illegible] marching song that shall lead the army on to victory, delighted with the [illegible] Clarice returns, hoping to hear news of Leroux, but beyond the fact villagers have learned of the success of the march [illegible] written, she learns nothing of the warriors. To [illegible] and astonishment of all, the soldiers return, tired and well sickened of war. Babette forgives Jean, [illegible] misses to marry him. Clarice weds Lieutenant Leroux and [illegible] him of her affection for him. In the end, all ends [illegible]

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, MAY

IF it is not that all thought of a Dominion Election has been abandoned this need alleging between patriotic papers ought some to a stop. It is a revolting disgrace. It's value for party purposes with an intelligent public is growing less and less every day. The conduct of a class of men political journalists they are really is as one another's throats upon the slightest provocation and to dodges each other the opposing party to showers of slang whanging reasoning to a public whose brain and thoughts and needs are centred on bigger, better and broader things than intense party strife. The people's voice has stilled the movement for an early Dominion election. The editors of our leading papers should listen to the plea from the heart of the nation and cease prolonging their needless agitation.

IT is borne in upon one's mind, if one stops to think about it in the quiet of one's privacy, that the great sacrifice made by those who are dependents upon our gallant volunteers is great indeed. It is even greater in many respects than that which is made by those who have gone to the front. These have the excitement of the hour, the companionship of many comrades, the novelty of interesting and striking surroundings of fact, something doing every minute. The fact of each carrying his life in his hand, as it were in a different sense with interest. The love of country and the [illegible] with which one devotes all his energies to the interests of the country in such a situation enables one to carry his share of the nation's burden with a loyal and hearty devotion. But, what about the wife alone at home with the babies! Day in and day out, through many sleepless hours of the night, through weeks and months, ever with that ever powering thought bearing heavily upon her mind and tearing the heart strings out of her [illegible] he come home! Is he wounded! Is he DEAD! Alone, [illegible] Oh, the lonely hours of endless, suffering anxiety. And in how many cases, thousands of these, the dread message does come. The inevitable has happened. Imagine in how many homes throughout Canada to-day these days and nights and weeks of silent torture have culminated in the agony of bereavement. The loved one will never come back. Placed in an unknown grave in a distant and foreign land. Yes, this is the tragedy of war. How can we be cool hearted, we who remain at home, to those those sacrifices upon those who have gone from amongst us to [illegible] all-a. for us and our posterity! Let us each do our part. Let us make sacrifices too in sympathy [illegible] we rise to the occasion!

THE striking strength of the British navy was not adversely affected one whit by the sinking of the Lusitania. The fact is that every nerve in every man from the [illegible] Officer down to the humblest stoker is steeled only than before to do their utmost when the time for striking comes.

THE Manitoulin Empire is getting into the hold early with prognostications as to the result of the next Dominion election in so far as this constituency is concerned. It forgets the election of Frank P. Layton, Conservative candidate and the "purifying the political atmosphere of a 'Grit' hive." What has the editor been drinking?

Tofield District Forging Ahead

Abundant Signs of Development and Growing Prosperity

When marked progress takes place during boom times the fact does not strike one with any particular force, as a large community like this condition would be considered as but natural. The ability of a community to forge ahead in times when many be said to be a period of general stress, during a time when the phrase, "hard times" seems to be on every one's tongue, indication in a positively striking manner the fact that average conditions in that community are such as will commend themselves to all those seeking a home in this glorious west.

The Tofield district in this year of stress, war and time of general conservatism is development and progress, is forging ahead in such a manner that history will set it down as a top notch record. Never before in the history of the community have the evidences accumulated in such a manner as to prove the merits of the district as one where labor may seek success fully to become prosperous, own comfortable and commodious homes and till rich, productive farms. A trip through the Tofield district today will reveal these evidences in a striking manner. Let us take you in this article through the surrounding town and point out the things whereof we speak.

In the first place note the well cultivated fields. Gaze with an eye of pride upon the waving fields of spring wheat which shows every indication of the promise of a bountiful harvest. It was put in early. It was good seed and the stand is excellent, uniform and thrifty looking. The oats are some well up and the rest nicely coming through, all looking fine. Even some barley fields are seen to be well advanced and waving in the breeze. The herds of cattle on the pasture lands are looking well. The new grass is already quite long and is producing excellent results, especially noticeable in our increasing number of milch cows.

See the hogs and look at the fine big brood sows on the various farms. Fat and sleek. These are no rangy lifters and while prices may be low at present it is to be hoped that an early advance will take place. And the spring colts, the large number of those show that the farmers of Tofield district's go in for intelligent raising of good classes of horses.

But the evidences of particular progress of the present, you say. Well, they are easy to be seen. Let's over there. Do you see that big barn? Its new, do you see that big house going up. See, there is a new church going up, and over there is a large addition to another church. There, and there and there are barns and houses being put up by our farmers. Just let me give you a list of them and see if it does not prove what I am saying. But in the meantime, here is a farmer coming into town with several cans of pure sweet cream. See the smile on his face. Say, the cream business is all right. You would be surprised to know how much money is paid out each fortnight in the Tofield district for fresh cream. But let me give you that list. Here it is:

Jos. R. Stauffer, big house and complete set of buildings on S ½ 23-49 18.

W. E. Parker, addition to big barn.

I. H. Olsen, residence and set of new farm buildings.

Jno. Anderson, a new barn.

Pt. Assaun, a new barn.

Olle Hagen, a new barn.

A. Haugen, a new barn.

Jno. Warner, a new house.

POLAND IS TRAMPLED

Millions Are Homeless, Wordless and Starving as Von Hindenburg

The attention of the world has been so concentrated on the rolls of Belgium and the terrible sufferings of its people that almost similar conditions in the eastern theatre of the war have attracted little notice in Britain or America. Yet we are told that the suffering and want in Poland have been appalling since the very first weeks of the war. Mr. Henri Bordeaux the author of the world-famed novel "Les Yeux" says that in the kingdom of Poland alone 15,000 villages have been burned or damaged, a thousand churches and chapels have been destroyed. In nine out of ten provinces the towns have suffered everything, even to the poorest churches. Homeless the citizens have sought shelter and found starvation in the forests.

The correspondent of the "London Chronicle" summarizes the situation as follows: Over a line of 450 miles across Poland, from the Austrian to the German frontier, there is not a village left standing. Not a single town of any size has escaped the ravages of war since the war began. They have been ravaged and burned, leaving the Polish inhabitants. The villages have been burned or damaged a thousand churches and chapels have been destroyed. In nine out of ten provinces the towns have suffered everything, even to the poorest churches. Homeless the citizens have sought shelter and found starvation in the forests.

The correspondent of the "London Chronicle" summarizes the situation as follows: Over a line of 450 miles across Poland, from the Austrian to the German frontier, there is not a village left standing. Not a single town of any size has escaped the ravages of war since the war began. They have been ravaged and burned, leaving the Polish inhabitants. The Poles have furnished 1,200,000 soldiers almost equally divided between the Russian army and the German army. Everywhere the title of Egypt is being repeatedly given as the most terrible ravaged country in the world. Of the 7,000 villages. The number of dead can never amount to more than 3,000,000 souls. About 4,000 villages have been razed to the ground either in battle or in retreat. All stores of corn and forage have been seized or destroyed and 1,000,000 horses and 2,000,000 cattle have been taken for the armies or have perished for want of pasture. The rural population of 7,000,000 is reduced to beggary.

All factories have long ago stopped working and are greatly damaged. 160 very important ones have been destroyed. The whole of the home agricultural production amounting to about 400,000 tons yearly, has been ruined and 400,000 workmen are now without means of subsistence. Together with a multitude of artisans and tradesmen deprived with their families of any outside aid. The great majority of these men, 3,000,000 in number, are destitute.

M. Bordeaux, in appealing for aid for his suffering countrymen says: "Poland has been terribly afflicted in this frightful war in which the demons of death and disease are struggling for the empire of the world. Three countries are Belgium and Poland. The splendid help that many people have given to Belgium honors humanity. We are not jealous of the sympathy shown to that little nation; we know that we should have similar sympathy if the world only knew the miseries that our unhappy people have undergone and are undergoing."

FIRST SENTRY DUTY

Everything Plays Gheastly Pranks With Raw Soldier's Nerves

A member of the French Foreign Legion writes:

Possibly it was not fair to make the poor fellow go on sentry work the first night in the trenches, but still there was no time to lose and others had to do it.

It was a fair night, for the moon had a nasty habit of throwing black shadows one could just see the German lines which were quite close, and heretofore shapes lurked in that death or dead world.

It must not be forgotten that trench on advance duty is the most trying of any position, while the actual trenches are formed on carefully paper that is of subsidiary importance. We were then stationed some in each bend of the trench, or zigzag, but completely out of sight of each other.

On occupying the post, provided one's nerves are not overwhelmed with a sharp eye and an alert ear, one always feels that something is going to happen. It is far too quiet for a battlefield, and, therefore. The Germans must be creeping up. After straining the eyes in the darkness for a few minutes the shadows begin to dance in the props in which the barbed wires are fixed a few yards before you assume human forms while the unsolicited bundles of hay become corpses or crouching "Boches."

The wet black nights are the "sentry" nights. Impossible to see a yard before one, the least sound to the high-strung nerves suggests a horde of Germans creeping up.

"Look out there," whispered an orderly "those two bundles of hay are moving! I can hear them breathing behind them." One recalls the advancing wood design in "Macbeth," and the hair stands on end. Before you have further time to reflect your companion lets fire. There follows a tremendous yell, terrible quivers, and something black thrown past you. The post corporal arrives, but has had its last amputated by a bullet; and the sentry is further than ever cold night creeps on.

Then it is remembered who sees a form lying a few yards away. A corpse? Yes, but without a shadow of doubt. You wait five minutes and look in a different direction. On turning round the corpse is not to be seen. It is still there—lying very close to the earth and hiding its head. You commence noise with the next sentinel, and he agrees, a volley of balls are discharged, but the form does not budge.

Next morning you look over the trench to verify or explain the mysteries of the night. The horrible, horrifying shadow we shot at is still there—the corpse of a soldier left unburied.—London Daily Mail.

LAWS OF EXCHANGE

Declaring Gun and Making it Effective Different Matters

Germany, of course, is quite within her rights in endeavoring to cut off Britain's food supplies by foodstuffs. For one country at war with another to close ports, harbors, or lines of coast with ships or troops, and thus prevent entrance of provisions, ammunition, or reinforcements has been recognized as quite legitimate warfare when carried out according to the rules of international law. Since the Dutch intimated the principles to be both as this

Under was blockaded by Lord St. Vincent for two years by the end of the eighteenth century. British blockaded the Elbe in 1805 while the Baltic was successfully blockaded by Denmark in 1848-9. Both these blockades were strictly according to the law. Now strictly according to the international laws, respecting the rights of neutrals and carrying the prize ships and their crews back to port. The stirring of merchant ships "stirring" warning, in the manner in which Germany has done, was always regarded as an act of piracy.

A Rush For Seats

"Drum Major" Announcement Creates Big Demand for Reserved Seats

Monday, May 24: The announcement made last week by St. Andrews Church Choir that the date of June 1st next Tuesday, has been finally set as that on which the production of the operetta, The Drum Major," would be staged in the Variety Theatre, was hailed with pleasure by an "anticipating" public. This was demonstrated in a striking manner by the fact that on Saturday last, the day on which the Plan of Reserved Seats was placed in Jamieson's for the sale of Tickets for Reserved Seats no less than 30 were booked. There is no question now that the house will be filled to the doors and standing room will be at a premium. Get your seats early.

Special Announcement

The careful attention of the public is called to the fact that the performances will begin right on the dot of 8.30 p.m. Late comers cannot be allowed to proceed to their seats during the rendering of solos, duets, trios or quartettes nor when the principals are performing their parts on the stage. Holders of rush seats will be accommodated to seats until all are filled. These there first will get the seats. After that, standing room only. These rules will be strictly observed at

Gold and Silver Cousins

The Gaekwar of Baroda has a battery of artillery consisting of gold and silver guns. There are four silver guns of gold and two of silver. The gold guns were made in 1874 by the artisans of Lahba, who worked on them for five years. They weigh 6,000 pounds each, and except for the steel rifling are of solid gold. They are mounted on gun-carriages of carved wood, covered with silver. In 1875, when the Gaekwar went to Bombay to meet the Prince of Wales, he took the gold guns with him to salute the Prince, and that was the only occasion on which they have been allowed to leave the State of Baroda.

WHAT IS "THE DRUM MAJOR"?

"The Drum Major" is a GOOD STORY. It is laid in France at the time of the Revolution. Sergeant Leroux visits Passy, a short distance from Paris, in the hopes of gaining recruits for the army But it is the village fete day, consequently the men have small interests in the needs of their country. He is meeting with no success, when Claire Dupre, daughter of the general of that name, and the prettiest woman in Paris, comes to his assistance. She is on her way to the South, and learning of the fete, decided to remain and witness the festivities. Her arrival draws his audience from Leroux, who laments his non-success. Claire later meets Leroux and being an ardent patriot herself, by her insinuations induces the young men to join the army. Jean is completely enthralled by her charms, and in spite of the remonstrances of Babette, he enlists, vowing to write a marching song that shall send the army on to victory. Leroux, delighted with the number who have joined the ranks, and much in love with Claire, leaves for Paris accompanied by fifty six future field marshalls.

The second act opens with the celebration of the Fall of the Bastile, on the 14th day of July, two years later. No word has come from Leroux, Jean, or any of the recruits in all these months and their sweethearts fear they are either dead or have forgotten their homes. Claire returns to Passy, hoping to hear news of Leroux, but beyond the fact that the villagers have learned of the success of the march Jean has written, she learns nothing of the warriors. To the delight and astonishment of all, the soldiers return, tired, hungry and well sickened of war. Babette forgives Jean and promises to marry him. Claire waylays Leroux and assures him of her affection for him. In the end, all ends happily.

Lightning Is An Electric Explosion

One of the most terrifying and destructive forces known. During a thunderstorm the electric charged cloud and the electric charged earth present two electrified surfaces which pull on each other. When the strain becomes too great for the air to resist any longer, off she goes with an explosion through the heavens and the electrical discharge is called lightning.

Ans: By the use of Lightning Rods.

The electricity in the earth, being pulled upwards, passes through the rods and out up into the air. This is why no building fitted with these is ever struck. They insure against disaster

"THE DRUM MAJOR"

At The Variety Theatre, Tuesday Eve June 1

(Contributed)

The operatic performance which was given in the Variety Theatre on Tuesday evening last has revealed the fact that we have in our immediate midst in the small Town of Tofield an array of musical, histrionic and administrative talent which is as surprising as it is great [illegible]. The writer who has had considerable experience of amateur performances of a similar nature in both hemispheres, was anticipating the performance of the "Drum Major" with mixed feelings of trepidation, wonder and anxiety, fearful lest our enthusiasm had taken upon themselves a task beyond their powers and would only succeed in spoiling the effect of a delightful operetta. Far from being spoiled, however, "The Drum Major" was an unprecedented success as staged here this week and redounds the greatest credit upon all concerned. The writer, having thus spent a delightful and profitable evening, sincerely hopes that this is but a fore-runner of many similar performances, as it would [illegible] be a pity if the excellent talent which undoubtedly exists among our friends were to remain inactive for long.

"The Drum Major," written by Maude Elizabeth Inch, music by Edward F. Johnston and published by J. Fischer & Bro., New York, is not an operetta of mediocre value but one which requires careful preparation, musical powers above the average, and elaborate staging. Considering that none of the performers had had any experience before in similar work, the whole effort was one of exceptional merit. Greatest credit is due to Mr. T. P. Newbigging the General Director of the performance, for his sterling enthusiasm, indefatigable energy and excellent ability. Mr. Newbigging has been untiring in his efforts and it is on his shoulders that the heaviest of the work has fallen. It must therefore be an object of much gratification to him now to know that the performance has been such a decided success. Mr. Newbigging has, however, had an able lieutenant throughout in Mr. R. M. Whillans who has devoted much time and labor in his efforts to provide the stage properly as well as play in such an able and creditable manner the title-role of Jean, the Drum Major. The village scene at the back of the stage, the hedges and the wing curtains were all painted by Mr. Whillans, and without these properties much of the beauty of the performance would of course have been lacking. Mr. Whillans' voice rang out well in the several baritone solos that fell to his share as the hero of the piece. It was in the acting, as Jean, however, especially when he makes such ardent love to Babett, —Miss Carlson, that the greatest merit was displayed. In fact when Jean returns from the war tired and weary, and Babette greets him so patheticall y as she falls up on his breast, the audience, casting all pathos and sentiment to the cardinal points of the compass, screamed and howled with delight. Miss Carlson as Babette, was par hors in her element in this operetta. We have had many opportunities of enjoying the power and tone of her beautiful contralto voice, but we did not know that such excellent histrionic talent was thus lying dormant in our highly esteemed school teacher. Mrs. H. N. Whillans as Jille, Claire had a very difficult part but which lost none of its glamour as performed on this occasion. In the leading role she had an exceedingly heavy part to perform, but she carried her audience and herself with wonderful ease, aplomb and success. Sergeant Leroux Mr J. Murray—demonstrated marked ability in his role as one of the principals and showed a fine appreciation of humour, sentiment, pathos, romance and patriotism. The reversals Messrs T. R. Murray, R. W. E. Tetley and J. G. Jobb together with their village charmers Misses, P. Lee, E. S. Olde and G. Billington filled their several roles creditably. The chorus work was especially rendered with snap, vim, precision and enthusiasm much to the pleasure of the huge audience.

We are looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to the next performance of an equally and possibly more ambitious nature.

Altogether this amateur performance was a great pleasure to all who were present. Apart from the excellent and worthy cause for which it was intended, it has contributed that amusing and profitable diversion so necessary in a small community, and has tended to develop a certain amount of that dormant talent, which only needs fructifying to become apparent and consequently universally appreciated.

Miss Mackie ably assisted in the making up of the ladies and girls.

The costumier for the males in the "Drum Major" was Ralph Davison, Tailor, whose work was much appreciated and which went far in contributing to the success of the production.

R. W. E. Tetley surely has missed his calling. As a stage actor he is on the direct way of the laurels he brought the house down, time after time, with his original touches.

The oration given "Marcel", (Lem Abbott) proved to him that he filled, very appreciably a niche in the play for which he is peculiarly adapted.

Great credit is due Mr. A. J. H. McCauley, who as accompanist discharged his duty with that painstaking ability of which he is so capable.

Great praise is being given Mrs. R. N. Whillans and Miss Carlson who played the roles of Claire and Babette respectively. The former as soprano soloist and the latter as contralto soloist we so heard to exceptional advantage. As amateurs they acquitted themselves nobly.

J. Murray as "Sergeant Leroux" reflected great credit upon himself, playing the military part and that of baulked lover in excellent style His brilliant uniform added greatly to his charms both in the eyes of Claire and his audience.

Would Stifle Free Press And Speech

A MAN apparently enjoying excellent health died last Wednesday apparently in a heated frame of mind and digitized the most quiet of the sanctum by excitedly ordering the same taken off the mailing list. He was not going to support any paper that stood up for the Liquor Traffic, or which took money for advertising in its behalf.

Clouds Mr. A. as we will call him, was in a condition of high excitement and it was no use trying to talk with him or point out to him his mistake. We merely made mental note that we would be needed to discuss it in our editorial column this week.

In the first place Mr. A. is to be congratulated upon entering on the battle fight in a certain extent. No one will find fault with him for being opposed to the Liquor Traffic in any form.

But he is radically in error when he assumes that the Standard is supporting the Liquor Traffic. He asserted that the Standard was publishing articles in support of it. He would therefore use discussion of the proposed Liquor Legislation, he would choke off the supporters of the existing law from having anything to say on the question which is before the people he would deny the prisoner at the bar of justice (D. a. it was from putting in any defence in his trial.

Mr. A. evidently forgets he is living in a British country where freedom of speech exists, where there is a free press, within reason who in any man friend or foe, may count on a fair trial and even a hanged justice. He forgets that the jury must hear both prosecution and defence before it can hand out even justice. He should realize that in the present issue a section of the people are endeavoring to supplant existing law with a proposed law. He should realize that very few laws are perfect and endorse all the points which it is designed that they should endorse. He should realize that there are few people in this province, even in the Tofield district who even casually comprehend either the existing law or the whole of the proposed.

To meet this situation so that the people at large should know the pro and cons of the question three fortunately exists one home free press in and through which the public in every faraway corner of the province may learn what each side have to say and so inform themselves to judge and intelligently vote polltheir votes when polling day comes. The value of the press for such purposes is apparently fully recognized by both the supporters of the existing law and of the proposed law as instanced by their free use of the columns of the newspapers for and against the proposed enactment. The press is but fulfilling a function which is peculiarly one which it and it only can fulfill. In impartially performing this function it can be charged by neither party that it is supporting the one against the other. Clearly

If A. acting on judgment in both his allegations and his conclusions alone is simply putting himself off from obtaining such information from either one side or the other as to enable him to find out for himself in forming an intelligent opinion on the issue. Such conclusions are example which will be of very little benefit to the side on which he aligns himself by exhibiting such a narrow gauge of vision and such a lack of a spirit of British Fair Play.

o o o o o

The Temperance and Moral Reform League and the Tofield W.C.T.U. have been freely using space in the Standard. Is Mr. A such a casual observer that he thought this was Liquor Advertising?

o o o o o

The Drum Major was a pleasant surprise to the Tofield Public. The participants in the Open Air are much to be congratulated upon the success of the production.

o o o o o

It is the unfortunate short sightedness and narrow gauge caliber of such men as Mr. A who have done the cause they represent much harm in the past and who have actually retarded the temperance cause by the impossibleness and impracticability of their unreasonable ideas.

WHERE PEOPLE CAN GIVE AID

Insist on "Made-in-Canada" Goods—Refuse and Wholesaler Will Soon Fall in Line

Too often in the past the whole talent and resources of Canada have openly opposed the "Made-in-Canada" movement. Where they have not opposed it they have damned it with faint praise. Their motives in so doing are purely selfish. They often try to secure a share of Canada's trade, the foreign manufacturer quotes particularly attractive prices to the dealer, prices which enable him to undersell and retailer to entrust a greater profit than usual from the sale of these goods. The foreign manufacturer is able to do this because the Canadian market is only a small part of the vast market and he can easily sell at a low profit or even at cost. In other words "dump" in this manner market in order to secure control of the trade, whereas the Canadian manufacturer for whom Canada is the whole market, cannot afford to do business at a loss to meet the foreigner's prices." This explains in great measure why wholesaler and retailer have not got behind the "Made-in-Canada" movement and very readily.

The Toronto "Globe," in an article on the "Made-in-Canada" question the other day, explains the reasons for the "Made-in-Canada" campaign going direct to the people on this ground. Under the heading, "Home Production or Bankruptcy," the "Globe" says:

"The people in the end can have the storekeeper or the dealer to give them the Canadian-made article. But he should see, especially in the light of present conditions, why he should encourage home production without being forced to do so. I'hen the war has made our exports as well as our imports have decreased with serious regularity, and in only small degree has that contract Canada, in the face of such critical trade conditions, are in ground production at home and a large volume of business in the home markets, or bankruptcy. If Canadian made goods are not sold in greater volume the merchant and the wholesale dealer must inevitably suffer to simply become a very large number of the present customers, people who work in factories and in offices dependent on factories, will be forced out of employment. Furthermore, regarded from a national point of view, the "Made-in-Canada" movement, which means increased production in all departments at home is the only method of raising the one hundred and fifty millions of interest which is due each year on the country's indebtedness.

SUPPORT THE COUNTRY THAT SUPPORTS YOU BY BUYING "MADE-IN-CANADA" PRODUCTS

MERCHANTS CAN HELP

Points For Retailer to Bear in Mind In His Purchases

A man out of a job, or only partially employed, is a poor customer. You much prefer, don't you, to deal with customers whom you know are earning good wages, in thriving local industries? Their credit is good—they pay their bills.

Did it ever occur to you that, out of every dollar's worth of Canadian made goods you buy, from 75 to 85 cents goes to the Canadian workman in the form of wages? In some other Canadian city, and sometimes when he has to pay 25 to 30 cents' worth more goods from his tradesman?

Did it ever occur to you that, out of every dollar's worth of foreign made goods you sell, about 75 cents or more disappears from Canada forever, and the balance only pays the Canadian workmen is correspondingly reduced? The wages that should be in the pocket have been made in Canada, and Canadian farmers and Canadian retailers would have been $500,000,000 or $750,000,000 better off than they are to-day.

LAWS OF BLOCK ADE

Governing One and Making It Effective Between Nations

Germany, of course, is quite within her rights in endeavoring to cut off Britain's food supplies by blockading. For one country at war with another to cut off posts, harbors, or lines of war with ships or troops, and thus prevent exchanges of provisions, munitions, or reinforcements, has been recognized as quite legitimate warfare, when carried out according to the rules of international law, since the Dutch introduced the practice as far back as 1584.

Cadiz was blockaded by Lord St. Vincent for two years at the end of the eighteenth century. Britain blockaded the Elbe in 1805, while Baltic was successfully blockaded by Denmark in 1808, and again in 1848.

In all these blockades, however, the belligerents carried on their warfare strictly accor ing to the ir ernational law, respecting the rights of neutrals and carrying the prize ships and their crews back to port. The sinking of merchant ships without warning, in the manner in which Germany has done, can always regarded as an act of other

TRICKS OF BULLETS

Occasionally They Only Alt Roles and Make Seemingly Impossible Flights

It has been truly said that, out per fire a bullet from a modern rifle nose can forecast what it will do when it will strike any some to feet from what its initial line of trajectory is. Major Frank Scott, in the London Globe, tells of the possibility of spotting all known calculations of the light and rarefied air before the limits of maximum range officer was taken across the Nile and placed under an awning about 1,000 yards from the nearest point of possible fire. This should have enabled him to gauge nearly all variations the bullet might make, but the strangest feature was the interesting three miles of desert which lay at the head and killed him.

Shortly before the Battle of Omdurman, General Sir Archibald Hunter, Colonel Hackett Thompson, C.B. and another officer whose name cannot be here remembering things in the opening in the wall of a disused sakanyeh, or waterwheel. The hole in the wall was so small that the officers had to stand one behind the other to see anything. The officer whose name I forget was in front to beg a pair of binoculars while Sir Archibald Hunter was in the rear. The glint caused by the setting sun shining on the end of the binoculars attracted the attention of a certain native, supposed to be a sentry lying along the Nile. He aimed, took aim, and fired. It was a very good shot, for it passed through one lens of the binoculars, through the brain of the officer holding them, killing him on the spot through the shoulder of Colonel Hackett Thompson, and finally lodged in the heart of Archibald Hunter, where, I believe, it remains to this day.

The vagaries of a bullet when it touches the human frame are almost beyond belief. During another Soudan battle I saw an officer, a friend of mine, go down apparently shot through the head. Up we raced and picked him up. I met him walking about after the battle apparently none the worse save that his head was bandaged. When he showed me how a bullet, striking him obliquely on one of the peaks of his helmet chain, had run round the forehead and, cutting a groove under the skin, and had then glanced off the helmet back on the other side.

The Battle of Ballots

ADVT.

On July 21, 1915, the greatest battle in the history of Alberta will be fought between the supporters of the licensed liquor traffic and the advocates of a dry Alberta.

The battle will wage around what is called The Liquor Act, an Act prohibiting within the Province the sale and gift of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.

The advocates for a dry Alberta will vote for the Act; the friends of the liquor interests will vote against the Act.

The battle will last only one day, July 21st, but its consequences will be felt for all time.

All the work that may be done by both parties between now and July 21st, will be merely the mobilization of forces preparatory to the one day of battle.

The mobilization is important, but it is the one day, July 21st, that determines whether Alberta shall go dry.

Do not forget that July 21st is the day.

This is a battle of ballots. A man's ballot is his voice in the government of his country, his one way of expressing himself on public issues, the one weapon he can wield that politicians and governments will respect. Ballots are the only ballots in this battle, and they are the only weapons that count.

Prove sentiment, earnest prayer, heart felt sympathy, the noblest motives a ballot is cast. Powder is useless unless it has a bullet to drive. Prayers are useless unless they are cast in the form of ballots. To cast a ballot is the instrumental in a prayer, a form of service, the sovereign right of a free citizen of a free land. One should therefore give the same care to the ballot, long as reverently as he drops on his knees to pray.

Only ballots count in this battle. Ballots are not weighed; they are counted. Every ballot counts. The ballot of a saloon-keeper counts as much as the ballot of the most patriotic citizen of the province. The side that casts the most ballots wins.

Ballots are the only battles in this battle. Every ballot finds its mark. There will be no misses. The side that fires the most bullets wins.

Every friend of the saloon will cast his ballot. Every friend of a dry Alberta must cast his ballot July 21st is the day.

The saloon will not be without allies. All the forces of unrighteousness in the province will line up under its direction. The tin horn gamblers, the parasite pimps, the brothel-keepers, sheyster politicians, all of every class who merit a place in the Devil's Calendar will be there. July 21st will find every one of them at the polls.

What forces will vote against the saloon?

The Church and Home, the long-standing good alliance, will lead the ranks.

The forces that were previously unorganized will line themselves with Church and Home.

Patriotic Britons who hate the saloon must go.

The farmers of Alberta have decided that the saloon must go.

All the interests of Home and Industry and Science will wage this warfare against the saloon.

Wednesday of each week at Beth Hatch
Thursday of each week at W. K. McDuffee's north of Bardo
Friday of each week at O. Barnes

Prohibition And Hotel Accommodation

ADVT.

What is the policy of the party advocating Prohibition in respect to hotel? Have they a policy which takes into account the maintenance of hotels in the various centres of population in the Province? Hitherto, the advocates of restrictive legislation or at all events the professional organizations which push measures of that kind, have evaded all responsibility and have left the disposal of hotel accommodation to private enterprise in those places where their propaganda has met with success.

It is only right that the temperance party should officially deal with this matter. The advocates of Prohibition profess to attack the sale of liquor only. One cannot get away from the fact however that not only would Prohibition stop the legitimate sale of liquor, but it would destroy or degenerate the hotel also. The government has no supervision over unlicensed hotels but it exercises complete control over hotels operated under the provisions of the Liquor License Ordinance. This control covers not only the sale of liquor, but every part of the hotel. The hotelkeeper who holds the license conditionally on his adherence to the law and he must comply with the instructions of the License Department in regard to the conduct of his house in every part thereof. If a guest is refused or is dissatisfied with his food, accommodation, service, sanitary arrangements or safety of that guest has only to lay information with the License Department. His complaint will be investigated, and if proved, the hotel keeper will be compelled to comply with the law. If the supervision is necessary in the public interest under existing conditions, why should it not be equally necessary under the operations of Prohibition? The circumstances in which the public is concerned, remain the same, the only change in the situation being that the private proprietor would in the License Department are no longer in existence. Who will provide for this in such a case? Are the promoters of Prohibition prepared to take up this matter of the maintenance of hotels and to undertake a proper measure of responsibility for it. If not, how do they propose to safeguard the interests of the public in regard to this important matter?

The fact that the license is granted solely for the privilege of retailing liquor, but ensuring the carrying on of an hotel in all its parts means that either the promoters of Prohibition are unaware of the consequences of their action or they do not scruple to deliver misleading statements to the people in regard to this matter. In either case it is important upon them to come out with a plain statement of their policy with respect to hotels. There is no getting away from the fact that hotels are required providing as high a standard of accommodation, service and cuisine as may supply the needs of the community, both resident and transient. Without proper hotels business is impeded and the whole community put to no little inconvenience.

In considering this matter of Prohibition voters should keep in view, therefore, that a vote in favor of the Liquor Act is a vote solely for the abolition of the sale of liquor, but for the abolition of the hotel as at present established and supervised by law. Regulations by the authorities would redress for members of the community possessing the means to do so, but the carrying of Prohibition thus away with both these satisfactory features.

It is only right, therefore, that the promoters of prohibition should be asked to produce their policy in regard to the hotels. Are they prepared to undertake any responsibility or to endorse legislation which would make it compulsory for municipalities under prohibition to establish and operate such hotel accommodations as would supply the needs of their municipalities?

Under existing conditions people know exactly where they stand as regards hotels, but in the absence of a plain statement of the policy of the promoters of prohibition they are entirely in the dark as to what will be done under the operation of the measure. The same course for the people to follow is to hold fast to that which they have rather than pursue the entrance of conditions which certainly do not make for progress.

Keep in mind, therefore, that a vote for prohibition is a vote against the continued existence of the hotel. A vote against prohibition is, on the other hand, will preserve the hotel and enable the license Department to continue its guarantee to the public as to the conduct of the hotel. Prohibition district have suffered the standard of hotels to sink to a low level.

There is no good reason therefore, why the injurious action of Prohibition in respect to hotels should be carried to greater lengths, and we were should use the last day regular their vote X NO against the Liquor Act.

LINDBROOK

Newsy Budget from Our Active District Correspondent

A very interesting wedding ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. J. K. Cornwall at Edmonton, on Wednesday the 2nd inst. When Mr. Wellington Glenn of Lindbrook, and Miss Margaret Swain of Edmonton, were united in bonds of bonds of holy matrimony. The bride was given away by her eldest brother Mr. Percy Swain, and Mr. Lon Swain acted as best man. Rev. F. S. McCall was the officiating minister. The bride was becomingly dressed in a blue costume and a white silk waist. With a bouquet of carnations and sweet peas. The ceremony was very quietly performed and none but the intimate friends of the bride were present. At the conclusion of the ceremony light refreshments were served by Mrs. Cornwall and speeches were called for followed by music and singing, after which the newlyweds left for their farm at Lindbrook where they will in future reside. Both the bride and groom are well known here and have the best wishes of all in the neighborhood.

Mr. Glenn is giving a dance in the school next Friday Eve the 18th inst and everyone generally invited. Everybody come and have a right good time.

The date of the grand canoe to be pound of E. H. Anderson, who is at present in charge of the Edmonton Lake Subsist. Mr. Anderson is only 19 years of age and the last two winters has taken and passed in all the subjects at the Alberta Business College, Edmonton, a fact not equaled by any other student. Congratulations Ernest.

After an absence of three years Lou Swain of Seattle, Wash. is paying a short visit to his brother Percy. Since leaving here he has travelled extensively but nowhere else has he seen such rapid headway made both from a material and social standpoint as here again Lou.

The recent rains were badly needed and have brought the crops along in fine shape. The farmers are looking forward to a bumper harvest this year.

We understand Mr. M. F. Hand is contemplating the erection of a fine house and barn on his farm this summer. It looks suspicious. The K. E. Lisberg residence is about completed and certainly a credit to the district. A little was on the floor, and we are ready for the dance.

Wm Reece, who took over the Waits farm last fall, was in Edmonton last week making preparations to move his wife and family down to the farm. The writer does not think Mr Reece in the only one that is tired hatching it as some of the good looking young batcheliers are making frequent calls on families where there are marriageable young ladies.

Don't forget the Big Dance at the School on the 11th inst.

In reply to a question regarding the Rendlesham Sir Walter (IMP.) (94) (4032) Mrs. B. Pincott says: "I received my first violin as a present, on my tenth birthday. My second violin was received in Massachusetts, a state noted for its musicians and musical conservatories, and my first dive-tress of the Palmatier Sister's Orchestra and Concert Co for about ten years, travelling all thru the U. S. and Canada. My four sisters were given their choice of instruments as well as myself, and we just naturally chose them to comprise an orchestra. My five brothers were all musicians too, but most of them were married when we grew up. The greatest credit is due our mother for our musical success. Not having the musical opportunities she craved as a girl, she determined as a mother, to give them to her children. Hence a family of musicians, and it was her second ambition to see and enjoy our music during the summer months we spent at home, after a long season of concerts. I think the mothers' interest and encouragement in a child's musical education is always a great help towards the attainable. A good musical education often tends to do away with a life of daily labor, giving the musical boy or girl much the better advantage." Mrs. Pincott also states that she will accept more pupils on violin or mandolin and for elocution.—ed.

Blind Orator Speaks On Prohibition

J. B. Osborne, the "blind orator of California," spoke to a gathering in the Variety Theatre last Friday evening on the proposed Liquor Act from the standpoint of the opposition. He claimed to be the representative of the Socialist party and he he attacked the proposed measure from various standpoints. He said that prohibition did not prohibit, and that there were cases of drunkenness in prohibition areas than in "wet" districts. He denied that drink was the cause of so much crime as it was said to be and gave figures which he claimed proved his statements. He denied that the Big Six trade caused 90% of poverty and went through mass of statistics by which he sought to prove his denial. Instead of reducing the standard of efficiency moderate use of alcoholic beverages, he said, had caused a higher standard of production. Again, he said, different environments have different results. Drunkenness, he said is a disease and must be treated as such, the same as tuberculosis. Prohibition, he declared, would not remedy the matter.

The Liquor Act Campaign

CERTAIN methods are being employed in connection with the Liquor Act campaign which will not help the cause of an intelligent verdict in July.

The decision which will then be reached will have a very important influence on the future of this province, and it is very essential that the discussion should be conducted with fairness, moderation and common sense. We cannot afford to have the issue carried by a passing wave of feeling without proper consideration of all that it involves.

Intemperance is manifested in effect more than there is room for a true diffusement of opinion in regard to such legislation. It cannot be denied that many previous attempts to promote the cause of temperance by legal enactment have defeated their purpose, and the present measure should be analyzed carefully and calmly in the light of past experience and existing needs. There is no justification for the course some people are pursuing in denouncing all who fail to approve of the act as "the agents of the whiskey ring" and so forth. If it is carried by such appeals to unreasonableness it will do nothing but harm.

Still more reprehensible are the direct influences that are brought to bear on individuals which restrict them from acting as their conscience and intelligence advise. These influences are being resorted to by both sides.

Men who have a personal interest in seeing that the act does not pass are resulting pressure on those with whom they have business relations. On the other hand we find in the current issue of the Searchlight a letter from a leading prohibitionist stating how a newspaper publisher could be forced through the threat of withdrawal of ordinary business advertising to give "all the space we want for temperance news and cartoons free."

No one can say The Journal submits, was ever permanently benefited by such tactics. "There are more way sthan one of doing things, the letter concludes. But this is a way that those who are sincerely desirous of bringing about a moral reform should be careful to avoid.

Another thing to bear in mind is that the vote is to be taken on a definite statute which, if it is passed, must be brought into effect. It is not a "plebiscite," as some have called it. No mere opinion on a broad principle is being asked.

The act, it is approved of, cannot be altered in form, but must be enforced as it is. That being the case, the proper thing to do is to examine it in its minutest details and to study the exact effect of its provisions. This is a duty which should not be undertaken in a mood of overwrought enthusiasm for a general idea.

Finally there is the danger of paying too much attention to the conditions of the moment. We are living in abnormal times that call for many abnormal measures. In other parts of the world those have been adopted with respect to liquor traffic. But if the Alberta act passes in July it will have to be enforced when we return to normal conditions at the close of the war.

If we vote for it, it should be because we believe that it will be for the public advantage then, not because of the feeling engendered under the time of great stress and excitement through which we now are passing. Edmonton Journal

The Editor.—
Tofield Standard.

Sir—

Doubtless you are being criticised as to your action in allowing the anti-prohibition party to use your advertising columns. Those who criticise you on this account, have only looked into the matter skin deep." I believe that you are quite within your rights in this matter, and further, fail to see how that you could do otherwise for the following reasons:—

Firstly the law of fairplay says give every man the opportunity to state his argument or defence". Secondly the freedom of the press for all legitimate purposes is an old British principle, and one which has always brought good results. Canada and the United States are both big believers in this freedom of the press. Therefore while an editor may have the right to use his discretion as to whether or not he will publish certain "ads" for moral reasons, I doubt whether in this case you have the right to discriminate.

There are further reasons for publicity being given both sides of the question. Prohibitionists tell us that the arguments put forward by the Liquor interests cannot stand against theirs. Therefore the very fact that each argument is being presented to the public side by side must seem more votes for Prohibition. It follows therefore that editors allowing both parties advertising space are doing good service for Prohibition. Further it is undoubtedly a fact, that there are large numbers of electors in the community who will certainly not prepare themselves to vote until they have been given every opportunity of viewing this question from both sides of it.

Raymond W Pierrell.

Ben gained At the Lucky Man of Today" is the legend of the picture on every meal ticket entering the Calgary Industrial Exhibition for June 30 to July 7. The "Lucky Man" is the farmer who in this instance is on top of a load of hay. Lovers, sweethearts, horses, wives, boys and girls are all interested in Calgary's splendid fair because of the generous premiums offered for exhibits, but for those who are looking for something more spectacular there is very interesting programme. Over six thousand soldiers who are then in camp there will participate in the grand military procession and fireworks spectacle. The military tattoo will comprise seven bands, and with the usual attractions and years the fair this year promises to be more interesting than ever it was. Several from this section are arranging to take advantage of the cheap rates and see the big Calgary exhibition.

Buy Canadian Goods

Why should we consume foreign merchandise in this country when our workers make the same goods? If we buy foreign dry goods, hardware, and foreign foods, when will we in Canada be able to supply our own market? Let us then buy as much as possible of goods made in Canada, and we will keep the money in our own country and relieve the distress of the unemployed.

An Ingenious Gun to cut Barbed Wire Entanglements

For the first time in the History of War Fare, barbed wire entanglements are extensively used in delaying the approach of the enemy and have proved a very serious obstacle for an advancing army, the gun shown on photograph shoots a projectile to which a cable is attached, the barbs shown at end of the cannon cut the wires and this instrument is again drawn back on a windlass.

LAWS OF BLOCKADE

Studying One and Making It Effective Different Matters

Germany, of course, is quite within her rights in endeavoring to cut off Britain's food supplies by blockading. For one country at war with another to close ports, harbors, or lines of coast with ships or troops, and thus prevent entrance of provisions, ammunition, or reinforcements, has been recognized as quite legitimate warfare, when carried out according to the rules of International law, since the Dutch introduced the practice as far back as 1584.

Cuba was blockaded by Lord St. Vincent for two years at the end of the eighteenth century. Britain blockaded the Elbe in 1805 while the Baltic was successfully blockaded by Dundas in 1808-9, and again in 1854 in all those hostilities, however, the belligerents rested on their warfare strictly according to the International laws respecting the rights of neutrals and carrying the prize ships and their crews back to port. The sinking of merchant ships without warning, in the manner in which they many has done, was always regarded as an act of piracy.

A Russian's Fish Story

A wounded officer who arrived at Petrograd from the front recounted an amusing instance of the benefits of teetotalism. The commander of a company ordered a 3-gallon cask of spirit found in a captured German village to be poured into a fish pond. The fish became intoxicated and floated to the surface, where they fell an easy prey to the Russian soldiers. The supply lasted some days.

Liquor And The Liquor Act

ADVT.

The working man has a very real interest in the proposed Liquor Act. As a matter of fact it would seem very largely framed up for him. Under its operation he would no longer be able to buy a glass of liquor in a licensed hotel. He would then have to go without or incur the expense of bringing his supplies in by the bottle from an adjoining province. This would be no hardship in the case of well-to-do people, but it would be distinctly unfair to penalize the working man as would be done under the Liquor Act.

That measure tells the working classes they cannot be trusted to behave themselves. Because some ill people out of every 1000 in Alberta indulge immoderately in alcoholic liquor, the other 382 who behave themselves are to be treated in exactly the same manner as the backslider. Why do the reformers not concentrate their efforts upon the regeneration of the misguided drinker, instead of penalizing the whole community, and especially the working man? Has the latter not a right to protests his personal liberty of action in this the twentieth century?

The reformer was pathetically eloquent over what they are pleased to call The economic waste of the liquor traffic" This is a fallacy. The money spent for liquor is circulated in the community in the same manner as money spent in the purchase of other commodities. Adam Smith, the father of the science of political economy, disposed of this argument long ago, and why it should be used today is only to be explained by the fact that it is a piece of plausible sophistry which may appeal to some people

The "economic waste" argument can be met in exact upon the reformers themselves. Do they practice what they preach? Is every one of their purchases analyzed in the light of a necessity and then pronounced economically defensible? For example, do they go back to first principles in the matter of what they eat, drink and wherewithal they should be clothed? In respect of those things whatever is unnecessary to secure the preservation of life is economically indefensible, but the practice of such a doctrine would bring about an industrial revolution. Luxuries are bought by people, as these can be afforded, and the fact of their being economically sound or otherwise does not enter into the consideration of the purchaser. He pays his money for the articles that are more ornamental than useful and that money goes into circulation for the benefit of the community. The same thing applies to money spent upon alcoholic liquors, but the Liquor Act would stop the governor from obtaining the benefit accruing from the spending of that money.

In these any reason to believe that all the money which is now spent upon alcholic liquors in Alberta would be diverted to the purchase of purely economically sound commodities under the operation of the Liquor Act? This is extremely unlikely. As a matter of fact the Liquor Act itself makes it still permissible to spend money upon alcholic liquors, so long as a man keeps those in his own house and does not obtain them in Alberta. If money misspent upon alcholic liquors is economically indefensible, why do the promoters of the Liquor Act allow such an unsound ground (from their standpoint) principle to be incorporated in the Act? This, however, is only one of the many inconsistencies which are to be found in the measure.

Liquor is blamed by the reformers for many things. Needless to state it is not liquor but its abuse which occasions trouble. To remedy the effects of abuse the reformers would prevent the use of liquor. The curious thing, however, is that where this form of remedy has been tried such evils as crime, poverty, insanity and drunkenness still remain. For examples of the truth of this statement one has only to look at the records of the prohibition states of the Union as well as the territory under Prohibition in Eastern Canada. As a matter of fact, Prohibition is responsible for the creation of numerous evils such as hypocrisy, evasion of and contempt for law, but the most serious charges that can be made against Prohibition is that it transforms otherwise men who otherwise are perfectly respectable citizens. The drinking of liquor in itself is not an illegitimate act, and there is no why one particular section of the community should be permitted to make drinking an unlawful act. There is also no reason why the practice in Alberta should be different from that of the other Western provinces.

As far as poverty is concerned, reformers ignore the fact that the excessive use of liquor less the cause than the result of poverty. That is the view held by thoughtful student of social and economic conditions, and the remedy is rather to better those conditions than to attempt to cure them by a surely useless remedy of the type of Prohibition. The latter does not uproot the sense of self respect in any man. On the contrary, it detracts from it. Prohibition says in effect that mankind cannot be trusted and its object therefore is to compel a semblance of virtue which is illusory in every way.

Workers have a real interest in opposing this measure. It would interfere with their liberty of action to a very material extent. It takes away, but gives nothing in exchange. The working man after reading the Act and judging for him self how its operation would affect him will see that on July 21st he registers his vote against same.

... ALBERTA THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1915

The Wets seem to have it all their own way these days. There will and too dry are two extremes neither of which is desirable from an agricultural standpoint. In the great question which is now before the people of Alberta the proposed Liquor Act does not appear to be conducive to either extreme. Under its provisions the condition of being too wet is avoided while the other extreme is also provided against. Have you ever heard of the "Happy medium"?

The business men of Tofield district are taking advantage of the favorable season to get a large amount of breaking done. Alberta enjoys the distinction this year of being the first province in the Dominion to get the spring seeding done, a fact which should be a pulling influence in inviting settlers. Following the seeding is an open season in which the farmer can get at fresh breaking. As a result of the present activity in this regard the Tofield district will next year experience a wonderful increase in the production of grain. In this respect our farmers will be doing their bit for the maintenance of the Empire.

THE appeal of the Red Cross Ladies this week should not fall upon deaf ears. The need and the urgency is great. Too great importance cannot be attached to the movement. The Standard believes that the public of Tofield and district will respond most heartily.

GILLETT'S LYE

EDDA'S LOYALTY

Lord Bryce presided at the recent of the Royal Society of Arts, London, when Lieutenant-Colonel A. C. Yate read a paper on "The Indian Army."

Lieutenant-Colonel Yate said at Delhi in 1903 the Germans insolently called the Indian troops "rotten." A Indian chieftain and soldier of the purest Rajput blood never forgot that word "rotten," and he and his brother Rajputs were now wiping it out on the battlefields of Europe.

Lord Bryce said some of the men ... touched upon in the lecture reminded them what a magnificent training Indian experience had proved for many great British soldiers. It was Sir Arthur Wellesley's experiences in India and the opportunity India gave him of displaying his great gifts that laid in his being chosen at the darkest hour of England's fortunes to take command of the troops in the Peninsula in the greatest contest in which Great Britain had been engaged until the outbreak of the present war. During all those years there was ripening in the Indian army that splendid loyalty and devotion to its leaders and among us that appreciation of the noble qualities of the Indian troops, both of which had now found such a remarkable manifestation and display in the events of the last seven months. Those events forced on by for the most brilliant page in the whole long and brilliant history of the Indian army. It was impossible to conceive a more striking instance of the loyalty and attachment of the various princes and troops of India to the British Empire than was displayed when that spontaneous offer which touched us all came at the outbreak of the war. More than three thousand of brilliant valor." The Indian troops had shown themselves the most worthy supporters of our own troops in the battle line, and of our allies in overwhelming numbers in defence of herbalism. It was one of the very finest things that in a time of war we showed that this spirit of attachment existed, and was shown by the people, by the princes, troops of India to the British Empire and their leaders. We felt that that was a new tie, and perhaps the most binding of all the ties that interest would strike us in India, because it showed that the desire which Providence had laid upon us for India had been appreciated in India.

In honour of the six thousand or more Alberta soldiers who are in training at the big military camp in Calgary the fair then this year is being called the "Khaki" fair. The exhibition Council will be opened by Colonel Cruickshank, the officer commanding the military district, and the fair days will be named after the regiments taking part and during the exhibition every regiment will appear. Military bands will provide the music and in the evening the military lasting will be participated in by the crack military bands massed.

With many of our local men in the regiments their friends and relatives will be pleased at this opportunity of seeing them before they leave for the front and will take advantage of the cheap rates to Calgary between June 30 and July 7, which are this year's fair dates.

In every department the Calgary fair is up to the standard and in some respects ahead of previous efforts to instruct and entertain. The prize list has been re-cast and stock men, dairymen, grain growers, home wives, school children and in fact the many others who habitually contribute to the exhibition will find their efforts once again.

Forming the "Durbanville" will be the big fireworks spectacle and ... will be one of the largest and most realistic pyrotechnic displays ever produced in the west.

The races will be a strong feature of each days entertainment and will be one of the big drawing cards, as the good purses are bringing entries from all over the Canadian and American west.

Free Vaudeville attractions of a very high order have been engaged for the performances every afternoon and evening.

On the Midway the "World at Home" shows will present a large large number of the most attractive entertainments. This is a new ... which has never appeared in the west before and is high class in keeping with the other attractions for the "Khaki" fair.

Our natural market for dairy products is in British Columbia. That market is at present largely occupied by New Zealand, particularly in the case of butter. New Zealand has established herself firmly by supplying a uniformly good and dependable article. We in Alberta can profitably apply the same principles, careful cleanly sanitary methods on the farm and the manufacture of the butter by the most modern methods in well managed cream'ies.

The Business Aspect Of The Liquor Act

[illegible] one of the most significant aspects of the prohibition campaign now waging in Alberta is the active interest being displayed by the [illegible] men in the community. TOFIELD, ALBERTA THURSDAY JUNE 24 1915

THE Liquor Act as proposed means that the Liquor Traffic, as a legalized business, must go. To this extent it is prohibitive. It does not interefere with a man's personal liberty in having a limited quantity in his possesion for his personal use, but it kills his opportunity to procure it as a beverage within the province. To this extent the Act kills what is at present a legalized business. There exists in the mind of no one a doubt as to the fact that intemperance exists to a very large extent and is the cause of much useless expense and misery As a moral issue the issue looms large. From a business standpoint the question is just as big. The decision as to what is to be done, if anything, rests with the people.

Weeds On Vacant Lots.

WHAT undoubtedly constitutes a menace to those farmers who are making an honest effort to keep their farms clean is the crop of weeds found growing on vacant lots and roadsides in and around our towns and cities. These vacant lots are often nothing more nor less than nurseries and breeding places for all kinds of weeds. This is especially true of towns where large areas adjoining it is a seldom subject to wildcat sub-dividioning and have had roadways ploughed, forming lodging places for weeds, which are allowed to grow unmolested. These produce countless numbers of seeds, to be blown and scattered by the winds over the farm No far, bailetins, articles and advice pertaining to weed control have been directed at the farmer. A glance at the conditions found in most of our cities and towns will prove convincing that the farmer is not entirely to blame in the matter of weed seed production add distribution.

In the West the weed inspectors are being trained and instructed along lines that will enable them to assist the farmer in weed control, while at the same time provision by law is made to prevent any farmer from allowing his farm to become a breeding place for weeds and a menace to his neighbours In most towns there are by-laws covering the weed problem but too often they are not enforced. Those living in towns and cities should co-operate and do their bit in the war against weeds. This is an important matter, and should receive strict attention by every town council. Action should be taken at once and not deferred until the weeds ripen and scatter their seeds.—F. C. N.

Tofield, June 21st, 1915.

Tofield Standard.
Dear Sir:

In your issue of the 17th inst. the liquor interests claim that the passing of the Liquor Act will have a harmful effect on the business of the community, surely the twelve million dollars now spent yearly in Alberta for Liquor, if turned into legitimate business channels cannot have a very harmful effect on business. As regards the effect on business, let us look at the statements of some prominent business men in West Virginia, where Prohibition was adopted in July, 1914

Mr. W. A. MacCredie of Chilton, MacCredie & Chilton, Charleston says: "The effect of prohibition has been fine, the volume of business is distinctly larger. Prohibition has been of enormous benefit to the City of Charleston and West Virginia." This is the consensus of opinion everywhere in the State.

Henry Blizard, Citizens National Bank Pardsburg, "The financial interests of the entire state are showing a very decided improvement because of prohibition."

Mr. Amos Bright, Pres. Home National Bank of Nelson, "I have the first business man yet to hear speak of prohibition law except to say that it is a great help to business and a great help in many other ways."

Mr. P. M. Snyder, of the Bank of Mount Hope. Our bank has opened up 300 new accounts since July 1st. a very large per cent of which came from the laboring class who formerly spent their money for intoxicants.

Mr. John Bender, Pres of the Burnsville Exchange Bank. "If the matter were submitted to West Virginia voters again, since we have seen the results, the Amendment would carry by an increased majority conditions everywhere are better."

Then again, hear what the American Consul at Petrograd says of prohibition in Russia. In month of Dec. 1913 (wet) the Savings Bank deposits of Russia were only $361,000, while in Dec. 1914 (Dry) the deposits amounted to $14,067,000.

In the first two weeks of Jan. 1914 (Wet) the deposits totaled $125,0 93, while in the first two weeks of Jan 1915 (Dry), the deposits reached the astounding amount of Eight Millions dollars. He also says. The longer prohibition is in effect in Russia, the greater the financial results become.

Are the conditions in the Province of Alberta unique that it should be an exception and that Alberta would follow where in other places only prosperity results?

If such results as the above are financial disaster, it is the kind of disaster we hope may soon ever take this fair Province of Ours.

Thanking we Mr. Editor,
We are yours sincerely,
The Tofield Prohibition League.

The "Lucky Man" is the farmer who in this instance is on top of a load of hay. Farmers, stockmen, home wives, boys and girls are all interested in Calgary's splendid fair because of the generous premiums offered for exhibits, but for those who are looking for something more systematic there is very in-

In honor of the six thousand or more Alberta soldiers who are in training at the big military camp in Calgary the fair there this year is being called the "Khaki" fair. The exhibition "Unusual" will be opened by Colonel Cruickshank, the officer commanding this military district, and the fair days will be named after the regiments taking part and during the exhibition every regiment will appear. Military bands will provide the music and in the evening the military tattoo will be participated in by the seven military bands massed.

With many of our local men in the regiments their friends and relatives will be pleased at this opportunity of seeing them before they leave for the front and will take advantage of the cheap rates to Calgary between June 30 and July 7, which are this year's fair dates.

In every department the Calgary fair is up to the standard and in some respects ahead of previous efforts to instruct and entertain. The prize list has not been cut and racehorses, dairymen, grain growers, horse wives, school children and and the many others who habit ually contribute to the exhibition will find their classes open again.

"Forcing the Dardanelles" will be the big fireworks spectacle and it will be one of the finest and most realistic pyrotechnic displays ever produced in the west.

The races will be a strong feature of each days entertainment and will be one of the big drawing cards, as the good purses are bringing entries from all over the Canadian and American west.

Free Vaudeville attractions of a very high order have been engaged for the performances every afternoon and evening.

On the Midway the "World at Home" shows will present a large large number of the most attractive entertainments. This is a new aggregation which has never appeared in the west before and is high notes in keeping with the other attractions for the "Khaki" fair.

STANDARD PRESS, Limited.
ESTABLISHED 1907
R. N. WHILLANS, Manager and Editor

TOFIELD ALBERTA THURSDAY JULY 1, 1915

TODAY Canada celebrates the 49th anniversary of its birth as a Dominion. Today our Fair Dominion occupies an honorable position in the British Empire such as has never hitherto been accorded to it. As an integral part of the Empire Canada has voluntarily and gladly assumed its proportionate share of the responsibility of gallantly defending the Empire and of upholding the principles of Democracy. The civilized world to day is passing through a period of deep-reaching history. Canada has won a place of honor in the struggle which will for all time result in much glory to her.

TODAY sees the opening of the month on the 21st of which the Big Vote on the proposed Liquor Act is to be taken. The last lap of the campaign is being entered and no doubt the fight will wax hotter and hotter as it draws to a close.

In the columns of the press, on the platform, in the highways and byways the question is being discussed. Probably never before in the history of the province have the people been so alive to the merits or demerits of the subject at issue. July 21st will see Alberta's opportunity to take a popular stand on the Big Question.

The disposition on the bigger part of the Press of Alberta is to adopt an attitude of fairness to both sides in this controversy. It is in the interest of democracy that both sides should be freely and fully heard. To this end the column of the press has been allowed to be freely used. It is regrettable that there have been some on both sides who have taken an attitude of intolerance towards the freedom of the press in this respect and shown a spirit of vindictiveness by threats of boycott and such like. Such a position on either side is absolutely indefensible. The Standard does not believe that any paper in the province is influenced in its policy on big public questions such as this by the purchasers of the advertising space which they have to sell. The true field of the press is that of independence without neutrality.

The time is coming, there are many but can see it, when King Alcohol will have been dethroned and the evils of intemperance almost if not altogether wiped out. The fight has been on for years. In the States throughout eastern Canada for years the struggle has been carried on. It was long ago realized by the temperance forces that real success could only be had upon a steady, long-continued campaign of education of the people as a whole. It came to be admitted that local option had its drawbacks. The new policy was followed and the proposed Liquor Act of Alberta in the culmination to concrete form of that policy as carried out by the organization in this province. Whether the time chosen by the temperance forces for the FIGHT TO A KNOCK-OUT, viz July 21st, 1915, under the belief that the time is ripe for the decision remains to be seen in the result of the vote.

Of course those interested in the Liquor Traffic are opposed to the proposed Act. Why shouldn't they be? Who would blame them? No one. They are no doubt using every legitimate means at their disposal to stave off the day of its demise. The duty on every one in Alberta who seeks the overthrow of the Liquor Traffic is plain. They must fight "tooth and nail for a sweeping victory in the coming referendum. Those who are opposed to the Act can be relied upon to do that that their votes are polled. Hence this fight is a fight "to a finish."

The signs of the times in Russia, France, Denmark, Scandinavia Britain United States, Eastern Canada, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, B.C and Alberta, all point towards the time when the Liquor Traffic as a legalized business will have been done away with. The Liquor Interests do not deny this. It is only a question of the time being ripe for the death struggle, a matter as to whether the people have been educated sufficiently to come to the point of decision. If the referendum on July 21st results in a failure to pass the proposed Act by a comfortable majority, not by merely a squeeze, it will be a disaster to the interests of Prohibition and a victory for the Traffic, for, unless the Act have the preponderence of public opinion behind it, it cannot be successfully enforced. Then indeed the end might be worse than the beginning.

PRODUCED WAR FILMS

Stirring Weekly Describing Nothing to Picture Place

Charles Weston a well known film producer describes as follows one of his recent experiences in making motion picture war plays:

"Producing war films is hardly a drawing room occupation, as you will realize when I tell you about a few of the injuries I have had when trying to get realistic thrills into battle scenes. My hunting has been mixed up with a bear, and I have in real artificial endeavor; my nose has been broken, the hair on my face has been completely scorched off by the flame of exploding gunpowder; the bone of my right leg has two silver screws in it where it was fractured, and that same year on my breast leg was caused by the rifle butt of a too enthusiastic supe.?

"I started producing battle films the day after war broke out, for I realized that a real vs. vs of t.e struggle would be almost more after to obtain as cinema men at the front are objects of suspicion and are arrested on sight. I journeyed to the village of Brittling-borough, in North Hants, where I procured most of my pictures. The country there, with its rolling plains, hills, and woods, is ideal for depicting battle scenes. Also a number of iron factories are in the vicinity, from which I can obtain all the supers I require for my temporary armies. They act to their parts time and again day Sunday. I believe these supers would have worked for nothing had I asked them. They were keen to put their uniforms first enough, and they displayed such martial spirit that I even had to tone down what would appear when fighting commenced. The trouble started when I began to choose several hundred actors to play the part of Germans. They all wanted to be Britishers, who would fight their way to victory, for I did not want to tell the 'Germans' that their work would mainly consist of retreating at the double. The 'Germans' appear eventually when their property seems when I offered them extra money. The films were a great success, for the public thought with a will in the battle scenes, and many of them were a mass of bruises when the cameras stopped clicking. In one scene the 'Huns' had to storm a barricade set up by a friendly crowd. The fun of the conflict had a very disastrous effect on the nerves of the inhabitants, who really believed that the Germans were actually invading their town. So intensely were they in the actual scene of the struggle barricaded their doors and windows and not emerging for a week."

A BATTLESHIP'S HEART

Gunner Room in Glass Tomb With Every Part of the Vessel

One of the most wonderful features of a battleship is the manner in which it is controlled by the heart of the vessel. Under the deck, situated right in the control room, a cube-proof steel nook, about 16 feet by 8 feet, rises four to ceiling the while are lit of with dials, wires, gauges, electric bells, speaking tubes, switches, and a great amount of other apparatus which keeps the commander in constant touch with every corner of the ship.

It is through the control room, which is usually staffed by about six men, that the commander issues his instructions, calls the gun crews from place to place, directs the engineers, steers the whole ship, and superintends everything. If a submarine, for instance, is seen in any direction, the battleship's course is altered and it is reported. A little bell rings, a voice from far away—probably from the fire control station, and the ship is one of the many where the depression range finder is "trained" on part here, and "has leaped off." In an instant an officer thrills the gun crews: "Ware submarine on port bow. Bunny's duty. Ready!" The gunners have been ready for some time, and when the chief gunner has "laid" the gun to his satisfaction, being; gave a message the enemy will not forget if it gets him.

PRODUCTION PER ACRE

Field Crops and Conditions in Argentine Republic

The Argentine Republic farmer enjoys no control with the Argentine implement manufacturer about the price of his binders because there are practically no manufacturers in the Argentine Republic.

All the implements the Argentine farmer uses are made in the United States or Canada, and the farmer in South America has to pay a tax on them in order to provide a national revenue, but the tax does not pass into any hands but the government for the home product.

The fact that there are no domestic manufacturers explains why the Argentine urban population is confined to practically two cities, Buenos Aires and Rosario, the former of which contains more people than Canada's six largest cities.

If Argentina had cultivated the home market she would now have possessed a number of medium sized cities in which there would be some manufacturing development. With the exception of the two cities referred, the Argentine farmer has no market and exports his products in the shape of raw material to all the countries of the world, instead of having his fellow citizens put it through some of the processes of manufacture as is done in Canada and the United States by transportation the Argentine has now labors under great difficulties.

OLD-TIME RECRUITING
When our ancestors wished to obtain recruits for the army they issued posters which pictured gleaming pictures of the rosy life of a soldier, and endeavors were made to round up the gards by promises of cheap beer and the possibility of marrying an heiress. Here are two typical recruiting announcements which decorated the walls of English cities one hundred years ago.
"WANTED, ABLE SUBSTITUTES
To serve in the 33rd Battalion of Militia for three years. Commanded by the worthy Lord Strong Sutton, and now stationed in the delightful and plentiful Town of Kingston-upon-Hull whose southern side is said on only and fish, fish of the best quality at 5d the pound.
ALTHE FULL QUARTER
"Every inducement issued in 1803, by the colonel commanding the 33rd Dragoons, viz:
"You will be mounted on the finest horses in the world, with superb clothing and richest accoutrements, and the duties and privileges are equal to two guineas a week. Our society is select. We are admired by the fair, which, combined with the chance of getting enlisted to a handsome husband, renders the attention truly enviable and delightful.
"Having been out of employment, there is little in the way of men which, when at the front, we can be in fortune. Pitch it."

MAN FOR THE OCCASION
Mr. Graeme Thomson Becomes of an "Emergency Treasurer Officer Sleeps Needs"
A few months ago the name of Graeme Thomson would have conveyed nothing to the great British public. Today it suggests the sudden and well-merited rise to reputation of a man who has done the State great service. The hour produces the man, and at the Admiralty, as well as at the War Office and in the field, the right person has appeared in just a few instances. In a memorable statement Mr. Churchill let the Empire know to whom it is indebted for the unprecedented feats of mine-sweeping by which Britain's navy has been kept in abundant supplies and the vast armies carried overseas without the loss of a single life. That man is Mr Graeme Thomson, who a few months ago was unpretentious ex clerk, first came into contact with the First Lord, who marked him as "a very likely man." Very soon he was placed in full control of a section of the transport, where he showed such mastery of detail and administrative ability that he was promoted again. It was not long before the First Lord, now assured of his man by daily consultations, put him in a position of great responsibility. His the extraordinary result—it probably creates a "record", but Mr. Thomson earned it.
He is a native of Cheshire; but, on his name implies, he is of Scottish lineage. His record is now before the world in Mr. Churchill's eulogy "A man who stepped into the place when the emergency came, who has organized and presided over performances and transactions the like of which were never contemplated by any State in history." Mr. Thomson is not yet 40, and he is the youngest Director of naval transport the British Admiralty has ever known. He takes his blushing honors modestly "There is really nothing in it," he said to the inevitable interviewer. Over one million men, to say nothing of colonial stores, carried without mishap in the face of the enemy, is a considerable performance. At the Admiralty they are said to parody Sir George White's epigram on Sir Redvers Buller and to call Mr. Thomson "the greatest transport officer since Noah."

Bardo

Everything looks healthy and prosperous around here. Two or three new barns are going up. More land is being cleared and broken than in any former year and the crops never looked better.

The writer recently came back from a trip to the States, and of all the crop he saw along the way none looked better than what he found right here at home.

Tender garden stuff and potatoes were nipped by frost some time ago but most of it is coming on again as if nothing happened to it. It takes more than an ordinary frost, or drought, to kill Bardo crops; they are of such strong health and vitality that they don't seem to mind it a bit if they freeze now and then, or are without rain for a month or two.

And if this Province should go dry on the 21st of July we firmly believe that our crops will continue to grow just the same. Our cows would give as rich milk and cream, our hens would lay as many eggs, and our calves and pigs would continue to grow and fatten in spite of the most serious and protracted drought of this kind.

The biggest event recently here in Bardo was the great pedestrian gathering on June 23rd. A beautiful warm day, a large audience, a splendid speech, a good collection for the cause (about $60.00) heaps of ice cream and unbounded enthusiasm, what more could be wished for!

But the outstanding feature was the speaker, Senator Lobeck, and no mistake. He is a man every inch of him. Six feet and more in height, well proportioned, with an open fearless countenance, a friendly smile and a handshake that you have cause to remember, such is the genial Senator. And he is certainly a good speaker. The ordinary liquor arguments about personal liberty, increase of taxation, murders by the poor farmer, failure of Prohibition in Kansas, necessity of the bar to support a first class hotel and etc. He love them to shreds one by one and did not leave the liquor interests a bit of ground to stand upon. Several songs were rendered by the choir, those friends from Ryley gave a song "It's a short way to prohibition," which was really cheered.

Mr. Lobeck's tour through the province is conducted by the Scandinavian Prohibition League. The intention is to get after the Scandinavian vote, and the tour is a decided success so far, both financially and otherwise. The liquor interests will surely have cause to say, when the 21st is over "God save us from the fury of the Norsemen."

"RAT-SH-AW-TAY" clears out Rats, Mice, etc. Don't Die in House. 35c. and $1.00. Drug and Country Stores. Strang & Co.

Dominion Day Picnic Success

The Dominion Day picnic at Tofield in which Old Timers and New Comers joined hands together for a good time was a success in almost every sense of the word. Townspeople turned out en masse and every section of the district was generously represented. The streets were gaily decorated with numerous flags while from the peaks of flag staffs on many buildings huge Canadian flags fluttered in the brisk breeze. The morning was spent quietly as the crowds assembled from all over the district, immediately after dinner a general adjournment was made to the Exhibition Grounds where the programme of Sports was run off and it was not until after 7.15 in the evening that the last event was pulled off. This was the basket ball game between Bardo and Tofield in which the visitors piled up a score against the locals which the latter were unable to overcome.

The base ball game between Bardo and Tofield late in the afternoon after the races was concluded was one of the best games seen here. Both teams were well matched but fortune seemed to favor the locals. At bat T. E. Murray was a tower of strength to the latter team, he making a three bagger at a critical moment when the bases were full. Ball in hot and McCusker behind the bat did excellent team work. For the visitors Anderson in centre field played a fine game, pinking some fine neatly from the skies. The fielding generally was good and between pitcher and catcher a strong was put up. Right up to the last man to bat the interest of the crowd was keen. Geo. McLaughlin acted as umpire, not without much of the usual gaff and chaff which is flung unceremoniously at that much abused official. The score was 11-6 in a 7 inning game.

A brother of Fred Poole of Millvale section enlisted in Edmonton and went to the front with one of the first regiments to leave. While in the front trench with his company under heavy fire he was wounded in back and leg and could not get up. The officer next to was shot dead. Poole managed to secure a couple of revolvers and with these shot three Germans. When the order came to retire Poole was unable to move and a comrade pulled him out and carried him back to the rear. Just as they were about to arrive at their retreat a bullet killed the comrade carrying Poole. Later when Poole arrived at the hospital the nurse attending him was found to be a sister of the comrade who saved his life.

Rebekah Officers Installed

D. D. G. P. Ferguson officially installed the Officers of Lakeview Rebekah Lodge No. 50, I. O. O. F. last Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Lodge. Sister Vivs McMullen is the N. G. for the current term and Sister Hopgood V. G.

Upon adjournment of the Lodge the Rebekahs were made the guests of the Tofield Lodge No. 48, I. O. O. F. who made the occasion one of a social and fraternal vigil. A very pleasant time was enjoyed during which refreshments were served.

Mrs. (Dr.) MacQueen returns this week from a visit to friends in Calgary.

Leonard Swain, a brother of Percy of Lindbrook section and George Easton were two Tofielders who enlisted June 30 with the 66th Regiment now being recruited at Edmonton. It is understood that Tom Cookson has also joined this regiment. Tom is anxious to do his bit for King and Empire.

John Weatherill, clerk of Camrose Rural Municipality, has a nephew who enlisted at Hamilton and went with the first Canadian Expeditionary Force to the front and who has had some marvellous escapes. He has had no less than three horses shot under him while carrying messages from one point to another and yet has come out untouched.
